The Secret Heir Return To Wealth And Love Chapter 1471

Chapter 1471

As Rosalynn was seeing off Paige and Baillie, Mike happened to walk in.

Seeing him, Rosalynn had a good guess what he was here for

Her expression instantly cooled

“Ms. Jared, Osborn has been mentioning he wants to meet you.”

“Is he the one who’s been hiding Wayne?” Paige shot back, angry, “He wants to meet Rosalynn? Is he looking for trouble?”

Mike shared the same sentiment.

“Tell them that I’ll decide when to meet them. Let them wait for me,” Rosalynn said, icily

Mike hesitated, “So we don’t mention anything about Zenobia, right?”

“Mhm.”

Rosalynn nodded, indifferent.

Why should she tell them?

Let them taste the feeling of not knowing whether their loved ones are alive or dead!

“Got it!”

After Mike replied, he hurried off.

Paige was still fuming

“I wish I could go over there and give them a good beating!”

Rosalynn looked at Paige, her expression softening a bit. She gently stroked Paige's lower back, "Let Baillie take you to the hotel to rest for a bit. Then, you two should head back. Once Wayne's condition is more stable, I'll bring him home."

"Okay." Paige, with red eyes, opened her arms to hug Rosalynn, "If you need anything, call me right away!"

"I will."

Rosalynn patted her back

Then, Baillie took Paige and left the hospital.

As they were leaving. Paige looked at Baillie, "I suddenly feel that Wayne isn't so bad. I used to wish he could just drop dead, but now I hope he can be healthy and live a long life."

Baillie gently stroked Paige's head, "He will. The numbers on those reports are indeed shocking, but there's nothing fatal at the moment. The blood clots in his brain have also been cleared"

"Mhm." Paige nodded.

If Baillie said Wayne could live a long time, then he definitely will!

After bidding Paige goodbye, Rosalynn returned to the ward.

Under the influence of the medication, Wayne was already asleep.

Rosalynn sat down next to him, took his hand, and placed it on her cheek

Her gaze remained on him

Wayne wasn't sleeping peacefully, perhaps because he was having a nightmare. His brows were furrowed and there were beads of sweat emerging on his forehead.

Rosalynn immediately got up to comfort him.

Wayne woke up suddenly

He was panting heavily, and only when he saw who was in front of him did his tension fade, and he relaxed back onto the bed.

“Did you have a nightmare? Rosalynn gently wiped the sweat off his forehead.

Wayne took her hand and placed it

| heart.

It was strange

Zenobia led, saying she was his fiancée, but from the beginning, he had always tried to avoid any physical contact with her.

But now, even without any memories of Rosalynn, Wayne instinctively liked Rosalynn’s touch and craved physical contact with her

Even just holding hands would give him an immense sense of satisfaction

“When are we going home?” Wayne asked.

Chapter 1472

“Real soon,” Rosalynn answered, “Once you’re fit for a long-haul flight, we’re heading home.”

Wayne stared at Rosalynn.

“Do I look different now?” he asked, “I’ve got scars on my face, I’m not handsome anymore, will the kids be scared of me?”

The old Wayne was always brimming with confidence, but now he was filled with doubts.

“No way, our kids are very understanding, there are no kids warmer than them.” Rosalynn replied gently, “And, you didn’t become less handsome... otherwise, that woman wouldn’t have fallen for you, given you a new name, and made you her fiancé!”

Upon mentioning this, an annoyed expression appeared on Rosalynn’s face.

if they hadn't concealed Wayne, he would have received adequate medical treatment from the start and wouldn't have ended up like this!

Thinking about this, Rosalynn was extremely angry.

"Don't be mad." Wayne took her hand and shook it slightly, "I didn't let her touch me, I had no strength last night, I couldn't push her away"

Rosalynn was taken aback, then teased him. "You're so loyal to me even with amnesia?"

"Mhm." Wayne nodded.

Seeing his obedient demeanor, Rosalynn leaned over and kissed his pale lips. "You're so good!"

Wayne nodded, pondering why she had left him before.

His thumb gently stroked the back of her hand, "Have I always been this good to you?"

Rosalynn was slightly taken aback, then nodded, "Yes, we've always been good!"

"That's good" Wayne sighed with relief.

