

The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky

Chapter 1965

Chapter 1965

"Elder Hughes, Darius is still alive," Yuri hurriedly said.

"What?" Alan was completely shocked to hear that. He immediately stopped in his tracks.

"Yuri, Darius isn't that? A-are you certain?" Alan was incredibly emotional when he heard that. He could not believe his ears!

"Yes, it's true! Darius was already saved by Mister Wolf just now. The poison in his body has also been cured," Yuri said with a nod.

"No, that's impossible!" Gordon looked like he was struck by lightning when he heard that!

When they were at the villa, both he and Dawn already checked and found that Darius was already not breathing anymore and that he did not have a pulse. He should already be dead!

Yet, Leon managed to cure Darius's poison and revived Darius!

It was a complete miracle!

It was obvious how shocked he was!

Not only that, Darius was poisoned by him. If Darius was saved by Leon, then nothing good would be waiting for him!

With that in mind, he could not help but panic. His heart suddenly froze over!

However, when he saw that Darius was not with Yuri and Leon, he seemed to understand something. His panicked expression quickly calmed down.

"Grandfather, don't listen to Yuri's nonsense! Darius is already dead. How could he come back from death?! On top of that, if Darius was saved, then why isn't he here? I think that Yuri must be trying to trick you to help Leon over it! They're just trying to confuse you. Don't fall for it!" Gordon said in a hurry.

"That's right! Grandfather, I checked on Darius before, he was already dead! I saw this for myself, there's no way it's fake!" Dawn agreed angrily, looking at Leon with hatred.

Seeing was believing!

She was there and personally saw that Darius was no longer breathing, and did not have a pulse. No matter what Yuri said, there was no way she would believe Yuri or Leon!

"That-"

Alan looked like a bucket of cold water was poured over him. He calmed down from his excited state.

Both sides were saying completely different things, and he did not know who to believe.

Of course, Dawn was his granddaughter, so he believed Dawn more.

However, he wanted what Yuri said to be true, and wanted Darius to be alive!

So, he was in no hurry to make a judgment!

"Yuri, since you said that Darius is alive, where is he? Why isn't he here?" Alan asked seriously.

"That-"

"Darius was heavily poisoned this time. His energy was greatly damaged, so he is still unconscious. However, Mister Wolf already said that he's probably going to wake up soon," Yuri explained simply.

"He hasn't woken up? Please, I knew you were trying to confuse my grandfather!" Gordon said with a sneer, finally relaxing.

"Yuri, it looks like you are full of lies! How dare you?!" Alan was furious.

If Darius was still not awake, then who would know if Leon did save Darius?!

He was not a child. There was no way he would believe that Darius was already back from the dead just from a few words from Darius!

On top of that, Gordon was there to steer his thoughts. He was already sure that Yuri was just trying to stall for reinforcements!
