

Chapter 520 Before The Interview

---

A smile tugged Trevor's mouth as he stared at Terrance's receding figure.

Going here was not a mistake. As a matter of fact, he had gained something.

Not only did he find a new suspect, but he also won a majestic horse without paying a penny.

Lenard, however, felt that something was not right, so he hid somewhere quickly.

Well, the joke was on him as Trevor did not care about him at all. Instead, he asked Luisa to ride the horse with him.

Sadly, their happy moment had to come to an end. After spending a couple of days on the island, it was now time for them to part.

Although they were reluctant to part with each other, they had no choice but to do so in order to complete Elwood's test.

This was a sacrifice they had to take so as to have a better tomorrow.

On the wharf, Trevor wrapped Luisa in his tight embrace for the last time.

Luisa would take the cruise ship back to Jork. Trevor, on the other hand, would take a private plane to Dreles, in which he would join the company owned by Toby's family and complete his training in accordance with his Grandpa.

"Trevor, I have to go now. Please always take care of yourself at Mr. Byrd's place."

Luisa buried her head in Trevor's shoulder and tried her best not to cry.

"I know. Take good care of yourself too. I won't be able to go back to Jork during the test. If anything happens, go to my sister. I let you two talk on the phone last night."

As Trevor spoke, he patted Luisa on the back reassuringly.

A whistle sounded at the cruise ship, signaling the passengers that it was the last call. Luisa had to board the cruise ship now, or else she would miss it.

Standing on the side of the ship, Luisa could only watch as she and Trevor became farther away from each other. She wiped her tears away and promised to herself that she would do her best to pass the test.

Trevor only turned around to leave when he could no longer see Luisa. At last, it was time for him to embark on his journey.

He could not just rely on Luisa and make her work hard on her own. He should also do the same.

Trevor got off the plane ten minutes before 10 a.m. He planned on using the rest of the day to prepare everything.

Trevor's admission to Bella University, which was one of the top universities in the world, had already been arranged by Elwood.

After registering at the said university, Trevor decided to rent an apartment outside the premises in order to balance his work and study.

With his wealth, it should be easy for him to buy a villa in Dreles.

But if he did buy one, the essence of the training would be lost.

Thanks to the agency, Trevor managed to find a satisfactory apartment.

It was a high-end apartment building with only two units facing each other on each floor.

With his luggage in tow, Trevor eyed the unit opposite his.

The door was locked, and there were several garbage bags by the door. It looked like the owner had not taken out the trash for a long time.

Could it be that the owner was an otaku who could not be bothered to go out?

Trevor glanced at the trash and shook his head.

To his surprise, the door of the unit opposite his slowly opened.

The first thing Trevor saw was a pair of long and beautiful legs in cute slippers.

Trevor felt a little embarrassed for making groundless speculations. It turned out that the person who was living opposite his unit was a beauty.

He slowly raised his head and was even more shocked.

The lady in front of him was Vida. The two of them had just gone through a difficult time.

Vida rubbed her sleepy eyes and asked, "What are you doing here?"

It was only then that Trevor came to his senses. He hurriedly cleared his throat and answered, "Uh, well, my family asked me to come here to... study, so I rented an apartment here. I didn't expect that you live here too."

He and Vida chatted for a while until it was time for him to go to the company.

Truth be told, Trevor had an indescribable feeling when he saw Vida suddenly appear.

In his eyes, she was mysterious, even when they were together on the uninhabited island.

Anyway, now was not the time to dwell on the past. He had to go to Toby's company for the interview now.

Toby and Elwood were good friends. In all honesty, Trevor could get a middle-level position if he wanted.

However, he believed that he would gain the most experience if he started from the bottom.

He rode a taxi all the way to the company of the Byrd family. When he arrived there, he filled in the registration form for the applicants and waited for the interviewer to call him.

In the waiting area, Trevor saw other interviewees surrounding a rich young man.

Upon listening to their conversation, he found out that the man was Noel Byrd, a member of the Byrd family and that his father was in charge of an important department in the company.

Trevor was unimpressed as he knew for sure that he completely outdid the young man.

But he could not reveal his identity now. If he did, coming here for training would be futile.

Noel, however, was not happy to see Trevor's indifference.

The applicants were fawning over him. He must say, Trevor's behavior slightly bruised his ego.

Annoyed, Noel pushed the applicants out of his way and walked up to Trevor.

"Hey you, what's your name?" he asked while looking down at Trevor.

The latter lifted his gaze and curtly answered, "Trevor."

Trevor's cold attitude infuriated Noel more.

"Didn't you hear who I am? Call me Mr. Byrd. Now."

"Are you crazy?" Trevor scoffed. Not wanting to talk to Noel anymore, he stood up and sat on a seat farther from him.

Livid, Noel's face turned as white as a sheet.

"Who the fuck do you think you are? Just you wait. Let's see how you can pass the interview today!"
