

The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky

Chapter 2372

Chapter 2372

"Southern Boss, prepare to die!" Leon huffed.

Taking advantage of the Southern Boss's injury, Leon hurried over and launched the Earthly Plunder; his energy gathered at the tip of his fingers and attacked the Southern Boss.

"Damn it!" The Southern Boss's expression darkened and struggled to get up.

If it was in the past, he would never have taken Leon seriously, but since he was severely injured and Leon seemed to have countless tricks available, he realized that he was helpless before Leon.

Not daring to face Leon's attack directly, he narrowly escaped the strike and shouted, "Elder Hilton, Leon's far too formidable and we are no match for him! Let's retreat!"

With the Demon Lord dead and the Southern Boss himself severely injured, there was no one left capable of defeating Leon and Arthur.

If they continued to stay and fought the two, the Southern Boss knew that he would die and refused to accept his fate.

Instantly, he decided to run.

Though Leon and the Thompsons were winning, the Hiltons and the Spears were a powerful bunch as well and so long as they retreated in time, the Thompsons might not be able to stop them.

"That's right! Hiltons, prepare to retreat!" Devon snapped out of it and ordered.

With the situation escalating, he dared not to dream of eliminating Leon and the Thompsons and only wished to lead his family out of this dangerous situation. Once they managed to escape, he could always work with the Southern Boss to plan another attack.

"Spears, retreat!" The Southern Boss commanded.

Following their commands, the Spears and the Hiltons moved swiftly and started to gather toward Devon and the Southern Boss.

Rodney and Joel, too, hurried toward them in the hope of regrouping.

"You won't get away so easily! Henry, Chandler, heed my words! Stop Rodney and Joel from going to the Southern Boss! Uncle Angus, please work with the elders to handle the Hiltons and the Spears, blocking them from one another! " Leon reacted swiftly and made the arrangement.

He knew that while the Thompsons were winning at the moment, the Hiltons and Spears still outnumbered them and if they all gathered together, they might be able to forge a path and escape.

Should that happen, it would be impossible to take the Southern Boss down. Hence, he arranged for Henry, Chandler, and Angus to divide their enemies into three areas in the hope of striking them down one by one.
