

The Charismatic Charlie Wade Chapter 1691 – 1695

Chapter 1691

Zhiyu's words made Zynn mad enough.

He pointed to Zhiyu, and said angrily: "You will also talk about this at home, dare to speak out to see if your grandpa scolds you or not!"

Zhiyu took out her cell phone and said with a smile: "Or I am now going to give grandpa a call and tell him again in person."

"Hurry up and get it down!" Zynn hurriedly said: "It's all right, I won't talk nonsense with you, anyway, the horoscope hasn't been written yet, you two Hurry up and study the matter of going to Japan, and then set off early!"

Zhifei said quickly: "Let's do this, Dad, this matter is just as Zhiyu said. Let's meet the Takahashi family first, and then Ito family, as the departure time of it, I think, try to get earlier, I am now ready to let the crew. What about starting immediately after lunch?"

Zynn nodded and said: "OK, you guys ready to seize the time to look at , After lunch, don't leave in a hurry. Go and report to your grandfather first. Tell your grandpa about your plans and ideas. If he doesn't have any comments, you are ready to set off!"

"Okay, dad." Zhifei agreed, and then hurriedly winked at Zhiyu and said, "Zhiyu, let's go."

Zhiyu nodded and followed Zhifei out of father's study.

As soon as he came out of the study, Zhifei blamed: "You girl really owe to Sara, why do you want to tell dad about Sara?"

Zhiyu chuckled, and said in a playful tone, “Why don’t you mention it? You must have been hiding in your heart. Do you really have to accept your fate and obey the family arrangements in the future?”

Zhifei sighed and said, “We are from this background, and we have everything we have on the day we were born. The only part of the feeling is that you don’t have autonomy. Don’t you know that? Why do you still choke those words with dad?”

“I’m happy.” Zhiyu said wantonly, and then rationalized it. With short hair and a resolute expression, she said, “Anyway, Zhiyu’s future will never be at the mercy of anyone!”

Zhifei shook his head helplessly: “Okay, I won’t talk to you about these meaningless things. This time we are going to Japan. It may take a few days. You can quickly prepare your luggage. After dinner, let’s go to Grandpa. Then, we’ll be ready to leave after the report.”

Zhiyu hummed, stretched, and said lazily: “Hey, it’s too early in the morning. I’ll get some sleep when I go back to the room. Come call me.”

Zhifei looked at her back and sighed heavily: “Auntie, I really will take you with me don’t worry.”

Tokyo, Japan at this moment.

Charlie had been lying down on the top terrace of Kobayashi’s house all morning.

Today, Paul is busy resolving the remaining lengthy legal documents with the local business department in Tokyo.

Liang and Ichiro first went to the production base of the company.

Although Qin Gang’s medicinal materials will not arrive until the evening, Liang still needs to find out about the production base first, and then arrange the work of transferring JX Weisan in advance.

In this way, after the medicinal materials arrive at night, he can start trial production directly overtime.

Therefore, Charlie became the most idle one.

So, he sat on the deck chair on the terrace, enjoying the unique scenery and cold wind from 100 meters above Tokyo.

Issac walked over at this time and said respectfully: "Master if you are idle, shall we go out in the afternoon? Ginza and Shinjuku in Tokyo are very famous."

Charlie waved his hand: "I have nothing to do with shopping. You go with Mr. Orvel."

Issac smiled and said: "I have something to go shopping with him, the Old Master, I guess is holding back his energy and wants to try Japanese Special Place."

"Then let him Go." Charlie smiled lightly: "That thing is considered legal here, so go if you want."

Chapter 1692

Issac nodded: "If there is nothing wrong in the evening, let him go over and see."

At noon, Charlie didn't go anywhere.

He is not familiar with Tokyo, and he doesn't have a lot of favor with this particularly prosperous modern city.

In contrast, he prefers Eastcliff. The city not only has advanced and prosperous modern high-rise buildings, but also has historical sites with hundreds or even thousands of years of history. The cultural atmosphere is very strong, and the foundation is much stronger than in Tokyo.

However, Charlie didn't want to deprive others of the right to go shopping because he was not interested, so he sent Issac, Orvel and others out.

The group of people went to the bustling Ginza and Shinjuku for a whole afternoon, and when they came back, everyone had a good harvest, carrying a lot of big and small bags.

In the evening, Issac arranged for everyone to have dinner at a Chinese restaurant opened by one of his staff.

After eating, Charlie didn't see anything important, so he said to Issac and Mr. Orvel: "You can move around freely for a while, and you don't have to go around me."

