

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 2530

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2530-“Mayor!” Arian cried, enduring the pain.

If Salem had not saved him, he would be on the brink of death, even if he did not die.

Egan’s full-forced punch was serious.

In all of Amber City, aside from Salem, only Heaven, the person in charge of the Vidales family, could block it.

After David killed the direct descendants of the Campbell and Marche families, this incident blew up but the Vidales family never showed up once this entire time.

It seemed that they did not want to be involved.

Wasn’t it better to watch in safety whilst they fought and then reap the rewards when both sides were exhausted?

“Leave now. This is not somewhere you should be,” Salem said in a deep voice.

“Leave? Where to? With me around, no one can leave today,” Egan waved his painful hand and said arrogantly.

“Egan, anyone can make mistakes, forgive them when possible. Don’t burn bridges and don’t be so heartless. You won’t end up well.”

“Salem, you can’t even protect yourself now so I suggest that you stop being such a busybody. Lady Agatha wants Arian to die so he has to die. You can only save him once.

Do you think you can keep saving him?”

“I can’t do anything if she wants to kill Arian, but you can’t kill him, Egan. With me here, don’t even think about succeeding.”

“Yeah? I don’t believe this. You’re injured, so what can you do?” Egan mocked.

“You can try.” Salem got into a fighting stance.

“It’s been a while since we fought each other. Today, I want to see if Amber City number one has improved or not.”

After saying that, Egan charged forward again.

The last time, his target was Arian, but now it was Salem.

If Salem was fine, Egan would be a little intimidated by him.

However, he was now seriously injured, so what should Egan be scared of?

Boom!

The two collided again.

One was the severely injured number one in Amber City, while the other one was the healthy number two in Amber City. The result was already set.

At the start, the two were evenly matched and they fought back and forth.

As time went on, Salem’s heavily injured body slowly weakened.

The two of them were just slightly different in strength.

So, the heavily injured one was surely not the other one’s match.

Egan caught the chance and sent Salem flying backward with one punch. Then, he seized this opportunity and continued to suppress Salem. At the same time, he was also laughing maniacally.

“Haha! Salem, aren’t you the number one in Amber City?

What’s wrong with you today? I didn’t even exert any strength and you’re down! It seems that you’re nowhere as good as you are, Number One!”

In reality, Egan had been suppressed by Salem for too long, so that was why he was laughing so maniacally.

Salem did not say anything in response.

He had no strength to respond.

Now, it was even a little difficult to block Egan's attacks.

Agatha's cane stomp had injured Salem's organs and caused his combat power to decrease drastically.

That partial Overlord was too strong.

Even if there were no Overlords, she was still invincible in a place like The Spirit Cage.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

The battle went on.

Salem was not as strong as he wished.

He knew he would be defeated very soon if this continued.

When the time came, it would be very easy for Egan to kill Arian.

He had no choice.

He could only risk getting hurt and dragging Egan down.

At worst, he could ask the family to replace the person in charge in The Spirit Cage after this so he could rest for some time.

To be honest, Salem did not believe that Egan would dare to kill him.

It was the same for the Marche and the Campbell families.

After all, he was the most core senior of the Birch family.

Meanwhile, the Birch family was one of the top forces in Leila that had an old and experienced partial Overlord.

All of the forces would have to show respect to them.

If not, the partial Overlord of the Marche family would have killed him directly just now, not just injured him severely.

She did not want to offend the Birch family completely.

Salem clenched his teeth and threw caution to the wind.

Since he would not die and would only be severely injured, he would go for it!