

The Secret Heir Return To Wealth And Love Chapter 1256

The Secret Heir Return To Wealth And Love Chapter 1256

Chapter 1256

“So, where are we headed next?” Molly asked

Felix chuckled patting Molly’s head, “We can’t go back to where we were, kiddo. How about dad takes you around the H Country, and if you like it, we’ll settle down here?”

“Sounds good, you’re from H Country after all, Molly replied

“And you’re half H Country too. Your mom was from here, remember?” Felix said gently

Molly didn’t respond, “Why did you kill that woman’s child? Why didn’t she break your limbs or straight up kill you?”

Felix thought, Molly was just getting more difficult as she grew older. Wasn’t it enough that he was healthy?

He pondered, “Maybe she was a good person.”

“You once said that rich people are never good people.”

“Stubborn kid!” Felix lightly tapped her head, then suddenly remembered all the hardship she had gone through when she was kidnapped by Simon.

Thinking about this, he pinched Molly’s arm and cheek, “Why have you put on weight?”

She was so skinny when she was with him, no matter how much she ate, she wouldn’t gain weight

How did she gain weight so quickly after being kidnapped? Was the royal food that nutritious?

As he was talking, the guys who were holding up signs earlier approached them.

“Isn’t this the little girl from earlier?” Mike said, arms crossed. “You ran like a scared rabbit, were you afraid of being kidnapped?”

Molly looked at him, not finding his joke funny,

“Gabiella is waiting. Let’s go,” Mike touched his nose

“Hold on Felix looked at Molly, “Mrs. Silverman, who brought you back, wants to see you, are you okay with that?”

Molly gave’s nod of agreement

“She’s beautiful and gentle, and there’s nothing to be scared of.”

Mike was at a loss for words

He had already heard from Gabiella that this little girl had killed Prince Simon in the royal palace. She had decapitated Simon with a single knife, and now the royal family was searching for her everywhere. Yet Felix treated her as a fragile child

They left the airport quickly and headed straight for Moonlit Lake

It was a rare sunny day, and Rosalynn and Paige were sunbathing on the lawn.

They saw Molly walking in front of a group of men who were taller and stronger than her

“Is this the one who killed Simon?” Paige sat up, looking at the cute little girl in a pink dress with two braids

“Mhm.”

Rosalynn gave a nod

A moment later, Molly came over to Rosalynn

“Hello, Molly Rosalynn smiled.

Molly looked at her blinked gently and said, “You are prettier than you are in the video”

Both Paige and Rosalynn were stunned. No one expected such words from a young killer, her first words were actually to compliment Rosalynn.

Rosalynn laughed, then she looked at Felix, "Can I have a private chat with your daughter about girl stuff? Don't worry, it won't be long"

Felix was taken aback, and Mike quickly grabbed him, "I heard from Ableson that you're really good at poker, you won half a year's salary from him in one night. L the poker expert from the North, challenge you!"

Saying this, he dragged Felix away.

Chapter 1257

When Felix was taken away, he told Molly, Don't sweat it, they're all good folks."

"Didn't you tell him it was me who killed Simon and made us 250 million? Molly bluntly asked Rosalynn.

"In his eyes, you're just a little girl that needs his protection, I think it's better if you spill the beans yourself. Rosalynn replied.

Molly thought for a bit. She remembered when her dad blew his top because she had murderous thoughts

"Cheers." said Molly.

"Are you really only ten? Paige curiously asked.

Molly glanced at her then said, if my dad remembers correctly, I'm ten. I'm a kid he picked up off the streets."

"get it." Paige felt a bit uneasy, feeling like she might have crossed this kid.

"What's your plan with your dad?" Rosalynn asked.

Molly was instantly on guard, "We haven't figured it out yet, no plan for now!

She didn't mention that her father planned to live with her in H Country

"The royal family's hopping mad about Simon's death, and they're looking for you worldwide." Rosalynn calmly said, "Even if you've got a new identity, your face hasn't changed and the royals know about your relationship with your dad."

"We're pretty good at keeping a low profile" Molly responded.

As far as she could remember, that's how she's always managed to get by.

Rosalynn looked at her, suddenly thinking of Liam. But Molly and Liam were different

Liam knew what pain was, he became tough in the face of hardship. But Molly seemed oblivious to pain, and she just wanted to be with her father

"If you don't mind, you and your dad can stay here for a bit.

Molly was taken aback, "Aren't you scared?"

