The Secret Heir Return To Wealth And Love Chapter 1431

Chapter 1431

The moment Rosalynn's words fell, the islanders who had been so tough on Sean and the others before fell silent.

They knew full well how fierce their attitudes had been.

Especially after those influencers and volunteers arrived, some extreme islanders mixed in the crowd and attacked Bane Corporation's people.

The guy named Mike said yesterday that Bane Corporation could hold them responsible at any time. Harming people means legal responsibility.

Zenobia stared at Rosalynn. She didn't like Rosalynn's leadership attitude.

If it wasn't for fear that Alan would be discovered by Rosalynn, she would never compromise and would definitely fight her head-on.

After all, her attitude was just because she was born in a wealthy family.

That's what Zenobia thought.

Rosalynn's gaze suddenly fell on them, sweeping among their family members, "Why is one person missing from your family? Isn't Zenobia's fiancé, the brain of the islanders, here to strategize for everyone?"

Zenobia's face changed, Osborn spoke up first, "Alan is not well, and he hasn't married Zenobia yet, so he doesn't participate in the island's affairs."

Zenobia also said, "He's not our leader, he only recognized the rare coral. What's your purpose for calling us over, just spit it out."

“What’s with the attitude?” Felix, who had had a bone to pick with Zenobia since landing on the island, pointed at her and shouted when he saw her speaking so rudely and impatiently to Rosalynn, “If you don’t want to be here, you can just leave!” Zenobia was about to flip the table and storm out.

She was held back by her mother next to her, “Zenobia, stop making a scene! Let’s resolve this quickly so we can leave the island!”

Viola whispered in Zenobia’s ear.

Zenobia glared at Felix, but didn’t say anything in the end.

Rosalynn didn’t stop Felix either, Zenobia had a big grudge against her.

Why should she stop Felix when she was ready to go at him like that?

“I don’t have much to say, your relocation agreements are all here. Once you sign, Bane Corporation will immediately deposit the agreed-upon money into your accounts. And Bane Corporation will no longer pursue the losses caused by your illegal stay during this time.”

Rosalynn signaled to the pile of agreements at her side.

The islanders looked at each other with different expressions.

“You’ve been making a fuss for so long, I believe some of you have even consulted lawyers, According to your status as land lessees, Bane Corporation has no obligation to give such high compensation. This is the goodwill of our President Silverman and Ms. Tesdal. The compensation is enough for you to open a new inn elsewhere. Is it necessary to make such a fuss? Calculate how much indirect loss you have suffered from having almost no tourists coming to your inn for the past half a year? This situation is not just temporary, the longer you make a fuss, the more you lose. After all, as Ms. Tesdal just stated, no matter what you do, we will only give you the agreed amount. And the more you delay the construction of the resort, the less money you will receive. If you make too much fuss, you may not get a penny and even have to compensate Bane Corporation.”

Sean acted like a good guy, once again analyzing the pros and cons for everyone.

Most of the islanders here are uneducated. They were able to take action because Zenobia was their leader.

But now Zenobia's family had suddenly betrayed them and wanted to move out.

They had lost their leader, so everyone had scattered.

Chapter 1432

Yesterday, Rosalynn got hurt, and on top of that, Mike's death threats all night added an extra layer of gloom to everyone's mood.

"Ma'am, you got injured protecting our dear Pearl. If we keep wasting your time, we'd be seriously ungrateful!" Pearl's grandma was the first to stand, "I'll sign first!"

They had already made up their minds last night.

They had heard from other families that if they kept dragging it out, they could get more compensation.

But now, the president of Bane Corporation got hurt because of their child. They started to worry that if they continued to protest, the blame for hurting the lady boss would be pinned on them.

So, they decided last night that they would sign the relocation agreement with Sean today. They planned to take the and scam once the deal was sealed.

Sean fetched the contract for Pearl's family and handed it to her with a pen.

Pearl's family quickly signed it.

