

Chapter 957

Misunderstanding Deepened

---

Zakai was satisfied with himself. He didn't know that this was the result of Trevor's plan.

He also didn't see that he had made an enemy of Cyril when he slapped him.

"Good job! I'll give you bonus later!" Zakai said with a laugh, as he patted Trevor on the shoulder.

Zakai was just from the branch of the Sanderson family. His father, Dooley, wasn't an important person in the family, so Zakai himself wasn't regarded as an important person, either. He wasn't even invited to the last family gathering of the Sanderson family.

He wasn't respected by the others because of his identity.

But today, Trevor's behavior seemed to make up for it all.

Zakai gave Trevor a warm look. With a smug smile on his face, he said, "Dragon, drive me. Let's go to Hantinn Restaurant and claim my prize."

His head raised high, he stalked off.

Cyril, who was standing behind them, only looked on in hate.

When Trevor and Zakai arrived at Hantinn Restaurant, he discovered that Cyril and Zakai had fought over a lady.

"The girl is having her meal here today. I'll use that opportunity to get her." Zakai covertly brought out a small bag filled with white powder. "I need you to be smart. Put this powder into the girl's glass without her knowing. Do you understand?"

Zakai seemed to trust Trevor to be his confidant.

Trevor nodded, but he was in fact disgusted.

The small bag filled with white powder was definitely not something good.

He would find a way to destroy it when he got the chance.

As these thoughts played over in Trevor's mind, Zakai led him to a small box.

Rubbing his hands together excitedly, Zakai went straight in.

"Ah! Zakai! It's you again! Please leave. Don't disturb me!"

A female voice shrieked from the box. Trevor frowned; the voice was familiar.

However, Zakai, caring nothing for her protests, walked into the box and said, "How can you say that? I came here for you."

Peeking through the gap at the door, Trevor saw the occupant of the room. His eyes widened in shock.

It was Sally!

It turned out that the girl Zakai wanted to get was Sally.

"How did you know I was eating here?" Sally asked, as she stared at Zakai fearfully.

She turned around and saw Trevor standing behind Zakai. Her expression became one of disgust.

She believed Trevor to not be a good person since he was in the company of Zakai. The two of them were just the same kind of bad person.

She had thought Trevor was a good person back then on the train. It seemed she was wrong.

Seeing the disgust in Sally's eyes, Trevor felt helpless.

He knew Sally must be having some negative thoughts about him because she misunderstood the situation. However, there was no way to clear things up presently.

Zakai grinned cheekily and spread out his hands.

"It's all arranged by fate. This is my bodyguard. You need not worry."

Sally glared at Trevor on hearing this. Turning to face Zakai, she said coldly, "You are not welcome here. Please leave."
