

The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky

Chapter 1993

Chapter 1993

"It's fine. He's a member of your family, after all. You should decide what to do with him," Leon said thoughtfully.

Not only had Gordon kidnapped Snow, but he also plotted to frame Leon and Snow for the murder of Darius. Leon resented him for it.

Nevertheless, Gordon was still a member of the Hughes, and it would be inappropriate for Leon to punish Gordon in front of them, so he decided to hand Gordon over to the Hughes instead.

Since Gordon came close to killing Darius, there was no doubt in Leon's mind that the Hughes would not spare Gordon.

"Well... Alright, then. Mister Wolf, if that's everything, we'll be taking our leave now.' Alan did not reject Leon's offer and left with the Hughes, along with Gordon in their custody.

With that, the chaos came to an end.

Leon did not know what the Hughes did to Gordon, but he did not see Gordon again in the southern region after that. One could only imagine the horrible fate Gordon must have suffered.

After Alan and the Hughes had left, Angus and Yuri bid their farewell to Leon as well, while Leon thanked them for coming to his aid.

After that, Angus led the Thompsons back to the Thompsons Mansion.

With that, Leon, Iris, and the Scammells were the only ones left in the spacious yard.

"Uncle, I recall that you mentioned a three-hundred-year-old Ganoderma being stored in the Scammells' warehouse, right?" Leon asked when he recalled the mission he received from Alfred.

He needed a 500-year-old Ganoderma to save Darius earlier, but the Scammells only had a 300-year-old one in stock. In the end, it was Angus who delivered an 800-year-old Ganoderma to save Darius from the poison. Hence, the 300-year-old Ganoderma in the Scammells' warehouse remained untouched.

"Yeah. Why do you ask? Do you still need it?" Damian asked in confusion.

He knew that Leon was searching for a Ganoderma to save Darius. Since Darius has recovered, Damian could not understand why Leon would need another Ganoderma.

"Yes! I need a three-hundred-year-old Ganoderma to produce the Essential Detox Pills! I'll need a few other ingredients as well, so please help to prepare them too! I'll need them by tomorrow afternoon," Leon explained before listing out the ingredients he needed for Damian.

The Ganoderma was the main ingredient for the Essential Detox Pills. The older it was, the better the pill would be in dissolving poison.

In order to defeat Poisonwielder, Leon needed to produce the Essential Detox Pills as soon as possible. That was where the 300-year-old Ganoderma in the Scammells' warehouse would be used.

"Sure. I'll get the ingredients ready as soon as possible!" Damian nodded and noted down all the ingredients Leon needed.

"Leon, it's getting late, and you're in a weakened state right now. Let's head home to rest," Iris said after all the important matters had been discussed.

With that, Iris and Snow helped send Leon home.
