

The Untouchable Ex- Wife

Chapter 881

“Bro, why are you so nervous?”

Xavier’s lips curled into a mischievous smile. He remained as unpredictable as ever. “You’re the one who invited me here, so shouldn’t you at least show some confidence?”

The two men were locked in an invisible battle. The atmosphere became weirdly tense.

“Can you two... act normally?”

Renee gulped and suggested cautiously.

Xavier’s beautiful eyes immediately curled into crescent moons as he beamed at Stefan. He patted Stefan’s shoulder and said, “Haha, just kidding. Look how scared Stefan is. He’s worried that his wife would run away with someone else...”

“Alright, I’ll stop teasing you. This island is beautiful! I want to look around!”

He ran a few steps, then suddenly stopped and came back because he remembered something. He told Stefan, “Umm... Miss Osborne has something important to say to you, Stef. Be mentally prepared, okay? Make sure you tighten your belt.”

“Tighten my belt?!”

Renee was confused. “What the hell? Xavier, explain yourself...”

However, Xavier had already skipped away.

All this while, Leia had been pouting at the dock. She was unwilling to take a single step forward. She even had the urge to turn around and leave.

“Why is she just standing there?”

Stefan wondered coldly.

He did not know much about Leia Osborne. He vaguely remembered hearing someone mention that she was once the biggest fan of him and Renee, but when he divorced Renee, she turned into his biggest hater.

Wait... it was Xavier who told him that.

Because Xavier was a behemoth in the Aeos entertainment industry and knew a lot of paparazzi and media, he once came across Leia’s gossip posts which recorded her process of turning from a fan into a hater in detail.

Therefore, it made sense that Leia would... dislike him.

“It’s okay. She might find it hard to accept now, but I’ll explain it to her. You can go keep Xavier company.”

Renee knew her good friend very well. She could understand Leia reacting badly to her decision.

“Okay. I’m counting on you, honey. These two people are so much hassle to deal with. We must succeed, or I’d feel uneasy.”

Stefan cuddled with Renee for a bit before parting with her reluctantly.

Seeing this, Leia became even more infuriated. She gritted her teeth and tried to leave.

Unfortunately, the speedboat had already departed.

She could only turn her back on Renee with a frown. She was furious.

“Leia, oh Leia, please don’t be mad!”

Renee hugged Leia from behind and said coquettishly, “I know, it’s my fault. Will you forgive me? You’re the best...”

“Save it!”

Leia pouted. She originally wanted to keep giving Renee the cold shoulder, but she relented only after a few minutes. She turned around, held Renee’s beautiful face in her hands, and said angrily, “You better have a good explanation for this, or I’ll... I’ll jump into the sea and make you live out the rest of your life in regret!”

The Untouchable Ex- Wife

Chapter 882

“Hmm.. Where should I begin? Actually, I'm not sure how things turned out like this either...”

Renee grabbed Leia's hand and let out a long sigh. She told Leia honestly, “I made up my mind not to get involved with him ever again, but things change. He came at me really aggressively. I couldn't stop him, so I pretended to accept him and waited for him to get bored. But after a while, I realized that he's... actually not that bad.”

“Not that bad?!”

Leia poked Renee's forehead and scolded her, “Have you already forgotten about the pain he made you go through just because the wounds have healed? Have you forgotten about all the dirty things he did four years ago? Have you forgotten about all the hardship you went through in the last four years, having to bring up your children by yourself?”

“That guy is cold and unpredictable. He might treat you well now, but what if he suddenly has a change of heart? He'll hurt you again and snatch Adie and Abby away from you. Have you thought about that?”

“I have...”

Renee's beautiful face became slightly gloomy, but she soon lifted her head with confidence. “The highest level of love is to not be afraid of losing. I accept his passion when he loves me, and I've also prepared myself to face his coldness when he doesn't love me anymore. He's just the icing on the cake for me now. What's truly important is the cake – the icing is just an embellishment! I can live without it!”

Leia rolled her eyes helplessly and said, “Wow, such wisdom! I've learned so much!”

Leia knew that she could never win an argument against Renee. Renee's IQ and EQ were both exceptionally high. She could crush Leia with words if she wanted to.

“But what about my brother's feelings for you? If he found out that the goddess he has been protecting for the past four years has returned to the demon, I think he would go crazy!”

