

The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky

Chapter 2442

Chapter 2442

Suddenly, Leon was reminded of something and handed the Cuff of Doom to Iris. "Iris, this is an Almighty Weapon that wields power in the Intermediate Almighty State! Keep this to protect yourself."

Ever since he reached the Intermediate Almighty State, he did not use the Cuff of Doom again. Still, it was a valuable treasure that should not go to waste, so he would continue to offer his energy to it.

After accumulating his energy for a while, he stored three attacks in the Cuff of Doom in the Intermediate Almighty State.

Since he was heading to the western region by himself, he left the Cuff of Doom with Iris to ensure their safety.

The women's overall power was formidable, especially for Ruth, who reached the Intermediate Almighty State. That made her one of the best martial artists in the younger generation.

With the protection of the Cuff of Doom and the martial artists from the Thompsons, no one would dare to harm them.

This was the only way that he could leave feeling assured.

"It's fine. You might run into the Southern Boss or other kinds of danger on your trip, so you should keep this for yourself. The more weapons you have, the safer you'll be. It's far more useful for you to keep it." Iris shook her head.

"It's fine. You know my power level, so Almighty weapons don't mean much to me at this point, so there's no point for me to keep it. You and the others need this to protect yourself, though. That way, I'll feel more assured." Leon smiled.

Since he reached the Advanced Almighty State, the Cuff of Doom had no use for him. He simply didn't hand it to Iris in the past because she was too weak to make sacrifices.

Now that he accumulated three attacks in the Cuff of Doom, he would have handed it to Iris even if he was not traveling out of the southern region.

"Well, I guess you're right." Iris froze and recalled that Leon reached the Intermediate Almighty State at the very least, making him formidable even without considering the Potential Energy Forces he possessed.

With that thought in mind, she did not refuse his proposal and put the Cuff of Doom on her wrist.

Once she put it on, Leon took out his phone to call Angus to inform him about his trip, asking for his help to take care of Iris and the others.

Angus agreed readily and Leon was relieved that everything was settled.

The next morning, Leon bid his farewell with his confidantes after breakfast and drove toward the western region as they watched.

The Morrisons were the heads of all families in the western region, making them the equals of the Thompsons.

Before reaching the western region, Leon fulfilled his promise and called Hugo to inform him about his arrival.
