Chapter 91

Seeing his look of despair, Renee felt like laughing, although she knew it was a terrible thing to do.

Hahaha! Every dog has its day. It was rare to see the cold and arrogant iceberg wither like this. How could she easily let the chance go?

Renee lowered her eyes and tried to put on a serious expression. "Yes. Accidents happen, you know. Life is full of ups and downs. That's life."

Stefan closed his eyes and said, "Get out. I want to be alone."

"I can't do that. This happened to you because you came to save me. I'll definitely share this burden with you." Renee's kindness was met with Stefan's ruthless rejection. "No need!"

'Are you

sure?" "Get out!"

Stefan's words were so cold they seemed to have come from the north pole. "I don't want to say the same thing twice!"

Right then, Stefan's phone rang. It kept ringing without showing any signs of stopping, as if it would keep going as long as Stefan did not answer.

"Mr. Hunt... I'll get out and leave you alone now." Renee raised her eyes and said "kindly".

The phone continued to ring. Stefan's handsome face had gone extremely dark. Finally, he could not stand it anymore and said in a low voice, "Bring me the phone!"

"What's that, Mr. Hunt? I couldn't hear you very clearly."

Renee put her hands behind her ears. She looked very mischievous. "I said... bring me the phone!"

Stefan clenched his teeth and forced out one word at a time.

Of course he knew that she was doing it on purpose, but what could he do? He needed her help!

Renee smiled and said, "That's right. If you need help, speak up. If you're too proud to ask for help, you're the one who will suffer in the end."

While saying that, she took out Stefan's phone from his suit pocket and placed it by his car.

The caller was Elijah, Stefan's personal assistant. The moment the call was answered, Elijah blurted out in a rush, "Mr. Hunt, where are you? We haven't been able to contact you since you left the Gourmet Pavilion restaurant. Your mother has been calling me to ask me to remind you that your grandfather will be arriving in Beach City tonight. She said you must not forget to pick him up from the airport!"

Stefan frowned and said coldly, "Tell the public that I'm on vacation with my wife abroad and I won't be making any public appearances for a while."

"A vacation abroad? You and Miss Everheart?"

You two..." "That's all!"

Stefan rudely interrupted Elijah's questioning and used his eyes to signal to Renee to hang up the phone. Renee did so obediently.

"Grandpa Hunt is returning home tonight? I wonder how his surgery went. Do you want to give him a call so that he wouldn't worry about you?"

The only person Renee felt sorry for in the divorce was Grandpa Hunt, who treated her like a granddaughter. He's also the only reason why she still maintained a somewhat peaceful relationship with

an.

"No

Stefan's expression was cold, but his face was filled with pain.

He's a useless quadriplegic now. He did not want to have any contact with the outside world. Seeing him so depressed, Renee's heart softened. Maybe she had taken the joke a bit too far.

She was about to confess to him when she heard Stefan's arrogant voice say, "From now on, you'll be personally taking care of me. I'll pay you well. You'll get at least ten times the profit of Hunts & Co. Law Firm."

He disliked being touched by women, but if it's Renee... he seemed to be fine with it. Renee was speechless.

It really was hard for a person to change. Even after becoming a quadriplegic, he's still ordering people around like a CEO. He thought money could solve every problem? "What if I refuse?"

Renee said coldly.

Chapter 92

"Didn't you say you'll share the burden with me earlier? Are you scared already?"

Stefan sneered. "If you want to leave, just leave. I might as well die than live like this."

Renee typically would not give in to harsh threats but was a sucker for attacks on her conscience. If she really left him now, she would feel terrible.

“Alright, I’ll take care of you. But I’m only doing it for the money!” said Renee.

After all, Stefan turned out this way because he tried to save her. She hated being indebted to others. If she really left him now, how could she let her conscience rest?

In any case, it would only be for a few days. It would be over in the blink of an eye! “You choose to do this willingly.

I didn’t force you.”

Stefan said arrogantly.

“That’s right, it’s because I’m bored and I love to get yelled at. I’m becoming your servant willingly. Happy?” Renee rolled her eyes and silently added, “Arrogant bastard!”