Leia paused. She really did not want to drag Liam into this if she could help it because she felt like she was guilt-tripping Renee, but if Renee and Stefan were to reunite, Liam was a problem that they could not avoid.

At least for Renee, it was...

Sure enough, Renee's mood instantly plummeted like she was riding a roller coaster.

Even if Leia had not mentioned Liam, he had been a constant thorn in Renee's heart. Whenever Renee thought of him, it would hurt really bad.

Guilt wrapped around her like a quagmire, making it hard for her to breathe...

“Leia, I feel so guilty about your brother...”

Renee's eyes went red. She choked up. “I've always lived an honest life. I've never felt like I treated anyone unfairly... except for your brother. I know that even if I try to make it up to him until my next life, I still can't fully repay him. I really don't know what to do. Tell me what I should do, Leia.”

At this point, she was already sobbing uncontrollably. She crouched down feebly, covering her face in shame. Tears streaked down from the gap between her fingers.

“Oh, don't cry, Renee!”

There were not many things that could unsettle Leia, but both her and her brother Liam hated seeing their queen, Renee, cry. She crouched down to hug Renee. She pretended it was fine and consoled Renee, “Hey, it's okay. My brother is a tough guy. When he finds out that you and that scumbag Stefan have reconciled, he'd be sad for one day at most. The next day, he'd be as good as new. But... you must be happy. If you're truly happy, it'd be the best compensation he could ask for.”

She was not just saying that to make Renee feel less guilty. It was Liam's intention.

Before she came, her brother had asked her to take good care of Renee. He said, no matter what choice Renee made, as long as she was happy, Leia must support Renee unconditionally.

The Untouchable Ex- Wife

Chapter 883

In hindsight, perhaps her brother had already anticipated that Renee and Stefan would reconcile sooner or later! Tsk, she felt really bad for her brother, but there was nothing she could do.

Renee's shoulders trembled as she sobbed quietly for a while. Then, she lifted her head and grabbed Leia's hand tightly. She said, "Leia, tell me where your brother is. I want to see him. I have a lot to say to him."

"He's traveling around the world. I'm not sure where he is right now..."

Leia smiled awkwardly and said, "Last time we said goodbye was half a month ago. We went to Nouveauland together, after which he traveled east. Apparently, there's a place called the East Cape Lighthouse there that's said to welcome the world's first rays of sunshine every day. As for me, I went west all the way to Quartz Island, Meryah."

It was there that she ran into the massive playboy, Xavier Stuart!

By the way, wasn't it funny that all three of them brokenhearted souls – her brother, Xavier, and her – chose to heal their wounds by going on a holiday?

Perhaps fundamentally, all three of them were the same type of people. They seemed carefree, but in reality, they were just cowardly and could only forget by running away.

In comparison, Renee and Stefan were brave and unapologetic, which was why they were able to get back together.

"To tell you the truth, I sometimes wonder if I made the right choice. If I had continued to stay on Sun Island and had not returned to Beach City, if I had been willing to give up the idea of getting revenge for my family and had continued to live a carefree life here, maybe I would already be married to your brother by now..."

Renee once again fell into self doubt. She looked up at the starry sky. Everything felt like an illusion. It was particularly surreal.

"Your brother went against his family to help me and the Azure Group, which caused him a lot of trouble, yet I... I couldn't let go of my petty love. Even I look down on myself. I don't know how to face him."

Renee confided in Leia her true feelings. She did not notice that Stefan had walked over. He was currently standing behind her... looking rather unhappy.

"That's all in the past now. Don't think about it too much..."

Leia bumped against Renee slightly, hinting at her to stop talking.

She did not support Renee getting back together with Stefan, but since they had reconciled, she naturally wished them the best. She did not want to see them getting into conflict over some inconsequential things.

"What do you mean it's in the past? It's not!"

Renee was adamant. She said stubbornly, "In truth, I know that Stefan and I are just drinking poison to quench our thirst. It won't end well. Maybe I got back together with him not because I still love him, but because I have too much regret about how things ended the last time and I want to win this time..."

She was upset that her sincere feelings were wasted the last time and she regretted admitting defeat in humiliation, so she wanted to taste the feeling of "having all those things" one more time.

"Maybe after a while, the novelty will pass and I'll get tired of this relationship, and everything will come to an end..." "Really?"

