

The Untouchable
Ex
Wife
Chapter
901

“Long time no see, honey. I thought you were assassinated, but you're actually here sunbathing. Don't you owe me an explanation?”

Renee stood in front of Stefan arrogantly.

She was slim, but her body still managed to block out all the sunlight like a towering mountain, casting a shadow on the man.

Stefan's deep eyes stared at her for a long time. He then calmly said, "Since you've seen everything, I don't think there's any need for me to explain.”

Renee bit

her lip.

Her

fingernails

pierced

into her palms.

She was trying hard to control

her emotions.

How could he betray her so casually?

Was his heart

made of stone? Did

he have no

Seraphina continued to slowly feed peeled grapes into Stefan's mouth. She smiled coquettishly and asked, "Stef, am I not supposed to be here? Should I give you two some space?”

“There's no need.”

Stefan embraced Seraphina

and looked coldly at Renee.

"Why are you still here? Do you want to stay and play with us?”

Renee looked at the two people on the sun loungers with a scoff, like she was looking at a couple of clowns.

She told Stefan, "I know your family is in trouble and you need to get in the Murphy family's good graces, so you act intimate with Seraphina in front of me on purpose, hoping that this would help the Hunt family overcome its difficulties, am I right?”

“If thinking that way makes you feel better, feel free to do so.”

Stefan shrugged casually and said, "The union of the Murphy family and the Hunt family will bring a new order to Beach City. If the cost is my marriage, it's a price I would willingly pay.”

“I understand your predicament, so I can give you one last chance...”

Renee, like a god, extended her hand to Stefan and said, "Come with me. We'll get through this difficult time together.” She still believed that the love between her and Stefan was real. She believed his love for her was not an act.

He must have his reasons for hurting her in such a childish way. He must have encountered a difficulty he could not solve or perhaps he had no choice.

There was clearly a slight change in Stefan's eyes.

Not only him; Seraphina and Jovan also seemed surprised.

They were all insiders. They had planned all this to shatter Renee's love for Stefan. But it seemed that... her love for him was so deep that she could even tolerate betrayal.

“You're overthinking it. I don't have any difficulties. I just realized that I love Seraphina more. Seraphina and I are the perfect match for each other. We can support each other.”

Stefan said ruthlessly.

“Heh, your poor acting skills merely confirmed my suspicion further...”

Renee went straight to the point. "Tell me honestly, what did the Murphy family promise the Hunt family to make you betray your heart? Whatever they can give you, maybe I can give you too. I might even be able to give you more.”

“Yeah, right!”

Seraphina sneered, "The Everheart family has long fallen into ruins. The Azure Group you established with Liam Osborne is also losing money. What can you give him? You're just making empty promises...”

"I'm the one who decides if I can give him that, not you, so shut your trap.”

Renee gave Seraphina a fierce glare, then turned back to Stefan. She reached out to him and said, "Come with me. I'll only count to three. One, two...”

The Untouchable Ex Wife

Chapter 902

“What do you mean by that?”

Jovan was confused, but he obediently moved further away.

Seraphina gulped and shrank deeper into Stefan's arms. She said, "What are you trying to do? This is the Murphy family's turf, so don't think you can...

Aah!”

Before she could finish speaking, Renee had grabbed her by the neck and threw her into the swimming pool. Chaos immediately ensued. Everyone there ran around like headless chickens.

Only Stefan remained calm in the sun lounge with no expression on his handsome face. He merely waited patiently for Renee's next move.

“Stefan Hunt, I can't believe you have the guts to betray me again. Do you know what's the price for betraying me?” Renee looked down at the man and asked coldly.

“I don't know, but I accept it.”

Stefan smiled coldly, "After all, I know I've done you wrong. You're free to retaliate in any way you want.”

“You really think I can't touch you, Stefan? Listen up, I won't let it go this time.

Since you dare to betray me, I'll make you suffer!” After saying that, Renee grabbed the sprinkler from the man in the swimming pool and shot water at Stefan's handsome face.

“Aah!”

Everyone who witnessed it was shocked out of their wits!

The Untouchable Ex Wife

Chapter 903

“I refuse!”

Stefan already gave his answer before Renee had even finished counting.

