

Chapter 942 Liam's Persuasion

In the evening of the next day, Liam urged Julie to attend the banquet.

He looked at her with a smile and said jokingly, "Julie, today is my banquet as a general. As my wife, you must be there. Of course, you have to dress up. When we get there, I will give you a grand introduction. From now on, you'll be one of the giants in Salem."

Julie couldn't help looking at Liam when she heard this. Although she said it wasn't necessary, her movements betrayed her. She had already started dressing up carefully without saying a word.

Liam watched Julie dress up with a smile on his face. Then, he lay on the bed and closed his eyes.

He had already asked Carsen to prepare everything for the banquet.

Actually, he was planning to go to Kingland Group again.

Some people still followed him and worked hard all the way. Some of them were talented.

If these people were willing to follow and work for him now, they would have a place in Kingland Group in the future.

But if they were not, he had no choice but to expel them.

At the thought of this, Liam opened his eyes and got up. He left the villa and headed for Kingland Group.

When he arrived at the staff room of Kingland Group, he found that it was crowded with people. He took this opportunity to gather the people he wanted to meet and told them everything he had in mind.

"Since Gallagher has started controlling Kingland Group, it hasn't been doing well. The company is now on the verge of collapse. I have a proposal to all of you. Anyone who wants to work for me will be guaranteed a bright future. I assure you that you will be taken care of," Liam said.

The employees of Kingland Group panicked at once. They started discussing this with each other.

Some senior executives in the crowd were shocked by the news from Liam. They immediately contacted the higher-ups and reported the matter.

When Benedict learned that Liam went to the company to poach the employees, the fire of revenge was ignited in his heart. He was fuming with rage.

His eyes turned cold. He murmured through clenched teeth, "Liam, since you insist on courting death, don't blame me."

Benedict immediately contacted many reporters from different media companies and asked them to wait outside Kingland Group. Once Liam came out, they would make fun of him.

After talking with the employees of Kingland Group, Liam decided to go back home. But as soon as he walked out of the company building, a group of reporters swarmed over and surrounded him.

These reporters had already received instructions from Benedict. So, as soon as they saw Liam, they all pointed their microphones at his face and mocked him.

"Mr. Hoffman, how does it feel to be a gigolo for so long?"

"Mr. Hoffman, I heard that you even asked your wife to be Bowen's mistress for your own future. Are you not ashamed of yourself?"

One of the reporters looked at the camera and said, "To all our viewers, please look at this. This photo is from one concerned citizen. As you can see in the photo, Julie, Liam's wife, is talking and laughing with Bowen. Isn't this the best evidence to prove that Liam asked his wife to be another man's mistress?"

"Just now, you were in Kingland Group, and you shamelessly tried to poach the employees of the company. What were you thinking? Why did you do such a ridiculous thing?"

The reporters' words were harsh and sarcastic. When Liam heard this, he immediately understood what was going on.

These reporters were trying to smear him and Julie.

Liam didn't even spare a glance at the so-called evidence. He scolded coldly, "All of you will be held liable for spreading these rumors. If you don't stop it now, don't blame me for suing you all in accordance with the law."

After saying this, he took out his phone and turned on the recorder.

When the reporters saw Liam's intention to record, they felt a little scared. They all backed away and did not dare to mock him anymore.

But at this moment, Benedict suddenly came. He sneered and said sarcastically, "My dear cousin! Long time no see. We haven't seen each other for a long time. I didn't expect you to still pretend to be so powerful. But how powerful are you? You can only afford to frighten these reporters, right? You are such a loser! You are a disgrace to the Hoffman family!"
