Married At First Sight Chapter 2729-Liberty said, “No matter what, I want to meet his family.”

Kathryn said, “Both his parents are dead, and he has only one younger brother. When his younger brother comes, I will notify you to come over. Liberty, my family is in a mess right now. I will deal with the family affairs first and talk about it another day when I have time.”

Liberty hummed.

Kathryn hung up the phone.

“Let me go. I want to see Mom. I want to see Mom. Let me go!”

Shiloh woke up and was already nicely dressed, but her two sisters-in-law dragged her downstairs.

There was also a sister-in-law who brought her some clothes and followed her.

The three brothers did not dare to speak. They were still looking at Holden.

Holden’s face was as white as a piece of paper. He collapsed on the ground and did not have the strength to stand up. His sons helped him arrange his clothes, but he still felt that he was naked in front of them.

His mind was blank, and he didn’t even know how this happened.

Holden showed fear in his eyes as his three daughters-in-law dragged Shiloh away, but he was unable to speak.

His end would not be good!

He knew very well how cruel and cruel his wife was.

If he offended his wife, neither he nor his Janzen family would end well. Especially for him, life would be worse than death.

Matriarch Farrell might not kill him, but it would be easy to make his life worse than death.

“dad.”

Marco still felt sorry for Shiloh.

They had held Shiloh in their hands and cared for her since she was little.

Because they knew that Shiloh was the successor of the Farrell family, they ditted on Shiloh and maintained a good brother-sister relationship, hoping that when Shiloh came to power, they could get more benefits from it.

Who would have thought that Shiloh was not their biological sister but the servant’s daughter?

Their biological sister grew up in a servant’s house, and the servant treated her very badly.

Marco and the others all knew that they should treat their biological sister better, but they did not grow up together and did not develop feelings for their biological sister from an early age. They couldn’t have feelings for their biological sister, and naturally, they do not love their biological sister. The sister they loved most was Shiloh.

Now seeing Shiloh being dragged out, Marco wanted to save Shiloh, but he didn’t dare to speak.

Matriarch Farrell was in a rage, and Marco dared to intercede for Shiloh. Matriarch Farrell might even order him out of the house.

“Dad, what’s going on between you and Shiloh? Just talk; look at Shiloh being dragged out by them, Dad!” Marco asked Holden anxiously.

Together with his brother, Marco lifted Holden up from the ground and sat down on the single sofa.

The room was filled with the smell of alcohol.

When they came in just now, their father and Shiloh smelled of alcohol. How much alcohol had they drunk?

“Dad, did you and Shiloh drink a lot of wine?”

Marco saw that most of the bottle of wine he brought to his father had been drunk up, and he said to his father, “Dad, most of the bottle of wine I brought to you is strong alcohol. You will get drunk easily after drinking it. You and Shiloh drank it all!”

“I...”

Holden wanted to say something but couldn't.

He's not drunk.

Although most of the bottle of wine was strong alcohol, he and Shiloh both had good drinking abilities, but they couldn't get drunk even with more than half of the bottle of wine.

It was a half-bottle of wine. After drinking it, he felt very hot, which made him irritated. He couldn't help but confide to Shiloh, telling her about his wife's overbearing attitude. He was already in his seventies, but he still had needs. Yes, but the wife no longer fulfills her duties as a wife.

He didn't support her or divorce her. He just went out to eat fast food and was beaten by his wife in public. He didn't dare to go out.

Married at First Sight Chapter 2730-Everyone in Jensburg must be aware of his infidelity and his wife's abuse of him.

“Marco, help me go to see your mother.”

Holden felt sorry for Shiloh, but he also had to protect himself.

After regaining his consciousness, he remembered to admit his mistake to his wife and explain.

Marco, Noel, and Sage helped Holden up together and came out of the room.

“Wife.”

When Holden saw Matriarch Farrell sitting in the study with a livid face, he immediately broke away from the hold of his three sons, walked quickly to her, and knelt down with a bang. After kneeling down, he didn't say anything. He just kept slapping his mouth.

Matriarch Farrell looked at him coldly.

Marco and his brothers did not dare to speak for their father. They just stood aside and watched their father kneel on the ground without dignity, slapping himself incessantly.

Holden was very strong and slapped him one after another. Soon, both sides of his face were red and swollen. Even the corners of his mouth were bleeding.

Matriarch Farrell still looked at him coldly, and her eyes were so cold that Holden was frightened when he looked up.

He felt that he might be miserable this time.

He didn't know how much time passed, but Matriarch Farrell said coldly, "Stop!"

Holden was still slapping his face.

Marco stepped forward, took Holden's hand, and said, "Dad, Mom told you to stop."

Only then did Holden dare to stop.

Matriarch Farrell glanced at the four children and said, "Kathryn, Marco, you all go out and go downstairs. After you go out, without my consent, you are not allowed to come upstairs, and also, don't let anyone come upstairs."

"mom."

Kathryn looked at Matriarch Farrell worriedly.

Matriarch Farrell seemed to have aged twenty years. She said to her daughter, "Mom has never experienced any storms. Don't worry, mom will not be knocked down."

As for men, if she wants them, she can go out and keep young and strong men.

Holden would cheat on a young and beautiful girl; wouldn't she keep a young and strong, pretty girl?

Matriarch Farrell said, "Go downstairs with your brothers. If anything happens, you can deal with it. Mom may not be in the mood, and she won't be able to calm down and deal with it."

She just came back from Wiltspoon and caught Holden cheating on her. Although she was angry, the blow was not as severe as it was tonight.

What happened tonight was like an iron bell hitting her head hard. She felt like her world was broken.

"Mom, I asked those tribesmen to go back. Liberty, Mr. Queen, and others also left, but something happened to Liberty and the others on the way, and I have arranged for people to deal with it."

Matriarch Farrell hummed, "Sooner or later, this family will be in your hands. Mom is old and doesn't have the energy anymore. Whatever happens in the future, you can just take care of it. Go out and go downstairs with your brothers. It's too late."

After a moment of silence, Matriarch Farrell continued: "Try to hide it as much as possible. Don't let the scandal of the family be publicized!"

When she went upstairs, someone followed her. When she saw the abominable scene, she was so angry that she couldn't think clearly and didn't notice who was following her upstairs.

Her words also hinted to Kathryn that if those who knew the information could not keep their mouths shut, they would be silenced.

The dead keep secrets best.

After Matriarch Farrell took over the Farrell clan, she walked around Jensburg with great arrogance. Many people were hoping that something bad would happen to her. If what happened tonight spreads, she will become the laughing stock of the people in Jensburg, and others will say that she is retribution!

What retribution? She never believed in retribution!

She only believed that, with power, she could get everything she wanted!

It's okay to say that her thoughts were twisted; that's what she thought.

“Mom, I will try my best to do this well.” Kathryn did not argue with her mother at this time. She had her own ideas on how to do it and would not listen to her mother.