Stefan's voice came from above Renee. It dropped down on her like a sharp icicle.

The Untouchable Ex- Wife

Chapter 884

Renee turned around and their eyes met. In his eyes, she once again saw the coldness of old.

The air seemed to freeze at that moment. Even though they were on a warm island, it felt as cold as the South Pole. Neither of them spoke, but one could feel the exchange of sharp blades between their eyes.

“Oh no!”

Leia covered her face. She knew this would happen!

The atmosphere was as eerie as a horror film. Leia, who was stuck between them, felt extremely awkward. She felt like jumping into the sea to get away.

“Umm... Mr. Hunt, please don't misunderstand. The two of us talk nonsense to each other all the time. Sometimes, we don't really mean what we say. Besides, besides...”

Leia was crumbling under the intense pressure. She racked her brains trying to make excuses for Renee.

Although she strongly disapproved of their reunion, she did not hope to see them get into a fight over something so ridiculous. “I meant everything I said.”

Renee stared at Stefan expressionlessly. His coldness did not make her nervous at all. She said calmly, “Everybody wants eternal love, but fundamentally, love is just the result of a sudden surge in hormones. After a while, you'll get tired and you'll get bored. Instead of making hypocritical promises, why not just accept the laws of human nature honestly?”

“How rational of you. If I hadn't known better, I would have thought that I'm dating a robot.” Stefan gave her a cold smile. It cut her like a sharp knife.

He was a calm, rational, and emotionally stable person himself. In fact, he was known to the public as an emotionless person.

But now, he had become the one who had lost control of his emotions.

He lost control because of what Renee said and did. In fact, she did not even have to do anything; merely her rational attitude was enough to make him lose control!

Renee continued expressionlessly, “Don't flatter me. I can't compare to a robot. A robot can guarantee to treat you the same way forever. I can't guarantee that.”

“So what you're saying is, you're mentally prepared to leave me already?” Stefan clenched his fists and gritted his teeth.

“I wouldn't say that, but... I wouldn't get hung up on the idea of eternal love either. Let nature take its course. We'll stay together if we feel like it, and we'll break up if we feel like it. You feel the same way, don't you?”

“No, I don't!”

Stefan's eyes were as deep as black holes that would suck everything in. He gave her a firm stare. “From the moment I decided to start over with you, I never thought of breaking up.”

Even Leia was a bit moved by his words, let alone Renee.

As a former stan of the “Hunt My Everheart” ship, her desire to stan the couple once again burned fiercely, but she tried to suppress the impulse with reason.

‘Wake up, Leia Osborne! A collapsed ship is not worth stanning!’

Leia looked at Renee. She thought Renee must be really touched too, like she was. She was half expecting pink bubbles to pop up around Renee.

After all, no woman in the world could resist sweet words from the man she loved, right?!

But surprisingly, Renee seemed puzzled instead. She kindly reminded Stefan, “Your nose will grow out if you lie.”

Stefan: “.....”

Leia: “.....”

Renee was worried that Stefan's ego might be bruised, so she softened her attitude and, like a mother coaxing a rebellious son, said, “The moon always wanes after it becomes full. Sometimes, it's a bad omen to make empty promises too early. I'm just worried that we might be disappointed. That's why I'm planning for the future.”

The Untouchable Ex- Wife

Chapter 885

“You mean you’ve been thinking of a

“future” with me?” “Of course!”

Renee held the handsome man’s face and teased him, “If I don’t plan to have a long-term relationship with you, why would I waste my time? Look at you. Your face becomes tense so easily. It’s not handsome anymore. Come on, smile for me. I love your smile. It captivates me every time.”

“Stop being glib with me. I warn you, if you dare leave me, I’ll break your leg.”

Stefan’s tone was still cool and arrogant, but his mood had obviously improved, and he could not help but smile. “I know, I know. Hurry up and make dinner already. Leia’s starving!”

“Fine. Xavier is roasting a leg of lamb. It should be done soon. Let’s head over there.” After that, he gave Renee a possessive kiss and went away to prepare dinner.

Leia watched everything with wide eyes. She remained shocked for a long time. “T-That’s it?”

She gulped hard and asked, “Renee, what did you do? How did you tame the legendary giant iceberg who’s used to being in control? I was ready for him to erupt, but his rage subsided so easily and he’s even making dinner for us! He’s become a model husband!”