Stefan truly did have the capitalist mindset. He immediately started to squeeze the labor out of Renee. “I’m thirsty, go and pour me a glass of water.”

“I should remind you that I only drink 36°C water. Make sure the temperature isn’t too high or too low.”

“You...!”

Renee’s fist tightened. She felt like hitting him!

As Renee turned to get water for Stefan while cursing him, Stefan’s lips curled into an involuntary smile, his deep eyes as cunning as a fox’s.

After that, the doctor and the nurses poured in.

The doctor cautiously asked Stefan, “Mr.

Hunt, how do you feel?” “You know how I feel. Stop asking the obvious.”

Stefan’s face was cold and his words were short.

The doctor rubbed his hands, looking embarrassed. “I’m really sorry, Mr. Hunt. We’ve tried our best. What’s happening to you now is normal after being poisoned by that venom. It may be a bit uncomfortable, but...”

Seeing that the doctor was about to reveal the truth, Renee quickly said, “It’s okay, I’ll take good care of my husband. Although he can’t move anymore, I’ll never give up on him. From now on, I’ll be his hands and his feet. I’ll experience the world for him!”

“Ugh...”

The doctor was so confused.

Mr. Hunt would only be paralyzed for a few days, not forever. Was it necessary to be so dramatic? Well, maybe that’s part of the fun of a married life. Outsiders like him would not understand.

“I’m glad to see you two so deeply in love. I’ll have to trouble you to look after Mr. Hunt in the next few days, Mrs. Hunt.”

After the doctor said that, he looked towards the nurses and said, “Since Mr. Hunt values his privacy and is not comfortable with you touching him, we’ll let Mrs. Hunt take care of things like applying medicine and wiping his body. Teach her how to do those things.”

“Apply medicine and wipe his body?”

Renee’s face was filled with fear. “What do you mean? How do I do that?”

A nurse told her gently and patiently, “Don’t be afraid and don’t worry, Mrs. Hunt. It’s actually very easy...”

“The snake venom is now spreading throughout Mr. Hunt’s body, so we’re not only giving him oral medication, we’ll apply medicine externally too...”

“You’ll have to rub the medicine on his  Dody three times a day.” Rence felt like crying after hearing that.

She understood what she had to do, but to rub medicine over his whole body... she could not do it!

The CEO of H Group, who had remained quiet all this time, finally opened his mouth. “In that case, let’s begin.”

“You mean... right now?”

She looked at the man on the bed who could not move, then at the doctor and nurses who had professional fake smiles on their faces. She felt like she had played herself.

“Of course. Do you want to wait until the venom spreads to my heart and brain and kill me?” Stefan’s cold words left Renee speechless.

“A man and a woman shouldn’t have such intimate contact. I... don’t think this is appropriate.” Renee was embarrassed and wanted to run away.

She never even got to hold Stefan’s hand usually. Now she had to touch every inch of his body?... The mere thought of it made it hard for her to breathe.

The doctor was puzzled. “But Mrs. Hunt, you’re his wife. This could not be any more appropriate.” “Well, I mean, I’m not a nurse. My technique may not be very professional.”

“That’s nothing to worry about. When you rub the medicine, try to rub it on every inch of his skin, then make sure you massage him a lot to promote absorption.”

After the doctor said that, he ordered a nurse to pass the freshly prepared medicine and gauze to Renee. He told her, “You better hurry, Mrs. Hunt. The medicinal effect will go down a lot if the medicine gets cold.”

And with that, they just... left?!

Renee stood with his back to Stefan, her cheeks slightly flushed. She did not know what to do.

Stefan’s eyes gleamed mischievously. He stared at the graceful figure of Renee’s back like he was staring at a prey. He asked, “Why so shy? Are you feeling embarrassed because you like me?”

“Of course not!”

Renee turned around. She clenched her fists and said, “I’m going to divorce you. How could I possibly like you?” Stefan raised his eyebrows, the emotion in his eyes unclear. “Really?”

Now who’s the arrogant one? Why did he feel like she was a hundred times prouder than he was? “Of course!!!

Renee blushed and said in a small voice, “I’m not shy, I’m just... just worried about losing control...”