"You look really tired, don't talk anymore, sleep a bit more, I'll stay with you," Rosalynn gently stroked Wayne's cheek, comforting him softly.

"Mhm." Wayne responded weakly.

Afterward, the two held each other's hands tightly, nestled together, and before long, Wayne fell asleep again.

This time his sleep was better than before.

He slept very soundly.

After a while, the rescued Zenobia woke up.

When she fell into the water, she didn't know where she hit her leg. When she was rescued, one of her legs was completely broken.

The doctor said this leg probably wouldn't recover

When Zenobia woke up and saw that she was in a hospital, she lost control

She excitedly sat up and tried to get out of bed.

But due to the intense pain in her leg, she fell back again.

She covered her leg, crying out in pain.

News of Zenobia's awakening quickly reached Felix and Jaime.

"You stay with Rosalynn, let me go deal with that con woman!" Jaime handed his laptop to Felix and was about to leave

Felix grabbed his collar

"Rosalynn said, even if Zenobia wakes up, without her permission, no one is allowed to see Zenobia!"

For Jaime, nothing was more important than Rosalynn's words.

"Why can't I go? I really want to yell at that woman! Jaime stomped his foot in anger.

Yesterday, Rosalynn had been clutching Wayne's hand so tightly that she had strained the muscles in her arm

Thinking about this, Jame felt extremely angry. He wanted to kill Zenobia!

"That woman is crazy, she knew Wayne's wife was looking for her husband, but she still acted as if someone was trying to steal her man, if she couldn't have him, she would rather die with him!"

Felix was a worldly man, he had seen more situations.

He was only surprised that Wayne was still alive.

As for Zenobia stealing someone else's man, he was no longer surprised

"Keep it down." Felix paused, "You should know that woman has offended Rosalynn, she'll definitely have a miserable life"

Chapter 1473

Zenobia was raising all sorts of hell in the ward.

She was hollering for someone to see her, but nobody gave her any attention.

Finally, because she was making such a racket, the doctor gave her a couple of shots to chill her out.

Two days later, Wayne got a lot better.

The med team took a look and decided he was good to hit the road back home.

The medical treatment here was nothing compared to the ones back home. Even with all the fancy machinery, it couldn't hold a candle to getting treated in a top-notch hospital back in the H Country.

When Rosalynn got the word about going home, Sean hightailed it over from the island.

She knew he was worried sick about Wayne, so she gave him the lowdown

“Is there a chance his leg will bounce back?” Sean asked in a hurry.

He was a stickler for perfection. If his leg was mucked up forever....

“We need to get back home and run a full examination on him.” Rosalynn said.

“I used to think Viola and Osborn were decent folks, but now they look like the devil himself. If they had gotten President Silverman to a doctor earlier, we wouldn't be in this mess!” Sean was hot under the collar.

Rosalynn hung her head, a cold light hidden in her eyes

“Once the islanders clear out, things should go smoothly. Jaime's security setup on the island isn't going anywhere, you guys need to keep a tight leash on those volunteers. If the coral isn't rare, get to work ASAP. If it is, the corporation will get someone to set up a preservation plan. But it won't throw a wrench into the resort construction.”

“Gotcha!” Sean nodded, then let out a bitter laugh, “I never thought the coral thing would be one of President Silverman's schemes.”

Rosalynn also cracked a smile, President Silverman is a well-read guy. If it turns out to be a rare coral reef, the earlier it's discovered and preserved, the better”

Sean thought to himself.

The old Secretary Tesdal didn't see it that way. She even said she wanted to capture all of those people who were making troubles.

But he kept these words to himself.

After Sean took off, Felix came over, “The private jet is ready at the airport, We can head out first thing tomorrow.”

“Sounds good.” Rosalynn nodded, then glanced out the window, “There are some loose ends to tie up before we go.”

“Yes, ma'am!” Felix responded immediately.

In the evening, Rosalynn and Wayne had dinner, then she helped him take a stroll downstairs.

The night air was cool.

A gentle breeze blew, feeling quite pleasant.

At first, Wayne didn't want to use a cane in front of Rosalynn.

It took her some time to talk him into it.

After we get home, we'll find the best Rehabilitation Physician. I'll stay with you every day through your rehab, your leg will definitely bounce- back"Rosalynn said gently, her arm hooked around Wayne's.

