

Chapter 846 Top Picks

Trevor finally brought Luke to justice.

The nerve-racking theft in the women's locker room came to a satisfactory result.

Soon, the university's tennis mixed doubles competition officially kicked off.

Because of their previous training, Trevor and Cecelia easily won the first round and got promoted.

"You played well," Trevor commented with a smile, praising Cecelia.

Cecelia wiped the sweat off her forehead, feeling embarrassed. She said, "At first, I was a little out of my element. Fortunately, you were so reliable that you helped me adapt to the environment slowly."

Trevor and Cecelia left the competition field through the players' passageway, talking and laughing.

At this time, the players of the next round were entering the stadium.

Trevor and Cecelia left the competition field through the players' passageway, talking and laughing.

At this time, the players of the next round were entering the stadium.

They were surrounded by many reporters, trying to get an opportunity to interview them.

"Tatiana, can you tell me your goal for this year's National University Games?"

"Reynolds, you have won the championship in many previous competitions. Do you have the confidence to still win this time?"

"What can you say about your opponents?"

Trevor and Cecelia couldn't help but stop and watch.

When Trevor heard Tatiana's name, he remembered something.

He asked Cecelia, "Is she the woman obsessed with the perverted thief, Luke?"

"Yes, that's her," Cecelia replied. Her eyebrows raised in surprise.

At this moment, Tatiana was surrounded by reporters. And next to her was a tall, tanned man.

Trevor whispered, "I saw her on the tennis court two days ago. It turns out that she is also a competitor."

Trevor and Cecelia fixed their eyes on Tatiana.

While Tatiana was responding to the reporters' interview, she also caught a glimpse of Trevor and Cecelia.

As soon as she saw Trevor, she immediately remembered the humiliating scene at the tennis court yesterday. The thought of revenge instantly filled her mind.

However, she was surrounded by many reporters. It was inconvenient for her to speak ill of Trevor.

So she turned to her partner beside her and said, "Reynolds, do you see those two players over there? They are our competitors. I met them two days ago, and they were very arrogant."

Reynolds was not only Tatiana's partner but also her suitor.

When he heard her words, he immediately understood what she meant.

He was tall and strong, so he effortlessly pushed the reporters away and strode towards Trevor and Cecelia.

"Hey, I heard that you two are very arrogant. I hope you can continue to be arrogant in the following competitions," he said gruffly.

Trevor looked at Reynolds and then at Tatiana standing behind Reynolds with a smug smile. He immediately understood her malice.

The reporters were excited when they heard that the most popular players took the initiative to create conflicts.

Of course, they liked conflicts and eye-catching news the most.

"Reynolds, have you ever had conflicts with these two players?"

"Reynolds, do you have the confidence to beat them on the court?"

Then one reporter turned to Trevor and Cecelia and asked, "Do you two dare to accept the challenge from these top picks?"

The reporters asked various questions, making them difficult to answer.

However, Tatiana and Reynolds showed a confident look.

"Of course, you can rest assured that we will win the championship. These players standing in front of us are just nobodies. They're not even worth mentioning. I hope they have the chance to play against us. I'm afraid they can't even get into the quarter-finals."

Before Trevor could say anything, Cecelia couldn't stand her anger anymore. She snorted. "Really? Let's wait and see then."

After saying this, she and Trevor brushed past Tatiana and Reynolds, who were laughing aloud as if they had heard a big joke.

"Trevor, I'm so angry right now!" Cecelia said with a frown. They were already far from the group of reporters. "Well, I don't care even if they are the top picks. I want to defeat them. So we need more training."

Trevor just shrugged.

He knew how strong Cecelia's personality was.

Since she wanted to take the competition seriously, as her partner, who was he to refuse?

Besides, just looking at their arrogant faces upset him.

Trevor and Cecelia gave each other an exuberant high five.

"We must let them know the price of being arrogant," Trevor said confidently.
