

Chapter 896 Tension In The Cafe

Zeke and Flint turned pale. Their bodies trembled involuntarily at the thought of them getting beaten up.

Clifton's men flooded outside the cafe, and they all looked hostile.

Zeke put on a brave face despite the fear and told Clifton off.

"You... Don't you know the Wright family is the owner of Honeymoon Cafe? You better stop messing around right now if you don't want to get in trouble!"

Clifton sneered. "I know the Wright family owns this place. That's why my men are staying outside the cafe. You won't be able to stay here and hide forever, will you?"

Fright covered Flint's face, but he shot back sternly, "Fuck off! I'm warning you. Cecelia Wright is on the second floor. If you make trouble here, you'll suffer a great deal!"

Trevor raised an eyebrow and smirked.

sternly, "Fuck off! I'm warning you. Cecelia Wright is on the second floor. If you make trouble here, you'll suffer a great deal!"

Trevor raised an eyebrow and smirked.

What a coincidence that Cecelia was there!

He and Cecelia knew each other pretty well.

"What is going on? What is this noise all about?"

At that moment, Cecelia appeared on the first floor wearing a disgruntled face.

She came to the cafe to read books and enjoy a quiet afternoon, but the noise downstairs was ruining the moment.

Annoyed, she came down to see what was happening and saw a group of hostile-looking men surrounding the cafe.

She was going to find out who was making a fuss in the Wright family's place.

When she saw Trevor, Cecelia's face lit up.

Hearing Cecelia's voice, Zeke and Flint turned around and immediately felt relieved. Help was finally here!

"Miss Wright, these two are causing trouble here. They even called those thugs to surround the cafe."

However, their words were cut off by Trevor before they could even finish voicing their complaints.

With a smile, Trevor greeted Cecelia. "Good afternoon, Cecelia."

Flint and Zeke froze, their hearts hammering against their chests in fright and disbelief.

How could this guy know Cecelia?

Cecelia looked around at the commotion.

"Can you tell me what happened here, Trevor?"

"These two started it. They provoked and threatened us using the name of the Wright family," Trevor explained.

Zeke and Flint looked terrified and waved their hands. "No. Please don't misunderstand, Miss Wright. Let us explain."

Cecelia knew Trevor wasn't the type to cause trouble. Turning to Zeke and Flint, she said coldly, "You can leave now. You're not welcome in Honeymoon Cafe anymore. From now on, you're banned from entering any of our family's properties."

Zeke and Flint felt their souls leave their bodies as their knees trembled at Cecelia's words.

They couldn't go home like this. Their father would beat them up if he knew they had offended Cecelia.

Looking at the men guarding the door, Zeke and Flint broke into a cold sweat.

They hurriedly begged Cecelia to forgive them.

"Miss Wright, please! Don't drive us away like this! Those men will kill us!"

"Miss Wright, please spare me! I didn't instigate any of this! It's all Zeke's fault! You should be the only one to receive punishment. Please!"

Flint ignored Zeke's glare and continued to plead. With tears streaming down his face, he knelt in front of Trevor and Clifton.

"I'm sorry! Please forgive me. I promise I won't do it again!"

Clifton burst into a menacing laugh. He grabbed Zeke and Flint by their collars and dragged them to the door.

"Now you're admitting that it's your fault? It's too late now!"

These two tried to hit on Trevor's girlfriend.

Clifton would not hesitate to teach these two a lesson!

As soon as he tossed Zeke and Flint outside, his men got all excited to get their hands on them.

Dragging the two to the street corner, Clifton's men wasted no time and beat them up.

Only their faint cries and whimpers could be heard from a distance.
