

An Understated Dominance by Marina Vittori Chapter 2013

Chapter 2001

“Kakaka...”

At this time, the rotating symbols on the bronze door suddenly stopped.

It seemed to be stuck, swinging back and forth and making a creaking sound.

“Huh? What’s going on? Why didn’t you respond?”

Everyone looked at each other, a little confused.

“Captain Leo, what’s going on?”

Margaret’s eyelids twitched, feeling a little uneasy.

“Miss Margaret, please be patient. After all, it has been more than a thousand years. It is normal for the agency to be a little aging. Just wait for a while and it will be fine soon.” Leo Alexander smiled faintly.

It’s not like he has never experienced similar situations.

Some traps are in disrepair and have no reaction even if they are triggered.

However, judging from the material of the bronze door, the mechanism inside should not be damaged. At most, it is just not that flexible.

Besides, everyone just smashed and used explosives, so it must have had an impact.

“Kakaka...”

After waiting for a few breaths, the symbol text that originally rotated clockwise suddenly began to rotate counterclockwise.

“It’s moving, it’s moving again!” The short-haired woman looked happy.

She thought something had happened just now, but luckily it was just a false alarm.

“Miss Margaret, am I right? You’ll be fine soon...”

Leo Alexander smiled and spoke, but the words were half-sent.

Some symbols on the bronze door suddenly sank, revealing rows of dark holes the size of thumbs.

At the same time, a large number of gold steel arrows suddenly shot out from these holes.

“Boom, boom, boom, boom, boom...”

These arrows are numerous and extremely fast, making them difficult to guard against.

Leo Alexander stood in front of the door, being the closest and bearing the brunt of the attack, becoming the biggest target.

“Captain, be careful!”

The short-haired woman reacted quickly, slammed Leo Alexander away, and blocked several arrows for him.

At the price, his shoulders and arms were shot through by gold steel arrows.

If she hadn’t protected him with her life, Leo Alexander, who had just gotten carried away, would have been shot dead on the spot.

“Silver Ring!”

Looking at the injured short-haired woman lying on the ground, Leo Alexander’s expression changed and he quickly ran forward to check on her condition.

“Captain, I’m fine, it’s just a little skin injury.” The short-haired woman forced a smile.

“Take the hemostatic pill quickly!”

Leo Alexander took out a red pill from his body and handed it to the short-haired woman, while quickly bandaging it.

Fortunately, no vital parts were injured. After taking blood-tonifying pills, he was fine after a few days of recovery, but his movement was affected.

“Captain, how could this happen? It was fine just now, why was the mechanism suddenly triggered?” The short-haired woman was a little confused.

“There may be something wrong with some of the structures inside, causing the mechanism to be accidentally triggered.” Leo Alexander explained with a frown.

The front rotates clockwise, and the back suddenly turns counterclockwise, which is obviously not right.

“Captain Leo, the runes on this door have stopped moving. Can it still be opened?” Margaret asked.

The sudden change made her heart skip a beat.

“This...”

Leo Alexander was speechless for a moment when asked.

He was full of confidence before and said he would be able to do it, but now something unexpected happened and he was a little embarrassed.

“Miss Margaret, it was just an accident. I believe the captain can open this bronze door.” The short-haired woman spoke out in support.

“Miss Margaret, I’ll try again, it should be fine.”

Leo Alexander took a deep breath, stepped forward, and began to carefully study the bronze door.

After confirming that there was no danger, he learned the same technique as before, pressing the ruby eye, three times on the left and three on the right, trying to open the bronze door.

However, this time, it had no effect.

The bronze door stood silently, showing no response.

Leo Alexander tried several times, knocking and beating, but to no avail.

He could only turn his head helplessly and said sarcastically: "Miss Margaret, the mechanism inside this bronze door seems to be broken." "Broken

?"

Margaret frowned: "You mean, this door Can't open it?"

"Yes."

Leo Alexander nodded: "This door has existed for too long, and the mechanism is no longer sensitive. In addition, the explosive bombardment just now may have damaged something inside, so now, I There's nothing we can do."

"Is there no other way?" Margaret frowned even more.

"Even I can't open it. There should be no one in this world who can open it." Leo Alexander sighed.

"Let me give it a try."

Dustin couldn't help it and took the initiative to step forward.

"You?"

Leo Alexander glanced up and down and snorted: "Dustin, I know you are very powerful, but in terms of mechanisms, you are far inferior to me. You can't even open me, so don't waste your efforts." ."

"How will you know if it doesn't work if you don't try it?" Dustin said calmly.

"Hmph! You're really humiliating yourself. Someone as knowledgeable as the captain is helpless. Why do you think you can do it?" The short-haired woman curled her lips.

I have just made it very clear that the mechanism inside has been damaged and no one in the world can open this door.

Now that the other party has come forward, he is just asking for trouble.

“Dustin, you have to be self-aware as a person. If you don’t have that ability, don’t be in the limelight.” Leo Alexander said angrily.

Dustin was too lazy to respond to this, and walked straight to the bronze door and began to look up and down.

“Stop looking, it’s useless. You don’t even know the words on it, how can you open this door? If you really have this ability, I will just pretend to be dead here.” Leo Alexander said harsh words directly.

“Really?”

Dustin smiled evilly, then clenched his fist and hit the bronze door hard.

“Bang!”

There was a loud noise.

The earth shook, the mountains shook, and smoke and dust rose everywhere.

The powerful air wave caused everyone to retreat and almost fall to the ground.

When all the dust settled, the previously motionless and indestructible bronze door had been torn apart by Dustin’s punch.

For a moment, the entire audience was stunned.
