

Chapter 845 Luke Was Arrested

Trevor sneered and looked at Tatiana, whose face was full of complacency.

"You refuse to believe it, huh? Come with me. Maybe then you will accept the truth."

After saying this, Trevor put away his phone and strode toward the entrance of the tennis court. But he noticed that Tatiana didn't follow him, so he turned around. Seeing that she was still standing there, he urged, "Let's go! We'll see if the thief is Luke or not."

Tatiana was still confident that it wasn't Luke, so she said while walking, "Are you that brainless? The thief must have run away long ago. You won't catch anyone if you go there now. You're still delusional to prove that the thief is Luke? You must be dreaming. Why don't you wake yourself up?"

Cecelia didn't know Trevor's arrangements, but she believed he wouldn't do anything he was not sure of.

Moreover, Tatiana was really arrogant and annoying. So she said coldly, "Shut up! If you want to know who the thief is, just follow us quietly."

Tatiana was taken aback by Cecelia's imposing aura.

She was also curious about whether Trevor could catch the thief or not, so she mumbled a few words and followed him and Cecelia.

The thief had actually run to the parking lot. And now, he was in the driver's seat of a car. He was panting heavily, looking like a drowned rat.

"Fuck! Fuck! Fuck!"

The thief was so furious that he pulled off the black hood, revealing a resolute face. Indeed, he was none other than Luke.

He was full of panic and anger. He slammed the steering wheel angrily, and his eyes were bloodshot.

"Damn that bitch! She set me up."

At the thought of the phone call he had with Cecelia yesterday, Luke was more furious. He couldn't believe that he had fallen into such a simple trap, and this trap was set up by the beautiful Cecelia.

Luke started the car and drove to the exit of the parking lot, trembling.

At this time, the police siren sounded outside the parking lot.

"No, no, no! Calm down!" Luke took a deep breath and comforted himself. He clenched the steering wheel tightly with his sweaty palms. "I was wearing a hood just now, and my face wasn't captured by the camera. I'm sure the police won't suspect me. Now, I just need to drive the car out of the parking lot as if nothing happened. Everything must be fine."

He drove his car slowly out of the parking lot.

However, when Luke saw the scene outside the parking lot, he was stunned.

Many police cars surrounded the entrance of the parking lot.

They blocked the way that even a bicycle couldn't go out, let alone a car.

The red and blue lights illuminated Luke's face, and the harsh siren resounded through the tennis court.

A group of fully armed policemen was on full alert.

There was even a police helicopter hovering in the sky.

Luke looked up and almost cried out when he saw the helicopter. He held his head in despair.

"Damn! Why are there so many policemen here? I just have a quirk. I'm not a thief. Is it necessary to send a helicopter out? What am I going to do now?"

Obviously, he couldn't escape even if he had wings.

At this time, Trevor had already walked over to him with Cecelia and Tatiana.

Elijah, who had been waiting there, quickly took off his sunglasses and ran over to greet Trevor. "Mr. Sanderson, we have caught the target. He's here."

After saying this, he waved his hand and asked the policemen to take Luke to Trevor.

Upon seeing this, Trevor smiled with satisfaction.

Earlier, he only asked Elijah to keep an eye on the locker room. He didn't expect that Elijah would arrange such a big scene to please him.

"You? Why are you here? What are you doing here?" Luke shouted in disbelief when he saw Trevor. His eyes opened wide in shock.

He struggled hard, but his arms and shoulders were firmly controlled by two policemen. He couldn't even move.

Trevor already expected Luke's reaction, and he just smiled calmly. He turned to Tatiana and said, "Go see if he's the man you're interested in."

Tatiana didn't need to get closer. She saw that the man in handcuffs was Luke.

"How can it be? No way! This is unbelievable!" Tatiana screamed, looking at Luke's desperate face.

At this moment, a policeman came over, holding a black hood. "We found this in his car."

In an instant, Tatiana's beautiful fantasy about Luke shattered. The facts were in front of her, and she had to believe them.

Her face flushed with anger and embarrassment. She couldn't say a word.

Just now, she said that Trevor was unable to catch the thief. But he did it.

She swore that Luke could never be the thief.

But it turned out that Trevor was right.

Tatiana was so ashamed that she wished she could dig a hole and hide. She wished she could pretend that nothing had happened.