Her father once took her to meet some friends. He said they were his best buddies. Still, some ratted him out because they were scared of retaliation from his organization. There was also a time when her dad was nearly beaten to death. After that, they stopped trusting anyone. She was also trained by her father learning how to make a quick getaway. She could buy fake identities, and quickly figure out how to escape

Of course, these skills could be used elsewhere, like killing. Then it became an assassination technique

"Scared?" Rosalynn laughed, "Do you know where Mike, who picked you up, came from?"

Molly shook her head.

"He's from the scariest gang of hitmen."

Molly looked surprised. "Hasn't he been hunted down?"

"He has." Rosalynn nodded, "He nearly got blown up once, which pissed off my grandma. She sent someone and almost killed their boss. Since then, they've never dared to mess with us again."

Molly was dumbfounded.

"If you can get the organization to stop hunting my dad, I can give you back the money, but that's after the service fee is deducted":

On the dark web, she deducted the service fee before making a payment. To launder the money, she needed to pay another fee Rosalynn started laughing.

Chapter 1258

Paige smiled and said, "I must admit, I didn't realize you were such a conscientious individual, Rest assured, I shall guarantee your rights. However, I must emphasize that your ability to adapt to this place ultimately depends on your father's capabilities."

“He’s advanced in years, Molly remarked, gazing at Rosalynn with a determined glimmer in her eyes. “But I am intelligent Paige’s smile gradually faded away.

After all, Molly was just a ten-year-old child

“Is that so?” Rosalynn leaned forward slightly, drawing closer to Molly. “Aside from fighting and escaping, what else are you capable of?”

Paige grasped the general meaning behind Rosalynn’s words.

Molly furrowed her brow

“I can learn: I have a quick grasp of new concepts,” she pondered for a moment, speaking earnestly.

Though she excelled at evading, it would undoubtedly be preferable to fully address the problem within an absolutely safe environment.

After all, her father was already advanced in years.

Felix, who could overpower twenty individuals, remained unaware that in Molly’s heart, he had aged to such an extent.

“Alright then, since you put it that way, I trust you. How about I give you a year to learn? If you do well, it proves you really are smart, Rosalynn said earnestly

“Deal. But you have to ensure my dad and I are safe during this period

“Deal.”

Rosalynn extended her hand, and Molly hesitated briefly before reaching out to clap it. The woman, who exuded wealth and beauty, had a gentle touch and a subtle fragrance.

“Go and find your dad. He’s in that house Rosalynn pointed towards a small house in the distance, which served as the lodging for the bodyguards.

Molly nodded, preparing to leave, but suddenly paused as if she had remembered something. She turned back to face Rosalynn.

“To protect your child, as a way of making up for my father’s mistakes,” she assured, perhaps worried that Rosalynn wouldn’t believe her. “I’m actually really good at this. When I was eight, I even protected my own dad!”

“We’ll cross that bridge when we come to it.” Rosalynn replied.

Molly didn’t seem to like to push things.

Hearing Rosalynn say this, she went to find her dad.

After she left, Paige turned to Rosalynn, "Do we really want to keep them here?"

"Do you find her exceedingly adorable? Rosalynn gazed at the slender figure before her

The meadow might possess certain uneven patches; in a moment of carelessness, she inadvertently twisted her foot. After regaining her stability, she resumed her forward stride with composure.

"Indeed, she is charming. However, one so young being capable of such proficiently committing murder." Paige, who had recently been accompanying Baillie, had watched a suspenseful film regarding antisocial personalities

This child appeared to resemble one devoid of emotions.

"Henceforth, I intend to remain and observe her for a year calmly stated Rosalynn. If indeed she displays a propensity for murder, we cannot allow her to stay here"

Paige nodded in agreement

Chapter 1259

At this moment, in the dorm hall.

Felix was a bit out of it.

Mike said, ""Ms. Jared is exceptional, especially gentle with children. She won't hurt your child."

Although he said this aloud, his thoughts were quite different: I didn't even worry about Gabriella's safety myself, so what are you nervous about

Your daughter was someone who could harm the royal family without a scratch and then leave.

"I didn't think about it that much," Felix responded. "Mike, let me be direct with you. I think your job is excellent, and I'd like to stay here and work alongside Mr. Silverman and Mrs. Silverman!"

Mike shrugged and shook his head. "It's unlikely."

