Chapter 1784 Offered Too Much

Everyone breathed a sigh of relief. They could see from the huge capital of $200 million that their efforts were not in vain.

This elation washed away their worries about the future.

With their current strength, getting $200 million was already a huge success compared to their peers.

What else could they not be satisfied about?

Luke's girlfriend smiled. "Since it's good news, why don't we celebrate together with dinner?"

Everyone immediately agreed and looked at Luke.

Luke nodded. Everyone then rushed outside in an instant.

Nicole got into the car and sighed.

Logan came into the car and asked, "President, do you think that Luke will backtrack?"

Nicole shook her head and narrowed her eyes. "He won't. He's a smart man and knows the advantages of maximizing his benefits."

"Then why are you sighing?"

Logan did not understand.

Nicole pursed her lips and sighed regretfully.

"$200 million is too much..."

Logan was speechless.

Later, Nicole consoled herself.

"Nevermind. It's for Luke's sake. He's worth this price."

After all, if Stanton Corporation did not plan this early, Luke had already started a business with this company and project. Thus, in less than five years, he could also stand firm.

The value Luke could create in the future would be far more than $200 million.

Nicole felt a lot better when she thought about it this way.

She did not go back to her office but went to Clayton's instead.

Logan sent Nicole to the lobby and left.

Clayton's office was not far from Stanton Corporation. Both were downtown in the central business district where every inch of land was gold. However, Clayton did not have a lot of employees in his office.

His business was distributed throughout the world. Although he had transferred part of his business to Mediana, his main business was still investment banking, and he was not as involved in industrial aspects. Thus, his office only occupied two floors in this prime location.

More importantly, it was relatively close to Stanton Corporation, so it was much more convenient than before.

Nicole went upstairs and only saw men in the office. Everyone looked serious as they did their own thing, as if every minute and every second was extra precious.

She smelled a sense of crisis here.

Nicole went straight to Clayton's office.

The current Clayton was not like his usual gentle and warm self at home. He was like a different person here.

Clayton did not utter a word of nonsense and did not repeat his orders.

Just as Nicole entered, Clayton looked up and saw her. He raised his eyebrows and looked at the assistant in front of him.

"You may leave."

The assistant nodded and quickly left the office.

Clayton loosened his tie and sighed. "What brings you here?"

He stood up and walked over. When he saw that Nicole was wearing the shoes that he bought for her, he smiled with satisfaction.

Nicole took the coffee she bought downstairs and handed it to him.

"I came to do a spot check to see if you've done anything bad behind my back!"

Clayton laughed. He was very surprised.

"I'm really honored that you actually have such a sense of crisis..."

Nicole said, "You need to have some confidence in yourself."

"My confidence is all from you."

Clayton smiled and went over to take her hand and led her to the sofa. He then took a cushion for her to lean on.

"Is this comfortable?"

Nicole nodded. Her legs were resting flat against the front, and she felt very relaxed.

She squinted her eyes. "Your office lacks a massage chair. This sofa isn't very comfortable."

Clayton looked at this custom-made sofa from Milan in silence and nodded in agreement.

"I think so too."

Nicole smiled. "I just finished negotiating an acquisition today, so I'm in a good mood. I'll make you dinner tonight!"

Clayton froze for a moment. "Then I'll help you."

Chapter 1785 Add Another Zero Nicole was just about to refuse when she heard Clayton asking her boldly. "Which project? Do I know about it?" Nicole smiled. "It's Z Technologies."

Clayton raised his eyebrows. "You got it in the bag?"

Nicole nodded. "You know about it?"

"Of course. I made an offer, but Luke Youngblood obviously wanted too much, so I rejected him."

Clayton smiled. His gaze carried some sharpness. "Although the project is novel and has a good reputation, in the long run, he doesn't have any assistance and will soon meet real difficulties that will hit him hard in the face. Once everyone sees how lucrative this project is, the same type of project will become commonplace. I don't need to focus on Luke Youngblood. Perhaps there will be better options in the future..."

