

Chapter 682 Smoke Bomb

Liam had already notified the hospital of the Dark Night Organization of the situation.

The best medical resources were already set and ready to receive them. As soon as they got to the hospital, they were taken to the operation rooms. With the efficiency of the doctors, no one died.

Although they were all out of danger, the conditions of some people were not very optimistic. The most injured one was Aikin. Cannon had broken his spine and he was more or less now paralyzed.

When Aikin woke up, he wasn't surprised by his state. With a bitter smile, he said to Liam, "It seems I can't go with you to fight for the rare-earth mine."

The rims of Liam's eyes turned red in anger.

Aikin had been with him for a long time, and for the past days, he had been working really hard.

To Liam, Aikin was not just a subordinate but also his good friend. And now, the Duncan family had reduced his friend to a disabled man.

The harder Aikin tried to be strong while lying on the bed, the deeper Liam's hatred ran.

Liam had already notified the hospital of the Dark Night Organization of the situation.

The best medical resources were already set and ready to receive them. As soon as they got to the hospital, they were taken to the operation rooms. With the efficiency of the doctors, no one died.

Although they were all out of danger, the conditions of some people were not very optimistic. The most injured one was Aikin. Cannon had broken his spine and he was more or less now paralyzed.

When Aikin woke up, he wasn't surprised by his state. With a bitter smile, he said to Liam, "It seems I can't go with you to fight for the rare-earth mine."

The rims of Liam's eyes turned red in anger.

Aikin had been with him for a long time, and for the past days, he had been working really hard.

To Liam, Aikin was not just a subordinate but also his good friend. And now, the Duncan family had reduced his friend to a disabled man.

The harder Aikin tried to be strong while lying on the bed, the deeper Liam's hatred ran.

He mentally promised to destroy the Duncan family.

He would kill every one of them, but try to get the doctor alive. Perhaps with his help, both Aikin and Jaxtyn might be able to recover their mobility.

Even though his team was badly injured and couldn't continue in the mission, Liam wasn't scared.

He was going to go there alone.

A few days later, on Sea God Island.

The rare-earth mine would appear here reportedly. In the past few days, different forces travelled thousands of miles and landed here one after another.

The Sea God Island was located in a special place, but it was not a desolate island.

Many shipwreck survivors landed here and survived very well.

Many people had been stranded on the land in the past years. They gradually became superstitious, believing that an invisible god on the island saved them.

They called this god Sea God and as time went by, they eventually named the island after it.

There were only some aboriginals living on the island. Sure, they lived a primitive life, but they were virtually self-sufficient and as such, rarely had any contact whatsoever with the other parts of the world.

This was Liam's second day alone on the island.

He had spent his time investigating and trying to find the rare-earth mine on the island.

Liam was a very capable man, but being alone, he was slow in gathering information. The only thing he was certain of was that there was a rare-earth mine on the Sea God Island. However, he had no idea of its exact location.

He already knew there was a mine before coming, so it wasn't exactly a useful information. The signal from the rare-earth mine was very strong. Even the most backwards instrument could clearly detect the special energy wave coming from the mine.

So why couldn't he find it? The strong forces that came here also couldn't find it. Yet, there was a strong signal.

In a valley at the centre of the island.

After Rennes checked the ambushed troops and confirmed that there was no mistake, he sneered.

He was almost certain that the other major forces on the island were being fooled by the signal.

The signal was the smoke bomb of the Duncan family. With the help of the doctor's research, the Duncan family had been able to successfully amplify the signal of the rare-earth mine, so that other people would be attracted to it.

Chapter 682 Smoke Bomb

 +90 Points at most

But Rennes knew better. He had led elite troops to lie in ambush and quietly waited for his target.

 I want no ads >