"We already agreed to move the day before yesterday." Osborn continued, "Give us our contract. We'll sign."

Sean passed the contract to Osborn's family.

money

The remaining families, although reluctant to move, found themselves cornered and had to accept their contracts, signing them with heavy hearts.

"Ma'am, about the coral reef... someone asked.

“If they really are rare corals, we’ll work with local authorities to establish a protected area.” Rosalynn replied casually, standing up, “Now that the contracts are signed, as per the agreement, you all must leave the island within three days of receiving the money. Any objections?”

“No objections!”

“Three days, huh? We have a lot of stuff, can we get a few more days?”

The responses varied.

“I’ll arrange for help with packing and provide a boat for your departure. Considering your previous actions, let’s stick to the contract.” Rosalynn was about to leave when she seemed to remember something.

She turned to look at the crowd, who immediately tensed up.

“By the way, please read the last page of the contract carefully.” Rosalynn said calmly, “If after taking the money and moving out, you start slandering Bane Corporation anywhere, we reserve the right to take back any compensation we gave you beyond what’s required by law. The amount you’re legally entitled to is clearly stated in the contract. I’d rather not take this to court, so consider this a friendly reminder.”

“Madam, we won’t do that!” Pearl’s grandma chimed in immediately.

Others quickly agreed.

Rosalynn’s gaze finally landed on Zenobia: “I hope so.”

With that, she left, surrounded by her bodyguards.

Sean was the last to leave.

He didn’t expect the relocation issue to be resolved so quickly.

He was in a great mood.

He had spent quite some time with these islanders.

“Dear friends, we’ve been together for quite a while, and I’ve grown fond of you. So, let me give you a polite reminder remember what my boss said. Trust me on this one, you wouldn’t want to mess with her

With that, Sean turned and joyfully caught up with the group

The island’s non-residents were leaving one by one.

Chapter 1433

A middle-aged man angrily said, "So after all that, we're just taking the money and leaving. What have we been doing these past few months?"

"Yeah, my friend moved out half a year ago. He lives in a nice resettlement house and started a snack bar with the compensation money. Business is booming! My mom makes better snacks than his mom. If we had moved out back then, we would be doing even better than him by now!"

"It's all because some people were spreading rumors!"

Everyone's accusations were pointed at Zenobia's family.

"What we were fighting for with Bane Corporation was never about the money, we wanted to stay!" Zenobia retorted, "You guys are the ones being all sneaky and manipulative, who else can you blame?"

The man being accused of being sneaky and manipulative immediately got angry. He slammed the table and pointed at Zenobia's nose, "I dare you say that again? If it wasn't for respecting your father, we would have stormed into your house last night and dragged out your mystery fiancé for a good beating! And you dare to mock us here!!"

"That's right, didn't he say he was confident that he could make Bane Corporation compromise and let us stay? Now the first ones to run are you guys!!"

A resident who didn't want the money, only to stay, his eyes red, also slammed the table and cursed.

"If you don't want to go, you can refuse to sign!" Osborn looked at the man who spoke, "We were the ones fighting in the front, what have you done other than following us? Now that we can't get what we want, you want to blame us?"

"Let's just..."

Viola had grown quite a few white hairs in the past couple of days.

She waved her hand tiredly and helplessly, "Let's go back and pack up, prepare to leave."

Seeing their mother like this, Osborn and Zenobia decided not to argue anymore.

They stood up, helped their mother up, ignored the hateful glares from everyone, and left the activity center.

"Are we just gonna let them off the hook?" The man accused of being sneaky and manipulative looked at everyone, "Shouldn't they compensate us for our losses over the past few months?"

“Yeah, I heard before that their hotel is bigger, so even though they have fewer people, their compensation is more than ours...” Pearl’s grandmother rambled on.

“The land they initially occupied was originally public land. Zenobia’s father saved the island owner, and the owner, against everyone’s objections, leased that prime piece of land to him at a rock-bottom price! In the past few years, most of the tourists who came to the island went to their hotel. They’ve always made more than us, and now they’re getting more compensation than us. It’s not fair!”