Mr. Orvel asked hurriedly, "Master, do you have any arrangements for a while?"

Charlie thought for a while and said, "I'll go out and walk around by myself."

Mr. Orvel smiled and asked, "Master, are you going to Fengyue Street? I heard that the girls on Fengyue Street in Japan are very punctual!"

Charlie waved his hand: "Forget it, I want to go to the University of Tokyo and walk around. You should go to Fengyue Street to enjoy it yourself."

"To the University of Tokyo?" Orvel asked in surprise: "Master, what are you going to do there? It's not your alma mater."

Charlie said calmly: "It's nothing, just want to go shopping, you don't have to follow me."

Issac hurriedly said, "Master, do you want me to send you a car?"

"No." Charlie waved his hand and said, "After spending a day at Ichiro's house, I want to take a walk."

Seeing this, everyone no longer insisted.

Charlie came out and got into the subway station next to the building alone. After seeing the route map, he took the subway to the University of Tokyo.

He didn't know why he suddenly wanted to go to the University of Tokyo. Thinking about it carefully, it might be because of Nanako.

Although the girl didn't have much contact with him, she was still stubborn and distressed.

Charlie knew that she was not in Tokyo, but knew that she was a student of Tokyo University, so he wanted to take a walk and take a look where she went to school.

At the same time, a luxury business jet modified by Boeing 737 took off from Eastcliff Airport.

Zhifei, Zhiyu brother and sister, and more than a dozen of the Su family members departed to Tokyo together.

The Takahashi family, who had received the news in advance, was very excited about the decision of the Su family to meet them first. The main members of the family had already been waiting at Tokyo Narita Airport in advance.

At the same time, they also booked the best rooms in Tokyo's most stylish hotel, Aman Hotel Tokyo, in accordance with Zhiyu's requirements.

And Yuhiko Ito also received the news. After learning that the representative of the Su family had to meet the Takahashi family first, he was furious.

Coupled with the fact that Charlie had taken 4.5 billion USD yesterday, it has been stuck in his mind. The two things superimposed on each other, making him even more angry.

After dropping more than a dozen pieces of precious porcelain in a row, he secretly vowed that if he didn't get the chance to cooperate with the Su family this time, he would make Charlie pay double the price!

Chapter 1693

Ito's anger did not come from hypocrisy or narrow-mindedness.

During this time, he has been feeling upset.

First, the beloved daughter was seriously injured, and then the future son-in-law Jiro disappeared inexplicably.

Immediately afterwards, he spent 4.5 billion USD and planned to invest in Kobayashi Pharmaceutical.

The contract was signed and the payment was made. Then, Ichiro suddenly returned and unilaterally declared the investment contract he had signed invalid.

Then, Charlie strongly stated that there were no shares, and the 4.5 billion USD would not be refunded. Ito Yuihiko lived so big, he thought he had never seen such a brazen person.

If it wasn't for this kid who seemed to be really strong, plus the Su family was about to come to Japan to discuss cooperation, Ito Yuhiko would really want to kill Charlie immediately.

But he did a great deal of tolerance for the Su family's arrival, but the first stop of the Su family's visit to Tokyo was not to discuss cooperation with himself, but to find his enemy, the Takahashi family.

At this moment, Ito Yuhiko's mentality collapsed.

what happened?

Why have I encountered so many problems recently?

Is it to go to the temple to burn incense, worship Buddha, and eat vegetarian food for a few days?

Seeing him fury, Tanaka did not dare to come up to persuade him for a long time.

Until Ito Yuihiko had enough vent by himself, Tanaka Koichi leaned forward and said, "Chairman, you don't have to be so angry about this matter. Even if the Su family gets in touch with the Takahashi family first, it doesn't mean anything. I have received Their message, they will visit the house in the morning the day after tomorrow. We still have a chance."

Yuhiko Ito said with a black face: "For this kind of thing, it is very important for the Su family to choose whom to meet first. It is as if you are talking about a girlfriend in Osaka, and at the same time you have work matters to go to Osaka. Your girlfriend should go to work first, which determines which is more important in your mind."

Hiroshi Tanaka said embarrassingly: “President, love and career are not the same things...”

Ito Yuihiko said angrily: “Then treat you as a playboy, you have two lovers in Osaka, and now you go to Osaka to see them separately, then I ask you, will you choose to see your favorite one first, or first See the one you don’t like that much?”

Hiroshi Tanaka hurriedly said: “It may also be that I like both, but I can’t meet at the same time, so there must always be an order. If don’t know how to choose, maybe I will use lottery or guess coins. It’s decided in a way, so it doesn’t necessarily represent who I see first, who I like more.”