TI give it my all" Wayne replied

His serious and determined tone made Rosalynn chuckle, "Don't be so uptight, we can take our time: We've got all the time in the world!"

Wayne looked at her, then nodded

"Zenobia has been dying to see you" Rosalynn suddenly changed the subject, "We're going home tomorrow, do you want to see her?"

Wayne frowned instinctively, "Td rather not

These past couple of days. Jame would sneak into the ward to chat with Wayne whenever Rosalynn was tied up

He cared a lot about Rosalynn, and could always tell when she was having a rough time

When he described these times to Wayne, he was incredibly detailed and vivid

Chapter 1474

Wayne was really pissed off at Zenobia's family now.

"Alright." Rosalynn nodded, "I'll handle this family then."

"Okay."Wayne echoed.

Rosalynn turned to him, "Don't you want to ask how I plan to deal with them?"

"I don't need to." Wayne shook his head, "Whichever way you want to deal with them, it'll be the best way."

“You have amnesia, yet you still understand me so well?” Rosalynn wrapped her arms around Wayne’s waist, a proud smirk on her face.

Wayne laughed at her antics

“I don’t know. I just feel it should be like this!”

They locked eyes. Rosalynn rose on her toes, Wayne lowered his head, and they share a brief kiss.

Meanwhile

In front of a hospital room window facing this scene.

Zenobia watched the affectionate couple, her world seemingly crumbling.

Alan never let her touch him like that. But Rosalynn could cross arms with him, hug his waist, hold him..... kiss him.....

And he didn’t resist at all!

“I want to see him! Let me see Alan!” Zenobia turned around. Mike stood at the door with his hands behind his back, staring at Zenobia seriously.

“Alan? Who’s Alan? I don’t know him, never heard of him!” Mike retorted. Zenobia was furious. Then, Mike continued, “You mean your imaginary fiancé, Alan? Poor thing. He doesn’t exist! Get that into your head!”

“Wayne!” Zenobia called out the name desperately, “I want to see Wayne!”

“Take a look at yourself in the mirror. You want to see my boss’s husband. Who do you think you are?”

“I have money, I can give you all the money I have. Just let me see him! Just once!” Zenobia was desperate.

She looked out of the window again.

The couple from before had disappeared from her sight.

“Zenobia, you don’t know anything about Wayne. Now that he’s lost his memory, once he regains it and recalls what you’ve done, he’ll be so disgusted he might want to chop you into pieces!” Mike said ruthlessly, “You don’t actually think he has feelings for you, do you?”

“Of course he does! We’re together all the time. I take care of him every day, accompany him, even took him out to sea to see the rare corals

“But I heard from Osborn Quinlan that he never lets you touch him.”

Zenobia was suddenly lost for words.

In fact, the main reason why Osborn told Mike these things was because he was worried that Rosalynn would misunderstand Zenobia and Wayne. He wanted to protect his sister’s life.

At the same time, he wanted to reassure Rosalynn, hence he told Mike these things.

However, Mike directly used these words to mock Zenobia.

But Osborn didn’t know that his protective actions made Zenobia feel betrayed by him.

“Why are you discussing these with her?” Felix’s voice came from the door “Take her away”

“Alright.” Mike responded, “I’m returning to the H Country tomorrow morning, so we should resolve this issue as soon as possible.”

Zenobia suddenly felt like her heart was being torn apart

But it wasn’t hearing them planning to deal with her family that pained her

It was Mike saying he’s leaving for the H Country first thing tomorrow

Was Rosalynn planning to take Alan to the H Country?

If that was the case, wouldn’t it be even harder for her to see Alan in the future?

This can happen

Absolutely not!

Chapter 1475

Zenobia was quickly taken downstairs.

There was a storage room. Osborn and Viola had been locked up there for the past couple of days.

“Zenobia must be dead!” Viola was huddled up in the corner, muttering neurotically, “It’s all my fault...”

Osborn tried to comfort her after seeing this:

But what Viola said next was like a cold arrow piercing straight through Osborn’s heart.

“We should’ve never let Zenobia and Wayne stay on the island!” Viola murmured, “If they didn’t stay, Wayne wouldn’t have been found. He could’ve lived a happy life with my Zenobia, just like me and your father!”