“I don’t know…”

Renee shrugged and let out a long sigh. “It’s probably karma. It’s like he became who I used to be.”

They set up the welcoming feast on a beach on the west side of Sun Island. The beach was flat and vast, with soft, fine sand. Because it was well above sea level, it was basically not affected by high tides. It had always been the best gathering spot on the island.

A campfire and a barbecue grill had been set up on the beach. A huge lamb leg was on the grill, ready for consumption. It was sizzling and dripping oil. The aroma was very tempting.

“Sun Island is still as relaxing as ever. It’s totally my dream island!”

Leia faced the sea and spread open her arms, embracing the wind and the waves. Her body and mind felt relaxed.

Adie and Abby had a great time playing with their newly-met uncle Xavier, but when they saw Leia, they immediately abandoned Xavier and ran towards her.

“You’re here too, Aunt Leia! Yay! Adie and I missed you so much!”

Abby gave Leia a sweet smile and plunged into Leia’s arms, then gave her a big kiss on the cheek. “Long time no see, my little princess. You look even cuter now. Let me give you a kiss back.”

Leia held the little girl’s face and kissed her repeatedly.

When it was Adie’s turn, the little boy crossed his arms, turned his head away, and said solemnly, “I’m a boy and you’re a girl, so we can’t kiss or we’ll have to get married.”

This was the conclusion Adie came to after he saw Stefan and Renee kiss each other following an argument. “Huh? That’s…”

Leia was speechless.

“Dinner’s ready! Come here, everyone!”

Xavier knocked on a champagne glass and greeted everyone as if he was the island’s owner. He had completely made himself at home.

All of them gathered by the fire. The long dining table had various delicious food on it. It was decorated with flowers and ribbons, making the mood very romantic.

“Kids, Aunt Leia would like to perform a show for us. Let’s enjoy the show before we start eating.” Xavier smiled at Leia, who was sitting across from him, through the flickering candlelight.

The Untouchable Ex- Wife

Chapter 886

“What the hell???”

Leia was staring at the leg of lamb and salivating wildly when she heard what Xavier said. It was so sudden that it stunned her. “I still remember the bold words you said on the speedboat. I, Xavier, have rarely been impressed with anyone, especially women, but after hearing what you said, I’m completely impressed. Don’t let me down now.”

“What bold words? I say lots of bold words all the time. You can’t expect me to remember all of them.” Leia feigned ignorance and said, “Wow, the leg of lamb looks so good…”

“It’s okay if you don’t remember because I do. I can remind you. You said you would show him your skills with a knife, you said you would castrate him and turn him into an eunuch, you said you would force him to his knees to apologize, etc…”

Xavier crossed his long legs and said mischievously. He kept fanning the flames, trying to turn the situation chaotic. “D-Did I say that?”

Leia shrunk back. Cold sweat broke out on her forehead.

Yes, she was indeed determined to fight Stefan to the death when she was on the speedboat, but after seeing Stefan’s dignified and proud demeanor, her attitude immediately softened. She was the one who almost ended up kneeling.

“What are you guys talking about? You two are acting so weird.”

While slicing the roasted leg of lamb, Renee smelled something funny in the air. It smelled like the scent of… a budding love relationship?

That’s great! They held the welcoming feast to set those two up in the first place!

Renee bumped Stefan’s leg and commanded, “Stefan, don’t just sit there and wait to be served. Do your duty as a host. Give a toast to my bestie and your bro and wish them a long-lasting relationship… I mean long-lasting health and vitality!”

“Yes, honey!”

Stefan, like a good husband that he was, did as Renee ordered. He poured a glass of champagne each for Leia and Xavier and spoke with a rare enthusiasm, “A toast for you two on behalf of my wife and myself.”

Xavier joked, “Bro, this isn’t a business meal. Stop being so formal. You don’t even hold liquor that well. Leave the drinking to me and Leia.”

After saying that, he touched Leia’s glass with his and said with a smile, “I heard you can hold your liquor. I happen to be a good drinker myself. Let’s have a drinking contest tonight.”

Leia turned her head away in refusal. “I’m not gonna have a drinking contest with a playboy.” “I see.

You must be really eager to perform, then.”

