

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 2533

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2533-0 "You... You bastard... You're asking for this! Pfft!" Egan spat out another mouthful of blood.

His injuries had not worsened nor was it aggravated, but it was because he was fuming.

As the head of the Campbell family in The Spirit Cage and the absolute core figure, when had he been so angry before?

How dare a small captain of the law enforcement team insult him?

He was simply asking for death!

Egan wanted to kill Arian himself.

Nevertheless, his heart was already damaged, so continuing to fight would exacerbate his injuries, possibly even if he managed to kill Arian.

There was no need to take such a bet and hurt the foundation of his soul.

"Everyone from the Campbell family, catch that bastard for me. I'm going to make his life worse than death!" Egan yelled.

"Yes! Lord Egan!"

A group of powerhouses from the Campbell family rushed over. There were as many as a thousand people.

"Law enforcement team, let's fight with them!" Arian was not to be outdone.

He had served as the captain of the Amber City law enforcement team for many years, and these were his confidantes who had been cultivated by himself so they were absolutely loyal.

However, how could the elites of the law enforcement team be a match to the strong members of the Campbell family?

One must know that the Campbell family was one of Leila's top forces.

Once they collided, the law enforcement team would be wiped out by the Campbell family very soon.

The two sides are about to collide.

Boom!

A voice made everyone stop.

This voice was all too familiar.

It was this sound that caused the mayor of Amber City, Salem, to be seriously injured.

Then, Egan took advantage of this and took down the number one in Amber City.

“Okay! Everyone from the Campbell family should leave! Don’t waste time and leave the rest to me,” Agatha said calmly.

Although her voice was calm, it was laced with certainty.

“Yes, Lady Agatha,” Egan replied cautiously.

Then he said to the Campbell family powerhouses who rushed out, “Everyone, come back!”

The Campbell family powerhouses all returned, leaving Arian and his confidants as they watched Agatha warily.

They did not see Agatha seriously hurt Salem.

However, someone who could make Egan so respectful and obedient to her was definitely not an ordinary person.

“Since you are looking for death, I will fulfill you!”

After Agatha finished speaking, she raised the cane and slammed it down heavily again.

Boom!

An invisible force spread out, rushing towards Arian and others.

Arian and all his confidants sensed a strong crisis.

The breath of death was approaching.

When they wanted to save themselves, they found that their bodies seemed to be fixed in place and they could not move at all.

The only thing he could do was to show a look of fear and wait for death to come.

Salem, standing on the other side, could not do anything about it.

This kind of attack injured him just now.

It was silent and breathless, which made it hard to guard against.

The methods of a partial Overlord were beyond the comprehension of ordinary people.

It was the same with their souls.

Just when everyone thought that Arian and the others were bound to die, they heard a voice.

“I was the one who killed the direct descendants from the Campbell family and the Marche family. If you want revenge, you should come to me. Why make things difficult for others?”

Upon hearing this voice, the aura of death disappeared instantly. Arian relaxed all over and he felt as if his life was saved.

The hope of surviving the catastrophe almost made this burly man burst into tears.

Salem also breathed a sigh of relief.

Fortunately, David came out early. Otherwise, Arian would die.

Everyone present looked at the voice.

Then, a young man was seen walking out of the mayor's residence with a little girl in his arms.

