The Secret Heir Return To Wealth And Love Chapter 1421

Chapter 1421

Zenobia was tucked away in the shadows, witnessing the scene unfold clearly before her.

All she could see was Evan's face split into a wide grin, completely oblivious to Rosalynn's cold and displeased gaze.

She couldn't understand their conversation, so she missed the warning Rosalynn shot at Evan, telling him not to touch her. To Zenobia, Rosalynn was nothing more than a flighty woman.

In just a few short months, she had betrayed her lover and found herself a new lover, and they were intimate.

Zenobia was growing more certain that Rosalynn was unworthy of her Alan.

She was more resolute than ever that she wouldn't allow Alan to return to Rosalynn, believing that the woman would only hurt him.

With a malicious glare at Rosalynn, Zenobia swiftly turned and left.

Upon returning to the inn, Viola informed her that Alan had woken up. Zenobia rushed upstairs to see him.

Osborn had just arrived too. He was speaking with Alan, "Did your memory come back? Remember anything?"

Zenobia frowned, thinking Osborn was a total fool. Why bring up the memory issue now?

She then turned her worried eyes towards Alan.

When Osborn brought him back, he was covered in wounds, including his face.

Though his wounds had healed, leaving a scar on his left cheek, it did nothing to mar his handsome features.

Alan was pale, shaking his head in response, "No."

Hearing this, Zenobia breathed a sigh of relief, "It's alright. If you can't remember, then don't. It only gives you a headache!"

Osborn sat quietly, wondering if this could be fate's doing. Maybe it was destiny for him to take Wayne away.

"Alan, we've decided to stop fighting with those businessmen," Osborn declared. "We're planning to find a new place, open up a similar inn like dad's, and start a new life as a family."

Zenobia was puzzled, wondering why Osborn was discussing this with Alan now.

Right then, Alan nodded in agreement, "Alright. It's dangerous to fight those tycoons. Let's take the money and run."

Zenobia nodded, "Once we leave this island, we'll find a hospital to treat your leg. That way, you won't need the crutch anymore!"

Alan nodded again.

"Alan, you rest up. We'll bring you some medicine and food later, Osborn stood up, exchanging a glance with Zenobia, "Come down with me. Don't disturb Alan's rest with your chatter."

Smiling at Alan, Zenobia followed Osborn out of the room, gently closing the door behind her.

The man reclined on the pillow lowered his eyelids, his long lashes casting a vague shadow on his skin.

He stared silently out the window, lost in deep thought.

Osborn held Zenobia's hand tightly, striding ahead and forcing her to jog to keep up

By the time they reached a secluded spot, Zenobia was slightly irritated.

She pushed Osborn away, "What's your deal, Osborn?"

"Where did you go?" he questioned.

"Just took a little stroll"

"You went to see Rosalynn again? Osborn said angrily

Zenobia's face was expressionless, "Yes, I did. Not only did I see her, but I also saw how cozy she was with that man! No sooner had Rosalynn arrived than he couldn't wait to follow. While Alan was fighting for his life, she was getting cozy with that guy

"Enough!" Osborn cut her off, "In this world, it's okay for a woman whose husband has died to find another partner!"

"Why do you always defend her?" Zenobia noted Osborn's unusual behaviour, "Have you fallen for her?"

Caught off guard, Osborn's face turned a shade darker.

"Watch your mouth. Anyway, I've agreed to move out in three days. We'll start packing tonight and hopefully leave by tomorrow or the day after!"

Zenobia's expression darkened, "Alright, I got it!"

Chapter 1422

Over at Rosalynn's.

Jaime was ballsy enough to not wait for the cover of night. He cooked up some lame excuse and made his way over to Rosalynn's place.

He was sat at the dining table, wolfing down the delicious dishes.

“I’m gonna piece together this crab shell and snap a pic to Ivy!” He said proudly, while munching and admiring the perfect crab shell he had peeled.

Rosalynn just shook her head and had someone serve him another one

“If you love it, then eat as much as you want. There’s a shortage of everything on the sea, except for these crabs.”

Jaime nodded, taking another glance at Evan, who was gracefully eating his crab pasta.

With his slick, shiny hair and refined face, Evan didn’t look like a reliable guy at all!

Evan caught Jaime’s gaze and gave him a friendly smile.

Jaime just grunted and continued chowing down.

