

The Billionaire's Regret By Symplyayisha Chapter 101

Chapter 101

Vicky stared curiously at Oscar.

"We are not expecting anyone are we?"

"It's probably your brother and your sister-in-law."

"Right!" Vicky mumbled.

The door to the room opened, revealing a female nurse who walked in, shutting the door behind her.

"Good morning, you have a guest. Lara and Gabriel. Would you both like to see them?"

Seeing that both couples said nothing, the nurse spoke. "I can always come up with an excuse if you don't want to see them."/

"No, it's fine. You can let them in." Victoria voiced out.

Once the nurse was out of the ward, Oscar turned his attention back to Victoria. "You seem really reluctant,"

"Gabriel has been so difficult to deal with. I would have probably told the nurse to come up with an excuse if Lara wasn't there with him."

"You've met Lara?" She asked him.

"Yes! We were all outside yesterday. Thought I told you."

"Yeah, you said so!"

"If not for her, maybe your brother and I would have made a nuisance at the reception yesterday. He didn't want me to be here and he was ready to fight me. I wasn't going to back down either. He blamed me for being the cause of the accident and promised to deal with me if anything were to happen to you."

"I hope you didn't take his words to heart," Vicky said.

“Even though he was being a bit extreme, I think I understood where he was coming from. He was just being really protective over you which is what any caring sibling would do but he was showing it in an unruly manner.”

“I have not been on good terms with him in my life again. But I hope everything goes well.”

“I’m in high spirits because of this good news.” Vee said, placing her hand on her belly “And I don’t want anyone to spoil the good mood”

“No one is going to steal our joy. Not even your brother. He may be angry for now but hopefully, he’s going to come around.”

“Is it okay to tell Lara about the twins?”

“You want to, don’t you?” Oscar smiled.

Vee blushed. “I don’t know but I feel it’s going to be hard to keep this good news to myself. Lara has been cheering me up since the day I found out I was pregnant. I know the news is going to mean so much to her. But again, I can’t make any decisions without your approval. I will only tell people when you feel we should let them know.”

“Lara is family.” Oscar reminded.

“I know! But you are the twins’ father so we have to carry you along.”

“Anything that makes you happy, my love.” Oscar leaned closer to her and kissed her on the lips.

Immediately, the door flung open.

“Awwww, look at my favorite couples!!” Lara cooed the moment she entered and saw the duo.

Gabriel rolled his eyes, shutting the door behind him.

Lara placed the basket of food and the bag she was holding on the table beside the couch before approaching Vee on the bed.

Oscar got up from the side of the bed where he was seated so that the duo could bond.

“Hey, baby girl!” Lara leaned closer and exchanged a hug with Vee, before taking a seat where Oscar was previously seated.

“How do you feel?”

“Still a bit sore but the doctor said I need more rest.”

Lara intertwined her hand with Vicky’s own. “I was so scared. I almost lost it. What hurts most is the fact the o you have such an amazing personality and to think someone wishes you death?It’s so hard to comprehend.”

“But I’m glad you are getting better and that the baby is safe.”

Vee smiled. She was about to respond to Lara when they heard the men whispering to themselves.

Oscar already approached Gabriel where he stood close to the door. “Can we talk?”

“I’ve got nothing to talk to you about.” Gabriel glared at him.

“It’s about Vicky. We can step out to talk about it.”

“You’ve got five minutes,” Gabriel said, making his way out of the door, and then Oscar followed suit, gently shutting the door behind him.

“I can tell they are going to be best friends,” Lara said to Vicky the moment both men were out of sight.

Vee chuckled, lowly. "You think so?"

She nodded. "I know so. You know Gabriel; he can be proud sometimes but he is a low-key sweetheart. He's got a bad habit too. He's always so confused as to how to make it up to people after a fight."

"I can't wait for him to come around. I'm tired of him behaving like the younger sibling. I'm dying to have my elder brother back."

Lara smiled. "He misses you so much. I promise you that."