Xavier told Stefan seriously, “Bro, Leia has a performance she wants to show you…”

“Since destiny has brought us together on this fateful day, there’s no need for words. Let’s speak with our drinks.” Leia immediately had a change in attitude. She downed her champagne in one go.

Xavier nodded in satisfaction and said, “Our little Leia is indeed a very flexible woman. I’m impressed.” Leia Osborne felt more and more interesting to him.

She would say the fiercest words and then act in the most cowardly manner. He found her quite adorable. “Ace!”

“One more glass! Another one!”

And so, the two of them got into a drinking contest. Leia was determined to make Xavier collapse to get her revenge. Stefan, Renee, Adie, and Abby stared at them, dumbfounded.

Stefan: “Your bestie drinks as much as you do.”

Renee: “Your buddy can’t even beat a woman at drinking.” Abby: “Are they dating?”

Adie: “I don’t know, but they’ve definitely gone mad.”

As she got more drunk, Leia’s behavior became increasingly rowdy and unrestrained. Renee felt like things were developing in the wrong direction.

‘This won’t do. If this goes on, they’ll become buddies instead of lovers!’

In truth, the reason Leia had remained single for so many years was because of her boisterous personality. She was really thick when it came to love affairs. She ended up treating everyone who confessed to her or showed interest in her as her buddy.

This time, Renee would not leave her be.

The Untouchable Ex- Wife

Chapter 887

“Simply drinking like this is boring. Why don’t we play the Three Gardens game?” Renee reached out to stop Leia and Xavier from drinking and proposed eagerly. “That’s a kid’s game. Boring!”

Leia and Xavier surprisingly had the same opinion. They both expressed no interest in the game. “How can you say my wife’s proposal is boring?”

Stefan’s expression turned cold. He threatened, “You’ll play the game and you’ll like it.” “Alright, alright, we’ll play it.”

Leia and Xavier once again acted in unison. They both succumbed to Stefan’s pressure.

Leia secretly complained to Xavier, “Is Stefan possessed? He’s completely turned into a henpecked husband. It’s scary.”

Xavier was unperturbed. “Nah. Deep down, my bro is actually a hopeless romantic. It took him a lot of effort to act like an iceberg in the past.”

Renee clapped her hands and said, “Okay, let’s start. I visited the Three Gardens on Wednesday. Today, we visited the – Fruit Garden!”

Stefan: “Watermelon.” Leia:

“Peach.”

Abby: “Strawberry.”

Adie: “Apple.” Xavier:

“Banana.”

After one round, Abby could not think of a fruit in time and lost the game. She had to perform a dance. “Let’s keep going!”

Renee eagerly hosted the game. Everyone had lost at least once except for Stefan. He remained lossless until the end. “Well, this drinking game isn’t too hard. I haven’t taken a sip of champagne yet.”

Stefan said somewhat smugly. He seemed to have forgotten the embarrassment of losing hard in a drinking game and becoming so drunk that he could not even recognize his own mother.

“How arrogant!”

Xavier grinned and said, “Bro, I’ll decide the topic this time. Let’s see how smug you are after this.”

“Anything’s fine. My vocabulary is rich enough to handle the likes of you.”

Stefan was confident.

“Okay...”

Xavier held back a smile and said, “I visited the Three Gardens on Wednesday. Today, we visited the – Exes Garden!”

Renee: “.....”

To no one’s surprise, Stefan was the first to lose. He had to accept a punishment from the questioner. “You win this time, you brat.”

Stefan’s cold eyes were like daggers. He issued a warning with a smile that did not reach his eyes, “You better not overdo it.” “You can’t threaten the questioner, or I’ll ask for reinforcement.”

Xavier sent an SOS signal to Renee.

Stefan immediately relented. “Okay. How do you want to punish me?”

“Don’t be nervous, bro. I value our brotherhood very much, so I won’t do anything too terrible to you. I just want to have a casual conversation with you...”

Xavier then asked, “Answer truthfully – what is your biggest fear?”

The Untouchable Ex- Wife

Chapter 888

The atmosphere suddenly became tense again. Everyone looked at Stefan, waiting for his answer.

The man slowly took a sip of champagne and said meaningfully, "I used to be fearless, but now, what I fear most is my wife leaving me."