Osborn was on the verge of breaking down.

“Mom, do you still not understand what we did wrong? Wayne was always Rosalynn’s, not Zenobia’s! The fact that we hid him has caused great harm to Rosalynn and her children!”

“What harm?” Viola looked up at Osborn, “what about the harm they did to your sister? Osborn, no matter how much you like that woman, you shouldn’t value her more than your own sister!!”

“Forget it!” Osborn waved his hand.

He felt utterly hopeless.

He never realized his mother was such a biased person.

“Forget what? We can’t forget! Osborn, you need to run. You need to escape. Then you go find your uncle to avenge your sister!”

Just as Viola finished speaking, the door to the storage room opened

A voice came from the doorway, “Uncle? You mean the gang leader of Harbor Breeze Dock?”

“Ms: Tesdal!” Osborn wanted to move forward

“Stay where you are!” Jaime pointed at Osborn and shouted impatiently.

Osborn stood still

Viola, however, rushed to Rosalynn. Osborn quickly held her back, “Where is my daughter? What did you do to my daughter!!”

Viola struggled and screamed desperately.

“She tried to take my husband down with her that night, but ended up falling into the sea.

Viola’s face immediately changed.

“Murderer, you murderer! I want you to pay with your life!”

“Your daughter isn’t dead,” Jaime was annoyed by the noise. “My sister is too kind-hearted, she had her fished out of the sea. But she still got her comeuppance, one of her legs is broken!”

Just then, Mike pushed Zenobia in.

Seeing Rosalynn, Zenobia tried to get up regardless of the pain in her leg, but fell to the ground.

“Ms. Tesdall Zenobia called out urgently.

Rosalynn turned to look at her.

Viola and Osborn immediately ran to Zenobia when they saw this

But Zenobia seemed to not see her mother and brother,

She tried to crawl to Rosalynn, “Ms. Tesdal, I beg you. Don’t take Alan away. I’ll do anything for you, just give him back to me!”

Zenobia cried her heart out.

She had lost all her previous arrogance in front of Rosalynn.

Every time she thought of Rosalynn taking Wayne away, and that she might never see Wayne again, Zenobia felt as if her heart was being ripped apart

Just then, a crisp slap echoed in the air

All the noise immediately quieted down

Zenobia, holding her cheek, looked in shock at Osborn who had just slapped her

Chapter 1476

“Osborn, what the hell are you doing!” Viola barged in, standing in front of Zenobia. “Your sister has already been through so much, and you’re still hitting her. Are you even human?”

“Mom, snap out of it. It’s Wayne, not Alan! Listen to what she’s saying!” Osborn was utterly lost. “How did you guys become like this!”

“Bro, are you ditching me to suck up to Rosalynn?” Zenobia managed a weak laugh. “How hilarious. What’s the point of this? She’s still hell-bent on stealing my Alan, right?”

“What on earth are you all doing?” Rosalynn finally lost her patience.

The bodyguards split them up at her command.

“Yes!” Felix, without hesitation, slapped Zenobia.

“Ms. Tesdal!” Osborn immediately begged for mercy.

“Come here, let’s talk.” Rosalynn beckoned Osborn over

Osborn was a bit surprised.

He glanced at Zenobia, gritted his teeth, and walked over to Rosalynn, “Did you bring my Wayne to this island? Rosalynn questioned Osborn word by word.

Osborn dared not meet her gaze. “I’m sorry, I just wanted to save Wayne so he would owe me one. Then I could ask him to help my family’s inn. I didn’t expect it to turn out like this!”

Rosalynn couldn’t believe such a dumb reason had kept her and Wayne apart for so long

If Wayne wasn’t lucky, with such severe injuries and in a place like this with no professional care, he would’ve been dead!

“You could’ve brought him straight to me, and I would’ve been grateful. Even if you asked for the island, I wouldn’t hesitate! Do you know you almost killed him?” Rosalynn snapped angrily.

“I know I messed up, Ms. Tesdal, Please give me a chance to make it right. I’m willing to do anything...”

“Osborn, don’t beg her!” Viola roared.

Rosalynn coldly turned to Viola.

Osborn noticed and immediately got anxious. “Ms. Tesdal, my mom...”

