

Chapter 875 Waiting With Confidence

Asher's birthday celebration lasted well into the night.

Everyone who was invited to Dragon Manor had a fantastic time. They partied until the early hours, thoroughly enjoying themselves.

However, Liam seemed somewhat out of place.

He spent most of the party keeping to himself, barely interacting with the guests.

Liam watched Julie from a distance.

He sensed a change in her, feeling she was no longer the same person.

Liam had come to understand that Julie's trust in him wouldn't be unquestioning anymore, especially after she had stopped Lenny and Patty from leaving and had scolded him with Yesenia.

There was now a distance between him and Julie.

This realization made Liam feel a touch of sadness.

Just then, when Liam was lost in thoughts, Asher suddenly jumped to his arms.

Asher asked, "Dad, why are so many people bullying you?"

This question made Liam feel a pang of emotion. At least his son still cared for him.

But before long, Liam shifted his perspective. He planted a kiss on Asher's cheek and smiled at Asher.

"Don't worry, Asher. Soon, nobody in Salem will dare to mess with your dad!"

Asher didn't quite grasp what Liam meant. Liam's gaze grew intense as he looked into the distance, murmuring to himself, "The Williams family, the Ortiz family, even the Hoffman family... They're not significant threats. They are destined to pose no challenge to me! Doyle, wait and see! After tonight, I'll teach your family a lesson!"

The next morning.

Because of Asher's birthday celebration, Liam and his family stayed up late last night.

Suddenly, Yesenia burst into the room, exclaiming, "Wake up, everyone! Get to the living room, now!"

Once everyone had woken up and gathered in the living room, Yesenia appeared visibly upset.

With everyone present, she began, "Just a while ago, Derek dropped the bomb he was going to retire now that the Williams family sealed the deal with the Red Murray Group! He's holding onto his shares, but as for the rest of the major powers in the group, they're all going into Niko's hands! Newell! The members of the Williams family are always up to no good! All the contracts that Julie and I had got snatched away, and we haven't gained a single benefit! Soon, we'll even be thrown out!"

She continued, "Newell, it's shameful that you're the eldest son of the Williams family! Take a good look at yourself. You're stuck in this house and can't even open your mouth at the shareholders' meeting! I'm filled with remorse for marrying you!"

Newell, facing Yesenia's fury, just smoked quietly. He had been a nobody in the Williams family and had held zero power in the group.

When Newell stayed silent, Yesenia shot a furious look at Liam and said, "Liam, you're such a loser! What good have you done since marrying Julie? When are you going to leave my family alone?"

Facing Yesenia's rage, Liam stood his ground and said, "Aren't you the one trying to get your hands on the Williams family's fortune to cause all of this to happen? How absurd! You can't accomplish a thing. You only shout and complain to others!"

Yesenia was left speechless by Liam's retort, realizing she couldn't win against him. Embarrassed and furious, she turned to Julie, trying to rile her up.

"Julie, how can Liam speak to me like that? Fine! I won't interfere in your matters! I'm leaving this family right now!"

Julie just shook her head, feeling helpless. She looked at Liam and said, "Liam, help us find a solution."

Liam paused for a moment before replying, "Just wait. Before dinner, Doyle and his family will be here to apologize."

Chapter 875 Waiting With Confiden. 🎁 +120 Points at most Knowing Tristan was the wealthiest in Salem for a reason, Liam was confident in his intelligence.

Our ads aim to provide better support for authors.

AD I want no ads >