"Oh no, you really are a hopeless romantic. Show some backbone, Steff!" Xavier waved his hand. He expected that answer. It did not surprise him at all.

Leia also could not help mocking Stefan. "Can you two please stop taking every opportunity to show how much you're in love? It's making me sick. I don't even have the appetite for the leg of lamb anymore."

Renee was calm though. Her beautiful lips curled into a shallow smile. She looked gentle and peaceful, but there was a trace of coldness in her eyes.

She crossed her legs and wrapped the blanket tighter around her, then said to Stefan, "May I ask you a question?" Stefan shrugged and said calmly, "Go ahead."

"You keep emphasizing that you're afraid I'd leave you one day. Does that mean, deep down in your heart, you don't have much confidence in our love? Or... is there a hidden risk factor between us that I don't know about?"

Renee's eyes were as sharp as her question. "That's right."

Stefan did not deny it. "I'm not a forthright person. I have my dark side. If you discover my dark side one day, maybe you won't forgive me."

Stefan said this with a smile that carried a hint of helplessness and bitterness. As a mortal, he had no control over which direction destiny would bring him.

If Renee discovered his "dark side" one day and could not accept them, she would leave him and there would be nothing he could do about it.

"Dark side?"

Renee raised her eyebrows but did not pursue the matter. She merely let out a long sigh and said, "It seems like I still don't know you well enough."

The formerly lively campfire feast fell into a long silence, with Stefan and Renee each having their own thoughts. They were both people who had a lot of secrets.

Xavier could not stand the silence anymore. He clapped his hands and said, "Hey, I thought this was a welcoming feast ! Why is everyone so serious? Let's have some fun!"

"That's right! Let's have some fun!"

Leia stood up to liven up the mood.

Based on past experiences, whenever both Stefan and Renee fell silent, something big was bound to happen. Leia was scared! And so, Xavier and Leia tried hard to liven up the atmosphere. They ended up getting drunk.

Leia proclaimed her love for the moon. Hearing that, Xavier immediately ran towards the sea. He said he wanted to pick up the moon from the sea to give it to her.

In the end, Xavier ripped the pull tab off a metal can and got down on one knee to propose to Leia. "Leia, marry me. Neither of us believe in love anyway. Maybe we're meant for each other!"

Leia blushed profusely and bit her finger. Tears streamed down her cheeks. "I'm so touched. The last man who proposed to me was a scammer and I almost killed him. If you dare to lie to me, I'll kill you!"

"Kill me if you want! If it makes you happy, I'll willingly offer you my head!" Xavier lowered his head to expose his neck to her.

"You fool, why would I chop off such a handsome face? If you lie to me, I'll make you a gigolo so that you'll earn money for me! Hahaha..."

Leia laughed heartily as she took the pull tab from Xavier and wore it on her ring finger. "Nice! I have a wife now! I, Xavier Stuart, finally have a wife!"

The Untouchable Ex- Wife

Chapter 889

Xavier leaped up, swooped Leia off her feet and carried her on his shoulder, then walked unsteadily towards the villa. Stefan and Renee were in shock. They stared at each other for a long time before they snapped back to their senses. Renee: "Your buddy is crazy."

Stefan: "Your bestie doesn't seem that normal either." Renee: "Are they entering the bridal chamber now?" Stefan: "Probably."

Renee: "Should we stop them?"

Stefan: "They're consenting adults. Whatever happens, happens." And thus, Leia and Xavier spent a whole night doing adult stuff.

After Renee put the two kids to bed, she sat on the beach next to the fire with Stefan, drinking some wine.

The waves rose and fell. The two drank one glass after another. They were both feeling a bit tipsy by now, Stefan more so than Renee because his alcohol tolerance was low.

"We're alone. Can you tell me what your dark side is now?"

Renee's hair had been blown into disarray by the sea breeze. It also made her mind much clearer. In the end, she could not help but ask Stefan the question that she had been holding in all evening.

"Nope!"

Stefan took a sip of wine and shifted his eyes like a child. "If I tell you, you'll get mad and leave me. If I can, I'll take it to the grave."

"Let me guess..."

Renee closed her eyes and pondered for a moment, then said confidently, "If I'm not mistaken, this dark side of yours must have something to do with Mr. Q, right?"

Stefan's tipsy face suddenly stiffened. His eyes also went a bit cold. "Tell me what you know."