Nicole bowed her head and smiled. Her tone was a little lamenting.

"That would be a pity. You missed a very good business opportunity."

"How so? You took it down?"

Clayton looked at her with a smile on his face, seemingly not surprised by her reaction at all.

"Of course! I personally went over, so how could I fail?"

Clayton smiled and hesitated for a few seconds before he opened his mouth and asked. "How much did it cost?"

Nicole's smile faded. She then extended two fingers in a gesture.

Clayton froze for a moment and smiled.

"Nevermind. Being on Stanton Corporation's platform, the benefits they can generate will be far more than $20 million."

However, in Clayton's opinion, $20 million was still too much.

Nicole had always been generous, so Clayton could only say that Luke Youngblood got lucky.

Nicole froze for a moment and looked at him with a strange gaze. Her face was clearly not very happy.

She sat up straight.

Clayton realized her change in expression and pursed his lips. "What's wrong?"

Nicole took a deep breath. "Add another zero to that."

Clayton gasped. The disbelief in his eyes was clearly expressed.

He thought, 'Could this be the infamous pregnancy brain? Nicole shouldn't be so dumb...'

His gaze landed on her face. He hesitantly pursed his lips and spoke.

“How generous of you....”

Clayton, a perennial investor, did not even dare to make such an offer.

How was a small company with unknown prospects worth $200 million?

Nowadays, those that were worth $200 million were usually medium-sized companies that had been around for more than ten years.

Was she stupid?

Nicole gave him a blank look.

“What do you know anyway! It’s a business secret!”

The corners of Clayton’s mouth twitched. “Oh...”

He did not dare to go on. If he said any more, they would have a fallout.

Nicole anxiously stood up, walked two steps forward, and could not help but speak up.

“You’re not allowed to laugh at me!”

“I didn’t!”

Nicole gritted her teeth and was being a bit unreasonable. “You did! You’re secretly laughing at me in your heart!”

Clayton laughed helplessly.

“You can’t guess what’s in my heart. I’m innocent! I really didn’t laugh at you.”

Nicole said, “I’ll be honest with you. Our company has a project that clashed with theirs, so that’s why I offered them so much. I’m not a fool to slap them with money.”

This was not the entertainment industry. She would at least have to earn back the capital.

Clayton was stunned. Nicole carefully explained the situation. Since Clayton was her husband, there was no harm for him to know.

After that, Clayton nodded in understanding. He finally figured out why Nicole was so willing to spend money.

Compared to her initial investment, this $200 million was indeed not much.

After all, the project they were preparing for could yield much more than the cost.

Clayton smiled and looked at her.

"You see, I knew there was a reason for everything. I knew you wouldn't be at a loss."

Nicole rolled her eyes. Liar!

The look in Clayton's eyes just now was clearly different.

Chapter 1786 Hungry

Clayton touched Nicole's belly gently and promptly changed the topic. "The baby isn't making a fuss, right? Have you had any other reactions lately?" Nicole's attention was drawn away. She shook her head and looked down.

In the past three months, her belly did not bulge and only felt different to the touch. However, her morning sickness was gone. She could eat and drink without issues. The nutritionist's recommendations worked well. Her figure did not go out of shape at all.

This was also why she did not feel any discomfort so far. Suddenly, Clayton came closer and looked up at her in surprise. "Your belly moved just now! Did you feel it?" His eyes were bright like stars shining in the dark.

The tip of Nicole's heart trembled slightly. Nicole did not want to disturb him, but she still could not help but say, "Yeah, I felt it. I was just hungry, so my stomach was growling..." Clayton was speechless. Nicole did not want to leave the office, so Clayton called the nutritionist and nanny to prepare a meal and send it over.

Clayton continued with his work while Nicole went to the lounge to rest. By the time the meal was delivered, Nicole was lying on the bed in the lounge, fast asleep. Sleepiness was her recent characteristic.

