

Read The Divorced Billionaire Heiress Chapter 2610

The Divorced Billionaire Heiress chapter 2610-Stub Again Eric stretched out his hand to hold Selena's and squeezed it lightly.

"You're nice too, Selena. When this matter is resolved, shall we go on a vacation abroad?"

Selena leaned into his arms and smiled.

"Okay."

She also hoped that this matter would be resolved quickly.

Jennifer lied, and Eric did not intend to pin his hopes on her anymore.

There must be someone controlling Jennifer, so she refused to tell them the truth.

Selena and Eric had not been intimate since they were injured and had to recuperate.

However, as soon as their warm lips touched, the two of them could not control themselves.

They embraced each other, and the temperature of the room rose gradually.

The two of them ended their passion when they were both panting, and they could feel the distance between them closing.

It might be because they had gone through a life-and-death experience, so they realized each other's importance.

Love did not need to be proclaimed all the time. They could both feel it from each other.

Eric gave the sample to Mitchell.

The next day, Mitchell handed the result to Eric.

"It's not a parent-child relationship, Mr. Ferguson."

Eric's eyes obviously relaxed, but soon, he fell into dead silence.

Fortunately, it was not Floyd. That way, Eric would not have to go against him.

But if it was not Floyd, who else would it be?

Back then, Floyd was considered to be an influential figure. Who else could it be besides Floyd?

In the afternoon, an uninvited guest came to Ferguson Corporation.

Mitchell stood there with a serious expression.

“It’s Noah Stanton. He said that he wants to talk about the cooperation that he mentioned to you before.”

Eric’s expression turned cold. Then, he nodded.

“Let him in.”

Noah Stanton was not one of their suspects, so Eric did not pay much attention to him.

The main reason was that Noah was like an invisible figure in Stanton Corporation.

If it were not for his relationship with Floyd, Noah would be worthless.

In the beginning, Noah’s wife and stepdaughter’s scandal upset Nicole, so Floyd took back most of Noah’s power in a fit of rage.

If Noah was repentant, he should have driven his wife, Jade, away long ago.

However, a few days after he drove her away, he took her back.

Jade had been with him for a long time, and this woman was not easy to mess with.

If Noah was having an affair with another woman, how could Jade have remained indifferent?

Although the couple had no real power, they could still live comfortably with the dividends.

However, Jade was not easily satisfied and must be plotting something.

Eric did not hold much hope for their cooperation. He was more interested in the shares of Stanton Corporation.

Noah walked in, smiling a little too enthusiastically.

“Mr. Ferguson, what do you think about the cooperation I mentioned last time? I came here with full sincerity.”

Eric paused. He lowered his eyes and looked at Noah with a bit of scrutiny.

“Mr. Stanton, do you really have the shares? If others find out about this matter, I don’t think it will end well for me unless it’s settled.”

“Don’t worry, Mr. Ferguson. I sincerely want to cooperate with you. Although Jericho City is only a subsidiary, I have put a lot of effort into it. Some time ago, the headquarters withdrew my rights and made all my efforts go to waste because of some family issue. They didn’t consider the value I brought to the company or showed me any respect! Mr. Ferguson, I don’t want to hurt the rights and interests of Stanton Corporation, but I want to make a bet. I want to facilitate this cooperation so that Jericho City will bring in the biggest revenue to the company. This way, I can gradually take back my power.”

Eric pondered with an indistinguishable expression.

“If you want to take back your power, I’m afraid just participating in this cooperation isn’t sufficient. You will have to replace Stanton Corporation’s headquarters in the cooperation. But does Jericho City’s subsidiary have such a strong capital to do so?”

Noah froze slightly and smiled.

“Of course, we don’t. That project is highly anticipated, and it’s no wonder that only Stanton Corporation and Ferguson Corporation will be able to take it on as partners. As long as it is a cooperation between our parties, there is no difference whether it’s headquarters or a subsidiary. If you designate wanting to cooperate with Stanton Corporation’s Jericho City branch, the headquarters will definitely support me. Then, you won’t have to watch this project slip away.”

Noah’s intention was obvious. He wanted to secretly harm Stanton Corporation.

The key lay in Eric’s hands.

If Eric could help Noah get that project, Stanton Corporation’s capital would flow to Jericho City. Then, the tables would turn.

That way, Noah would have a bright future.

Eric smiled as he pondered the offer. He curled his lips slightly and had a somewhat understanding expression.

“That sounds great! Ferguson Corporation won’t lose anything, and I’ll even gain your shares.”

“Yes, Mr. Ferguson. So, does that mean our cooperation will go smoothly?”

Noah’s eyes shone brightly.

Eric nodded. "Okay. I'll get my legal team to draw up the contract for you to sign. Then I'll go through the procedures."

"Great, Mr. Ferguson! I believe this is a great start to our cooperation!"

The excitement on Noah's face was visible.

Eric lowered his eyes slightly and paused.

"But I want to ask, if Floyd gave you the shares, aren't you afraid that he'll find trouble with you when he finds out that you sold them so rashly?"

Noah froze slightly. His smile faded, and his eyes were somewhat complicated and annoyed.

"My brother is senile and confused. He gave all the power to his children and completely forgot that I accompanied him through the hardships. He gradually marginalized me in the company, so how can I stand for it? Besides, even if he finds out, so what? I deserve these shares, and I'm free to deal with them as I please. You don't have to worry, Mr. Ferguson."

Eric nodded thoughtfully.

Since Noah said so, Eric did not have to think much about it.

Noah's contract was finalized three days later.

Noah was eager to use this cooperation to prove his ability and gain a chance for himself.

That was why Noah agreed to all the demands that Eric made without hesitation.

Originally, it was agreed with Stanton Corporation's headquarters that the two parties would assist each other and cooperate in the project. However, in the contract Noah signed, Ferguson Corporation had more say in leading the project, and Stanton Corporation would assist. This kind of inversion meant that Stanton Corporation would suffer big losses.

However, Noah did not care about this at all.

Looking at the contract on the table, Eric fell into deep thought. He had a solemn and indifferent expression.

His black eyes were fixed on the document for a long time.

Mitchell knocked on the door and came in.

“Mr. Ferguson, Noah has already signed the contract. Our legal department will hand it over to the project team to start the process. Do we really want to give up the cooperation with Stanton Corporation’s headquarters? Although Stanton Corporation may tend to allocate resources to Jericho City for the sake of this cooperation, compared with directly dealing with their headquarters, Jericho City won’t be able to match us in all aspects.”