

The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky

Chapter 1932

Chapter 1932

"Snow, I didn't expect the poison to be so strong. I didn't do it on purpose! It's not the time to talk about that! The needle is yours. Hurry up and take out the antidote and save Darius!" Gordon quickly changed the topic.

"I don't have the antidote! The Deadly Veratrum Poison on the needle is something very special. It has no cure!" Snow said coldly.

"What? Then what do we do?*" Gordon acted like he was in shock when he heard that.

We acted like he was very concerned about Darius's safety, but there was a glint of glee in his eyes!

After Darius hurt him the last two times, and even took away his control over the distribution, he already started to hate Darius!

Other than that, the first line of descendants of the Hughes only had Darius and Gordon's wife. If Darius died, then he would gain a lot of power within the family!

He might even be able to topple the second line of direct descendants and become the heir of the Hughes!

Even if he did not get the right to inherit the family, he would be able to use the influence of the Hughes to easily revitalize the Baileys and accomplish his wish!

Just thinking about that, he started to feel incredibly excited. He lost all guilt of harming Darius!

However, before he could even feel happy about it, Snow's next words caused his heart to freeze!

"Miss Poole, is there no cure for the poison in my body?*" Darius said hopelessly.

"That's not exactly the case! Mister Hughes, don't worry. Leon is an incredibly skilled doctor. He can cure the Deadly Veratrum Poison! Quickly give him a call and ask him to come over! As long as he's here, he'll be able to help you!" Snow consoled.

She knew that Leon was inflicted with the Deadly Veratrum Poison before, and he managed to escape death with his amazing medical skills!

With Leon's skills, it would not be difficult to cure Darius!

"That's great! I'll give Mister Wolf a call right now!" Darius was elated.

After the matter with Elegante, much of the rich elite in the Southern region already heard of Leon's medical skills!

He was no exception!

Right after that, he completely forgot about Gordon as he hurriedly took out his phone and prepared to give Leon a call!

"That-"

Gordon looked like he just had cold water poured all over him at that moment!

He hoped that Darius would be killed by the poison. After that, he would be able to assume more responsibilities in the family!

Yet, he never expected Leon to be able to cure the poison!

That sliver of hope in his heart disappeared just like that!

That was not all, he used the needle to attack Darius this time. The moment Darius was cured, Darius would not spare him!

He would not be able to bear the consequences!

"Darius, you asked for this! Don't blame me for this!"

Taking advantage of Darius trying to call Leon, Gordon did not hold back. He suddenly struck out with immense force at Darius's vital point!