"Thank you for being good to Oscar. No doubt you saved him from Gabriel last night."

"You never told me that the love of your life was a very sexy hunk."

Vicky blushed, "You think so?"

"It's so hard to pass by him and not stare twice. Now I understand why he would have a crazy ex. I mean he's got the looks and the money. It reminds me of how adorable Sophie is. Gabriel should be glad I love him so much."

"What do you mean by how adorable Sophie is? You do say Sophie took after my beauty. What has changed now?"

"Well, she did in a little way. But now that I have seen her Dad...." Lara paused, then continued "I'm not trying to piss you off but you know what I'm talking about, babe." She grinned.

"The whole point is, you are a very gorgeous woman, Your baby daddy is very handsome and you both made a very gorgeous baby girl. I'm sure Sophie's sibling will be very adorable too."

"Thank you! And don't let Gabriel hear you about Oscar."

Lara laughed. "Yeahhhh, no need to remind me again of how jealous he can be. But there's nothing to worry about. Your brother has me wrapped around his fingers so no one can steal me from him.

"Njust like Oscar for you. He seems to make you happy and I'm a fan of whatever makes you happy."

11:39 D

Vicky smiled, genuinely grateful to have people like Lara in her life. "Thank you."

"I'm still gonna talk to him though. To let him know that he is going to have me to deal with if he ever hurts you."

Victoria chuckled.

"No, he won't."

"I hope so."

"I'm so glad you are fine and that I can see you and talk to you. I wouldn't have been sane if anything were to happen to you or this precious baby."

"Don't you think you are being a bit biased?"

"Biased?" Lara said with a small frown.

"You said precious baby when there are two in there."

Lara froze.

She parted her lips to say something but no words came out.

Vee smiled.

"Are you for real?" Lara finally whispered and Vicky could see the tears building up in her eyes.

"You are going to be a godmother to twin Babies," Vicky said proudly. "Oh my God." Tears instantly rolled down Lara's cheek. She stood up from where she was seated.

"Where are you going?" Vee chuckled as Lara made her way towards the couch on the other side of the ward. She plopped down on the couch, facing the other side from Vicky, Sobbing.

Victoria's heart melted. "Come on, Lara. Don't be a crybaby."

Lara sniffled, trying to get a hold of herself.

"Lara?"

“This is the most beautiful news I’ve heard all week. I want to stop crying so I don’t scare you away but I can’t.” She mumbled, wiping tears off her face with her thumb.

“You want me to come over there to hug you?”

“Don’t you dare stand up! You are still recovering and you need all the rest you can get.”

“Then come back here. I miss you already.”

11:39 D

Lara obeyed. She rose to her feet and went back to where she was previously seated beside Victoria.

“This morning, we had to see Sophie and Gracie before coming here. I told Gabriel to stop by the gift shop so we could buy toys for Sophie just so she wouldn’t feel sad that her parents were away. While searching for something unique to get for Sophie, My eyes caught a matching twin outfit. It was so beautiful. I was so close to buying it and now I regret that I didn’t. I’m definitely going back there to get it because my god babies deserve the best.”

“I probably sound and look stupid but I am so happy for you, Vee. You’ve had to endure so much and I have no doubt that this is just the beginning of the beautiful things that life has in store for you.”

“I’m happy you have the love of your life back in your life. I’m happy that you are happy with this news. God! I still can’t wrap my head around the fact that you are expecting twins.”

“Congratulations, my love. I’m so happy for you.” She pulled Vicky into a sisterly hug, sniffing.

Chapter 102

“Thank you so much, Sis.” Vicky returned Lara’s hug, trying too hard not to tear up.

“Mama of twins, huh!” Lara smiled, pulling away from the hug.

“How does it feel?”

Vicky smiled. “I know it’s crazy but I’m still processing the news. It’s really exciting and almost unbelievable. Two babies at the same time? It’s definitely not what I expected! I really don’t know what I’m saying. I know I’m going to have my hands full but I’m happy, regardless.”