“Losing control?”

Stefan did not know whether to laugh or be mad. “Look at me. How can I still lose control? You think I can force myself on you with telekinesis?”

“Do I look so thirsty to you?”

Renee cleared her throat and said honestly, “You’re too naive. I’m worried about me losing control, not you...”

“After all, you have a figure like a supermodel. When I apply the medicine, it’s difficult for me not to touch you here and there for fun.”

Stefan: “.

She’s right, he’s too naive! “You have a point.”

“After all, even while my body was being attacked by the venom, you would still kiss me intensely to satisfy your own desire. Now that you get the chance to rub medicine on me, who knows what kind of beast you’ll become.”

Renee’s face that was already red was now flushed to the base of her neck. “This is so embarrassing. So this guy remembers?!”

Renee took the chance to bail out. “That’s right. You’ve seen how perverted I can be, so you should protect yourself better. You better let a professional nurse rub medicine on you instead.

“No one is more professional than you.”

Although Stefan could not move, his naturally regal temperament still made him look very charming.

“Rather than be groped by other women, I’d rather let you benefit instead... Stop wasting time. You’re gonna make me think you’re actually attracted to me.”

The provocation finally gave Renee the courage.

“Fine, I’ll do it! I’m not scared of you!”

With a piece of gauze soaked in the medicine in hand, she lifted the blanket covering Stefan, 213 took a deep breath, and started unbuttoning his hospital gown one button at a time.

His bulging muscles appeared before her eyes. There was not a trace of excess fat to be seen. He looked slender with clothes on, but without the clothes, he’s actually pretty muscular.

Although it was not the first time Renee had seen Stefan’s body, her heart still could not help but flutter. She gulped and said, “Here goes.”

After saying that, her small hands reached out towards his body uncontrollably, pouncing on them like kitten paws. It was as if she was saying “Itadakimasu”.

It... actually felt really good!

When she rubbed the upper part of his body, it was still okay, but when she had to rub his lower body, it was way too embarrassing.

In order to avoid the embarrassment, Renee turned her head to the side and could only do it by feel.

Stefan suddenly said in a cold voice, “What are you doing?”

Chapter 94

“Oh, I’m sorry, I’m sorry!”

Renee quickly withdrew her hands. “It was an accident!”

Renee said with her hands raised.

Stefan was still very calm. He said, “It doesn’t matter. It’s not like I can do anything about it.” “What he hell...”

That was so embarrassing. She had never felt more embarrassed in her life.

The only thing Renee wanted to do now was to dig a hole, bury herself in it, and never come out again!

She did not notice the slight curl on the corners of Stefan’s thin lips. Over the next few days, Renee slowly got used to it.

Having gone through the embarrassing experience on the first day, she could now rub Stefan’s body with practiced familiarity.

Her thought process was, Stefan did not have any physical sensation anyway, so it’s not like he could feel her touching him. In that case, why should she be so polite?

So, she now touched and rubbed his body as much as she pleased.

Facing a beautiful creature with perfect muscles like that every day, no straight woman could remain a nun.

course, there was no such thing as a free lunch. While she get to indulge herself in playing with the wonderful body of Stefan Hunt, Stefan had been ordering her around too.

For example, he would keep asking her to bring him stuff. He also needed to have coffee every day, and the coffee powder must be freshly ground!

The fruits he ate must be cut into equal-sized portions. It could not be too big or too small.

That's not all. She also had to be his newspaper reader, reading domestic and foreign financial news to him at a specific time every day. The speed and intonation of her speech must be at the level of a newscaster. She could not read too fast or too slow and she could not mispronounce the words either!

"Dammit, I can't stand it anymore!"

Halfway through grinding the coffee beans for the day, Renee had finally had enough. She planned to end it.

This job of serving the Great Demon King, even though it came with a great reward, was simply not worth it.

Renee had been thinking about it. It had already been a week. He should have recovered a bit by now.

So she lifted the blanket, pinched Stefan's thigh, and asked, "How do you feel? Can you feel anything?"

"What do you think?"

Stefan said without any emotion, "You're the one who told me I'm paralyzed for life.