“Let’s decide on an amount, go straight to Viola’s house, and settle this before we move!!” An older man made the decision.

“We shouldn’t ask for too much, how about 50,000 dollars per household?”

“Sounds fair.”

“Agreed.”

And so, the islanders expressed their opinions and naturally settled on the amount.

After a while, the bank accounts provided by the islanders began receiving compensation from Bane Corporation.

Everyone looked at the long string of numbers, and even those who didn’t want to leave couldn’t help but smile.

“I checked, according to our policy, the compensation amount should be...” Someone looked at the contract and spoke with a disappointed expression to the ecstatic people, “The amount we received is almost three times the policy amount.”

“Sean mentioned this before. He said that when the contract was sent to the Bane Corporation headquarters, President Silverman thought the money was too little. He was worried that we wouldn’t be able to live off this money after we leave the island, so he gave us some extra.”

Chapter

In fact, when they were discussing this matter that day, Ivy was sleeping in Wayne’s office. When Ivy woke up, she came out in a daze looking for her dad.

Wayne never made Ivy leave when he was working or in a meeting.

Seeing her come out, he immediately smiled and reached out to Ivy.

A moment later, Ivy was sleepily sitting in Wayne’s lap.

Chapter 1434

Wayne was listening to his crew's report about the island while also finding the time to grab some snacks for Ivy

Suddenly, Ivy looked at Wayne and asked, "Will this money be enough?"

Wayne was taken aback, not understanding Ivy's question.

Ivy pointed to the papers on the table, "After you chase them away, will the money you give them be enough? There was a woman on our island, her place was taken over by bad guys. They didn't have enough money, so she had to work as a maid at our house."

Rosalynn, Hilaria, and Paige had all told Wayne about it.

Ivy had always been concerned about everyone on the island since she was little, from the guards at the dock to the maids. at home, she cared about them all.

She seemed to understand everyone's problems.

At first, Wayne thought they might be exaggerating a bit.

But that day, seeing Ivy's caring and serious eyes, he realized that they were not exaggerating at all.

So, under Ivy's caring and expectant gaze, the compensation amount, which was originally set according to the policy, tripled.

The financial director was having a headache.

Afterwards, they all requested the CEO to arrange meetings like this either in the conference room or when Ivy was not in the company, to prevent Wayne from making any more shocking decisions.

After receiving the money, everyone checked the original contract amount and reminded each other to remember the warning from the female CEO.

For the sake of their future happiness, they had to keep their mouths shut.

Then, each family sent two young people to the Viola family's inn.

Viola had almost finished packing.

Some big items couldn't be moved, so Viola planned to call a moving company later.

The island residents were very resentful towards them, so she was a bit worried about conflicts and decided to leave first.

“That’s basically it, the remaining people on the island have signed the contract.” Viola said sitting across from Wayne, “Her eyes are fine now.”

Wayne looked at the photo of Rosalynn that Viola had secretly taken, remaining silent.

Viola was uneasy, “Alan... no, Mr. Silverman...”

“Just call me Alan,” Wayne said.

Viola asked, “Are you really not planning to go back?”

Wayne looked up at Viola, “Viola, me not going back doesn’t mean I’ll marry Zenobia. Her lies have been exposed.”

Viola’s smile gradually disappeared and suddenly, there was a lot of noise coming from downstairs.

“It might be the people from the other families. You stay right here, I’ll go check.” Viola’s expression was very serious.

It seemed that the thing she was worried about was about to happen

Chapter 1435

Viola hustled downstairs.

She caught someone complaining loudly: “Because of your instigation, we’ve indirectly lost so much, and now you want to bail, that’s just not on!”

Osborn grabbed the irate Zenobia, “I’ve told you, staying to fight against Bane Corporation is everyone’s choice!”

Osborn may not be a match for Rosalynn’s bodyguard, but dealing with these islanders was still a piece of cake.

