

The Princess and the Pauper (Arabella)

Chapter 869

Chapter 869

"Don't worry, I know what I'm doing. I won't get you guys into trouble."

After finishing her breakfast, Arabella left the room, leaving the servants worriedly whispering among themselves, fearing for their jobs.

Arabella first found Edith, handing her a small bottle, "Edith, you have not been looking well lately. This will help rejuvenate you.

Take one a week."

"Ms. Bella? Your medicine must be expensive. I can't accept this!"

Edith knew Arabella was highly skilled in medicine and that anything she gave would be high-quality.

"Just take it, don't be shy." Arabella placed it in her hand, didn't mention the cost, nor did she mention Serena. Instead, she said, "If you ever run into trouble at home, you can come to me for help."

"Ms. Bella." Edith wondered if Arabella knew something.

But Arabella changed the subject, "Are mom and dad awake yet?"

"Not yet."

"What about Clark?"

"He's still in his room."

Arabella nodded, "Don't overwork yourself. If you're not feeling well, make sure to take a break."

"Thank you, Ms. Bella."

Edith was still in a daze even after Arabella had left. The other servants noticed and hurried over.

"Edith, what did Ms. Bella give you this time?"

"Will your skin glow if you take it?"

"I always have acne. The last time I asked Ms. Bella for help, she gave me a small bottle of effervescent tablets. After taking them a few days, my acne scars were gone."

"I usually feel dizzy when I stand up after squatting for a while. Ms.

Bella gave me a dozen scented tea to make tea with. I haven't experienced any dizziness since."

"I didn't know how to dress well. But seeing Ms. Bella always looking stylish and beautiful, I asked her for advice. She taught me about color coordination and even gifted me a few sets of QY clothes. QY! She just gave them to me!"

The servants couldn't stop praising Arabella.

"Ms. Bella is the nicest rich young lady I've ever met!"

"She's not pretentious. She's straightforward and doesn't beat around the bush. Unlike some people who smile elegantly on the surface but are incredibly dark on the inside."

"I like Ms. Bella because it's comfortable being around her."

Serena, who was about to go downstairs, clenched her fists upon hearing this. Damn that Arabella, she really knew how to win people over!

"I knew it! So that's why some of you don't respect Serena. You've all been bought over!" Martha, helping Serena downstairs, made sure to raise her voice as she sarcastically said, "Serena, it turned out you didn't pay enough. That's why people are sabotaging you."

"Ms. Bella didn't buy us."

"We went to ask Ms. Bella for advice on our own."

"It has nothing to do with Ms. Bella."

The servants were getting flustered.

However, Martha didn't listen to their explanations. Instead, she said, "Listen to yourselves, all defending her. She gave you some cheap trinkets, and you're all won over. No wonder you all say it's comfortable being around her. People who gave gifts are nice, but since Serena didn't give any, some of you are implying that she's dark inside."

The servants became even more flustered, "No, we didn't mean that."

"Alright, everyone, go back to work." After Edith spoke, the servants gave her a grateful look before hurrying off to their tasks.
