

Chapter 217 The Expensive Ticket

"I don't think we should..."

Aldrin didn't want to go to the flower exhibition.

Although Trevor promised that everything was planned and that he was going to give him a surprise, the arrival of Cassie and Platt wasn't in their plan at all.

If something went wrong, his love life would be ruined before it even started.

Winking at Aldrin, Trevor said in advance, "Aldrin, I heard that this flower exhibition is very interesting. Let's go together."

In the end, Aldrin sighed and nodded his head in agreement.

Then, they drove to the flower exhibition.

As they couldn't fit in one car, Trevor and the other three got into the Mercedes-Benz while Platt and Cassie got into the Audi.

The whole time, Cassie was too surprised to speak.

She had always thought that Aldrin was bragging. However, if he could afford to drive Mercedes-Benz with top configurations, was he really a rich man?

Thinking about it, Cassie couldn't help but ask, "Platt, there are over ten thousand people in the university. So, it's normal that you haven't heard of Aldrin's name. I think he is really a rich man."

However, Platt's thoughts were totally different from hers.

When he first saw him riding the Mercedes-Benz, he was shocked.

However, he noticed something about Trevor and Rob who were following Aldrin.

Even though Aldrin was well-dressed, both Trevor and Rob were wearing cheap casual clothes and they didn't look like rich people at all!

Shaking his head in denial, Platt said in jealousy, "Did you see Aldrin's followers? If Aldrin makes friends with that kind of poor people, how could he be a rich man who could afford Mercedes-Benz? As far as I can remember, there is a rich man in Jork who is running a luxury car rental company. I think he rented that car!"

Hearing his words, Cassie convinced herself that he was right. After all, she didn't want her cousin to have a rich boyfriend and she didn't believe that her attraction to men would be inferior to her cousin's.

If she didn't have a rich boyfriend, how could her cousin have one?

About half an hour later, all of them arrived at the place of the flower exhibition.

Once they got out of the car, they were met with the fragrance of the flowers. All kinds of beautiful flowers were decorated in front of the hall. When they arrived the place, there was already a long line here.

Seeing the scene, Platt smacked his head as if he just remembered something and said annoyingly, "Oh, I forgot to tell you that the flower exhibition requires tickets. I even had to use a lot of effort to get three tickets. Each of it cost 888 dollars."

Shrugging his shoulder as if it was nothing, Platt said to Aldrin and the others with an innocent look on his face, "You have no knowledge about plants and flowers anyway. Why don't you guys just walk around outside and wait for me and the ladies?"

As he said, Platt proudly waved the green tickets in his hand, making sure everyone saw the price mark on it.

He thought his plan was successful because he could eliminate his love rival while visiting the flower exhibition.

At that time, Trevor, who was silent the whole time, suddenly smiled and said, "Wow, what a coincidence. I have several tickets too!"

While talking, he took out a few black gilded tickets from his bag.

Seeing it, Platt was speechless and he didn't know what to say.

However, when he saw the color of the tickets, he couldn't help but grin widely and said, "Why are your tickets different from mine? Your tickets are fake, aren't they? An ordinary student like you should have some self-awareness!"

Obviously Cassie believed Platt. Hearing his words, she looked at the different tickets in their hands and said, "He's right. Why isn't there any price mark on your ticket? It must be fake."

If Aldrin was the one who took out these tickets, she would have believed him.

However, it was Trevor who looked really poor.

Well, he was just handsome. If she hadn't come here with her cousin, she wouldn't even bother talking with him.

After saying that, Cassie grabbed Cleo's hand and said, "Cleo, let's just leave them and go."