How can I possibly feel anything?" "Ugh!"

Renee rubbed her forehead with a worried expression.

Did she curse him so much that he was actually going to be paralyzed for life now? If not, why would he still feel nothing? "Why, are you going back on your word?"

Stefan lowered his eyes and said with a sad face, "I knew you would do that sooner or later. It's okay, you can leave if you want. I don't blame you. After all, saving you was my own choice."

His words moved Renee's heart a little bit.

In truth, the past week they spent together did more to bring them closer to each other than the four long years before that. Some undesirable emotions seemed to be reviving.

She bit her lip, summoned her courage, and asked, "So... do you regret saving me?"

The air became silent.

A strange emotion filled the air between the two people.

Stefan's thin lips moved, as if he was about to say something. But right then, the door of the ward slammed open.

"I see. So this is the so-called "holiday abroad". Incredible. You even lied to your grandpa!" Francine Milford walked in menacingly. She glared at Renee, wishing she could devour Renee alive.

Briar Desrosiers came in after Francine.

Her stomach had grown larger since the last time Renee saw her. The round belly was like a silent slap to Renee's face, instantly waking her up.

Heh, what an idiot she was.

Stefan cheated on her. That was the cold hard truth. Yet she was foolish enough to test how he felt still.

Considering what had happened up to this point, was it important whether he regretted saving her or not?

"Now that you're here, I'm finally free."

Renee calmly stood up from the chair. She gestured towards the bowl of medicine on the table and told Briar, "Three times a day, rub it on his whole body. This is a task more suitable for you."

you,

Miss

Briar put on a soft, weak pretense and spoke like she was Stefan's wife, "Thank you, Everheart. Sorry for all the trouble Stefan caused you in the last few days. Don't worry, I'll take good care of him."

The mockery in that remark was so thick that Renee felt like laughing.

But she did not say anything. She simply gave Stefan a nod and turned around to leave. "You don't have to go."

Stefan said towards Renee's back, his voice deep and cold with a domineering attitude that no one could question, "Like I said, there's no one more suitable to take care of me than you."

This was like a slap to Briar's face.

Briar's expression turned ugly. She secretly clenched her fists and tried to look innocent and wronged. But when she looked at Renee, she could not suppress the hatred in her eyes.

Francine was angered too. She berated Stefan, "Fan, do you even know what you're talking about? Briar is pregnant with your child and she'll be giving birth in a few months, while you're about to divorce this woman. Briar is the woman you'll spend the rest of your life with. How can she be more suitable than Briar?"

"You said it yourself, Renee and I are about to get a divorce, which means we're currently still husband and wife. These tasks are more suited for a wife."

Stefan eyes were on Renee the whole time he said that. His gaze was deep and complicated. "You...!"

Francine was speechless. She did not know how to deal with her son.

"Can you tell me what's wrong with you? Why are you in the hospital? Is your hematophobia acting up?" She walked over to Stefan and looked him up and down with a worried expression.

Stefan closed his mouth and chose silence.

Renee was going to leave, but she suddenly turned back around to look at the three people in the ward with a weird smile on her face.

"I'm really sorry, Miss Francine, Mr. Hunt was bitten by a snake while trying to save me. He's now a quadriplegia and may be paralyzed forever..."

She looked at Briar with a sympathetic expression and said, "Miss Desrosiers, you'll have a hard life ahead of you. However, since you and Mr. Hunt truly love each other, I don't think you'll mind. In the future, he'll have to rely on you as his crutch. I, as the ex-wife, wish you two a good marriage and a lasting relationship!"

"What... what?!"

Upon hearing this, Francine almost lost her balance. Briar's expression was even more interesting. "Impossible! Impossible! You must be lying!"

For the first time ever, instead of helping the unsteady Francine, she grabbed Renee's arm like a mad woman and said, "You're lying! You don't want to get dumped, so you're trying to force me to quit, aren't you?!" Renee sneered and shook off Briar's hand hard. "You can ask Stefan yourself."

Stefan, lying in bed with an unreadable expression, looked coldly at Briar and said, "She's not lying. I really am paralyzed. Would you still marry me?"
