An understated Dominance – Dahlia and Dustin Chapter 1503

Chapter 1503

Following Victoria Sterling's order, two groups of people suddenly rushed in from the door.

One group is the Sterling family's guards, and the other is the Torby Family's guards.

The two groups of people were all carefully selected elites, and their number was greater than the bodyguards brought by Julie Amberson.

As soon as they appeared on the stage, the security personnel of Lancaster's medicine were surrounded.

The situation between the two sides has reversed again.

Seeing this battle, the melon-eaters retreated to corners one after another, for fear of harming themselves.

Two wealthy families and one royal family, three parties gathered together. No one dared to mess with such a huge force.

"With so many guards, it seems that you are well prepared."

Dustin narrowed his eyes, not afraid at all, and allowed himself to be surrounded.

"Dustin, considering our previous friendship, as long as you bow your head and admit your mistake and surrender to us, I can intercede on your behalf and ask Victoria to let you go." At this time, Isabela suddenly spoke

The more arrogant Dustin becomes, the more she wants to trample him under her feet and humiliate him severely.

Why should a loser from the bottom of society reject her?

"Isabela, stop being so pretentious, it's disgusting to hear."

Dustin exposed it mercilessly: "If I'm not mistaken, today's battle must have been deliberately arranged by you, right? You sow discord behind the scenes, but you are kind in front of others. , Don't you feel tired from pretending all day long?"

"Dustin! I'm giving you a chance, don't be disrespectful!" Isabela shouted in a deep voice.

"Come on, put away your hypocritical face, I don't care."

Dustin said coldly: "In addition, what your Torby Family owes me must be paid within three days, otherwise, I will make you pay a heavy price than this!"

"You don't know how to live or die! You are so arrogant!"

Isabela's face turned cold, she glanced left and right, and shouted: "Why are you still standing there? Didn't you hear what Victoria said? Give him a hard slap!"

"Yes!"

Several guards in the front row immediately pounced on Dustin fiercely.

However, just as a few people were about to take action, a faint puff of white smoke suddenly floated out.

After the white smoke comes into contact with the air, it becomes lighter and lighter, as if it has disappeared. It is impossible for ordinary people to detect it with the naked eye.

"Dong, dong, dong..."

After inhaling the white smoke, several guards seemed to have had their bones knocked out, and their bodies suddenly collapsed to the ground.

Their face showed pain and they wailed softly.

A pair of eyes were covered with bloodshot eyes, and the veins on their neck were protruding.

"What's going on?"

The sudden scene made Isabela and others look shocked.

In their eyes, several guards suddenly collapsed while walking without any warning.

However, things did not end there, strange situations continued to occur.

The Torby Family, the Sterling family, including a dozen bodyguards brought by Julie Amberson, a total of fifty or sixty people, began to collapse to the ground one after another.

"Dong, dong, dong..."

Like dominoes being toppled, the guards fell one after another.

Everyone has the same symptoms, their face is twisted in pain, their whole body is twitching, and their eyes are bloodshot.

In some severe cases, blood began to ooze from the eyes, ears, mouth and nose, which looked very scary.

In just a few breaths, all the guards brought by Isabela and the others fell to the ground.

"What's going on? Why are they all down?"

"Looking at them, they seem to be poisoned, and it's highly poisonous!"

"Poisoned? Damn it! Are we going to be okay?"

Looking at the guards wailing on the ground, The melon-eaters were frightened and moved even further away.