After dinner, Jaime sneaked back to his crew, also packing a bunch of crab meat for Mike.

“Jaime, you’re a real mater Mike exclaimed.

Just then, they saw Rosalynn walking over with Evan.

To everyone’s surprise, one of the volunteers actually recognized Evan

“Evan?” The guy ran up to Evan, “Oh my God, it really is you. I’m a huge fan of your designs, could I get an autograph?!”

This was a first for Evan

He’s usually low-key and rarely even attends brand launch events.

After signing, Evan kept his head down, urging Rosalynn to get going

Rosalynn just laughed it off.

“Who would’ve thought, Mr. Lockner has social anxiety? Rosalynn teased

Once they were out of the crowd, Evan let out a sigh of relief: “Go ahead and laugh at me.”

“Wayne always has good taste.” Rosalynn said calmly

Evan paused, his smile fading somewhat

“I thought you would never mention him in front of me.”

“He’s my husband. Why wouldn’t I mention him?” Rosalynn asked defiantly
The last trace of a smile disappeared from Evan’s face
He didn’t know how to respond, so he just kicked the sand and kept walking
After a while they arrived at the Zenobia family’s inn
The inn’s doors were tightly shut
Do you think they tear down these unique buildings? Even asked Rosalynn shook her head sul not her head ‘sal not sure, the design plan is a rough sketch”
She took a look as wel

“This place does have a unique char, dacuss it with the designers
As they were talking they continued waking The setting sun sched their shades Upstairs at the inn. Alan was standing by the window, not knowing whom he had left his binoculars
He didit ask, nor planned to look for them

He just watched the two figures, walking further into the distance under the glow of the setting sun.

He could still hear the voices he had heard while unconscious.

Chapter 1423

At that time, it seemed he heard Viola and Osborn talking. They mentioned his name was Wayne, and the female tycoon who came to the island was his wife.

In fact, there was something he had never brought up.

From the moment he woke up, he had this vague feeling that he was married.

But it seems his wife didn’t love him and was always looking for a chance to leave him.

This subtle feeling was indirectly confirmed in the conversation between Osborn and Viola.

When he was missing, his wife was already dating other men.

“Alan, what are you staring at?”

Just then, Zenobia arrived at the doorway with some fruits he liked.

Seeing Alan staring out the window again, Zenobia’s heart skipped a beat.

After she found out the truth, her mom told her that the reason Alan suddenly vomited blood that day might be because he saw Rosalynn, who was taking a walk over here, through the telescope.

Zenobia freaked out and secretly took the telescope away.

“I’m not looking at anything.” Alan responded.

Zenobia went to look out the window. Seeing the figures of Rosalynn and that man, her eyes filled with anger.

“Do you know them?” Zenobia asked Alan.

He shook his head.

Then Zenobia said, “That woman is the new female tycoon, and the man next to her is her fiancé, seems to be a jewelry tycoon. I met him this afternoon, he is a very handsome man.”

The man stood there without saying a word, his gaze not leaving the window.

His mind recalled the profile he saw through the telescope that day.

She was really beautiful.

He subconsciously touched his scarred face and his barely functional legs.

The accident had done a lot of damage to him.

Even when he was in good shape, she didn’t like him, always trying to leave him.

And now he’s like this...

His head started to hurt again.

Alan Zenobia exclaimed, rushing to support him.

But before her hand could touch him, he raised his hand to stop Zenobia: "I'm fine. I just need to have a rest"

After saying that, he made his way back to the bed and slowly lay down

In his mind, there were still no memories, but his heart felt a deep pain.

His wife didn't love him and didn't want him anymore.

So that's that.

it's fate, and he won't disturb her anymore.

Zenobia looked at his pale face and the pain he was in, her gaze falling back on the distant coastline

The two blurry figures seemed to be close together

Alan must really love that woman, huh?

The first time he saw her, he vomited blood and fainted.

The second time he saw her, he showed extreme pain.

Even though he has no memories, he was still being affected by such a woman?

Zenobia didn't understand, she also felt it was not worth it for the man she loved.

Chapter 1424

But then, she reconsidered. There was still plenty of time, and she would pull out all the stops to make Alan fall for her.

That way, even if he regained his past memories later, it wouldn't matter. Her dad once told her, the heart knows who treats it best.

