

Chapter 999 Meeting Dooley For The First Time

The middle-aged man looked about forty years old. He was wearing a pair of glasses, had a neat beard, and his short hair was meticulously combed back. However, he didn't look happy when he saw Trevor.

That man was Dooley, Zakai's father.

Trevor squinted his eyes. He noticed that the two bodyguards wearing sunglasses didn't have any intention of leaving. They were simply standing by the office door.

It was obvious that Dooley didn't want to let Trevor go.

"Dad! It's all because of them!" Zakai exclaimed as soon as he saw Trevor. "Dragon and Sigrid incited me to misappropriate funds. They deceived me, Dad!"

Trevor sneered, but he didn't say anything. He had already guessed that Zakai wanted to use him as a scapegoat, and that was exactly what happened.

However, Sigrid was anxious. Her eyes widened in disbelief as she screamed, "What the hell are you talking about? Mr. Sanderson! You didn't say that before! I only handled the money when you asked me to do so!"

Regardless of Sigrid's explanation, Zakai shouted, "Shut up, you bitch! How dare you deny what you did? Do you think I

The middle-aged man looked about forty years old. He was wearing a pair of glasses, had a neat beard, and his short hair was meticulously combed back. However, he didn't look happy when he saw Trevor.

That man was Dooley, Zakai's father.

Trevor squinted his eyes. He noticed that the two bodyguards wearing sunglasses didn't have any intention of leaving. They were simply standing by the office door.

It was obvious that Dooley didn't want to let Trevor go.

"Dad! It's all because of them!" Zakai exclaimed as soon as he saw Trevor. "Dragon and Sigrid incited me to misappropriate funds. They deceived me, Dad!"

Trevor sneered, but he didn't say anything. He had already guessed that Zakai wanted to use him as a scapegoat, and that was exactly what happened.

However, Sigrid was anxious. Her eyes widened in disbelief as she screamed, "What the hell are you talking about? Mr. Sanderson! You didn't say that before! I only handled the money when you asked me to do so!"

Regardless of Sigrid's explanation, Zakai shouted, "Shut up, you bitch! How dare you deny what you did? Do you think I would do that if you hadn't instigated me to embezzle the funds? I'll fucking kill you!"

As Zakai spoke, he walked up to Sigrid and slapped her face as hard as he could.

The sound of the slap instantly echoed throughout the room.

Dooley glared at Sigrid. "Zakai is my son, and you're just a measly little bitch. How dare you talk back to him that way?"

The moment Sigrid heard what Dooley said, she fell to the floor, her body trembling.

Dooley lit a cigarette and shifted his gaze to the bodyguards standing by the door. "Come in and break this woman's leg."

Sigrid's eyes widened. She was so frightened, but she didn't even have a chance to scream because the bodyguards immediately sprang into action. One of them covered her mouth while the other one stepped on her thigh.

The sound of bones cracking echoed throughout the room, and everyone inside the office could hear it clearly.

Sigrid's leg was fractured on the spot.

Sigrid held her leg in pain. She was quivering and sobbing nonstop.

But no matter how hard she struggled, she couldn't move her right leg anymore.

Dooley gave the bodyguards a satisfactory nod before he narrowed his eyes at Trevor.

He had ordered the bodyguards to break Sigrid's leg to show his prestige.

Dooley wanted Trevor to be afraid of him and let him know that he was authoritative and that his words were unquestionable.

However, when he noticed Trevor's calm expression, he frowned.

"I don't care what you have to do; you must return the money to me. The capital gap needs to be filled, or else you'll have to face the consequences," Dooley said. He had a sinister smile on his face. It seemed as if he regarded himself as the ruler

Chapter 999 Meeting Dooley For The First Time 🎁 +120 Points at most of everything. "I'll break one of your legs as a warning, you brat. Do you have any objections?"

Our ads aim to provide better support for authors.

12:09

100.0%

📧 🔋 100%