He was expressionless, as if he was looking at a stranger. Without any emotion, he said, "You're always so arrogant. You think you have unlimited charm and can make me bow down to you. Little did you know that I was just playing with you. I've won when I confirmed that you've truly fallen for me. Naturally, I have no reason to continue our relationship anymore. I didn't expect you to get addicted to being toyed with. You would rather be humiliated than give up. You're pathetic.”

“Enough!”

Jovan fists were clenched. For the first time, he shed his calm and collected outer shell. With his emotions slightly out of control, he mocked Stefan, “If you have the time to humiliate her, why not use it to think of a way to help the H Group overcome the crisis? If news of you doing something so cruel to a woman spreads, our Hunt family will become a joke!”

“Isn't that exactly what you want?”

Stefan's eyes swept towards Jovan like sharp daggers.

"Besides, I'm not like you. At least I do things openly and never use dirty tricks.”

That hit Jovan's sore spot. Jovan, who had never backed down in an argument, decided to stop arguing with Stefan.

He turned around, grabbed Renee's hand, and whispered, "You've met him now. It's about time you give up on him. Let's go.” “What's the hurry...”

Renee's beautiful face seemed to be covered in a layer of frost. There was neither sadness nor joy there, making it difficult for others to read her thoughts.

Was she sad, was she angry, or was she indifferent?

“Even after what he said, you still wouldn't give up on him?”

Jovan was angered by Renee's pathetic attitude. "Looks like you're still the same as before. For this man, you would even throw away the basic dignity of a woman. You deserve to be betrayed and humiliated.”

“You're so noisy!”

Renee glared at Jovan and said impatiently, "If you don't want to die, get out of my sight, or I might accidentally hurt you.”

They could not believe that someone would dare to be so disrespectful to Stefan Hunt.

Stefan's bathrobe and hair were soaked through. His face was in a mess, and he was also in pain.

However, he was not mad at all. Instead, he smiled. His long fingers combed through his wet hair. After being washed, his handsome face became even more dazzling in the sunlight. "Is that your retaliation? So childish."

"Of course it's not just this. This is just the appetizer. The main dish is yet to come. Wait for it!"

After that, she threw away the sprinkler and smashed the banquet venue like a crazy woman before leaving the hotel. The hotel manager wanted to rush forward to ask for compensation, but he was stopped by Stefan.

Stefan said coldly, "Leave her be. I'll pay for all the damages."

When Seraphina saw that Renee was gone, she climbed out of the swimming pool and came to Stefan's side. She said a bit apologetically, "I didn't expect her to react so strongly. Should I catch up to her and explain?"

emotionless words were completely devoid of any

“Stef, you hate me, don't you?”

Seraphina rubbed her fingers and said with a pained expression, "Do you know how much I had to go through to calm my father down? All I ask for is to date you for three months. After three months, the grudge between the Hunt family and the Murphy family will be wiped clean. You can still go back to your darling wife then. Is that such a big sacrifice for you?"

“A conflict between the Hunt family and the Murphy family is inevitable. It can't be avoided even if I make compromises for three months. The reason why I agreed is because you promised not to hurt Renee...”

Stefan gave her a threatening gaze and warned, "After three months, if you don't destroy all those things cleanly, the entire Murphy family will go down with you, I guarantee you that."

Those words angered Seraphina. She lost control and shouted at Stefan, "Do you really love that woman so much that you would risk your career and the Hunt family's interests for her?!"

“I don't care, so you better not try me.”

“Hahaha, these words are like a slap to my face. Each word reminds me of my foolishness. I'm much more of a fool compared to you. I risked the future of the Murphy family for a man who doesn't even love me and for three months of lies.”

“Yes, you're indeed foolish.

You've depleted every last bit of affection I had for you.”

“In that case, there's no

turning back...”

Seraphina hugged his neck and leaned against him. "Since you promised to date me for three months, you'll have to perform your duty as a man!"

After Renee left the hotel, she continued to run amok along the seaside.

Weather at the seaside was always unpredictable. It was sunny earlier, but it suddenly rained cats and dogs in the blink of an eye.

Renee was completely drenched.

Jovan propped up his umbrella and followed behind her. He jokingly said, "God is so good to my cousin Stefan. He refused to let Stefan suffer any injustice. You just gave Stefan a cold shower, and now you're already suffering the payback.”