“So what do you want?” Viola descended the stairs, her tone much more assertive than usual.

The Viola couple had some clout locally, otherwise these folks wouldn’t have stuck with them on the island for these months.

But now everyone was going their own way, not many people cared about reputation anymore.

“How much do you want? Viola asked.

“We’re not going to be unreasonable, 50 thousand dollars per family. We know you got more compensation than us, you can totally afford it, so stop playing poor. We’re not haggling here!”

“50 grand? How dare you ask for so much money?” Zenobia lost her cool and started yelling at them.

“Zenobia, we haven’t even started with you. Your fiancé’s bright idea attracted all these influencers and volunteers, even got that female CEO over here, almost got us in hot water with her!”

“And yeah, the stone that hit the CEO yesterday, I saw it, it was you who kicked it!” A woman, who came with her husband, said viciously, “If it wasn’t for your father’s sake, I would’ve exposed you last night!”

“What are you blabbering about!” Osborn retorted angrily.

“She saw it, either cough up the money or we all go to the CEO and rat out Zenobia!” The leading man immediately started to make a fuss.

The others echoed him at once.

Viola looked livid, “All of you, when my husband was alive, who didn’t benefit from him? If you have a shred of conscience, you wouldn’t frame my daughter for money!”

“Viola, I’m not framing her, I really saw it!” The woman insisted, “I’m sure she did it on purpose. She only kicked the stone after she saw the CEO holding Pearl. You didn’t see her face then, as if she wished the CEO would drop dead!”

“Mom, I didn’t, she’s framing me!” Zenobia rebutted immediately, “She’s just trying to squeeze money out of us!”

“Hmph!” The woman said angrily, “I didn’t expect you to be this kind of person. You dare to do it but not own up to it, today I don’t want the fifty grand anymore, I’m going to tell the CEO everything!”

The woman was very determined, after saying this she made to leave.

“You can’t just give up on the fifty grand!” Her husband hurriedly tried to stop her.

“I’m not going to let her off the hook!” The woman protested loudly.

Viola glanced at her daughter.

Her own flesh and blood, raised by her, one look and Viola could see through her.

“Enough!”

Viola reprimanded coldly, the bickering couple immediately quieted down.

“Leave your bank details, Osborn, give them the money!”

Chapter 1436

“Mom!” Zenobia exclaimed in shock.

They could at least talk about the price!

“Enough!” Viola’s eyes were filled with warning as she looked at Zenobia.

From the start, she hadn’t agreed with Zenobia bringing people to stir up trouble. She had known these people for a long time and was familiar with most of their characters.

They were the type to bully the weak and fear the strong. They got a kick out of doing things that hurt others without benefiting themselves.

Zenobia had never seen her mother so serious before, and she was somewhat intimidated.

“The money will be given to you immediately, but let me make it clear here, from now on, we’re cutting all ties. Don’t come looking for us if you have any problems in the future, my kids and I won’t help you anymore!”

All they cared about was getting the fifty thousand dollars, they didn’t think about what would happen afterwards.

After leaving the island, everyone would go their own way in search of wealth. It was uncertain whether they would meet again.

What’s more, their family was down to just a few people. After leaving the island, who would need help was also uncertain!

“Viola, we’ll remember the good deeds of your husband when he was alive. If you need help in the future, we’ll do our best to assist you!”

Viola sneered. These people were just saying nice things.

Soon, Osborn handed over the money to them.

“Get out!” Osborn stared at these people, his eyes filled with disgust and contempt.

Before leaving, an older man suddenly said to Viola, “Viola, you need to seriously consider your son-in-law. Zenobia is so beautiful, she could get any man she wants.

Why would she choose someone who's ill and could potentially bring trouble?" "What are you babbling about?" Zenobia was about to rush out but was held back by Osborn.

The man was startled and retreated to the door, then said with a mocking face, "Did I say something wrong? If he hadn't shown up, would you have lost so much money? Isn't he the one causing trouble?"