“Viola, I’ve looked into your past.” Rosalynn ignored Osborn and said coldly, “never understood why Zenobia had no shame. She knew Wayne was married and she still wanted to be with him. But after seeing what you’ve done, I get it. Like mother, like daughter.”

“Ms. Tesdal, what are you talking about?” Osborn frowned.

“Felix, go ahead. Let these siblings hear about their mother’s good deeds.

Felix stopped

Zenobia's cheek was swollen, but she was still conscious.

"Ms. Tesdal, it's all my doing. My mom and sister got dragged into this because of me. Please..."

"Do you know how your father died?" Rosalynn suddenly asked, silencing Osborn.

"He was bitten by a sea snake and died from poisoning" Osborn replied.

At that time, he and his sister weren't home.

When they returned, their father had passed away

Rosalynn turned to look at the pale-faced Viola. "Viola, is that how your husband died?"

"Yes" Viola replied tersely

Rosalynn laughed

She paced a little "Thirty years ago, you were the daughter of the leader of the Harbor Breeze Dock gang. Your husband was a medical student traveling here

"Shut up!" Viola suddenly realized that Rosalynn seemed to have dug up some det. She immediately shouted in panic

"You fell for the handsome and well-educated medical student. You then started pursuing him, Unfortunately, the medical student already had a childhood sweetheart and fiancée. Their relationship was solid, and their families had agreed to let them get married"

Chapter 1477

Osborn had never heard that his dad used to be a med student, or that his dad had a fiancée before.

His mom always told him that she and his dad were childhood friends. When they got old enough, they tied the knot.

After they got hitched, his dad took her to their island to run a small inn

"You've got Wayne back, and my daughter's leg is disabled. What more do you want? Viola shouted at Rosalynn, sounding really freaked out.

"We don't want anything. We just think you've been hiding behind a mask for so long, you might've forgotten what you really look like. So we're gonna rip your mask off, let your kids see who you really are." Rosalynn said, smirking, her eyes landing on Osborn's lost face.

“That med student was a real gentleman. He told your mom he already had a lover. But your mom was like a woman possessed, kept slipping him love potions. Then she kept him cooped up in her home, feeding him those potions. This went on for two weeks.”

Osborn shook his head, “No... no way, my mom wouldn't do that.”

Two weeks later, the med student still refused to be with your mom. His parents and fiancée, who had been looking for him for two weeks, finally turned up here. Seeing his fiancée, your mom went absolutely nuts, just like your sister is now. She almost killed his fiancée in front of him multiple times. Eventually, to protect his loved ones and his parents, he caved. He broke up with his fiancée. His parents didn't agree, so he disowned them right there and then.”

Osborn was in shock.

Memories of times with his dad kept flashing in his mind,

As a kid, he always wondered why he didn't have grandparents like the other kids.

If Rosalynn was speaking the truth, he finally knew the answer.

“That woman was not good enough for my husband!” Viola suddenly roared. “She was a frail thing, what help could she have been to my husband? I'm different. I could give him anything he wanted!”

“Anything he wanted?” Rosalynn scoffed. “What he wanted was his family and the woman he loved. Can you give him that?”

“He loved me!!” Viola stared at Rosalynn, as if she could kill Rosalynn with her eyes for belittling her and her husband's love

“If he loved you, why did he decide to leave a year ago?” Rosalynn taunted her. “Just bad luck that the moment he got on the boat, your people found him. He got hit by a truck at the dock while trying to escape.”

Zenobia regained some consciousness.

Hearing this, she froze. She looked at Viola, “Mom, is what she said true? Dad was hit by a truck at the dock?”

Even though they lived on an island, Zenobia and Osborn's dad insisted on sending them to school off the island.

When the incident happened, Zenobia had just started school overseas.

Even though Osborn had dropped out, he didn't want to return to island life. So he boxed for money behind his family's back

When he received the news of his dad's death and came back, his dad had already been cremated.

Even though the siblings were unhappy with their mom, they never suspected anything about their dad's death.

Because they believed their parents were in love.

"Of course not. She's just out to get us and making up stories. She's trying to tear our family apart." Viola denied without hesitation.

"is that so?" Rosalynn laughed, "Seems like you don't know me well enough. I never say things without evidence."