When Clayton went in to check on Nicole, she was sleeping soundly. It was just that the neckline of her dress was slightly large. From his angle, he got a great view of her chest. Clayton sat on the side and smiled. He also beat himself up for being such a beast.

Not long after, Nicole woke up slowly. The light in the room was not harsh, so Nicole opened her eyes without any discomfort. The moment she opened her eyes, she saw Clayton sitting next to her with a smile on his face. She was already used to such a scene.

Nicole lazily stretched her back and looked at him with a smile. "Did I sleep for a long time?" Clayton nodded. His gaze finally landed on her body, indulgently sizing up her accidentally exposed cleavage. Noticing his gaze, Nicole looked down and blushed.

She immediately straightened her clothes. "What are you looking at?!" Clayton paused and said aggrievedly in a hoarse voice. "I can't even look?" Nicole's face flushed red. "No!" Clayton sighed regrettably. When Nicole breathed a sigh of relief, Clayton suddenly stood up. He did not leave.

Instead, he propped his hands by her sides and kissed her on the lips without hesitation. Her red lips were brimming with color, and he had coveted them for a long time. Nicole's heart beat faster for a moment.

She subconsciously wanted to push him away, but he embraced her in his arms with one hand. With a slight force, Nicole could not move. Their lips and teeth were entangled. Nicole tilted her head slightly and wrapped her arms around Clayton.

Since Clayton got a response, his kiss became more intense. He tilted his head while his other hand slipped to other places. Nicole's body turned soft from his teasing touch. When she saw that his hand was wandering downward, she opened her eyes and pushed him away.

"We can't..." Clayton's gaze was dark and deep. His voice was husky. "I can help you..." Although the danger period was long gone, they were both first-time parents and were more careful. They would rather endure their desires than risk a miscarriage.

Nicole was blushing. She gritted her teeth and said, "No." Clayton let out a low chuckle and wrapped his arms around her waist. He held her on his lap and teased her. "You really don't want it? Then what do you want?" The darkness in his eyes was overwhelming. Nicole wrapped her arms around his neck and bit his shoulder fiercely.

Why did he tease her? Clayton winced and said, "You little wildcat..." He lowered his head and kissed her forehead. "Forget it. Since we're outside, I'll let you off for now." If they were at home, it would be a different story. After all, Nicole had a special status. There were so many people outside the lounge, so if the word got out, it would not be good for her reputation.

Chapter 1787 Bad Temper

Clayton carried Nicole out to eat. Nicole enjoyed his attentiveness with any guilt. It was just that Clayton was not satisfied with that little taste of sweetness earlier. His eyes fell on Nicole from time to time, which made Nicole glare at him fiercely.

Clayton then regained his composure with a smile. Although Clayton looked like a gentleman on the surface, no one could stop his libido. However, Clayton was serious as he served Nicole her meal with no other intentions. Nicole then ate the meal peacefully.

It was just about time to get off work. Clayton's assistant came in a couple of times. Clayton simply replied to their Nicole When Nicole was done sting. Clayton simply took a few bites and got his After dening himself up.

Clayton took a The couple went out and looked so sweet together, attracting a crowd of envious A few days after Nicole went to Like Youngblood's office, she received news Lute agreed to Nicole's conditions, but he also put forward his own requests.

He asked to have control over the team station her own people at their office, she must get Luke's consent. Nicole had to admit that Luke Youngblood was really suitable to do business. He was straightforward and got what he wanted.

Since such a condition was not excessive, Nicole agreed to it and had it added to the contract. The acquisition of Z Technologies was undoubtedly a good thing for Stanton Corporation A lot of people were relieved that the project they had been doing two years of preparatory work for could finally continue as usual.

Since Luke Youngblood's team was experienced, the cooperation between the two companies would only make them stronger. Kai did not expect Nicole to act so fast. She negotiated the terms, but Kai had to carry out the follow-up work.