Rosalynn pointed towards the area where Wayne planned to build a water house, describing Wayne's plan to Evan.

Evan glanced at it, then turned to Rosalynn, "Do you really believe Wayne will come back, Rosalynn?"

Everyone else in the world had come to terms with Wayne's death. It seemed like only Rosalynn and her kids still believed that he was alive, that he will return.

"Absolutely." Rosalynn looked at Evan, stating firmly, "So you better keep your emotions in check. We were never a thing, and we never will be."

“How can you be so sure about us not having a shot, when you never even tried?” Evan asked, his voice heavy.

This was the most definitive rejection he had received from Rosalynn.

The sea breeze hit Rosalynn’s face, messing up her hair.

She tidied her hair, hugged her arms, and looked out at the sea, “Six years ago, Wayne drove me into a corner. I thought I hated him for good. But over the years, all sorts of men have come and gone, yet I never felt anything for any of them. My grandma thought I’d lost the ability to love because of the deep hurt Wayne caused. She even wanted to find me a shrink.” Evan listened, his eyebrows furrowed, but remained silent.

“I thought so too, that I’d lost the ability to love. But it wasn’t until I met him again that I realized, it’s not that I can’t love, it’s just that I can only love Wayne. My love for him is as essential as my life. I can’t love multiple people at once, I can only love one, and that one has to be Wayne.” Rosalynn looked at Evan, “Do you get it, Evan?”

Evan’s eyes reddened slightly.

“I understand.”

How could he not?

Isn’t that the same as his feelings for Rosalynn?

Ever since that glance on the cruise ship, all the women in the world have become dull and uninteresting to him.

Except for Rosalynn, no one else could stir his emotions.

“Go home tomorrow.” Rosalynn said gently, “You’re such a great guy, there’s definitely someone out there waiting just for you.”

Evan looked into the distance, without a word.

Rosalynn had said what she wanted to say. She couldn’t dictate others’ choices, so she said no more.

After a while, Jaime’s drone flew over quietly.

Rosalynn looked up, shaking her head slightly.

Has Jaime been hanging out with Cory and Ivy too much? Otherwise why did he seem to become more childish as he grew up?

After sunset, Rosalynn and Evan headed back together.

As they were nearing the native settlement, they heard a loud commotion

“Viola, what’s going on? Didn’t we agree to stand up against those bad guys together? How come you and your family were with us this morning but are leaving now?”

“Osborn even helped that female CEO this afternoon. Did she give you any benefits? is that why you’re abandoning us and leaving?”

“It must be

“No, you can’t leave! If you want to leave, you have to tell us how much the female CEO gave your Rosalynn looked back at Felix not far away. Felix nodded slightly and walked towards them.

The argument took place about ten meters away from the Osborns’ inn.

A somewhat chubby woman was surrounded by a group of locals, some of whom had started to push and shove.

“What’s there to say? Coral protection plan! They’re not doing this for our interests at all. After getting a hefty compensation, of course they would ditch us and leave secretly!”

“No, we didn’t ask for extra money!” Viola defended, “Alan is in poor health, we can’t just wait here on the island. We want to take him to see a doctor!”

“Nonsense!”

As a local was about to throw a punch out of anger, Felix strode forward and rebuked, “What do you think you’re doing?”

Chapter 1425

Most islanders had encountered Felix at some point.

Wherever the lady CEO went, this guy would be tailing her. If anyone tried to approach her, he’d get all riled up.

So, Felix was quite the intimidating figure.

Whenever he appeared, those islanders pestering Viola would back off instantly, “What are you doing at our place?”

The braver ones would immediately challenge him.

Felix scoffed, “Your place? The whole island belongs to my boss, where’s your place?”

“We haven’t moved out, so this is our place!” someone bravely retorted.

“Oh come on, stop fooling yourselves, how come you guys are even more ignorant than an illiterate guy like me? What are you blabbering about? How could your ancestors give birth to such idiots!”

“What did you just say?!”

Felix was blunt and rude, which really pissed off the islanders.

“Now not only are you squatting on someone else’s property, but you’re also causing trouble and picking fights? Are you trying to get someone killed and then extort our boss for money? You guys have no shame!”

Felix continued to provoke them.

“Felix.” Rosalynn’s voice came from behind him.

The islanders’ gaze shifted to her.