“Get lost!”

Renee did not even spare him a glance. She held herself and said crossly, "I'm in a bad mood. If you don't want to die, shut up!"

"You can sulk in my car. Why sulk in the rain? Do you think you're filming a drama? Besides getting sick, how does it benefit you?"

Jovan suddenly exclaimed, "Stefan? What are you doing here?"

The Untouchable Ex Wife

Chapter 904

less pathetic...

"Alright, alright, I'm sure you feel better now after giving me a good beating. Let's go back to the car. If we continue to stay in the rain, we'll both catch a cold..."

Jovan finally behaved seriously. He picked up the umbrella and held it above Renee's head.

The scene was strangely aesthetic. You would usually only see something like this in a drama.

While that was happening, Stefan was actually sitting before a french window in one of the presidential suites of the hotel, watching them with cold eyes.

His heart was so painful. Jealousy washed over him, almost causing him to lose control.

"Regretting it already?"

Seraphina leaned against him while holding a glass of red wine and said with a smirk, "Although your cousin is useless, he's a charming person. He's good with women. A passionate woman like Renee Everheart can never withstand such a seductive man."

"There's nothing to regret."

Stefan pried his eyes away and walked back into the room. He said coldly, "If she falls for him that easily, it only proves that our love isn't strong enough."

Jovan finally managed to persuade

Renee to return to the car. He closed the windows and turned on the air-heating

system. "Here you go.

Dry your hair first."

He pulled out a towel from the driver's seat and gave it to Renee who was sitting in the back row. He then found another towel for himself which he used to wipe his wet hair and clothes.

Renee's dress was very thin. Now that she was wet, it stuck to her skin and outlined her seductive curves. She looked very sexy.

The Untouchable Ex Wife

Chapter 905

When Renee heard that, she immediately stopped her rampage. She snatched Jovan's umbrella from him, lifted her chin, and stood straight.

Even if she was sad, she would only be sad in secret. She would never let the scumbag see her sad...

She posed for a few minutes but did not see anyone or any car coming over. She asked with a confused expression, "Where's the scumbag?"

"Pffthahaha!"

Jovan burst into laughter.

"My good

sister-in-law,

you're the cutest and proudest woman I've ever met..." "?

? ?"

"You can stop posing now. I was just bluffing. He must be sitting in a warm presidential suite right now, drinking coffee and getting intimate with Seraphina. There's no way he would be out here in the heavy rain."

"You bastard! How dare you prank me!"

Renee was angry to begin with. Now that she had been pranked, she became even angrier. She was so mad that she grabbed Jovan and beat him up. "Are all the men in the Hunt family sick in the head? Why do all of you like to deceive me so much? You really think the Everheart family is an easy target for bullying? I'll beat you to death!"

Her fighting skills were top-notch, and coupled with the fact that she was angry, Jovan ended up getting beaten like a human sandbag. What's worse, he was a human sandbag in a heavy rain. It was truly a tragic sight.

Their clothes were all soaking wet by now. Jovan had fallen to the ground due to Renee's beating, so he simply lay flat on the ground and let Renee do whatever she wanted with him. "C'mon, hit me! If it makes you feel better, you can hit me as much as you want..."

"Come on, don't show me mercy just because I'm good-looking, baby!"

His words sent a chill down Renee's spine. She immediately lost the desire to keep hitting him.

She squatted down like a deflated ball. The red umbrella sat upside down next to her like a rose pelted by the rain, beautiful and fragile.

Sob sob

Renee could not hold the tears back anymore. She hugged her legs and bawled her eyes out in the rain.

The heavy rain was the best cover she could have asked for. It covered up the sound of her crying and it covered up her tears. Thanks to that, she looked less embarrassing and

When she was wiping her body, she felt a bit awkward. She was too embarrassed to lift her clothes and wipe inside.

“Don't worry, I can't see anything. I'm blind.”

While saying that, Jovan flicked the interior rearview mirror close and raised his hands.

Seeing the man's back facing her and the interior rearview mirror closed, Renee's finally felt less awkward. She started to wipe her body more carefully.

Meanwhile, Jovan had no such concern. He took off his shirt and threw it onto the passenger seat, generously showing Renee his muscular body.

To be honest, his body was just as impressive as Stefan's!