Viola frowned. "What evidence do you have?"

Rosalynn clapped her hands.

The lights in the warehouse immediately turned on.

A large screen appeared behind Rosalynn

Chapter 1478

Before the Osborn family could even react, a clear image appeared on the screen.

Osborn and Zenobia were no strangers to the scene, it was the dock they'd known since they were kids.

"Dad!" Zenobia immediately recognized her father in the image.

He had pretty much covered up his entire face.

But still, he was recognized by a dockworker as he walked past.

The worker grabbed him, they exchanged a few words, and Zenobia's father suddenly broke free and started running.

But maybe he was too desperate to escape.

He didn't get far before a high-speed truck hit him directly. From the image, you could tell the truck was going too fast, his wrist and leg were shattered on impact.

His frail body fell to the ground.

He didn't even struggle before he died.

"Sea snake?" Rosalynn looked at the stunned Viola, raising an eyebrow.

"Dad!" Zenobia shouted with all her strength.

Truth is, she never really got over the pain of losing her father. Alan's appearance was a cure for her.

But now, that cure was gone too!

That alone was painful enough.

But now she knew her father's death was caused by her mother!

Zenobia felt a sharp pain in her chest, and after shouting "Dad", she suddenly threw up a mouthful of blood!

"Zenobia!"

"Don't freak out, I won't let her die" Rosalynn's voice was very cold. Zenobia was vomiting blood in front of her, but she didn't even furrow her brows.

Zenobia, it's not like she said. Your dad was just in a hurry to do something. He wasn't trying to run away from us, and I didn't kill him! You have to believe in me!" Viola cried. "Your dad and I loved each other for over twenty years..."

"You're lying!!" A woman's voice came from behind Viola

Viola was taken aback.

She turned around instinctively, looking surprised at the beautiful woman not far away being supported by two young men.

After more than twenty years, except for looking a bit older she seemed unchanged.

She was still crying.

So annoying!

"Conrad was forced to marry you!" The woman pointed at Viola, her eyes full of hatred, "You threatened him with my life! Threatened him with his parents' lives!! For so many years, that island was his prison. Unless he was with you, you wouldn't let him leave!"

“What are you babbling about? Viola glared at her sneering, “it was clearly Conrad who didn’t want you. He thought you were useless. And you tried to stir up trouble between him and his parents.....”

“All these years, he tried everything. He wrote so many letters home. Now I’ve brought all these letters!” The woman threw out her trump card.

The smile on Viola’s face slowly disappeared. Her expression gradually became crazed.

What was this bitch saying?

Conrad had been writing her letters all along?

Chapter 1479

He didn’t love that sleazy woman.

Why did he write her letters?

“You’re lying!” Viola retorted without hesitation.

“Whether she’s lying or not, you’ll know when you finish reading the letter, won’t you?” Rosalynn’s words had barely fallen when a letter appeared on the screen.

The paper was yellowed, clearly it had been around for some years

“Dear Mae, reading your letter is like seeing you.

The letter was filled with guilt and longing for his lover

One letter after another.

Gradually, there were more resentments towards Viola in the letters

Viola read each word, each sentence

She watched as the man she loved deeply told another woman that every interaction with her made him feel disgusted.

He even talked about wanting to kill her and run away

But he was a kind person, and he couldn’t do it.

Finally, when he decided to take action, Viola was pregnant.

The birth of the child caused the man more pain...

This is fake, Conrad didn't write this! You guys forged it! Conrad loves me Viola started to fall apart as she read, "Stop it, turn it off"

"Whether it's fake or not, your son and daughter will know. They can recognize their father's handwriting Rosalynn said coldly, then her gaze passed over the crying woman, her tone and expression softened, "Mae, go with him to retrieve your lover's ashes. He's waiting for you to take him home:

"No!" Viola got excited as soon as she heard, and two bodyguards couldn't control her

"Conrad is my husband, you can't take him away!" She said, glaring at Mae, "Don't forget how I treated you and your family back then. If you dare to take Conrad, my people will wipe out your whole family!"

"Mae, don't be afraid." Rosalynn raised her voice, "Her dock has been leveled by us. Most of her brothers have been sentenced to death. The rest will spend the rest of their lives in prison, no one can hurt you!"