"Why, there's no one here who can beat me! Felix paused for a moment, then quickly added, "Don't use a taser, though! You guys are brutall

Mike wasn't having it, "Calvin's strength before he was injured was enough to knock you out three times over."

“Which Calvin?” Felix wasn’t backing down either.

Just then, Mike seemed to spot something and immediately stood up and waved to someone outside the door, “Calvin, are you going to the vegetable garden?” “Yeah” Outside, a tall man dressed as a gardener, holding a small sickle, nodded slightly and walked away

Isn’t that Calvin, the one who arranged the art exhibition?

Felix was speechless.

He suspected that Mike was mocking him.

Calvin was just a gardener, who was just a bit taller. He can’t beat Calvin? No way!

Felix was contemplating this when suddenly, a small yellow figure rushed at the gardener at a very fast pace.

“Molly!”

“Calvin

Felix and Mike both yelled at the same time and immediately rushed out

Calvin was moving forward when he felt someone attacking him.

His strength wasn’t what it used to be, but it was pretty formidable back then, it’s just not as formidable now.

These shortcomings were due to the loss of vision and muscle.

But close combat doesn’t require vision.

As for the muscular aspect...

The opponent was just a child, with zero influence.

He reacted swiftly.

Within seconds, they had fought a few times.

The child’s attacks were fierce, but due to her young age, lacked strength.

Calvin had no idea where this child had come from.

His primary focus was on defense, yet he managed to repel the child within a dozen moves

Molly steadied herself, realizing that she was clearly no match for her opponent. She courteously bowed and said, "Apologies for the disturbance."

Calvin looked perplexed, noticing Mike running over with a familiar person.

Felix picked up Molly and apologized to Calvin, saying, "Calvin, this is my daughter She meant no harm!"

"Calvin, are you alright?" Mike asked anxiously.

Calvin shook his head, then glanced at his right hand.

"Oh no, my seeds!!"

His expression filled with extreme sadness, he knelt directly on the grass and started searching for the remaining small bag of seeds.

"Goodness! These seeds that I worked so hard to acquire!"

Seeing this, Mike said, "Don't panic Calvin, I'll help you pick them up right away!"

The others also quickly offered to help.

Then several burly, capable bodyguards were bent over picking up seeds on the ground.

Feixx was gobsmacked

"Why did you suddenly attack him? I was just about to try persuading the lady of the house to let us stay!! Felix quietly scolded Molly "Persuade her? Molly frowned, "Why persuade her, she seems smart, she'll be tough to convince.

Chapter 1260

"You know she's not easy to fool, and you're still stirring up trouble for your dad!!"

Molly pondered, "But she just asked me if I wanted to stay."

"Huh?" Felix was taken aback.

Molly nodded.

Felix looked at Rosalynn who was watching them, his eyes getting a bit misty

He wanted to kill her child, and she not only brought the kid back for him, but also accepted her despite her being a strange child, and let her go to school "My kid is the smartest girl in the world, you learn fast, you learn well! Within a year we will definitely meet her requirementer Felix was full of confidence Over there, Calvin started to cry because of the seeds.

Felix was speechless

Are you kidding me?

Calvin's strength indeed seemed very fierce.

If Calvin's opponent were not a kid, but him, and he gave it his all, whether he could win was really a mystery.

Seeing Calvin like this, Mike had no choice but to quickly call the bodyguard responsible for protecting Ivy

Not long after, Ivy finished her class and made a video call.

"Ivy...the wistena seeds are scattered... Calvin sobbed to Ivy

Ivy said, "Calvin, you're an adult. If the seeds are scattered, just find them. Why are you crying?"

Calvin didn't speak, just sobbed quietly

"Alright, alright. When I come home, I'll bring you an ice cream, and watch a cartoon with you in the evening. Is that okay?"

Calvin took a deep breath.

"Okay!"

"Are you not crying anymore?"

Calvin sniffed, "Yeah!"

"Then wait for me to come home!"

"Okay!"

The video call ended

Calvin took a few more deep breaths and finally calmed down.

Mike figured it should be fine now

Who knew...Calvin, calm and composed, took a small shovel and dug up the patch of turf where the seeds had fallen

Watching his tall and resolute figure, Mike was full of admiration

Felix wondered if he had seen too few normal people.

“Mike, is your friend brain-damaged?” he asked sincerely.

Mike turned to look at Felix, “He just likes to cry!”

Felix and Molly looked very surprised.

“But he can fight!” Mike added.

Felix still looked confused, as if he couldn't understand at all.