Seeing it was Rosalynn, some of them suddenly looked enlightened, “Viola, you said you weren’t colluding with them, but they’re here for you, aren’t they?”

“I didn’t, I really didn’t!” Viola dared not look at Rosalynn. She was scared that Rosalynn would discover Wayne in her house, so she was extremely anxious.

“I heard someone loudly saying earlier that my company overpaid this family?” Rosalynn said, “Do you have proof? If you do, bring it out. In addition to the relocation fee, I’ll give you an extra $500,000.”

“$500,000?” Everyone was shocked.

“That’s right, my company absolutely does not tolerate any behavior that involves threatening to pay more money against the rules.” Rosalynn calmly said, “If someone really did pay this family extra to move, even if it’s just an extra $1,000 or $2,000, I will punish them severely. I may even consider calling the police and accuse this family of extortion.”

Viola’s face turned even paler, she shook her head repeatedly, “Ma’am, I really didn’t take any extra money, we just don’t want to cause any more trouble. Osborn said you’re a kind person. I don’t want to cause trouble for a kind person, so we decided to move

Viola seemed very honest and gentle, her tear-filled eyes made people feel sympathetic.

“Ma’am, to tell you the truth, we initially reluctantly agreed to move. But it was this family’s daughter who kept encouraging us not to give up our home. They said they had a way to keep this place, so we decided to fight to the end!” a woman shouted

“That’s right! Now she’s keeping mum, making us look like the troublemakers, like the greedy bad guys!”

Everyone was getting heated.

“If that’s the case, why don’t you all calm down and have a good talk with Ms. Tesdal? They’ve decided to move, so you’ve lost your leader. If this continues, I’m afraid you’ll lose too much” Evan said

The islanders looked at each other silently, their faces were extremely grim.

Those who were willing to leave had taken the money and left half a year ago.

Among the remaining people, some wanted more money, but most of them were reluctant to leave the place they had grown up in

Because of Zenobia’s fiancé, they had finally seen hope of staying

Now they had to give up this hope voluntarily, no one could accept this.

Viola’s gaze swept over Evan.

He was the man she saw that day...

“What are you guys doing?”

Then, Zenobia’s voice came from behind the crowd.

Everyone immediately turned to look, seeing Zenobia holding an iron rod, storming over.

Upon noticing the two scratch marks on Viola’s neck, Zenobia became instantly furious.

Chapter 1426

“Who hit my mom?”

Just as she said that, she noticed a woman’s evasive gets my hero

just slightly fugged on her collar, it wasn’t on purpose Why are you so feet to be so uder

The next second, Zenobia kicked her hercely

The islanders’ conflict was about to erupt

Evan, trying to protect Rosalynn, stepped back a few steps

Rosalynn suddenly noticed, in the crowd, a child about three or four years old, was crying due to the crowd's slowing

The adults didn't notice her at all. They seemed to be about to step on the child

Rosalynn's heart pounded in fear.

As a mother, she couldn't ignore the child's danger.

Almost instinctively, she ran towards the child and took her into her arms

The next second, a stone kicked by someone came flying towards them

Rosalynn only felt a sharp pain in her right eye, followed by Felix and Evan's shouts

"Mrs. Silverman!!!"

"Rosalynn!!"

Felix's voice echoed in the sky.

The fighting crowd immediately stopped, they all looked towards Rosalynn.

"Pear!!!"

The child's grandmother, seeing her granddaughter crying in Rosalynn's arms, immediately rushed over with a shout "You're fighting with such a small child around? What were you thinking?" Rosalynn, covering her right eye, shouted at the child's grandmother.

The child's grandmother held the crying child, then looked at Rosalynn in panic, "Blood... Blood..."

Zenobia stood in front of the crowd, watching blood flow from between Rosalynn's fingers and drop onto the sand.

"Don't be scared, Rosalynn. I'll call a helicopter right now. I'll take you to the hospital, you'll be fine, you'll definitely be fine Evan's face was pale with fright.

How did he not manage to hold onto Rosalynn?

"My place has a vehicle, let the medical team come first to assess the injury." Rosalynn's face was a little pale. She was thinking about how to explain this to her children when she got home.

Felix immediately made a call, and Osborn, hearing the commotion, ran out.

Before he even saw Rosalynn, he heard the terrified islanders saying, "The female CEO is injured, she won't let us go now. What should we do! If we had known, we would've taken the money and left..."