Ahem!

Renee quickly removed her gaze and chastised herself for looking.

“Haha, Renee, you're already the mother of two children. Why are you still so shy? Looks like sex with Stefan must have been very conservative!”

“Shut up!”

Renee gave the man a sharp punch on the back and warned him, "Just because I got into your car doesn't mean you can make lewd jokes with me. If you keep being so rude, get out of the car!”

“My bad. As you're well aware, my mouth is all I have. I'll try to control myself.”

Getting hit by Renee made Jovan very happy. He cherished this moment alone with Renee. He did not want it to end that quickly. The air inside the car was very warm.

The two of them were no longer damp. They gradually relaxed.

Jovan turned on the car stereo, filling the interior of the car with lively music. It happened to be a soft rock song, which was a genre that they both liked. The song was Michael Bolton's “How Am I Supposed To Live Without You”.

♪ Tell me how am I supposed to live without you~ Now that I've been lovin' you so long... ♪

The song's rhythm complemented the raindrops outside the window. As a former lead singer of a band, Renee was still quite sensitive to music. She immediately nodded along to the dense guitar and drum beats.

Jovan smiled unconsciously. "Now that's the Renee Everheart I know. Carefree and unrestrained. There's no need to bawl your eyes out for an unfaithful man.”

Renee glared at him. "Stop spreading rumors. I would never bawl my eyes out for any man.”

“Then who was the person who ran amok and cried like a baby in the rain and even beat up an innocent passerby just now?” “I didn't cry. The rain got into my eyes.”

“Fine, fine, you didn't cry. My beloved lead singer is the coolest woman in the world...”

Jovan agreed with whatever Renee said.

“But I'm curious. Is that all you're gonna do?”

Jovan asked curiously, "You said just now you would make my arrogant cousin pay. What's your plan?” “I haven't thought about it.”

Renee sighed. Her face was filled with sadness. "There's no right and wrong in love. You get together if you like each other and you break up if you don't like each other anymore. I can blame no one but myself for being stupid. It's not like I can actually do anything to make him pay. Do you want me to break his leg or something?”

It was only a marriage. If she was betrayed, then she could just get a divorce. There was no need to make a big fuss. That was what she believed.

But if she let him off just like that, she could not appease

the anger in her heart. “I have an idea. You can pay him back without causing him bodily harm.”

“I'm all ears.”

The Untouchable Ex Wife

Chapter 906

Jovan turned back on his seat and gestured to Renee to move closer. "Move your ear closer. I'll tell you."

Renee was too innocent. She leaned forward curiously. The strap of her summer dress slid off her shoulder due to the slightly large neckline, revealing her snow-white skin.

Jovan caught a quick glance and gulped unconsciously. His voice was a bit hoarse as he said, "Marry me and snatch the H Group away from him!"

fainting. Her head was almost spewing fire. "You damn brat, do you want another beating? How dare you trick me again!"

Seeing Renee pull back her fist to give him another punch, Jovan quickly raised his hands and begged for mercy. "My good sister-in-law, hear me out. Let me finish..."

"What else is there to say? As if anything good could result from this!"

"I'm not asking you to marry me for real. It's just an opportunity for you to vent your anger..."

Jovan said seriously, "Think about it. Stefan betrayed you in order to make peace with the Murphy family so that he can protect the H Group. If, in the end, the H Group ended up in your hands and you even obtained a handsome, obedient husband like me, surely it would be like a slap to his face!"

"Obtain the H Group?"

This actually piqued Renee's interest.

Her Azure Group was poised to take off. If she could truly obtain the industry's leading corporation, the H Group, then not only would the Azure Group have a bright future, even the fallen Everheart family could regain their former glory.

Before this, she cared about Stefan's feelings, so she never thought about doing something like this, but now... why not?

Jovan had been observing her expression. He smiled triumphantly, "How about it? Wanna join hands with me and give it a shot?"

Seeing how eager Jovan was, Renee scoffed, "You're still so ambitious even after what happened the last time. Have you forgotten how you got kicked down like a dog after you failed to usurp the throne? It hasn't even been that long since then and you're already planning something new. Aren't you afraid that Stefan will end you once and for all?"

"Even if the sky collapses, you'll be there to hold it up. Why should I be afraid?"

