

The Divorced Billionaire Heiress chapter 2282

Chapter 2282 Freedom

Levi was left outside.

Nicole touched Levi's forehead and found that he was sweating profusely.

"Don't worry, Leaf. Your mom will be fine."

"Auntie, was Mommy in so much pain when she gave birth to me?"

Nicole's heart softened when she saw his sad face.

"Yes, pregnancy is like this. But your mom loves you, so even though it hurts, it's still bearable."

Although Levi was a boy, he was much more sensitive than other boys.

At the same time, Chatty obediently ran to Nicole's side and stayed there.

She hugged Nicole's leg, raised her head, and stroked Nicole's belly.

"Mommy, will you give birth to a little monster for me soon?"

Nicole looked at her speechlessly and thought, 'They're both kids. Why can Levi be so attentive to Aida, but Chatty is so naive that I feel like beating her up?'

Fischer pulled Chatty and said, "Don't you want Ultra Princess?"

"Then Mommy should give birth twice!" Chatty was decisive.

Nicole gritted her teeth. 'You two should go somewhere else.'

Kai and Julie hurriedly carried the kids away.

Two hours later, Aida gave birth to a baby boy.

Grant stayed with Aida in the ward and did not even have time to look at the baby.

It was mainly because his dream of having a daughter fell through.

He was also vexed that his second son made Aida suffer so much.

Everyone breathed a sigh of relief.

Floyd really liked his youngest grandson and named him Kenji Stanton.

Since Kenji was a premature baby, he was taken away by the nurse.

Levi and the other children fell asleep on the sofa.

Only then did Floyd react and asked Kai and Nicole to take the children back.

Grant could stay back to accompany Aida.

It was no use for the others to stick around.

Moreover, Grant would never let anyone else take care of Aida either.

Kai agreed to the arrangement.

Thus, the three of them carried one child each and followed Floyd back home.

Floyd smiled happily.

Although this baby was not a girl as Grant expected, they were glad that both the mother and baby were healthy and safe.

As soon as Floyd went back, he asked the maid to prepare some soup for Aida.

The Stanton Mansion started to get busy again, but everyone was happy.

Floyd also gave everyone a special bonus to commemorate this day. Thus, everyone was grinning from ear to ear.

Nicole did not go back to her apartment and went to the Stanton Mansion.

Since this was a special occasion, Kai and the others returned to the Stanton Mansion on Floyd's orders.

As soon as Julie went back, she started to discuss Aida's meal plan with Mr. Anderson.

Floyd was too excited to sleep.

After tucking the three children into bed, Nicole left the children's room with a sigh of relief.

She glanced at Tigger, who was lying on the ground.

Tigger had been dormant for a while because it developed self-awareness and went into a self-upgrading mode.

However, he recently became active again. He also looked more like a tiger than before.

Tigger tapped his paw and said, "I want to sleep with Chatty!"

Its eyes were clear and beautiful.

Nicole said, "Don't disturb her."

It was hard to get her to sleep.

Nicole was unfazed by Tigger trying to act cute.

Tigger swung his tail and circled Nicole twice.

'You're so fierce! You're so fierce...'

Nicole said, "You're a tiger, not a cat. Is your system out of order?"

"Roar—"

Tigger's whiskers twitched in shock. Then, he turned around and ran away.

'You're so fierce...'

Nicole was speechless.

She thought that she should go to Molly and ask her to check Tigger's operating system.

The Stanton Mansion was brightly lit on the inside and outside.

Nicole yawned and went downstairs. Floyd was reminding Kai to wear a mask before going out so as not to attract the paparazzi's attention.

After thinking about it, Nicole turned around and planned to take a shower.

Downstairs, Kai lay on the sofa listlessly.

Julie came out of the kitchen with a warm glass of milk for each of them.

Floyd nodded and took it over.

"Don't walk around. Sit down and rest, then go to bed early. If you guys have time, you guys should visit Grant and Aida at the hospital."

Julie smiled and said, "Don't worry, I already told Kai. He'll visit them every day, and he'll pick Levi up from school. We can't let outsiders pick Levi up all the time. It just so happens that Kai doesn't have to go to the office or the set, so he can help out at home."

Floyd nodded in satisfaction.

Kai got up and went upstairs helplessly. "I'm going to wash up. I'll wake up early tomorrow to deliver meals to Grant and Aida."

As soon as Kai left, Julie's smile faded. She looked at Floyd with a complex gaze.

"Dad, do you blame me for not being ready to conceive?"

The Stantons were not traditional, but Julie knew that affluent families liked more children.

Grant and Aida had two children.

Nicole also gave birth to Chatty.

Maverick and Molly were busy with work, but that did not mean they did not have plans.

Julie and Kai did not have kids yet. Kai had always liked children, but Julie did not want kids so soon, so Kai did not force it.

Earlier at the hospital, Julie noticed that Kai was almost drooling when he looked at Grant's youngest son.

Julie suddenly felt a little sad.

Floyd paused, looked at her, and smiled lovingly.

"Jules, I think of you as my daughter, and you don't need to apologize to anyone if you don't want children. It's your life, and it's fine as long as you're happy and have no regrets. Our country has a population of over 1.4 billion people, so it won't matter if you two don't want kids. I spend the most time with Kai among my three sons. As long as you two are happy, I respect your decision."

Although Floyd felt regretful, he would not force them to have a child.

Floyd did not want to interfere in his children's life plans. As long as they were walking the right path, it did not matter who came along the way.

Julie smiled and nodded with a sigh of relief.

'Thanks, Dad.'

"It's getting late. Let's go and rest."

Floyd sighed and stood up.

"I just called Grant to check up on them. I should sleep now. I'm old and can't stay up so late anymore."

Julie sent Floyd back to his room upstairs, but she could not fall asleep. After the conversation with Floyd, the gloom in her heart dissipated.

After a while, Nicole went downstairs.

She saw that Julie was still walking around and had not slept yet.

"Jules, go to bed!"

"I'm bored and I can't sleep. I'll go to the office tomorrow and try to spare time to visit Aida at the hospital."

Nicole heard this and smiled. "It's good that you have this thought, but you don't need to accompany her. Aida is fine. She has the best care in the best hospital, and Grant is there with her."

As she spoke, she sighed and realized something.

"Oh no! I think Grant is going to take a long vacation. That means I'll have to go to the office every day!"

Julie could not help but laugh.

"Look at you. You should work harder since this is a special circumstance. You've slacked off for so long. Do you still want to make money?"

Nicole thought about it. 'Right. I have slacked off for a long time.'

"By the way, what are your plans with Clayton?" Julie lowered her voice.
