

The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky

Chapter 2407

Chapter 2407

"No problem!" Leon smiled.

According to the current paths for Cynthion Group and Elegante Group, their businesses would eventually extend into the market in the central region.

Since Zach was a second-level Platinum Dragon Guard with great influence in the central region, impressing him would only benefit Leon.

"Leon, there's something else that I'd like to discuss with you. Focus on healing and once you are better, please come to the Dragon Corps to see me. Well talk then," Alfred added.

"Sure," Leon said.

With that, Alfred, Zach, and the others left with the Demon Lord's body.

In the following days, Leon stayed home to heal.

Though he suffered great injuries, he was a skilled doctor and healed faster than normal people, so he was practically whole again in just a week.

During this time, the Hiltons sold everything in their possession and left the southern region.

Hiltons Corporation was once the biggest competitor for Elegante Group, and most of its businesses were taken over by Iris, who was particularly talented in business matters.

Elegante Group benefited greatly from this and its competitive power and share of the market increased drastically, making it the top cosmetic firm in the southern region.

Meanwhile, after the Southern Boss's downfall, the underground community lost its leader and descended into chaos.

Thankfully, Leon planned one step and set the people who worked for the Spears to go.

These martial artists were all formidable and had certain connections in the community.

With these people in power, the chaos soon settled down and no issue should arise anytime soon.

Following the defeat of the Southern Boss and the Hiltons, the news of Leon and the Thompsons' success stunned the entire Southern region.

Without the Southern Boss as a competitor, the Thompsons became the one and only ruler of the southern region.

Leon's fame rose as well and he became one of the most respected individuals in the region. With that, he and the Cynthion Group finally secured their positions in the southern region.

The only shame was that Leon was not from a powerful family and since he did not have a clan of his own, his reputation still could not hold a candle to that of the Thompsons.

Still, his power and the influence of Cynthion Group enabled him to be one of the main players in the community as a new -rising star.

No one in the southern region would dare to underestimate him ever again.

One morning, Leon finished his breakfast and drove to the Dragon Corps according to what he promised Alfred.

He soon met with Alfred in the office.

"Leon, welcome. How's your injury?" Alfred set his work aside and stood to welcome Leon with a smile.

"I feel much better now. Mister Glasbey, why did you ask me here?" Leon asked.
