

Arabella 48

Chapter 48

“Let it go.” Attlee didn’t want to stir up a fuss. Being the richest dude in Tranquil City, he needed to keep a good public image and not cause a scene. But Olga speculated, “Did Dr. Caden step up for Arabella because he’s got a thing for her? I found it odd. His attitude towards us was so bad before, probably because of Arabella...”

“Stop it. Let’s go in and see Mother.”

“I don’t know when mom will wake up. I’ve already arranged for the will. Once she signs it, leaving her assets to us and Yoli, I can breathe easy...” “Keep your voice down!” Attlee glared back at her. “What, are you hoping everyone hears?”

Olga quickly clamped her mouth shut and closed the door to the hospital room.

Arabella had no idea why they were visiting. She turned to Caden and said, “I’ve got things to do. You can take off.”

“What about Grace’s medical report...”

“If there are no special circumstances, you can read for yourself.” “Okay.”