"Besides, all I want is to defeat him. I want to see him fall off the altar and be deserted by the people close to him. I don't really care who ends up with the H Group."

After listening to his plan, Renee

had a thoughtful expression. 'Tsk

tsk, this guy is really crazy!

"You're so obsessed with Stefan. You've been fighting against him your whole life. Could you have any special feelings for him that you haven't noticed yourself?"

"Special feelings?"

"Yeah! Do you always feel like doing something outrageous to catch his attention? Do you like to provoke him for fun? Do you subconsciously try to imitate him, like what he likes, and desire what belongs to him?"

The more she spoke, the more excited she got. Her eyes shone with anticipation.

Jovan frowned. He thought she was asking some really weird questions. He asked coldly, "What are you implying?"

"Have I not made myself clear enough? You're actually a hidden bro-con, aren't you? The psychotic kind. You've been secretly in love with your cousin for a very long time. Seeing him get married, have children, and make new friends, you feel increasingly jealous and increasingly frustrated. Your love thus became hate. You swore to pester him forever."

Renee's thoughts poured out of her. She had already come up with a smut story in her mind. Thinking of Stefan and Jovan chasing each other, falling in love with each other while hurting each other, she could not help but blush.

Jovan: ". ..."

“There's no need to be shy. I'm very open-minded. I love taboo stories the most.”

Renee was quite proud.

"Hunt my Everheart", which used to make waves in the forums, was written by her and was later continued by Stefan. It was even made into a movie.

Renee rubbed her hands eagerly, "If you don't mind, I can tailor-make a fan fiction for you and Stefan. It'll surely become an instant hit in the fan fiction circle!”

Renee was having so much fun planning the fan fiction. "Who do you think should be the dominant one and the submissive one between you and Stefan? I think you should be the dominant one because you're more aggressive. The cold, arrogant type being the submissive one is more popular nowadays. But most importantly, that way, you can abuse Stefan. I'm getting excited just thinking about it!”

Jovan: “. . . .”

Renee: "Isn't it your lifelong wish to climb above your cousin? I'll satisfy your desire.” Jovan: “. . . .”

Renee had not written a novel for a long time. Her creative juice suddenly erupted like a geyser. She had the urge to start typing on the spot.

Her words kept getting more and more outrageous. The plot had progressed to the point where Jovan and Stefan were going abroad to get married!

“Stop!”

He could not stand it any longer. He covered Renee's mouth to stop her from talking, then moved closer, pressed her nose against her face, and whispered into her ear, “Of all your speculations, only one thing is correct. I do like what he likes and want to own everything that belongs to him.....for example, you.”

The warm air in the car rose and fell along with the music. The mood in the air was ambiguous and warm. Jovan's Adam's apple moved up and down. He closed his eyes and kissed Renee on the lips.

How could he make the woman in front of him understand that this was what he truly desired and had been chasing after? For this, he did not mind being an unscrupulous and despicable scoundrel.

He remarked in his mind, 'Stefan, you chose to sacrifice yourself for the family, so don't blame me for getting the beauty

“Jovan Hunt! Do you want to die?!”

Renee was momentarily stunned. The warmth on her lips numbed her whole body. She kicked the man away.

Jovan was not angry. Like a glutton that had finally satisfied his hunger, he wiped his thumb across his thin lips, savoring the warmth from a moment before. He smiled playfully and said, "Since you like to write so much, why not write some stories about a brother-and a sister-in-law? Those should be more exciting than the taboo story you mentioned earlier.”

Renee glared at the man angrily and said, "Enough nonsense. I accept your suggestion. We'll take over the H Group!” Renee would do this to teach Stefan a lesson, then.

'Hmph, Stefan Hunt, you think I don't know what you're thinking? You're just pretending to be the villain so that you won't drag the children and I into your mess.'

'It's okay. Seraphina isn't the only one who can be your sugar mommy. I can too!'

The Untouchable Ex Wife

The annual Global Electronic Technology Industry Summit was held at the Santa Fe Hotel in Beach City. All the companies invited were top technological companies from around the world. The H Group and the KCL Group were without a doubt the two biggest companies there. They drew a lot of media attention.

