

Chapter 844 Caught On Camera

Trevor ignored Tatiana's questioning. He had no plans of wasting his time arguing with her. Instead, he continued to stare at the screen quietly. All he needed to do was prove everything with facts.

If the underwear thief was as bold as he guessed, he could catch that person today.

At this moment, a furtive figure in a black hood appeared at the door of the women's locker room.

Judging from the figure's tall height, one could say that he was a man.

He impatiently rubbed his hands and slipped into the locker room.

He looked around and found that the room was empty, and the cabinets were all wide open. No one was using it at the moment.

The theft that happened yesterday caused panic among the female players, so only a few

Trevor ignored Tatiana's questioning. He had no plans of wasting his time arguing with her. Instead, he continued to stare at the screen quietly. All he needed to do was prove everything with facts.

If the underwear thief was as bold as he guessed, he could catch that person today.

At this moment, a furtive figure in a black hood appeared at the door of the women's locker room.

Judging from the figure's tall height, one could say that he was a man.

He impatiently rubbed his hands and slipped into the locker room.

He looked around and found that the room was empty, and the cabinets were all wide open. No one was using it at the moment.

The theft that happened yesterday caused panic among the female players, so only a few came to play tennis today.

The man sighed with disappointment, looking at the scene. But soon, he became energetic again.

He knew that there was still a stunning beauty who would put her clothes in the locker room today.

Thinking of the image of a beautiful woman in underwear, he became excited like a hungry wolf.

He looked around the locker room until he found the only cabinet that was locked.

"Gotcha!" he muttered to himself excitedly.

Then he took out a thin iron wire from his trouser pocket.

He bent the thin iron wire, skillfully shoved it into the keyhole, and slowly fiddled with it.

With a crisp click sound, the small lock opened.

"Effortless! Baby, here I come."

The man laughed and couldn't wait to reach out to remove the lock and open the cabinet door.

But when he opened it, he was shocked.

There was no sexy underwear in the cabinet at all. Instead, he saw a camera quietly placed in the middle with the lens aimed at his face.

"Damn it!"

The man's eyes widened in horror. The lust in his heart was dispelled in an instant.

His heart pounded so hard that he felt like it was about to jump out of his chest. His limbs trembled, and his scalp tingled.

The man immediately realized that he had fallen into a trap. He turned around and fled in a panic.

On the other hand, Trevor didn't expect that the man would be so cautious that he wore a hood to cover his face. However, he saw the man's clothes clearly.

Of course, that camera was arranged by Trevor and Cecelia to capture evidence of the theft and identify the thief.

"We caught the thief, didn't we?" Trevor looked at Tatiana and smiled. "Look at his clothes and figure. Don't you think he looks familiar? That freak thief seems to be the man you like, Luke."

Tatiana was so embarrassed that her face flushed.

She didn't expect that Trevor would actually capture the underwear thief through his mobile phone.

At the thought that she had just mocked Trevor, Tatiana felt utterly ashamed and trembled all over.

But when she heard Trevor say that the thief might be Luke, she couldn't accept it. She retorted angrily, "How can you be so sure it's him? The thief's face was hidden in the hood he was wearing. Even if his clothes are similar to Luke's, it's not enough to conclude that he is Luke. Of course, the police won't believe it either. I think you are just slinging mud at Luke because you hold a grudge against him. You had an argument with Luke yesterday, and you want to take revenge on him. You're so petty!"

Tatiana believed that what she said was reasonable. She put her hands on her hips and mocked, "You know what? You are so stupid. You chose to watch the surveillance video from afar. And in the end, you just watched the thief escape. Why didn't you go there to catch him? Your effort was in vain. What a waste! You even want to slander Luke. If Luke were here, he would have

Chapter 844 Caught On Cam

 +90 Points at most caught the thief. You could only watch the thief run away."

 I want no ads >