"What are you talking about?" Viola looked at Rosalynn in shock

Osborn was also stunned, "Ms. Tesdal, my uncles.

"Yes, your uncles. For so many years they have been occupying the Harbor Breeze Dock, committing countless crimes. Your father's death was also covered up by them. What goes around comes around. Now it is their time of retribution!"

While she was speaking, Rosalynn's men had already taken the heartbroken Mae away.

Viola urgently called out her children's names, "Stop her, you can't let her take your father!"

But both Osborn and Zenobia had no reaction.

The information they had received in this short time was too shocking.

"I've said what i had to say. I'll arrange for where you'll spend the rest of your lives." Rosalynn's tone was cold, "Don't worry, you won't die. You'll just live longer

Death is so simple.

Just close your eyes and there will be no worries.

Only by living can you constantly experience a life more painful than death.

Rosalynn

Rosalynn was about to leave when Zenobia suddenly called her

Rosalynn looked at her coldly.

Zenobia's face was bruised and swollen, looking pathetic and ridiculous. She suddenly started laughing. "You don't really believe that nothing happened between me and Alan, do you?"

"Zenobial" Osborn said.

Chapter 1480

Osborn freaked out and snapped at Zenobia

"You might be scared of her, but I ain't!" Zenobia stared at Rosalynn provocatively, "Alan and I, we aren't like my parents. We were truly in love before he met you. Do you even know what grown men and women do when they're in love?"

Zenobia kept her eyes locked on Rosalynn

She was eager to see Rosalynn's face crumble with shock and anger.

However...

Rosalynn raised an eyebrow, "What are you hinting? That you kissed? Or slept together?"

Zenobia's smile slowly faded, "Of course. When he was healthy, we would make love till the midnight, almost every day!"

As soon as she finished.

Rosalynn almost burst into laughter, "What's the point of telling me this? So what if he touched you? You're expecting me to find him disgusting and despise him because my husband, who suffered a severe injury and lost his memory, slept with a crazy woman like you?"

Zenobia's smile completely vanished.

Her cheeks trembled uncontrollably with rage:

"If anyone's disgusting here, it's you" Rosalynn said with a look of disgust, she then turned to leave.

Seeing this, Zenobia panicked.

She struggled to break free, rushing to Rosalynn's side, "Please, let me see him one more time! Just once!! I'm willing to pay with my life for it!!"

“He can’t stand you, why would he want to see you?” Rosalynn tossed back, not looking back as she left.

“Rosalynn! It’s you who’s stopping him!! Alan would want to see me! It’s you!!!” Zenobia began to struggle fiercely

“You guys. “Jaime said before leaving, looking at the three of them in disgust, “The mother stole someone else’s fiancé. The daughter tried to take someone else’s husband. And the son covets someone else’s wife Really you guys are all messed up!”

After Jaime finished...

Osborn’s face turned extremely pale

Jaime shook his head and followed Rosalynn.

After everyone left, the bodyguards who had been holding Zenobia and her family let go.

Viola immediately crawled over to the stunned Osborn, Osborn, you need to save your father! We can’t let that evil woman take him away! He has to stay with us!”

Osborn was a bit dazed.

He stared stiffly at Viola.

Even though she had the same facial features as before, in Osborn’s eyes, his mother seemed very unfamiliar, even somewhat cruel.

“This is Dad’s handwriting, I can recognize it! Osborn pointed at the screen that was still playing, saying rigidly. “Mother, look at how painful it is for Dad to be with us!! Look!”

Osborn suddenly grabbed Viola’s head and forced her to look at the screen!

Viola’s face was streaked with tears.

Looking at those words, she was shaking all over.

In her mind, the image of her husband when they first met kept appearing

His indifference and neglect towards her were always lingering in her mind.

Every time this happened, she would threaten him with his family and that bitch Mae. She forced him to smile, forced him to make love to her... it’s all his fault!” Viola pushed Osborn away suddenly, “No matter what I did, he’s already married to me. He should be loyal to me! He shouldn’t have written this kind of letter to this woman, I bore his children, what did I do wrong?!”

Osborn looked at his mother.

A buzzing sound kept ringing in his ears,

His father's face kept flashing in front of his eyes, then Rosalynn's face of contempt appeared