For a time, Kai was so busy that he did not even have time for a date. Since Kai did not have time, Nicole felt bad and got Julie to come over to visit them at the office. Julie did not want to cling to Kai all day. Since Nicole was pregnant and wanted to eat the dessert she made, Julie came over with the dessert.

Nicole just finished listening to Logan talking about the recent gossip in the company when she saw Julie pushing the door open. Logan had the good sense to leave the office. Nicole smiled and opened her arms. "I haven't seen you for a long time! Is that show you were working on done with filming?" Julie laughed.

"I've already finished two shows! The shows nowadays are like fast food culture. How can it be that slow?" Nicole clicked her tongue and did not say much. Julie handed something to Nicole. "Since you're pregnant, you can't eat too much sugar.

I added less sugar. Wanna try some?» Nicole smiled and blinked. "Did you think that I wanted to eat it?" "If not?" "Don't you know that my third brother hasn't been home for three days?" Julie froze.

"Really?" Nicole shook her head speechlessly and suddenly felt a little heartbroken for Kai. Poor Kai. No one loved him. SA "Julie, did you forget that you guys have already gotten a marriage license?" Julie touched her nose. "

How could I forget?" Nicole laughed and pushed the dessert over. "He's in the office. You should go take a look." Julie pursed her lips and felt a little guilty. She nodded and quietly went out with the dessert. Nicole sighed. She could only help them s o much.

Kai was busy throwing a tantrum in the office. He was different from Grant and Nicole. He would never beat around the bush, and he could not hold in his anger.

The Divorced Billionaire Heiress Boss Chapter 1788 Can' t Leave You

The entire company's middle and senior management were almost all scolded by Kai. As soon as Julie went in, she saw a file being hurled at her. O VOC "Get out! Didn't you hear me? What kind of proposal is this?! You might as well go b e a clown!" Julie shuddered and dodged it.

When Kai did not hear the sound of the door closing, he turned around. He froze when he saw Julie slowly walking over. Kai paused, pursed his lips, and looked at her again before speaking.

"Who's this? Why don't I recognize you?" Julie was dumbfounded and a bit confused. If Nicole did not remind her, Julie would not have known. Do Julie was really not a qualified wife. Although their relationship had been in the spotlight for a while, it fell silent soon after.

They did not have a wedding ceremony, so Julie truly enjoyed this marriage that had no restraints. After all, when those people deliberately came to trouble her, Julie once felt like she could not live anymore. The reason Julie could get back on her feet was because of her work and mainly because of this man in front of her.

Julie walked over and sat on Kai's lap as soon as she turned around. Kai raised his eyebrows and looked at her i n surprise. His hand lightly rested on her waist.

“Why are you so active today? You want it?” Julie blushed and pushed him slightly.

She hugged him again, smelling his familiar scent and feeling his strong heartbeat. She suddenly became a little addicted. Jo Kai had never wanted her to be so tired, but Julie had always longed to soar to greater heights.

That was because she never had a sense of security. However, she seemed to have overlooked something. This man in front of her had always been supporting her. Kai sighed. His arms wrapped tightly around her waist without any intention to take advantage of her.

You finally remember me? I haven't visited you in the past few days. Did you miss me so much?” In the past, when Julie was stationed at the film site or when she was abroad, Kai would fly over to see her every few days. That was because he was her man, so he should be taking more initiative.

Julie let out a muffled “mm” and did not speak for a full minute. Kai sensed her change in mood. He pursed his lips and opened his mouth to comfort her. “It's my fault. I neglected you. This time, Big Brother and Lil N are both not available, so I can't just sit around and do nothing.

Just wait for a while and I'll make it up to you, alright?” Julie's eyes stung as she pursed her lips. “K...” Kai raised his eyebrows. This was what she used to call him before they got married. After they got married, Kai did not hear it often.