Mr. Q had always been a thorn in Stefan's heart. It was a thorn that could sever his relationship with Renee at any moment! He had thought about coming clean to her several times, but he could not muster the courage.

And the longer he put it off, the less courage he had. He decided to just keep it a secret forever.

"I kept asking you today how you know about Sun Island and why you're so familiar with the terrain here, but you've been avoiding answering my questions. That means you're hiding something..."

Because Renee was a bit tipsy, she let her emotions run wild. She confronted Stefan emotionally.

She wished her deduction was wrong because it was something that she could never forgive.

"Keep going."

Stefan had actually calmed down by now.

It was a problem that he would have to face sooner or later. It might not be a bad thing to get it over with. "Do you know the origin of Sun Island?"

With teary eyes, Renee explained, "Sun Island is a private island I bought for myself before we got married. I spent a lot of time, money, and effort to make it a paradise for me and the children. I lived a carefree life here for four years, and after that... I pawned the island to Mr. Q."

"That means, except for Mr. Q and a few people that I trust, no one knows about this place, let alone be able to take control over it..."

"What are you trying to say?"

Stefan knew that he would not be able to avoid the topic today.

The Untouchable Ex-Wife

Chapter 890

"Admit it, Stefan. You're a murderer. You killed Mr. Q, didn't you?!" Renee clenched her fists and questioned Stefan emotionally.

She had had her suspicions before, but it was not until Stefan arrived at Sun Island that it was 100% confirmed.

This was also the reason she had been feeling depressed and gloomy all day. She wanted to confront Stefan about it, but she was afraid that the moment she did, they would never be able to go back.

"? ? ?"

Stefan was caught off guard by the accusation.

He did not expect Renee to come to that kind of conclusion.

He did not know whether to laugh or cry.

It seemed like he overestimated her intelligence. He thought she already realized that he was "Mr. Q"!

"What kind of reaction is that? Did you kill him or not? Tell me the truth. Why are you laughing?"

Renee could not understand why he was holding back laughter.

Was it an arrogant laugh because she guessed right, or was it a mocking laugh because she guessed wrong?

"Do I look like a murderer to you?"

Stefan asked with a faint smile.

"You can't judge a book by its cover. There are many serial killers in the world who are attractive people. For example, there's a notorious serial killer called Richard Ramirez who was nicknamed the “Night Stalker”. His handsome face fascinated the juries. Not only did he have numerous fans, he even got married in prison...”

“So just because I’m handsome, you came to the conclusion that I’m a serial killer?”

Resting his chin on his hand, Stefan patiently listened to her explanation. He once again did not know whether to laugh or cry.

“I’m not saying that you’re a murderer because you’re handsome. I’m saying that a handsome person can be a murderer too...”

Renee was starting to get confused herself. She continued, “Whatever. Stop changing the topic. Just tell me if you killed Mr. Q.”

Stefan knew he could not keep it a secret anymore, so he could only answer, “All I can say is, I did lay my hands on him, but the Mr. Q you know did not die by my hands.”

“What do you mean you laid your hands on him? Did you kill him or not?”

Renee was running out of patience. She felt the urge to beat the guy up.

Why couldn’t he just answer the question? Why did he have to be so cryptic?

“I did get into a conflict with him four years ago. At that time, either he died or I would die. But now...”

Stefan paused for a moment before saying mysteriously, “All I can say is, he’s still alive. If you really want to see him again, I can notify him.”

Stefan believed that the reason why Renee was still so attached to “Mr. Q” was because “Mr. Q” left without saying goodbye.

If that was the case, he did not mind making an appearance as “Mr. Q” again to say goodbye to her so that she could get over him.

“Sounds like you actually have a good relationship with Mr. Q. At the very least, you’re able to contact him anytime you want. You’re much closer to him than I am.”

Renee sneered.

Wasn’t it public knowledge that the H Group and the Carmine Pawnshop were enemies? They did not look like enemies to her. They clearly had a very harmonious relationship!

What a generous man Mr. Q was. He was willing to let Stefan have his woman, his children and even Sun Island. They’re not enemies; they’re clearly brothers who were even closer than real brothers!

“Can you help me arrange a meeting with him? If you don’t, I’ll never let the matter rest.”

Renee’s eyes were filled with determination.

This matter was a thorn in her heart too.
