An understated Dominance – Dahlia and Dustin Chapter 1511

Looking at the familiar face from the past, Dustin took a deep breath and said coldly: “Dahlia, it’s not that I’m stubborn, but that you are too self-righteous. Why do you think that everything is my fault? How do you think that everything is my fault?” Why do you think I can’t afford to offend these people?”

“Now that things have happened, do you still want to quibble?”

Dahlia frowned and said, “I asked you clearly just now. It’s clearly your fault. Don’t think that you can be tyrannical in Stonia just by relying on someone’s support. There are hidden dragons and crouching tigers here, and it is definitely not a place where you can run wild!”

“Forget it, I don’t want to talk nonsense to you. You can think whatever you want.” Dustin shook his head, too lazy to argue.

It was like this before the amnesia, and it remained the same after the amnesia. He really couldn’t complain.

“Dustin! What’s your attitude? I tried my best to persuade you, but you just didn’t listen. Will you really regret it when disaster strikes?” Dahlia said in a lecturing tone.

She is kind enough, giving every opportunity, hoping that the people in front of her can find their way back.

Unfortunately, little effect was achieved.

“Abigail, detoxify the poison and let them leave. Don’t affect our business.” Dustin was a little impatient and really didn’t want to get entangled.

Every time he meets Dahlia, he always gets very depressed. Are they really incompatible?

“Okay, I’ve had enough fun, I’ll let you go for now.”

Abigail smiled slightly, then waved her hand gently, and a cloud of smoke poured into Gary Montgomery's nostrils.

Gary Montgomery, who had just been wailing in pain, was quickly relieved.

But at this moment, he looked extremely embarrassed.

His hair was disheveled, his body was soaked, his mouth and nose were bleeding, and he was no longer the same demeanor as before.

"Damn it! How dare you poison me? You..."

Gary Montgomery's eyes were split open and he was filled with resentment. When he was about to say something threatening, Dahlia raised her hand to stop him: "Okay, don't intensify the conflict, or you may be poisoned again."

Hearing this, Gary Montgomery gritted his teeth and finally held back.

Although he is a warrior, he is still very wary of meeting such a master of poison.

The most important thing is that he can't resist Abigail's poison. There is really no point in speaking harshly at this time. On the contrary, it will easily make these people jump over the wall.

Of course, he would never let go of today's revenge.

"What about me? Where's my antidote?"

Julie Anderson pointed at herself and asked again and again.

"Don't be nervous. You won't die for the time being. Why prevent you from taking revenge? I will send someone to deliver your antidote to you in three days." Abigail said.

"What? Wait another three days? What if I can't stand it anymore?" Julie Anderson panicked.

"If you can't stand it, you're out of luck." Abigail said solemnly.

“You——!” Julie Anderson was furious for a moment, but did not dare to anger Abigail. She could only look at Dahlia and asked for help: “Cousin, what should I do? My poison has not been cured yet.”

“I believe she won’t dare to act recklessly, let’s just wait another three days.” Dahlia said flatly.

“Ah?” Julie Anderson’s face froze and she almost cried.

When she thought about the deadly poison lurking in her body at all times, her calves felt weak.

There are still three days left, this is simply torture!

“Dustin, I don’t care about today’s matter with you, but please don’t hit a stone with a pebble in the future!”

After coldly dropping a word, Dahlia turned and left.

“Today’s business is not over yet, let’s wait and see!”

Gary Montgomery glanced at Dustin and Abigail resentfully, and then left with a group of people.

“Little handsome guy, we seem to have a big deal.”

Looking at the people leaving, Hazel Lancaster looked worried: “It’s okay for the Sterling Family and the Torby family. With the support of Mr. Thompson, we can still deal with it, but Lord Eugene Montgomery Mansion is not easy to offend, whether it is Dahlia or Gary Montgomery. They are not people we can offend.”

In fact, she is not too worried about Dahlia. She has a good reputation and always does what she says, so this matter should not matter.

But Gary Montgomery is different. The other party has a very bad reputation. He has a reputation for being unyielding and will resort to all possible means if he fails to achieve his goal.

Offending such a powerful villain is undoubtedly a big trouble.