After saying this, the man hurriedly left, fearing that Zenobia would rush out to hit him.

"Osborn, why did you hold me back? I think we should beat these people up!" Zenobia yelled angrily.

Just then Viola's slap landed directly on Zenobia's face.

Zenobia was instantly silenced, she looked at her mother in shock: "Mom, you're hitting me because of these people?"

"You know exactly why I'm hitting you!"

A hint of panic flashed in Zenobia's eyes.

"If something had really happened to her yesterday, Bane Corporation and her grandmother's people would have surrounded our island in an instant. Did you think they wouldn't find out about the people at home?" Viola lowered her voice and asked through gritted teeth.

Osborn realized something. He looked at Zenobia in surprise: "Is what mom saying true? Are you the one who really hurt Ms Tesdal?"

Chapter 1437

Ever since Zenobia found out that Rosalynn was actually Alan's wife, she couldn't help but keep an eye on her wherever she showed up.

Yesterday evening, even before the argument started, Zenobia had spotted Rosalynn.

The islanders who had always been respectful suddenly started hurling abuses and even hurt her mom.

Rosalynn was on the scene, and Zenobia was pretty sure that she had something to do with it!

When she saw Rosalynn lunging at Pearl, she instinctively thought that this woman was trying to harm Pearl, so she kicked a piece of broken stone at her feet towards her.

When she saw Rosalynn bleeding, she didn't feel guilty at all, but instead felt a sense of relief, as if she had avenged Alan. It wasn't until Rosalynn was taken away by a helicopter and Mike surrounded her with a bunch of people that she realized she might have messed up.

"I didn't mean to!" Zenobia whispered, "Could you keep it down? Alan could hear us!"

"Alright, since she's fine, let's put an end to this. No one should bring it up again." Viola sounded stern, "Pack up as soon as possible, a boat is coming to pick us up tomorrow morning."

Osborn had a bad feeling about this.

"Why are you worried about Alan hearing this?" He looked at his mom and Zenobia, "Alan doesn't even know who she is..." His words trailed off, looking at the silent mother and daughter.

He was taken aback, "Did Alan regain his memory?"

"No, he overheard us talking about him, but he doesn't want to go back with that lady CEO... no man can accept that his wife found someone new just a few months after he disappeared." Viola whispered, "Anyway, never mention that lady in front of him again. After we leave the island, we can start a new life."

After finishing her words, Viola turned and left for the courtyard.

Osborn stood there, looking a little stupefied.

"Osborn, what's up with you?" Zenobia took a glance at him, frowning slightly, "Are you still pissed because I accidentally hurt that woman? Osborn, you've been acting really weird these days, always siding with that woman. When she got injured yesterday, you looked so worried... did you fall for her?"

Osborn immediately frowned.

Seeing his reaction, Zenobia continued, "Wake up, look at her social status, and look at ours. You two are not from the same world..."

"Are you and Wayne from the same world?" Osborn asked bluntly.

"There is no Wayne now, only my fiancé Alan!" Zenobia blurted out.

Osborn looked at Zenobia.

"Zenobia, mom was wrong" Osborn swallowed hard, his eyes reddening. "Last night, I overheard Sean and the bodyguards talking about Mr. Lockner."

Zenobia immediately became alert.

Osborn's eyes grew even redder: "Sean said, Mr. Lockner and Ms Tesdal are just friends. Ms. Tesdal has been looking for Wayne all along, she never dated any other man. She and her kids are waiting for Wayne to come back every day..."

"What are you talking about, Osborn? Zenobia stepped forward and covered Osborn's mouth, her eyes wide with fear

"It's true! Osborn's voice trembled, "Zenobia. "

"Osborn, I can't live without Alan. If he leaves, I won't be able to survive!" Zenobia's tears started to fall

She fell for Wayne at first sight.

That day when she came home and heard noises from upstairs, she pushed open the door to see a man with a pale face looking at her sideways.