However, the H Group had been in trouble recently. There were rumors that the cooperation between the H Group and the KCL Group had not been finalized, resulting in the H Group's largest investment, the G6 chip phone project, being delayed for nearly half a year. Their major production lines and sales lines were thus non operational. The H Group's performance had declined for two quarters in a row, resulting in heavy losses.

To make matters worse, a group of investment companies led by the Murphy family seemed to have heard some rumors and were divesting. H Group's most prestigious R&D team was also showing signs of breaking up. The company was going through a turbulent time right now and was showing signs of collapsing.

Therefore, today's Global Electronic Technology Industry Summit was quite important for the H Group. It would determine the power distribution of the electronic technology industry in Beach City, and even the entire world, for the next decade.

t Group really divest from the H

Group?” “Can the H Group still reach an agreement with the

KCL Group?”

“Can the H Group weather the crisis and maintain top spot in the industry?” These questions would be answered in this summit.

Reporters were already waiting outside the hotel early in the morning, eager to report live from the summit.

However, the entry threshold for the summit was very high. Not everyone in the electronic technology field was qualified to enter. Even the media members could only wait outside the hotel.

Flowers and red carpets were laid out all the way to the parking lot. Big shots in the industry appeared one after another.

A Lincoln limousine pulled up to the red carpet. Reporters swarmed over, excitedly pressing their camera shutters. The onlookers were also talking excitedly among themselves.

“Look, I think that's the Murphy family's car. I wonder if Murphy's Investment Group will continue to cooperate with the H Group after the summit.”

“I think they will. Recently, both families have been discussing a marriage alliance, but for some reason, we haven't heard much progress...”

“Whether they'll continue to cooperate depends entirely on the Murphy family's eldest daughter. After all, she's Murphy's Investment Group's only heir!”

The doorman respectfully bent down to open the car door. The people who got down from the car were none other than Stefan in an elegant suit and Seraphina in an expensive gown.

The two of them got out of the car one by one. Seraphina took Stefan's arm, and they proudly walked into the venue amidst flowers, applause, and envy.

Their joint appearance brought the atmosphere at the venue to a climax. The non-stop camera flashes almost turned night into day.

Their appearance no doubt signaled to the outside world that the H Group and Murphy's Investment Group were in a “honeymoon period”. Their relationship was fine and they would keep cooperating in the future. The H Group and the Hunt family would still be the leading family in Beach City!

Stefan and Seraphina arrived at the meeting. They were warmly welcomed by everyone in attendance. The leaders of various groups came forward to greet them and to chat.

Seraphina looked like a future wife of the Hunt family already, and maybe even the future lady of the Hunt household. She socialized with everyone gracefully, occasionally leaning close to Stefan to show their intimate relationship to the outside world.

“Hahaha, you flatter us, Mr. Dickens. Stefan and I are the younger generation. We still have a lot to learn from you and the other elders...”

Seraphina skillfully touched glasses with a leading industry figure. She then whispered to Stefan, “Like we agreed upon, today, you will announce our relationship, while I, as the heir of Murphy's Investment Group, will announce the news of our continued cooperation.”

Stefan said coldly, “I don't care if the Murphy family wants to continue the cooperation, but you better keep your word and destroy everything like you promised. I don't want to see those things ever again.”

“Oh, don't worry, we've been friends for so many years. You can trust me...”

Seraphina was somewhat displeased. “You're only concerned about her? What happens today may decide the life and death of the H Group. Don't you care about that at all?”

The Untouchable Ex Wife

Chapter 909

"I don't. I don't care even if the Hunt family goes bankrupt."

Stefan had long grown tired of all this. He had grown tired of the lies and deceit in the business world and the hypocrisy and greasiness of businessmen.

The fame and fortune that seemingly everyone in the world coveted could interest him no more. He did not want to stay in this field for a minute longer than necessary.

"I'm going outside for some fresh air. Please excuse me."

Stefan nodded slightly, put down the champagne glass in his hand, and escaped from the crowd without looking back.

On the second floor of the Santa Fe Hotel, there was a large terrace that contained lush tropical plants. It was also adorned with tiny lights that flickered like little stars.

This spot was quiet and secluded. Sometimes, one could even find birds and butterflies here. It was like a secret realm hidden in the bustling city. Few people knew about this place.