Injured?

Osborn's heart skipped a beat.

He pushed through the crowd, and immediately saw Rosalynn, her hand covered in blood, covering her eye!

Chapter 1427

"I've got a first aid kit at my place, why don't we head there first?" Osborn blurted out.

Zenobia and Viola stared at him in surprise.

"Sounds good, thanks!" Evan didn't think twice, he was desperate to know the extent of Rosalynn's injuries.

He immediately scooped Rosalynn up into his arms, ignoring the stares from his mother and Zenobia. He led Evan straight to his family's inn, some concerned islanders trailing behind them to Osborn's place. Osborn fetched the first aid kit.

He originally planned to clean Rosalynn's wounds himself, but Evan took the kit from him.

He had volunteered at a battlefield hospital in the past, and was pretty handy when it came to wound cleaning.

"Rosalynn, don't be scared." He said, mixing up a solution from the medical supplies in the kit, while trying to comfort Rosalynn.

Rosalynn was surprisingly calm.

"Don't worry about me. I'm fine." She said a little helplessly.

With Evan's hands shaking that much, she was worried he might accidentally poke her in the eye.

Osborn watched, an indescribable feeling welling up in his heart.

Zenobia gently tugged at him, he looked at her, and they retreated to the back of the crowd.

"Have you lost your mind?" Zenobia asked him.

“Just make sure he doesn’t come down.” Osborn’s brows furrowed, “She’s bleeding that much, we can’t just stand by and do nothing, right?”

Zenobia clenched her fists, then turned and ran upstairs, only to bump into Wayne who was on his way down.

“Alan, why are you here?”

“What happened?” Wayne’s eyebrows knitted together, but his gaze was fixed downstairs.

From where he was standing, he could see Rosalynn surrounded by a crowd, her white coat stained with blood.

Wayne’s heart pounded, almost losing his balance.

“What happened to her?”

“Some islanders got into a fight, she was caught in the middle, got hurt by someone.” Zenobia’s eyebrows furrowed, “She should be okay. Her fiancé is taking care of her wounds, they’ve called for a helicopter, she’ll be in a hospital soon.”

Wayne’s brows were still furrowed.

Evan was busy cleaning the blood and sand around Rosalynn’s eyes.

She was in pain.

Wayne could hear her suppressed whimper.

His hand, resting on the railing, clenched tightly, his arm trembling.

“Alan?”

Zenobia noticed his gaze fixated on Rosalynn, she subtly positioned herself to block his view.

Wayne looked at her.

“You should go rest.” Zenobia said gently.

He was silent for a moment, then turned and walked upstairs.

Zenobia breathed a sigh of relief, but then she heard his icy voice, “Don’t worry about me. I know my place. I won’t return to her side in this broken state.”

With that, he disappeared upstairs.

Chapter 1428

Zenobia was taken aback, shocked beyond belief!

He knew it...

Did his memory come back?

Wayne stumbled back into his room, bolting the door behind him.

Soon after, he could hear the thumping sound of a helicopter. He rushed to open the door of the balcony, stepping out onto the terrace.

Just in time to see Felix carrying Rosalynn, sprinting towards the helicopter, with Evan hot on their heels

After Rosalynn's departure, a somber mood descended over the people at the Osborn's

Osborn looked at Rosalynn's blood on the ground, "Did anyone see who hurt Ms. Tesdal?"

"It was chaos. No one noticed."

"Did Pearl see? She got hurt trying to protect Pearl. Pearl's grandma, did you ask Pearl?"

Pearl's grandmother was clearly anxious, "She's just a child, what could she have seen? I asked her, she didn't see anything?" "So what now? The president of Bane Corporation, the heir of the Jared Group got injured here. If she's really hurt her eyes, someone has to answer for it, right?" Osborn muttered.

As they were talking, they heard a flurry of footsteps outside.

Everyone quickly got up and went out

Zenobia recognized the tall man leading the group, his name was Mike.

"Who started the fight?" Mike stood firm, pointing at the islanders and demanded coldly.

Zenobia frowned, "Aren't you a volunteer? Why are you here?"

"I'm not a volunteer, I'm Hilaria Jared's bodyguard, I'm here to protect Rosalynn!"

Mike dropped the friendly volunteer act, looking as tough as nails now, "Our chairman heard her precious granddaughter was hurt here. I'm to find the perpetrator!!"