He seemed to be heavily injured.

Before Zenobia had a chance to ask him anything, he looked at her blankly and asked, "Where am I? Who am I? Do you know me?"

Zenobia was at a loss for words.

Chapter 1438

in the next breath, she asked, wide-eyed, "Did you lose your memory? Did you forget about me?"

"Lose my memory? The man knitted his brows

Zenobia stepped forward, "You're Alan, my fiance. You had an accident at sea not long ago and have been unconscious since then!"

He didn't have a clue who he was, and he was in her home.

She had fallen for him at first sight, thinking it was the work of fate.

Not only was he a looker, but he also had a brain packed with knowledge.

Due to his memory loss, his vocabulary was limited, but when it came to things he'd encountered before, his brain instinctively reacted

For instance, he discovered rare corals and came up with a way to stall Bane Corporation.

If it weren't for the fear of Alan being found, they could have kept Bane Corporation at bay indefinitely according to his plan

What woman wouldn't fall for such a handsome and smart man?

Osborn watched Zenobia, tears streaming down her face. He didn't know what to do,

Choking back her sobs, Zenobia said, "Osborn, she and I are not the same. She's high society, loaded and powerful. Look, even without Wayne, there are others chasing after her. Even if she's not accepting anyone now, it's only a matter of time. I'm different, Alan is the best thing that's ever happened to me, I love him so much, he means everything to me! She can live without him, but I can't..."

"Alan is a responsible man, when we get married and have our kids. Even if he's upset, he wouldn't abandon me and our child Zenobia blurted out

Osborn was silent for a while, then turned and left the inn.

"Osborn!" Zenobia followed him out.

"Are you going to see Ms. Tesdal?" she asked, panic-stricken, "I'll really kill myself, I swear I will You promised my father you'd take care of me! You can't do this to me!"

"I won't!" replied Osborn, "I just need some fresh air

"Osborn, I know you're the best. Don't worry, I'll treat Alan right

Osborn responded, "Just go pack your things

Wiping her tears, Zenobia nodded.

Osborn headed towards the dock anyway

In the kitchen, Viola looked at the medicine in her hand.

It was a prescription from Osborn, meant to help Wayne recuperate

Viola opened the medicine, expertly picked out a few herbs and tossed them into the fumace, then threw the rest into a pot to boil.

So what if he regained his memory?

And what if he didn't?

As long as he was bedridden, even if he wanted to leave, he couldn't

Then, Viola took something that looked like a root from her pocket and threw it into the pot.

Chapter 1439

All the volunteers on the island used to bunk at the locals' places. Even though they've moved out now, they still keep in touch with the islanders.

Word that the islanders had accepted Bane Corporation's compensation offer and were about to leave en masse spread among the volunteers like wildfire.

Some volunteers were left feeling lost, while others were downright furious!

"It must be that Bane Corporation's CEO used her accident yesterday to intimidate the islanders. She thinks once they're gone, they can just trash the corals as they please!"

"Rich people are the worst!"

"We need to make our stance clear, we can't let her think they're home free once the islanders leave!"

"Right! Let's split up, I'll take a few people to talk to the islanders, see if they've been threatened by Bane Corporation's CEO. If so, I'll convince them to stay! The rest of you head to where the CEO's staying, and give her a piece of our mind!"

After some discussion, they divided up the tasks and left the crowd.

Just as Jerry took the lead to Rosalynn's place, he ran into some familiar faces.

"Jaime! Mike!!!" Jerry called out to Jaime and Mike who just came out.

Jaime was in a foul mood.

He heard about Rosalynn's accident yesterday and was worried sick, wanting to see her but there was no transportation off the island at night.

As soon as Rosalynn returned, she went right back to dealing with the islanders without resting.

When she got back home, Jaime saw the eyepatch on her face and his heart ached.

Jaime, who already had a chip on his shoulder against the islanders, was now utterly disgusted.

He stormed out full of rage, and Jerry became his punching bag.