Takehiko Ito raised his leg, kicked Hiroshi Tanaka distractedly, and blurted out: “Go on, I f*cking use you to comfort me here? Why should I go!”

Hiroshi Tanaka stepped back a few steps, and said, “Mr. President, I’m right outside the door. If you have anything, please call me.”

At the same time.

Charlie has come to the campus of the University of Tokyo.

Although the styles of this city are quite different, the University of Tokyo, like Eastcliff University, is one of the top universities in Asia, naturally with a strong academic atmosphere and a sense of sacredness.

Charlie is a very knowledgeable person, but it is a pity that he did not have the opportunity to receive a complete higher education. This has always been a great regret in his heart.

Back then, one of his parents graduated from Eastcliff University and the other from Tsinghua University. When he was a child, he would often follow his parents to visit these two universities, or accompany his parents to participate in some activities of their alma mater.

In the past, he always felt that he would definitely choose one of Eastcliff University and Tsinghua University in the future. After finishing his undergraduate degree, he would choose a top business school from around the world to study in business management.

The heirs of most big families basically follow this line.

Because the members of the big family are also very clear in their hearts that the more they are born in the big family, the more they have to improve their comprehensive abilities, otherwise, they are very likely to be left out or eliminated by the family.

Among the top ten families in Eastcliff, as long as they are young heirs of the right age, it is impossible for anyone to have never studied at university. Of course, Charlie is the only exception.

If Charlie is not included, the ratio for undergraduates is 100%, and the ratio for postgraduates is also 100%.

Even those people who immediately devote themselves to the family business as soon as they graduate from university will spend their spare time studying for a master's degree in MBA.

It is a pity that Charlie is now 26 years old, and he knows very well in his heart that it is impossible for him to return to school to study for a university or for a master's degree, so this has become his eternal regret.

At the University of Tokyo, you can see young people of different skin colors everywhere, dressed in simple and plain clothes, carrying school bags or holding textbooks, and many people appear to be in a hurry.

At first he was still surprised, and seeing the Chinese New Year in more than half a month, why didn't Japanese universities have holidays.

Chapter 1694

After thinking about it, he realized that although Japanese culture was deeply influenced by China and the Japanese people also celebrated the Lunar New Year in the early years, after the Meiji Restoration, the Japanese tried to escape from Asia and enter Europe, so they changed the New Year from the lunar calendar to Gregorian calendar.

Therefore, the biggest and most solemn festival in Japan is actually New Year's Day.

And now, the University of Tokyo seems to have entered the eve of the winter vacation, and the students are actively preparing for the exam.

When Charlie strolled around the campus of the University of Tokyo, he couldn't help but think of Nanako studying at this university.

If he hadn't seen it with his own eyes, it would be hard to imagine. A girl who looks so weak is not only a top student from the University of Tokyo, but also a powerful Sanda fighter.

This girl is really full of very polar contradictions.

When he approached the library, Charlie was even on the street light pole and saw Nanako's support poster.

The poster has a photo of Nanako wearing a school uniform, and her smile is really eye-catching.

The content on the poster is to call on students from the University of Tokyo to support Nanako in participating in the Aurous Hill International College Sanda Competition.

They even labeled Nanako as "No. 1", "Pride of Japanese Women" and "A Strong Contender for Olympic Gold Medals."

Charlie looked at it and couldn't help shaking his head.

These labels are all put on by classmates who have high hopes for Nanako.

However, these labels have also caused moral kidnapping of Nanako to a certain extent.

It's like telling Nanako all the time that you must win, or else I'm sorry for the strong expectations of us all.

Compared with this kind of utilitarian support slogan, Charlie feels that it is better to simply say to her: "Just work hard, and we will support you even if you fail."

Thinking of this, Charlie shook his head and sighed, took out his mobile phone, and procured this cinema poster as a souvenir.

Seeing that it was not too early, and it was completely dark, he stepped out of the University of Tokyo.

After leaving the University, on the roadside, a girl who sang with a guitar attracted his attention.

There are many people playing piano and performing arts on the streets of Japan, but this girl plays and sings a Chinese song.

This song is Pu Shu's "Ordinary Road".

The phrase "I have crossed the mountains and the sea, and also through the sea of people, everything I once possessed, all of a sudden disappeared like smoke", it suddenly hit Charlie's heart, making him stop.

This girl looks like she is about twenty years old. She is a little thin and not long enough, but she is pretty.

