

An Understated Dominance By Marina Vittori

Chapter 1931

After hearing Billy Ruso's words, Dustin had no reaction, but Kevin Snow suddenly became excited.

"Brother Dustin, why are you still standing there? Agree, this is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity!" Kevin Snow kept winking at Dustin.

Who is Billy Ruso?

That was the Desert Dragon, one of the five strongest men in the southwest, and a being of the same level as his master.

His strength has reached the level of a master.

Every year, countless warriors rush to become Billy Ruso's disciple.

However, Billy Ruso is arrogant and moody, and he doesn't look down on ordinary people at all, so he is still alone so far.

Unexpectedly, today, the aloof desert dragon would take the initiative to recruit disciples. It was really beyond expectation.

"I appreciate Senior Ruso's kindness, but I don't have any plans to become a disciple." Dustin shook his head and declined.

"Young man, I don't accept disciples easily, you have to think carefully." Billy Ruso raised his eyebrows slightly, quite surprised.

With his status, it can be said that he is overwhelmed by the number of people who have to be apprentices to him every day.

I didn't expect that the person in front of me would refuse directly.

"Brother Dustin! This opportunity cannot be missed, and it will never come back. As long as you accept Senior Ruso as your teacher, no matter whether it is the Flying Sect or the Stone Dragon Sect, they will not dare to do anything to you. Just agree!" Kevin Snow was a little anxious.

In his opinion, Dustin must not know Billy Ruso's reputation, so he chose to refuse.

Being able to become a martial arts master is a huge opportunity for the entire world.

After all, Billy Ruso has never had a disciple. As long as Dustin agrees, he will be a true disciple, and his future will be unlimited.

"Thank you, Senior Ruso, for your support, but I really have no intention of becoming a disciple." Dustin shook his head again.

"Brother Dustin! You are so... oh!" Kevin Snow was angry and anxious, stamping his feet on the spot, looking like he hated iron.

Now Dustin has offended the Flying Sect and Stone Dragon Sect. If he doesn't have a strong backer, his life will be in danger at any time.

If you become a disciple of Billy Ruso, not only will your safety be guaranteed, but your martial arts skills will also rise with the tide. It is a complete win-win situation.

He really didn't understand why Dustin was so stubborn. He had already reminded him clearly enough, right?

"Okay, if you don't want to become a disciple, I won't force you. It's not like I, Billy Ruso, can't find a successor. I can only say that the two of us don't have this fate." Billy Ruso said lightly.

He had already given Dustin two chances, but the other party didn't cherish them.

With his status, he couldn't ask others to accept him as a disciple.

"Let's not talk about the matter of recruiting disciples for now. Let's talk about the situation of the person inside."

Billy Ruso suddenly changed the subject and continued: "I believe you should be very clear that that person is now a hot potato, and all major forces They will all fight for it. With just the few of you, you probably won't be able to save that person. Of course, if you add me, the situation will be different." "

Senior Ruso wants to negotiate a deal with us?" Dustin quickly reacted.

"So be it."

Billy Ruso nodded noncommittally: "I can keep you safe and help you solve a lot of troubles, but the premise is that you have to share information with me."

"Share information?"

Dustin raised his eyebrows slightly, not saying He made a decision, but looked back at Margaret.

This time Margaret is leading the team, so naturally he cannot dominate the team.

"No problem."

Margaret said with a smile: "We are short of manpower. If we can have Senior Ruso join us, it will be even more powerful. Why not?"

Billy Ruso is also a martial arts master with considerable strength. , it can still come in handy at critical moments.

Of course, she values Billy Ruso's reputation more than his strength.

As one of the five most powerful people in the southwest, Desert Dragon's name is enough to intimidate all.

As long as Billy Ruso is by her side, she will have less trouble.

Therefore, she chose to form a temporary alliance.

"Wise choice."

Billy Ruso nodded with satisfaction and said, "When we enter the oasis and find the treasure, I will reward you based on your merits, and your benefits will be indispensable."

"Then we will thank Senior Ruso in advance." Margaret smiled slightly.

All she wanted was the energy of the dragon source, and she was not interested in other treasures at all, even if they were all given to Billy Ruso, it would be nothing.

an hour later.

In the bedroom, Alexis Walters woke up leisurely from the hospital bed.

After Dustin's treatment, Alexis Walters's spirit has returned to normal, and his mood is no longer as exciting as before.

"Alexis Walters, how are you? Are you feeling better?"

Margaret brought a glass of warm water and handed it to Alexis Walters.

"Thank you, I'm much better now."

Alexis Walters nodded, holding the warm water in his hands, and drank it in one gulp.

After walking in the desert for a day and a night, he was already tired and thirsty.

"Alexis Walters, although it is a bit inappropriate, we still have some questions to ask you."

Seeing that the mood of the person in front of her was stable, Margaret got to the point again: "What is in that oasis? What did you see again?"

Hearing this? At these words, Alexis Walters couldn't help but tremble slightly, and an uncontrollable fear appeared on his face.

Fortunately, He is not as scared as before and pretty stable.

"Monsters... There are many monsters in the oasis. Everyone who enters will be eaten by those monsters!" Alexis Walters's voice was trembling.

"Been eaten?"

Hearing this, many people in the room changed their expressions.

There were many innate experts who had ventured into the oasis before.

If even these people are dead, how powerful are the monsters inside?

"Tell me more carefully, what do those monsters look like? Where do they come from?" Dustin asked.

"There are all kinds of strange monsters, and there are so many of them that they are hard to guard against. As for where they come from, no one knows." Alexis Walters swallowed, looking a little scared.

"Besides monsters, is there anything else?" Kevin Snow asked coldly.

He came here to hunt for treasures for his master. He didn't care about the danger. As long as it was confirmed that there was treasure in the oasis, all the masters of the Golden Sword Sect would be dispatched.

"I know what you are going to ask. Like you, I went here to hunt for treasures."

Alexis Walters said very calmly: "To be honest, there are many treasures in the oasis, and each one is priceless. But the problem is, There are very powerful monsters hidden near these treasures. Once you get close, you will be dead!"