“Don’t worry, Miss Lancaster. They are the cause of the trouble. If they want to cause trouble, they can definitely come after us and it will not affect the company.” Dustin said.

“Little handsome boy, I’m not afraid of being implicated. What I mean is that you should go outside to avoid the limelight to avoid retaliation.” Hazel Lancaster advised.

“I can hide for a while, but I can’t hide for a lifetime. Escape is not the solution to the problem. Besides, I am not afraid of any revenge.”

Dustin said calmly: “If they just let it go, they can still live in peace. If they have to fight to the death, I will let them understand what regret means.”

“That’s right!”

Abigail raised her lips and said excitedly: “If they dare to mess around, I will poison them all!”

“Ah this...”

Hazel Lancaster’s expression froze, she was speechless.

This crazy girl can’t be judged by common sense at all, even she dared to poison people from Lord Eugene Montgomery’s family.

If she really want to go crazy, there is no one dare to stop her.

“Abigale, your poison, you’d better use it with caution in the future.”

At this time, Dustin suddenly said earnestly: “I will not interfere with your decision, but I hope that you will not lose your heart.”

She was just such an apprentice, so he naturally didn't want to see her turn into a murderous maniac.

"Okay, okay, I see."

Abigail took Dustin's arm and said coquettishly: "I will be careful in the future, and I will never kill innocent people randomly, I can assure you!"

"As long as you understand."

Dustin smiled slightly and looked sideways at Hazel Lancaster: "Miss Lancaster, this is my apprentice. She needs to order some Jade Dew Ointment. Can you give her a discount?"

"What you're saying is obvious. We're all one family. Let alone discounts, it's free."
Hazel Lancaster was very generous.

"Hehe... Thank you, beautiful sister!" Abigail's eyes lit up and she immediately cheered.

"Ding ding ding..."

The phone rang, and Dustin answered it. It was Ethan Langford's call.

"My lord, I'm at the entrance of Lancaster's Medicine, and I have something very important to report, can I have an interview?" Ethan Langford said straight to the point.

"Okay, I'll come out right away."

Dustin nodded, didn't say much, and hung up the phone directly.

"Miss Lancaster, take Abigail around, I have something urgent to do."

After Dustin said hello, he immediately walked out of the company.

He only asked Ethan Langford to do two things, one is to find the elixir to cure the disease, and the other is to investigate the truth ten years ago.

No matter what it is, it is very important to him.

Walking out of the gate, Dustin saw a very ordinary black car parked across the street from a distance.

The car window was lowered, Ethan Langford showed half of his face, and raised his hand to Dustin.

Dustin glanced around and found that no one was paying attention, then he got into the car.

The windows were raised, the vehicle started, and began to move forward at a constant speed.

“Mr Langford, what kind of news do you have for asking me to meet so urgently?” Dustin was the first to speak.

“Young prince, I have already inquired about the whereabouts of Ice Heart lotus and Golden Marrow Jade, but it is a bit difficult to get them.” Ethan Langford did not sell out.

“Oh?” Dustin raised his eyebrows slightly, a little strange: “With Mr Langford’s connections, can’t he even get two elixirs?”

“If it is in the hands of ordinary dignitaries, I will naturally offer it with both hands, and I don’t need the little prince to bother; but unfortunately, the location of these two elixir is not a place where I can easily set foot.” Ethan Langford looked serious.

“What is it about this place that makes Mr Langford so fearful?” Dustin became even more curious.

“To be honest, the golden marrow jade you want is now in the Lord Eugene Montgomery’s family, and it is also Mark Montgomery’s personal item. This treasure can be used to increase the speed of cultivation, so Mark Montgomery has always carefully treasured it, and no one can touch it.” Ethan Langford explained.

“Mark Montgomery? Why does it sound familiar?” Dustin squinted in thought.

“Mark Montgomery is the genius of Lord Eugene Montgomery’s palace, and one of the four young masters of Stonia. He is as famous as God of War – Adam Spanner. He is gifted, powerful, and has great military achievements. Now he is the War God stone respected by everyone in the Dragonmarsh Kingdom!” Ethan Langford looked serious.

There are five gods of war in the Dragonmarsh Kingdom, each guarding one side.

Among them, Scarlet Spanner, the Goddess of War, is the most famous.