“You looking for trouble? You don’t care if we post this on the internet?” Zenobia shot back angrily.

Mike smirked at her, “You can try and see if you can even send a message out!”

As soon as he finished speaking, someone exclaimed, “I can’t make a call”

“My phone has no connection

Jaime, upon hearing that Rosalynn was in trouble, had immediately activated the signal jammer:

Since their arrival on the island, they had been setting up security measures, including signal jammers

Now, no one on the island could use the internet or make calls without Jaime’s permission!

“Ms. Jared is always kind and generous, all I want now is for you to find who hurt her!” Mike said, “If you can’t, I promise life will be very difficult for everyone here?”

“It was an accident, she insisted on pushing through, why Zenobia started to argue

Like Mike would listen to that!

He had already asked Felix, who said Gabriella was hurt while protecting a child

Why were these rude people saying that Gabriella insisted on pushing through?

“Nonsense!” Mike pointed at Zenobia angrily “I thought you were just unwilling to leave because of your attachment to your homeland. But now it seems you’re all ungrateful, malicious people! Gabriella was hurt saving one of your children, but in your words, she deserved it? Fine Great!”

“Sir, we didn’t say that she deserved it, she’s just talking nonsense Pearfs grandmother pointed at Zenobia. “The president was hurt protecting my granddaughter. I’m forever grateful if it went for her, Pead would have been bur How could k

she deserved a

Yeah we all know, the president was protecting the child! Zenobia, what are you babbling about obia are you out of your mind, trying to get us all in trouble?

People started accusing Zenobia, leaving her looking lost.

She clearly remembered, not long ago, these people had all looked up to her as their leader

Chapter 1429

Why are they all ganging up on her out of the blue?

In the inn.

Wayne descended the staircase slowly, his heart aching at the sight of the blood on the ground.

He sat where Rosalynn was just sitting, his hand resting where she had touched

Viola stepped out of her room just in time to catch this scene, her heart rate quickened.

She then slowly walked up to Wayne and squatted down: "Alan, you okay?"

Wayne didn't respond.

Viola asked again, "Are you feeling off again?"

"Since you're so close, can you see how bad her injuries are?" Wayne asked hoarsely, "Is she badly hurt?"

Viola was taken aback: "Alan, you....."

Wayne shook his head: "I don't remember anything, but I heard your conversation while I was unconscious."

Viola was very anxious: "Mr. Silverman, we didn't mean to deceive you, we.."

"You haven't answered my question." Wayne said seriously, "Is she badly injured?"

Viola shook her head: "I'm not sure, it's her right eye... I don't know if her eyeball is damaged."

Wayne suddenly felt dizzy. Viola panicked, "Alan, are you okay?"

Wayne shook his head. "If there's any news, let me know,"

"Alright, I will!" Viola nodded quickly.

Wayne sat for a while, then slowly got up: "It's a chaotic outside, go take a look, don't let Zenobia stir up more trouble."

"But you....."

Wayne didn't continue the conversation and walked straight upstairs.

Viola watched his retreating figure, tears streaming down her face.

They should avoid talking to him from now on.

But what now?

If he leaves, Zenobia will be devastated....

Rosalynn had also been rushed to the nearest hospital at top speed.

Although she was shocked, she was okay

"It was so close to hitting a nerve around her eye!" The doctor exclaimed while looking at the medical record, "If the nerve was damaged, this eye might not be saved"

Evan, after hearing this, was relieved.

"When you go home, you need to rest well and make sure the wound doesn't get infected." The doctor advised Before Rosalynn could say anything. Evan quickly nodded: "Don't worry I'll take good care of her

The doctor smiled "A considerate husband like you is rare these days!"

"We're just friends." Rosalynn clarified.

The doctor looked embarrassed and prescribed some medicine

"Should I go to the island and handle things for you? You stay here and rest, and if there's anything you can't handle video call you?" Evan cautiously suggested.

"Do you think that's appropriate?" Rosalynn asked helplessly, "You are the CEO of Rena Gold Delight, but you want to help me, Bane Corporation, handle things. If this news gets out, the media might spread the news that we're getting married tomorrow, believe it or not."

Evan thought to himself, he was looking forward to that.

"I have a medical team with me, don't worry." Rosalynn continued, "Now is the best time to solve this problem, I need to go back."