"What are you yelling about?" Jaime asked.

Jerry looked furious, as if he'd been greatly deceived: "You two frauds! You're actually from a wealthy family!"

"What? Is there a law saying the rich can't protect marine life or be volunteers? You've been on this island for so long, you've done less than what I did in two days here, all you do is hang banners, were you a banner expert in your previous life?"

Mike was stunned to see Jaime shouting.

"You!" Jerry was left speechless, "I won't argue with a person. Tonight, I'll cut the video and expose your ugly faces to the public, let my fans see!"

"Fine Jaime whipped out his phone, fiddled with it, then shoved the screen in Jerry's face, "I'd like to expose your peeping under female volunteers' skirts. Let's see who falls first!"

Jerry glanced at the content on Jaime's phone, his face turned pale instantly

Jaime had stumbled upon it unintentionally Jerry held a high position among the group.

Mainly because Jerry has three million followers on Tik Tok and has won some environmental-related awards

He seemed like a polite person, but in reality, he was a nasty piece of work.

Chapter 1440

Well, the redhead lady next to Jerry is the one Jerry secretly photographed in Jaime's phone.

The lady was stunned, and gave Jerry a sharp slap on the face.

"You bastard, I'm gonna sue you!"

"I've got your back. I'll send you the video later, and also the ones of him harassing other women. You guys should team up. If you're short on legal fees, come to me. I'll help out!"

"Deal! Let's exchange contact info!" The redhead didn't hesitate to pull out her phone.

Seeing this, Jerry quickly grabbed Jaime's phone. "Jaime, what did I ever do to you? Why are you doing this to me?"

"There's no grudge. I just can't stand people like you!" Jaime disdainfully shrugged off Jerry's hand.

He promptly added the redhead's contact info.

Seeing this, Jerry turned to the redhead lady for help. “Mandy, listen to me, I didn’t mean any harm by taking those photos. You know what kind of person I am, right? I just have some bad habits, but I wouldn’t show them to anyone! I really don’t mean to hurt you guys, please believe me. Can you forgive me this one time for the sake of our past?”

As Jerry spoke, tears welled up in his eyes.

“If this goes public, my career and family will be ruined. You’re a kind-hearted woman. I’ve never really hurt you, you can forgive me, right?”

“Just because you seemed decent before. You suddenly doing this to the girls is like, a good guy suddenly turning disgusting, it’s horrifying! How dare you ask for forgiveness, you jerk!”

Jaime continued.

Mandy said, “I am indeed a kind woman, but my kindness is for the kind. You’re only sorry because you got caught. If not, you’d continue, getting worse, until you really hurt the girls! I won’t let you off!”

Mandy’s answer was firm. Jerry instantly changed his tune and raised his hand to hit Mandy.

Mike was right there, he couldn’t just stand by.

He gave Jerry a swift kick in the ass, and Jerry fell to the ground.

Mandy looked a little scared and was quickly protected by the people with her.

“You lowlife!” Jerry pointed at Mandy. “It’s you guys who have no self-respect, enticing me and seducing me. I just took a few pictures, and you want to ruin my life, bitch, you’ll get what’s coming to you, I won’t let you off!”

With that, Jerry, looking afraid of Mike taking another swing, quickly got up and ran off, clutching his sore lower back.

He needed to find his PR team and come up with a rescue plan ASAP!

Jerry thought that coming to this island, he could ride on the popularity of Bane Corporation’s CEO Rosalynn, and increase his fan base.

However, he didn’t anticipate that his fan growth would fall short.

Now, his career was facing an unprecedented crisis!

Mandy looked shell-shocked.

Jaime still looked disgruntled. He glanced at the remaining seven or eight people and asked, "What are you guys here for? Don't you know that Rosalynn was injured by those thugs and needs rest?"

Mandy looked at Jaime and said, "Although we appreciate your help, we came here to protect the rare corals. Even if you've driven off the locals, it won't shake our resolve"

Jaime was speechless.
