

The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky

Chapter 2306

Chapter 2306

Before the Southern Boss finished speaking, Rodney was taken aback as he immediately realized the Southern Boss's intentions. "Dad, are you planning to take advantage of the opportunity to target the only legitimate heir of the Thompsons?"

"Well, you're right! The legitimate heir of the second bloodline of the Thompsons, Yonas, is already dead. If Yuri, the legitimate heir of the first bloodline, dies as well, then the Thompsons will have no successors and will inevitably fall. We can easily overthrow the Thompsons and dominate the entire Southern region," The Southern Boss's expression was cold, his eyes filled with chilling malicious intent.

Yonas and Yuri were the only legitimate heirs to their family and with Yonas dead, the Southern Boss decided to take action against Yuri, harboring intentions to eliminate him as well.

Once Yuri is dead, the third-generation descendants of the Thompsons will be left without a successor. The remaining collateral descendants would surely engage in internal conflicts, leading to the decline of the Thompsons, which aligned perfectly with his intentions.

Furthermore, with Angus being expelled from the family, the legitimate heirs of the first and second bloodlines of the Thompsons were no longer united; Even if he makes a move against Angus, he would not have to worry about Arthur and the second bloodline of the Thompsons.

It was a rare opportunity and the Southern Boss intended to take full advantage of it.

Rodney's spirits were lifted, and he immediately applauded." Good! What a brilliant idea!"

Although he and Yuri were hailed as the most outstanding young talents in the Southern region, Yuri surpasses him in all aspects, and for years, Yuri always overshadowed him.

Rodney always harbored resentment toward Yuri because of this and wished to eliminate Yuri; as for Leon, Rodney bore deep grudges against him and would jump at the opportunity to tear Leon apart.

It was hardly an exaggeration to say that both Leon and Yuri were Rodney's biggest enemies on the path of his growth.

Since the Southern Boss planned to take action, Rodney was more than glad to learn that both Yuri and Leon would soon be out of their way.

At this moment, the Grand Apostle, seated at the left-hand seat, voiced his objections after a brief contemplation. "Sir, that might be inappropriate. Although the Thompsons are growing apart, they are still connected by blood. If we forcefully take action against Angus and the legitimate heirs of the first bloodline, likely, Arthur won't stand idly by."

"I know! However, I don't intend to directly attack Angus and Yuri Thompson. We can find an excuse to attack Leon. Once Angus steps forward to defend Leon, I can fake an accident and kill them as well. Even if Arthur finds out afterward, he can only endure the bitterness and accept it," The Southern Boss smirked.

He knew that the Grand Apostle's concern was valid as Yuri was the one and only person left with a rightful claim as heir for the Thompsons.

If the Southern Boss went up against Yuri and Angus, Arthur would not stand idly by despite the internal conflict amongst the Thompsons.

Naturally, the Southern Boss did not intend to do such a foolish thing and intended to act as though he was targeting Leon and luring Angus out in the process.

Considering the relationship between the first bloodline of the Thompsons and Leon, Angus would do whatever it took to protect Leon, and the Southern Boss would be able to take advantage of the situation to eliminate Leon, Angus, and Yuri all at once.

Since Leon was the prime suspect in Yonas's death, Arthur had no reason to avenge Leon even if the Southern Boss was to kill Leon.
