Chapter 177

"Dad, Alice is in a relationship with Mr. Jonah Javier whispered in a low voice
"Please stop hooking her up with Insper because she's dating someone new.
You can't force a relationship"

"That's right. Sophia jumped on the train. Seeing the way Mr. Jonaly immediately picked her up after she tell our family, you could tell that their fling started way back."

"Way back?" Newton glared.

"Yes. How else would their relationship grow this fast? That's why I told you it was useless to worry about Jasper and her. A loveless marriage is meaningless. They might as well break free and find their happiness,"

"So, you don't have to worry about Alice. She's joining the Taylor Family they're as good as we are," Sophia muttered softly with hidden intention. She wanted to shatter Newton's Impression of Alice as a prim and proper lady.

Alyssa pursed her lips and stared at her feet. She had long anticipated the arrival of this day, and she was fully prepared to face Newton's resentment.

"Grandpa, please do not blame Alice," Jasper surprisingly stood up for her and shot her a heavy look. "She does not owe me anything at all. I have nothing but good wishes for her relationship with Mr. Jonah."

Still, he was reluctant to offer his well wishes,

Alyssa's eyes wavered in shock. She did not recall the arrogant Jasper ever calling her by her name. She would have been over the moon for that occasion if they were still married, but all she could do was smirk at his Jarring remark.

"Of course, you can do nothing except wish her well. You couldn't win her back even if I asked you to." Hurling and pulling, Newton hit Jasper twice to express his fury. "How can I blame her for dating another man? It's all your fault. You do not deserve a nice young lady like Alice as your wife!" 1

Newton's statement was Jaw-dropping. The expression on Sophia and Liana's faces crumbled. They finally understood that it was impossible to start a drama to provoke Newton, for the old man was hopelessly on Alice's side.

After being reprimanded, a frustrated Jasper said flatly. "I'm glad you're not upset with her."

"Why would I be? I can't dote on her enough! Alice, Mr. Jonah, please come up."

Jonah and Alyssa exchanged looks before approaching Newton. Alyssa pursed her lips with a pitiful expression. "Grandpa, I'm sorry for keeping it a secret from you."

"It's not a big deal. I am not concerned about that. All I want is for you to be happy." He looked at Alyssa affectionately before turning to Jonah with a serious look.

Then, he said, "Mr. Jonah, you are an Important man who comes from a family full of sisters. Do promise you'll look after Alice and keep her from trouble at home. If you don't, I will be knocking at your door for Justice."

Jonah cast an amused look at his little sister as he recalled how she had ridden Silas like a pony and scribbled all over Axel's face in their childhood. He chortled and said. "Sure, I promise."

Newton might be old, but he was not senile. Seeing the love in Jonah's eyes, he sighed gladly and said with regret, "Mr. Jonah, I'll entrust Alice to you. I hope you give her what my grandson failed to offer her. Please show her love."

The color drained from Jasper's face at that moment, as though he was struck by lightning.

"I will," Jonah replied gently with a determined look in his eyes. With a sharp Inhale, Jasper stared hard at Alice, the woman who was once his wife, now standing beside Jonah.

Feeling like an empty shell, he fought back tears.
