The Ex-Husband's Revenge chapter 2486

"Kid, you can't buy all the herbs!" Felton was the first to snap out of it and stood forward.

He was in the Intermediate Emperor State and rivaled Hugo in terms of strength.

He came here to purchase herbs that matched his physique to boost his training in the hope that he could surpass Hugo soon.

He was a few years younger than Hugo and if he managed to surpass Hugo, he could become the brightest talent in his generation.

This was his dream for as long as he could remember. However, Leon bought all three spiritual herbs and he could not accept this.

"That's right!" "Kid, we are all here to purchase herbs!" "Ya, what are we going to do if you buy them all?"

The others chimed in, all reluctant to let Leon buy all the herbs.

"What a joke! You were the ones who doubted if I had the money to buy all the herbs. Now that I've paid, you won't let me take the herbs away? Don't you think you are out of line?" Leon questioned with a dark expression.

"Well," The others were instantly rendered speechless because Leon was simply telling the truth.

They were the ones who asked Leon to purchase all the herbs and looked forward to punishing him when he failed.

However, Leon paid and obtained the herbs, yet they refused to let him leave with the herbs.

This was indeed out of line.

"Spare me, kid! That was then, and this is now. You have one chance. You can pick one or two herbs that you want from the herbs and leave the rest!"

Felton scoffed.

Since Leon was Renee's boyfriend and Leon consistently embarrassed him, he resented Leon.

Seeing as others were upset that Leon purchased all the herbs, he took the opportunity to pick on Leon.

If Leon knew what was best for him, he would leave the herbs and Felton could consider sparing him. However, if he resisted, Felton could use this as an excuse to teach him a lesson.

By then, the others would side with him and no one would stop him from hurting Leon.

"If I refuse?" Leon laughed angrily.

"Refuse? That's not up to you!" Felton narrowed his eyes maliciously.

He desperately wished that he would refuse so that he could teach him a lesson.

"What, are you going to rob me?" Leon's expression darkened in response to his arrogance.

"So what if that's what I'm going to do? If you don't leave the herbs here, you aren't leaving," Felton said coldly.

"Who do you think you are? What a joke!" Leon scoffed and stared at Felton in contempt.

Western Boss would struggle to restrain him, not to mention Felton.

Hence, he did not take Felton's threat seriously. 1

The Ex-Husband's Revenge chapter 2487

“Very well. You asked for this. Since you don’t know your place, don’t blame me for this!” Felton was enraged by Leon’s contemptuous attitude.

Not wanting to waste his time, he raised his arm and prepared to fight Leon.

“Hang on!”

“Wait!”

Just then, two different voices rose. One belonged to Renee, who took a step forward and stood before Leon to prevent Felton from harming him.

The other came from Mister Daglesh, who stepped out of the crowd.

“Jensen, you again! What’s the meaning of this? Are you going to side with this kid again?” Felton’s cold gaze landed on Mister Daglesh.

Renee was supposed to be Leon’s girlfriend, so it was normal that she would protect him. However, Jensen was not related to Leon in any way.

However, he kept opposing Felton and stopping him from harming Leon.

Felton was enraged, thinking that Jensen underestimated him.

“Mister Fermer, I have no intention of being your enemy. I just need to discuss something with Mister Wolf,” Jensen said calmly.

Though Felton was the son of the Western boss, the Daglehs* influence rivaled that of the Farmers.

Hence, he faced Felton without a hint of fear.

“Spit it out, then!” Felton scoffed and decided to observe him for the moment.

Jensen walked over to Renee and Leon. “Mister Wolf, I need to ask a favor. I came to purchase a spiritual herb and I hope that you can sell me one of those.

Don’t worry. I’ll pay the original price for it,” he said sincerely.

As the eldest son of the Daglehs, he was rather talented and reached the Semi-Emperor State four years ago.

However, he somehow lacked the final boost that could get him to the Emperor State.

He came to this bouquet because he wanted to purchase a spiritual herb, hoping that it could help introduce a breakthrough.

Since Leon now owned all the herbs, he could only plead with Leon to sell him one of the spiritual herbs.

He was different from Felton.

As a person accustomed to the ways of the underground society, Felton was arrogant and was planning on robbing Leon. However, Jensen could not do the same.

Like the Morrisons, the Daglehs were righteous people who valued their reputation. Hence, he could never rob someone, and that made him different from Felton.

“No. Sorry, Mister Dagleh. I can’t sell the spiritual herb to you!” Leon shook his head and rejected his request.

All fifteen herbs, especially the spiritual herbs, were crucial to producing effective alchemical pills. Hence, he could not sell any of it to Jensen.

Considering how polite Jensen was, Leon spoke with a more approachable tone.