Julie said, “I think that I really can't bear to be away from you.” Kai smiled. The emotions in his eyes were surging. He pinched the soft flesh around her waist. “Are you hinting at me? Why don't we go to a hotel?” A hotel would be convenient.

Julie knew that Kai got the wrong idea and immediately got up from his lap after she hugged him enough. “You'd better focus on your work. Don't think about that.” Kai saw how Julie was so decisive when she pulled away and laughed out loud. “You're leaving right after you teased me?»

Julie scooped a spoonful from the tiramisu and fed it to Kai. “This is your treat.” Their eyes locked and set off a spark. Their bodies were entangled, and they were filled with passion. Although Julie was usually indifferent to Kai, once she responded, both their auras were overwhelming.

They were both immersed in their own world when someone suddenly knocked at the door and came in. ) "Mr. Stanton..." Julie was still sitting on Kai's lap, kissing him from time to time.

She was blushing, which made her look even more charming Her hair was messy, and Kai's hands were wandering underneath her shirt. oo Fortunately, Kai knew that they were still at the office and only wanted to relieve his cravings.

Do When they were suddenly interrupted by the person who came in, Julie panicked and buried her head in Kai's arms. She did not dare to turn around. Kai was in a terrible mood since he was interrupted. WOOS "Get lost!" Before the person came in, he was already driven out.

The manager who interrupted them was depressed a He closed the door with a gloomy face and left. When he saw the secretary's surprised look, he asked, "Did Mr. Stanton just get angry again?" The secretary pursed his lips.

"You went in? Mrs. Stanton was also there..." )) The manager's face became even gloomier. Then did I spoil their fun? What bad luck! The office fell back into silence. The amorous atmosphere just now had disappeared. Julie got up from Kai's lap and slowly fixed her clothes and hair.

Kai looked at Julie's body fondly and could not move his gaze away for a second. "Julie, do you wanna wait for me so we can go home together later?" Julie paused. She looked back at him, reached out, and pinched his ears.

"No, I have to go to a meeting soon. I'll see you later?" Kai's expression changed. He looked very upset. "You took time out to come here?" Julie smiled. "If not? We're both very busy." ) Kai was about to say something when Julie interrupted him.

VVO "After I'm done with this in a few days, I'll take a break. Then, I'll come over to take care of you, okay?" Kai paused and looked at her. He was a little incredulous. Julie pursed her lips and hesitated. "If you don't want me to, then forget it. I'll just go and travel then..."

Kai immediately took her hand. "of course, I want you to! I just can't believe that you'll actually take a break!" C Julie had always put her work first, so Kai was used to being the second priority. Thus, when Kai heard that Julie was going to take a break, he really could not believe his ears.

Kai would believe it if this was a joke. Julie bowed her head and chuckled. The smile on her face was a little forced. She seemed to have neglected her life a little. a Clearly, the reason she worked so hard was to have a better life, but she ignored the importance of life and neglected Kai.

a "Whatever, it's up to you to believe it or not! I can't stay any longer, else I'll be late ) 3 Julie looked at her watch and took a deep breath. She turned around and was about to leave when Kai yanked her arm and pulled her back into his embrace.

Both of them did not move. After a few seconds, Kai sighed. a “You have to keep your word! Don’t lie to me...” After they got married, Kai still had not enjoyed her care To Kai, this was like the sun rising from the west. Julie left Kai’s office and greeted Nicole before she left. Kai suddenly felt like his mood improved and called out to the people outside.

“Which son of a b*tch came in just no?! Tell him to come over!” Yikes. Kai was settling accounts after the fact. The secretary warily called the manager that came over just now. The manager was in a good mood. “Has Mrs. Stanton left?” The secretary nodded perfunctorily.

The manager breathed a sigh of relief.” Then Kai should be in a good mood.” As he said that, he knocked on the door and walked in. The secretary looked at the manager with sympathy and shook his head. Shortly after, the secretary heard a loud argument coming from inside the office. It was only Kai’s voice.
