

The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky

Chapter 2377

Chapter 2377

"Why you!" Leon's expression darkened upon hearing his threats; his determination to eliminate the Southern Boss strengthened as he knew that there would be catastrophic consequences if the Southern Boss escaped.

However, the situation was far from ideal.

The Southern Boss was dead set on running and Leon struggled to catch up to him.

Within the blink of an eye, the two found themselves at the mansion's fate.

Once the Southern Boss got out of the mansion, he could escape Leon.

"Take this, Southern Boss. Hurricane Break!" At the last moment, Leon launched his most powerful attack; his spiritual energy surging from his palms and darting toward the Southern Boss.

"What a powerful attack!" Shocked, the Southern Boss tensed.

Though Leon's Hurricane Break was a powerful wide-range attack, it was hardly comparable to the Potential Energy Force he wielded earlier. The Southern Boss was in the Advanced Almighty State, so he knew that he could fend off Leon's attack unless Leon managed to summon another Potential Energy Force.

"Divine Kick!"

The next moment, the Southern Boss leaped into the air and launched the Divine Kick to meet Leon's Hurricane Break.

"Baam!"

The two attacks slammed into one another and since the Southern Boss was severely injured, he was not at his full strength and Leon's attack instantly tore through the Southern Boss's attack.

Knowing that he did not stand a chance against Leon, the Southern Boss saved some strength and darted toward the door just as Leon's Hurricane Break tore through his attack.

He leaped and landed at the gate of the mansion and shouted viciously, "I'll remember this, Leon! Just you wait! I'll tear you apart the next time I see you and make you pay for what you've done today!"

Not daring to stay any longer, he leaped out of the mansion and disappeared from everyone's sight.

"Damn it!" Leon's expression darkened.

Meanwhile, Arthur defeated Devon and darted toward Leon.

"What a shame! He got away!" Arthur sighed, his expression darkening.

He knew that considering the Southern Boss's power, neither he nor Leon could stop him from running and so there was nothing much they could do.

Though the Spears came close to breaking apart, the Southern Boss was an ambitious man who might just find a chance to regain power in the future, so letting him escape meant that they might face troubles afterward.

Instantly, Leon and Arthur both felt concerned.

However, the situation took a drastic turn before they had the time to think of a solution. 2
