

The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky

Chapter 1922

Chapter 1922

In a luxurious mansion not far from the Hughes Mansion.

Gordon purchased a mansion in this area a few years ago for his convenience.

He was only an in-law and not a direct descendent of the Hughes, and though he stayed in the Hughes Mansion with his wife, his actions were retrained in certain ways, so he bought the mansion for him to entertain his friends without the supervision of the Hughes.

Just then, he drove his car into the yard and opened the door, before dragging Snow out of the car.

He did not whisper a word to Darius or Hughes that he was working with Seth and Joel to kidnap Snow.

Since Darius and Yuri were close, and the Hughes Group was currently partnering with the Elegante Group, it was not an option for him to take Snow to the Hughes Mansion.

Hence, he brought her to his private mansion instead to prevent Darius from noticing what happened.

Meanwhile, in a room inside a mansion.

Gordon brought Snow into a bedroom and locked the door behind him, before letting her go.

"Gordon, why did you go through all that trouble to bring me here?" Snow roared and backed away toward the wall warily.

"Snow, don't get all tense! I'm your ex-boyfriend and I would never hurt you, " Gordon drawled.

"Lies! Why would you kidnap me, then?' Snow sneered.

"You've misunderstood me! Joel was dead-set on targeting you and Iris. If I didn't propose to capture you myself, you'd suffer a horrible fate at the hands of Joel and Seth! I did this to protect you/ Gordon sighed dramatically.

"What?! A- Are you telling the truth?' Snow was shocked and could not tell if Gordon was lying.

"Of course! I swear! Gordon said sincerely.

He was indeed being partially truthful as part of the reason he captured Snow was to prevent Seth and Joel from having their ways with her.

"Oh," the tension in Snow's expression eased, "Fine. If what you said is true, Joel and Seth are gone now, so you should be able to let me go, right?' She asked.

She was no fool and would not simply believe Gordon based on his words alone unless he was willing to let her go immediately.