Stefan discovered it by chance. After walking through layers of trees and flowers, he saw a beautiful and enchanting figure leaning against the wooden railing of the terrace.

The woman was wearing a red gown that was tight in the upper body and loose in the lower body. The design of the gown meant that her back was completely exposed. Her beautiful back was as fair and delicate as snow. Stefan could hardly take his eyes off it.

A gentle breeze blew over her rose-colored gown and her waterfall-like hair. The sight was beyond enchanting...

"Renee?"

Stefan clenched his fingers and called out the woman's name.

The woman turned back and gave him a smile while flicking her hair that was blown by the wind. "There you are." She was like a predator that had been lying in wait for a long time for her prey to deliver itself to her!

"Should the CEO of H Group really be here right now?"

Renee had a glass of red wine in her hand. She swayed it gently and joked, "Shouldn't you be talking to the big shots below about the future of the industry? What are you doing here?"

Stefan frowned as he observed the woman's every move. He asked, "What are you doing here? And why are you dressed like this?"

"Dressed like what?"

Renee put down her wine glass, lifted her skirt and spun around. She looked at him seductively. "What's wrong? Don't I look good in this?"

"Stop wasting your time."

He grabbed her wrist forcefully and pulled her into his arms. He said mercilessly, "It's over between us. No matter what you do, I won't feel anything."

“Take a guess.”

Renee's red lips curled into a fox-like smile. It was enchanting, mysterious, and unreadable.

She reached out and gently caressed the man's perfect face. The slight stubble and the faint coolness all felt so familiar to her. The lingering love of the past was still vivid in her memory, but right now, the two of them seemed to be worlds apart.

“I don't care what your purpose is. Leave immediately. This isn't where you belong.” Stefan tried his best to put on a stern face so that Renee would leave.

He did not want her sudden appearance to mess up his meticulous plan.

But more importantly, he was not sure if he would falter at the final phase of the plan because of her! If he faltered, everything would be over!

“Why are you in such a hurry to drive me away? Because of guilt?” Renee asked confidently.

Stefan ignored her. He let go of her hand and tried to maintain a safe distance from her.

He knew his own nature very well. Although he looked as cold as an iceberg, he was actually a hopeless romantic. The closer they were to each other, the less rational he became, which was very troublesome!

Unfortunately, Renee was naturally rebellious. When she realized that he wanted to keep a safe distance from her, she took the initiative and put her hands around his shoulders. Her thin lips brushed across his face, seemingly by accident. She said slowly, "What if I tell you I came here tonight to take you back. Would you believe me?"

“Stop causing trouble.”

Stefan obviously never expected Renee to be so persistent in wanting him back. He was pleasantly surprised and struggled to keep a straight face. He said arrogantly, "I thought you said you've prepared yourself to break up with me one day? You said I'm merely the icing on the cake, and even without me, you'll still live a colorful life. Why are you so desperate now?"

“Yes, but that only applies to the day we're meant to part. We obviously haven't reached that point yet...”

Renee buried her head deep in his shoulder like a kitten and whispered in his ear, "I don't believe for a second that you don't love me anymore. You must be doing this for a reason. There's no one else here, just you and I. I'll give you another chance. Tell me the truth. Whatever it is, we can face it together!"

Stefan stood tall and motionless like a mountain.

He had to admit, for a moment there, he was very close to faltering, just as he had expected. But when he thought about the cost of doing so, he managed to pull himself back.

“Let me tell you something. Don't underestimate your wife. I, your wife, is amazing. Whatever support the Murphy family can give you, I can give you too. You don't have to make such a big sacrifice. We're still married, so don't you go and announce another engagement now!"

Renee felt a bit anxious when Stefan did not make any reply. Her attitude also became a bit more humble. "What kind of support can you give me?"

Stefan remained unmoved. He slowly pulled her hand away and said, "You can't even take care of yourself, so stop dragging me down. If you still care about me, then please give me and Seraphina your blessing."

Renee once again felt a chill from head to toe.

Like a moth, she flew towards a light source willingly, even though she knew it would kill her. In the end, she received a huge slap to the face!

"Fine, Stefan Hunt. Remember what you said today. I've already given you enough chances. No matter what reason you turn out to have, I'll never forgive you!"

Renee's eyes were red as she lost control and yelled at him.

Ahem!
