

The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky

Chapter 1925

Chapter 1925

"Gordon, what are you talking about? Are you going to break your promise?" Snow paled as she realized that she placed far too much trust in Gordon.

"I'm not trying to break my promise! Snow, you should know that I truly love you. I can't survive without you!" Gordon argued as he stepped toward Snow.

"W- What do you want?" Snow's expression darkened and she backed away as an ominous feeling took over her.

"It's simple. I'll never let you leave me to be with Leon! I'm going to make you mine today, one way or another!" He sneered and narrowed his eyes viciously.

Since his words were not sufficient to change Snow's mind, he decided to take her by force.

He knew that Snow was a conservative woman who valued her chastity.

If he could deflower Snow, he might be able to persuade her into getting back together with him, making it much easier to obtain the secret recipes of purified water and alchemical pills from Snow.

"What?! You! You wouldn't dare! I'm warning you, Gordon, don't come any closer, or I won't show you any mercy!" Snow gaped and instantly stood on guard.

"Is that so? Let's see how you are going to do that! Snow, save yourself the trouble and come here!" Gordon sneered arrogantly.

He knew that Snow's power was sealed and that she was at his mercy, so he did not care about her threats.

Without further hesitation, he darted toward Snow to grab her.

"You asked for this!" Snow gritted out and pulled out the Potential Energy Force Leon gave her, before slashing it across in Gordon's direction.

"What? H- How's this possible?" Gordon gaped in disbelief when he sensed the sheer power in Snow's hands.

Never in his imagination did he believe that Snow would be capable of making such a powerful attack despite having her power sealed.

Not daring to take it lightly, he backed away from the attack, but was far too slow to completely get out of the range of the attack and was instantly sent flying toward the wall behind him.

"Baam!"

As soon as he landed, he spewed blood from his mouth and suffered a certain degree of internal injuries from the attack.

Leon's Potential Energy Forces were only in the Advanced Overlord State, and Gordon long reached the Intermediate Overlord State with only a step away from reaching the Advanced Overlord State. On top of that, he managed to dodge in time so the Potential Energy Force barely scratched him.
