

Ex Wife 1551

Chapter 1551

"Are you sure my fans were involved in today's accident?"

Xavier didn't care about his fame and image. If not for his pursuit of Leia, he would never have exposed himself in front of the media, let alone joined such an awkward reality dating show. He was surprised he had so many fans, but he assumed they'd be laid-back and obedient like him.

However, to his shock, they were reckless and rude.

"You don't believe me, do you?" Leia found the video and showed it to Xavier. "Listen to what they said. They said you're handsome, rich, and nice. You're just the perfect man, and you and Shirley would make the perfect couple. You should protect Shirley forever. It was I, a wicked woman, who ruined your relationship with her. They even scolded Ren. Oh, I just can't take it!"

"They scolded my wife?" Stefan had been watching their fight calmly, but he immediately straightened when Leia mentioned Renee. He snatched the phone away from Xavier and watched the video angrily. After a while, his eyes narrowed and he sneered coldly, "Since they were brave enough to do this, I'm sure they're prepared to face the consequences of their actions."

"What are you going to do?" Leia turned to Stefan and typed, looking at him with interest.

"I'll find them, then make them kneel and beg for Renee's forgiveness." Stefan's tone was casual, but his gaze was icy and determined.

"That's more like it." Leia shot Xavier a disappointed glance.

"What about you? What was your first reaction when your beloved was bullied? But no, it wasn't your beloved that was bullied, it was her fans that bullied others... No wonder you're indifferent."

"You're jealous?" Xavier suddenly felt happy. It was a long time since he had felt her jealousy, and it meant that she still cared about him.

"I'm jealous?" Leia's eyes grew wide. Sneering, she typed out, "Over my dead body. Why would I be jealous of you and Shirley? I just think that your way of handling things is different from your best buddy, and it explains why Ren is obsessed with Stefan. But you... Hmph, people will only get disappointed in you!"

"Yes, Stefan and I are different, so we handle things differently. He always tries to bargain and argue, and he's decisive. But taking revenge won't cool his anger, so it's better if he doesn't take revenge at all." Xavier yanked his tie and continued seriously, "Well, my solution is more rational— I hope you can just ignore them and forget this happened. It won't affect you, right?"

"Of course you want me to stop fussing over it so your first love will be safe!" Leia felt that Xavier was purposely defending Shirley, and typed on her phone angrily. "I'm not going to let this go. Since there's a video, we can identify the perpetrators and I'll make them give Ren and I an explanation. I'll also ask Shirley to apologize to us on behalf of her fans!"