The War God stone Mark Montgomery is said to be the most powerful.

In his early thirties, he is already a veteran on the battlefield. He has fought for more than ten years in his life and has fought hundreds of battles, large and small, without ever losing.

Tens of thousands of enemies died at his hands, a real enemy of ten thousand people on the battlefield!

His achievements are unparalleled among the younger generation.

Only the twin stars of the Spanner family can barely hold back their limelight.

“The genius of Lord Eugene Montgomery’s palace? One of the four young masters of Stonia?”

Dustin squinted his eyes and pondered for a few seconds, then suddenly said: “Oh... I remember! Isn’t Mark Montgomery the guy who challenged me publicly back then, but was beaten by me with three moves?”

“...”

The corners of Ethan Langford’s mouth twitched and he was speechless for a moment.

Invisible pretense is the most deadly.

He almost forgot that the man in front of him was Krin, who swept the entire Stonia young talent list back then.

A monster among monsters, an unrivaled existence.

“My young prince, things are different now. Mark Montgomery now is definitely not the stupid young man he was ten years ago.”

Ten years have passed, and many things have changed. Without the training of the Rhys family, no matter how good Dustin is, his growth rate will be limited.

But people like Mark Montgomery are different. They enjoy top-level resources, top-level training, and have gone through various special training and polishing.

It can be said that it is ahead of Dustin in all aspects.

Over time, this gap will become larger and larger.

Although Dustin can be called a genius now, compared with Mark Montgomery, he is still far behind.

Ten years of waste, it is really hard to make up.

“I understand what you mean, but I don’t want to fight with Mark Montgomery. I just want the golden marrow jade in his hand.” Dustin said calmly.

“My young prince, Mark Montgomery regards the golden marrow jade as a treasure. It would be very difficult to get it from him.” Ethan Langford shook his head.

He sent someone to check Mark Montgomery’s tone, but the other party only replied with one word – get out!

“If you can’t ask for it, we can steal it.” Dustin rubbed his chin.

“ah?”

Ethan Langford was startled: "Little prince, are you kidding me? Mark Montgomery's strength is unfathomable. Who can steal from him?"

"You don't have to worry about it. Find someone to draw me a map of Lord Eugene Montgomery's Mansion, and I'll find an opportunity to steal the things out." Dustin said.

"Young prince, isn't it too risky? If you are caught, your identity will be exposed soon, and by then, countless people will want your life." Ethan Langford was sweating from behind.

The Montgomery's Palace is powerful, and its achievements are overwhelming.

For some people, it is a huge threat.

And Dustin, by the heir apparent of the Montgomery's Palace, was naturally a thorn in the side of these people.

The turmoil ten years ago is the best proof.

It is no exaggeration to say that as long as Dustin's identity is exposed, there will be many dangers and assassinations will continue!

"How can you get a tiger cub if you don't enter the tiger's den."

Dustin said calmly: "If I will really get exposed, I will never implicate the Langford family. You can rest assured on this."

"Since the young prince insists on having his own way, I can only wish you good luck." Ethan Langford breathed a sigh of relief.

As long as the Langford family is not implicated, there is no problem.

"Oh, by the way, you only mentioned Golden Marrow Jade, so where is Ice Heart lotus?" Dustin asked.

"The location of Ice Heart lotus is more fortified than Montgomery's Palace." Ethan Langford said mysteriously: "According to the information I got, it should be hidden in the Forbidden City."

“The Forbidden City is so big, where exactly is it?” Dustin asked.

“Treasury?” Dustin frowned slightly: “It is indeed more difficult than Lord Eugene Montgomery’s Palace.”

“Little prince, in your capacity, you must never enter the Forbidden City. There are hidden dragons and crouching tigers. Once you are discovered, you may not be able to get out!” Ethan Langford warned.

“It seems that we can only find someone to help.” Dustin narrowed his eyes.

It is indeed dangerous to break into the Forbidden City without knowing the truth.

After all, in addition to the top master in the Forbidden City, there are also several mysterious figures hidden in the Forbidden City whose origins even the Lord Eugene Montgomery cannot investigate.

“Who does the young prince plan to find?” Ethan Langford asked curiously.

