

The Untouchable Ex-Wife

Chapter 1561

“Honestly, I didn’t think I could get pregnant because we took precautions.” Renee was very surprised, but she would certainly give birth to the child.

“That means that it’s written in the stars. This child is yours to have, and you can’t stop it! Haha! I’m sure Mr. Hunt will be overjoyed to hear he’s going to have another child!” Leia grinned, sincerely happy for Renee.

“What’s there to be happy about? It’s not a good time for us to have a baby.” Renee sighed deeply, feeling worried. It was a stressful period for both of them, especially Stefan. He had to gain a firm foothold as the president of Hunt Enterprise, and he also had to take care of Renee since she was blind. If they had another child, he alone would have to take care of four people, and the stress would be unimaginable. Another child right now just meant another weakness for others to exploit; it really was bad timing.

“Stop overthinking—you’re already pregnant. You felt the same about Abby and Adie back then, but look at them now. Do you regret giving birth to them?”

“No, of course not!”

“There you have it, then!” Leia exclaimed with a smile. “How perfect it’ll be if this child of yours is a combination of Abby and Adie!”

“You’re right.” At the thought of Adie and Abby, Renee placed her hand on her belly, finally looking forward to the baby.

“What should we get you for early pregnancy? Should you get supplements for calcium, folate, and DHA?” Leia fished her phone out and started making orders to buy things. She felt like Renee’s baby was hers too, and wanted to spoil the child before it even entered the world. “Hmm, do you think it’s a boy or a girl? Could it be a pair of mixed-gender twins again? Let me get them a transformer!” After purchasing some pregnancy supplements, Leia began buying lots of toys and clothes for the baby.

Renee groaned and said helplessly, “It’s still too early—the baby is probably the size of a needle at this point. There’s no point in buying things for it now.”

“I don’t care—I’m still buying them! After all, this is a happy occasion!” While ordering things, Leia recalled how she saw Tess adding sugar to Renee’s coffee. As she scrolled through her phone, she asked Renee casually, “By the way, Ren, when did you change your taste in coffee? Is it because you’re pregnant?”

“Change my taste?”

“Yeah, Tess added sugar to your coffee just now. You liked sugar-free coffee before this, right?”

“She did?” Renee frowned. She had never asked Tess to put sugar in her coffee, and her coffee wasn’t even sweet either. It meant that Tess might have lied... but why would she?

“What’s the matter?” Leia asked, realizing something was wrong.