The little girl can sing very well, but many Japanese people passing by, probably because they don't understand, they pass by her indifferently, without even looking at her.

And the guitar box in front of her contained only a small amount of yen. If converted into RMB, it might not add up to fifty.

Charlie inferred from the little girl's pronunciation that the girl should be Chinese, so after the girl finished singing the song, he asked: "Is it Chinese?"

The little girl nodded, smiled sweetly, and said: "I am from Sichuan Province, are you also Chinese?"

Charlie smiled and said, "I am from Aurous Hill."

After speaking, Charlie asked her: "Are you working or living in Japan?"

“Going to school.” The little girl pointed to the University of Tokyo not far away, and smiled: “I study here, occasionally come out to sing and make some money to subsidize living expenses.”

Charlie nodded, took out the wallet from his pocket, took out about one hundred thousand yen, and put it in the guitar case in front of her.

The girl was taken aback, and hurriedly waved her hand: “Sir, you don’t need to give so much money...”

Charlie smiled slightly: “It is a pleasure to meet a compatriot in another country.”

With that said, afraid that the girl would return the money to him, he turned around and left.

At this moment, several young Japanese men came to the girl, one of them snatched her guitar, and yelled, “Who asked you to sing here? Tell us Bunkyo Has the runaway group said hello? Also, what song are you singing now? Are you looking for death?!”

Chapter 1695

Japan is a country where gangs are legal, and there are various gang organizations in the society of this country.

The famous movie star Jackie Chan once starred in a movie called “Shinjuku Incident”. The story background in the movie is the Japanese gangster.

In Japan, the Yamaguchi Formation and Inagawa will naturally be the big bosses at the top of the food chain.

However, not all gangsters are members of the Yamaguchi group and Inagawa.

In fact, there are small-scale gang organizations in various cities and districts.

These organizations generally like to call themselves “rogues.”

The favorite thing these tyrants do is to ride a roaring motorcycle with a variety of cold weapons, and fight fiercely against others in the streets and alleys.

Of course, more often it is actually bullying the soft and fearing the tough, and bullying the market.

The girl who played and sang, seeing a few rioters getting trouble with her, hurriedly begged: "Sorry, don't know this is your site, I won't come next time, please forgive me this time."

"Aren't coming?" The gangster who snatched the girl's guitar sternly reprimanded: "If every unruly person can get away with just one sentence if he won't come next time, where do we put the face of Wenjing gangster!"

The girl asked nervously, "Then... Then how can you let me go?"

The mobster glanced at the cash in the guitar case in front of her. It was obvious that there were at least one hundred thousand yen here. For these idle mobsters, this was a lot of wealth, enough for them to spend a day or two.

Therefore, he sneered: "It's easy to let us let you go, leave the guitar and the money!"

The girl bit her lip, hesitated for a moment, then said with tears: "Okay...I will give you the guitar and the money..."

Another violent clan immediately reached out and grabbed all the money, greedily put it in his pocket, then winked at the other people, and said: "Brothers, there is something tonight! Go to the bar to have a good night!"

The girl choked up and asked, "Then can I go?"

The mobster with the guitar looked at the girl up and down, and said with a wry face, "Don't go! I think you look good, so let's take your guitar and sing a song to the brothers, and then Go to the bar with your brothers for a night!"

"No!" The girl took a few steps back subconsciously, turned around and wanted to escape.

Unexpectedly, the man suddenly rushed over, grabbed the girl by the wrist, and sneered: "Want to run? Don't ask me who Onizuka Ryuji is!"

Passers-by cast their curious and lively gazes, but Onizuka Ryuji immediately shouted: "What are you looking at? The Bunkyo runaway group does things, and who is not afraid of death, just stand still!"

As soon as these words came out, the passers-by who were onlookers suddenly became scattered.

This society seems to be highly polite, but in fact everyone is indifferent.

This kind of indifference is polite on the surface, but shunned by the heart.

No one wants to cause trouble to others, let alone trouble themselves.

Therefore, naturally no one is willing to do what is right at this time.

Just when Onizuka Ryuji was proud of everyone's avoidance, a gloomy voice rang in his ear: "Let her go!"

Onizuka Ryuji turned around and followed the reputation. Seeing that it was the man who had just given the girl one hundred thousand yen, he sneered: "B*stard! Do you still want to be a hero to save the beauty?! Do you know that I am from the Bunkyo gang!"

Charlie said indifferently: "I don't bother to care which group you belong to. If you don't let her go, you will do it at your own risk!"
