“Are you swamped with work?” Romeo asked in his lazy but pleasing tone, “Do you need me to help you out?”

“No need

“I’ve been thinking about you,” Romeo said, “I wish I could finish all your work for you so you’d have time to be with me. But I still have an hour before I see you.” Romeo sounded a bit anxious, “I want to video call you, just for a bit.”

Romeo seemed to know she would refuse, so he didn’t wait for her to speak before he started pleading. “Just for a little while.”

Arabella stayed silent.

“Bella... Romeo pleaded again, “I promise it won’t interfere with your work.”

Arabella, having no other choice, finally agreed to his request. Soon after, his video call came through.

"Wouldn't it be good if he gets away?" Arabella raised an eyebrow, speaking with interest, "I'd actually p

"Huh?" Dean was confused, why would she want that?

No one can fully comprehend Arabella's thoughts, but as Dean observed her brimming confidence, he h

He must increase the stakes!

"By the way, Ms. Bennett, Oscar has connections at the headquarters... Be cautious!" Dean warned.

"Very well," Arabella replied nonchalantly. No matter how influential he might be, in the face of evidenc

"Ms. Bennett, you are so talented at such a young age. What kind of person would dare to stand shoulder to shoulder with you as your future partner?" De Arabella glanced at the man in the video, and he was looking back at her. She did exude a powerful aura, but Romeo was no less formidable.

"Ms. Bennett, are you willing to make a bet?" Dean challenged.