“Mr Langford, are you sure you want to ask this? If you are really willing to wade into this muddy water, I can tell you.” Dustin smiled half-heartedly.

“No, no, no...it’s better that I don’t know anything.” Ethan Langford was so frightened that he waved his hands repeatedly.

In the eyes of outsiders, he occupies a high position and has great power.

But to the really big guys, he was just a poor pawn.

To say give up is to give up.

“Mr Langford is so cautious, it’s no wonder he can be like a fish in water in the officialdom.” Dustin joked with a smile.

“My lord, don’t make fun of me. My head is hanging on my belt, and my life will be in danger at any moment.” Ethan Langford didn’t know whether to laugh or cry.

If outsiders will know, he helped in the matter of Montgomery’s Palace heist.

In the best case, he was dismissed from his post, and in the worst case, his home was ransacked.

But no matter what the result is, it is a dead end for him.

He has been in the court for many years and offended many people. If he loses his power, many people will be throw him into trouble.

“Mr Langford, if this happens, I owe your Langford family a favor. If there is any trouble in the future, I will do my best to help.” Dustin gave a guarantee.

“Then thank you, little prince!” Ethan Langford’s expression brightened.

He thought to himself that he finally got back to his roots.

If he could get the support of Prince of West Lucozia, even if something happened, he would have a way out.

“Mr Langford, the map of Lord Eugene Montgomery’s Mansion needs to be done as soon as possible. I don’t have much time,” Dustin reminded.

“Don’t worry, little prince, I will definitely deliver it to the mansion before dark today.” Ethan Langford promised.

“Oh, by the way, is Mark Montgomery in Stonia?” Dustin asked again.

“Lord Eugene Montgomery’s birthday will come in a few days, he should have come back.” Ethan Langford said.

“Very good, I want a detailed profile of Mark Montgomery, about his hobbies, personal habits, and special abilities, all must be clear.” Dustin said.

“No problem.” Ethan Langford nodded.

“Okay, that’s it for now, I’ll contact you again if I need anything.”

Dustin raised his hand to signal the driver to stop, then hailed a taxi on the side of the road and drove in the direction of Lancaster’s Medicine.

On the way back, Dustin dialed an unfamiliar number.

After a while, the call was finally connected, and a woman’s voice quickly came: “Who are you?”

“Logan.” Dustin replied.

“It turned out to be you.” The woman’s voice rose slightly: “I heard Nestor say that you are still alive, and I still couldn’t believe it. I didn’t expect it to be true. You survived such a serious big injury.”

“I’m calling you, not to catch up with you, but to ask for your help.” Dustin said calmly.

“Help? I’ve said something ugly before. It happened ten years ago, forgive me for not being able to help. Although your mother helped me, it doesn’t mean that I have to sacrifice my life for you.” The woman was very straightforward.

“Don’t worry, it has nothing to do with what happened ten years ago. I just need you to go to the treasury and get a medicine back for me.” Dustin said.

“Oh? What medicine?” The woman was curious.

“Ice Heart lotus.” Dustin said.

“This is not a problem.” The woman changed the subject: “But, are you sure you want to do this? I only owe your family a favor. If I help you this time, there will be no next time. Use my favor for a medicine. Do you think it’s worth it?”

“Of course it’s worth it. I need medicine to save someone’s life.” Dustin said.

“Okay, since you have made a decision, then I won’t say much. Tomorrow, I will send someone to deliver the elixir to you, just provide an address,” the woman said.

“The address is Emperor’s pavilion Building. When your people arrive, just give me a call.” Dustin said.

“Okay, then it’s settled, I wish you good luck.” After saying that, the woman hung up the phone.

Dustin put back his phone and meditated secretly.

Ice Heart lotus’s matter, with that woman’s help, shouldn’t be a problem.

Now, the most important thing is the golden marrow jade.

The Lord Eugene Montgomery’s family is heavily guarded, and the success rate of sneaking into it to steal things is very low, and it is easy to scare the snake.

The best choice is to sneak in openly and aboveboard in the name of celebrating Lord Eugene Montgomery’s birthday.

Then he should approach Mark Montgomery quietly, waiting for an opportunity to steal the golden marrow jade.

There must be a lot of people on the day of the birthday banquet, even if something is lost, it will not be suspected on him.
