I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2600-Not only did she not blame him, she was even secretly feeling happy.

“Um... Sylvio, is Pebbles’ soul seriously damaged? How is her recovery?” David asked shamelessly.

He knew that he had interrupted Sylvio’s treatment and wanted to see if there was any way he could fix it.

“It was serious at the beginning! She couldn’t remember anything, but she recovered a lot with your care during this period. I was going to cure her in one fell swoop but you interrupted me,” Sylvio pointed out.

As someone who had lived the longest in Leila and had always stood at the top, Sylvio would be lying if he said he was not mad after being pushed to the ground and attacked without any resistance by a young man who was ridiculously young.

However, he could not fly into a rage in public, so he could only suppress his dissatisfaction.

“Sylvio, I didn’t mean it. Pebbles left without saying goodbye last time and came back with such a serious injury. I am already holding back the anger in my heart. Now that I’m seeing someone hurting her, so I took action without thinking too much. Sylvio, please don’t split hairs with a junior like me,” David said with a bitter smile.

“Did I split hairs with you? I’m just telling the truth!” Sylvio looked serious.

“Of course, you didn’t. I was just being petty. You’re very magnanimous and you’re so forgiving. You’re always ready to forgive others. You will definitely not split hairs with a kid like me,” David complimented repeatedly.

‘That’s more like it.’

“Well, can you please restore Pebbles’ soul again? I will keep watch this time and I will not let anyone get close,” David asked cautiously, for fear of offending the old man.

He could not heal Pebbles’ soul so quickly.

“Yes! But not now. I have to make some special medicine to assist in the treatment. It will take some time.”

Not only did Sylvio have to make the special medicine for Elora, but he also needed to treat his injuries.

Although David stopped the blow in time, it was the attack from the soul of a Heavenly Overlord after all. No ordinary person could bear the blow from him.

“Okay, okay! Just tell me what you need. As long as it’s available in Amber City, no, as long as it’s available in The Spirit Cage, I’ll get it for you,” David patted his chest and promised.

He would not care when it came to Pebbles’ restoration of her soul.

If Sylvio needed something, he would spend money to buy it. If he could not, he would even steal it.

“The treasures in your treasure room were enough, but where can I get them now?” Sylvio said expressionlessly as he looked at the ruins around him.

“Sylvio, don’t worry! In addition to this treasure room, there is another one with a lot of treasures in it. I will take you there now.”

David was talking about Jumbo Court, of course.

It was the main place for Thor to acquire treasures. Most of the treasures would be accumulated there before they were delivered.

“Let’s go then! Don’t waste time.”

“After you, Sylvio.”

“After you, Sylvio.”

David and Pebbles lead the way, with Sylvio following.

Soon they arrived in front of Jumbo Court.

Many buildings along the way were in ruins, but no casualties were seen.

Everyone looked at what happened in front of them with confusion in their eyes.

David did not explain.

He would get Thor to talk to the owners of these collapsed buildings about compensation later.

Since he was the one who was responsible, he could not ignore it.

He was not short of money anyway.

The worst-case scenario was to double the compensation.

Thor saw David arriving and quickly stepped forward to greet him.

“Master David!”

“Thanks for your hard work, Rivers. Take me to the place where we store the treasures. I need them now,” David did not make small talk and went straight to the point.

“Yes, Master David, please follow me!”

Thor glanced at Pebbles and Sylvio behind David before leading the way.

There were many questions in his mind.

For example, what was the horrifying energy just now, how did Pebbles suddenly grow up, and who was that old man?

However, as an experienced businessman, Thor knew what to ask and what not to ask.