The Ex-Husband’s Revenge chapter 2488

“Why not? Mister Wolf, these fifteen types of herbs all have different effects. If you want to enhance your power, not all of them will work for you. If you could sell me one of the herbs, I’ll owe you one and help you whenever you are in need,” Jensen said.

Though he did not know why Leon needed so many herbs, he knew that Leon should only need one or two herbs if he needed to enhance his power or promote his health.

It seemed like a small favor for Leon to sell him one of the herbs.

The others were already displeased that Leon bought all the herbs. However, they were all from honorable families. On top of that, Leon was Renee's boyfriend so they would not dare to harm Leon.

However, Felton was different.

He was a member of the underground society and always got his way. He already took the opportunity and attempted to take the herbs away by force.

It seemed impossible for a mere vice president to rival Felton, who had high status and power in the Intermediate Emperor State.

If Leon was willing to sell him one of the herbs, he would be in debt to Leon.

With both Jensen and Renee protecting Leon, Felton would not be able to harm him.

This would be a great bargain for Leon.

"No! Mister Daglesh, to be honest, I bought these herbs to produce alchemical pills. I can't sell you the herbs," Leon rejected his request once again.

He could tell that Jensen wanted to purchase the herbs to enhance his power.

An idea came up and he was about to say something when Jensen interrupted him.

"Alchemical pills? Mister Wolf, I don't care what you want to do. Are you not going to sell me at least one type of herb?" Jensen's expression darkened.

He never heard of Cynthion Group and did not know about the alchemical pills.

All he knew was that he risked angering Felton to stop him from harming Leon.

However, Leon refused to sell just one herb to him.

This seemed ungrateful of him and he was instantly enraged.

Spotting the angered expression on Jensen's face, Renee immediately explained in Leon's place, "Mister Daglesh, you've misunderstood him. Hugh isn't reluctant to help. He purchased these herbs to produce Energy Nurturing Pills. These pills can aid martial artists' training and enhance our power. There's no need to spend so much money on herbs."

Jensen and Felton were both direct descendants of powerful families in the western region. Their status and influence rivaled that of hers.

Leon already crossed Felton and she did not want him to anger Jensen as well.

Otherwise, Leon would suffer even with her protection if he crossed two elites from powerful families at the same time.

The Ex-Husband's Revenge chapter 2489

"What? Miss Morrison, did you just say that these alchemical pills can help martial artists with training? Is that true?" Jensen was shocked and realized why Leon needed so many herbs.

It seemed like the Cynthion Group needed the herbs to produce alchemical pills for martial artists.

This was unheard of and he was shaken to the core.

Naturally, so were the others. They all exchanged stunned looks as they tried to figure out if Renee was telling the truth.

"It's true! I heard from my brother that the Energy Nurturing Pills can enhance martial artists' power and increase the probability of getting a breakthrough. I've taken it a few times and they work great. It's far better than just taking the herbs raw." Renee nodded.

Though she did not know much about Cynthion Group, she once heard about the Energy Nurturing Pills' effect from Hugo.

On another note, Hugo once purchased two hundred Energy Nurturing Pills and gave a dozen to her.

She took them and though she did not know if the Energy Nurturing Pills could get martial artists past the bottleneck of their training, she could tell that the pills worked just as well as any spiritual herb.

Indeed, the Energy Nurturing Pills were made from countless rare herbs, merged by Leon's spiritual energy, which enhanced their medical properties.

Ordinary Energy Nurturing Pills could rival spiritual herbs, so premium Energy Nurturing Pills would only be even more powerful.

"What? Cynthion Group's alchemical pills can enhance the chance of a breakthrough. How's that possible?"

Everyone was stunned.

It was already surreal that Cynthion Group used herbs to produce alchemical pills that helped with martial artists' training. However, Renee claimed that the pills worked even better than the herbs and could help martial artists get past the bottleneck of their training.

This was simply unbelievable.

Apart from the rarest spiritual herbs, even ordinary spiritual herbs would not have such effects.

Hence, none of them believed Renee.

"Miss Morrison, don't mess with us. The alchemical pills produced by Cynthion Group are made from herbs. As great as they may be, they can't surpass the effects of the herbs themselves, not to mention enhancing the possibility of a breakthrough. How laughable!" Jensen snorted.

Though he did not know how alchemical pills were produced, he assumed that Cynthion Group simply cut the herbs up and shaped them into pills to make a profit.

There were countless supplements in the market that were made from herbs, but these supplements would not carry effects that surpass the herbs.

If the same applied to the alchemical pills Cynthion Group produced, the effect of the pills would only be a fraction of what the herbs could do.

There was no way that the pills surpassed the effect of the herbs because it was unrealistic.

Everyone dismissed Renee's claim as nonsense.