“Yeah, you and Oscar are going to have your hands full but it is going to be fine. By the way, how did he react?” Lara smiled, looking at Vee’s face in anticipation of what she was going to say.

“I’ve never seen him so excited about something. He’s so happy with the news and so thrilled to experience this with me.” “You both are amazing and you both deserve all the goodies coming your way.”

“Thank you. You have been so supportive of me and my family. I’m so grateful for all the love you showered on me.”

“Don’t mention. You are an amazing person and I want to see you happy.”

“Sophie must be so ecstatic.”

Vee smiled. “I can’t wait to tell her. I see her jumping all over the place once she learns that she’s going to be a double big sister.”

“I’m so excited for her. She has wanted to be a big sister for so long. I’m glad everything is coming together for good.”

“I know being in this place is uncomfortable. I can’t wait for you to get better so you can be out of here.”

“Yeah, me too. How is Sophie? I miss her so much.”

She’s good. Gracie was worried too but we told her that you are fine. You can call her later so you can talk to Sophie too.”

“Yes, I would. Just that Sophie prefers video calls and I wouldn’t want her to see me like this.”

A

“I’m sure she would be fine with a voice call. She misses you and Oscar and kept asking Gabriel if you and Oscar went on a vacation.”

Vicky smiled. "I'm-hardly away from her so her questions are expected."

"I feel so pained that I didn't get that matching twin outfit. I should have listened to my godmother's instinct."

"Stop beating yourself up. There was no way you would have known."

"Yeah, but at least you would be so thrilled."

"Let me guess, the twins' outfit was that of a girl and a boy?"

Lara nodded..

"What if they are two girls or two boys?"

Lara smiled even more. "Your bundles of joy are not even here yet and it feels so good talking about them."

"I guess I'm going to wait to know their genders before I start buying stuff."

Vee nodded.

"We brought you food and a change of clothes." Lara pointed to the table where she placed the items she brought earlier. "Thank you. My joy is so full that I don't think I've got an appetite anymore."

"I understand you but you are eating for three now so food is a must."

"Have you noticed any weird changes in your appetite?" Lara couldn't help but ask.

"A little. I only noticed that I eat a bit more than I normally would."

Lara nodded. "You're going to be eating more now."

"And Congratulations once more. I'm so happy for you and Oscar."

"Thank you." Vee smiled.

"What do you think they could be talking about?" Victoria asked, looking towards the door.

“Sorting their issues. Hopefully!” Lara guessed.

“I hope they aren’t doing otherwise.”

“Have some faith in your brother. Everything is going to be alright.”

“I really hope so.”

“You still look worried, should I go check on them?”

Victoria nodded.

Giving Vee’s hand a light squeeze, Lara got down from the bed and made her way towards the door.

“This better be worth my time” Gabriel glared at Oscar the moment they were out of the ward.

“I’m not trying to please you because it looks like you are not going to change whatever perception you have about me which is fine. But at least let’s be civil since we both have Vicky’s interest at heart.”

“What do you want? I really want to have a talk with my sister.”

“Don’t you think you should give me some feedback on what occurred yesterday?”

“I forwarded the evidence to the officer in charge. We woke up this morning and no good news yet. But I’m sure we will have one soon.”

“Your ex-wife is probably aware of her offense and that is why it seems so impossible to reach her now.”

“Don’t call her my ex-wife.”

“Isn’t that what she is?”

“Just don’t call her my ex-wife. She has a name.” This time around it was Oscar that was glaring at Gabriel.

“And she won’t hide forever. I’m sure they will get a hold of her very soon.”

“I’m also about to reach out to my lawyers for a restraining order against them.”

“Impressive! I saw the guards you stationed at Vee’s place today.”

“I would do anything to protect my family. I thought I would just leave the police to do their job but it seems I’m going to let my boys be involved. They will probably lay their hands faster on Ingrid and Greg.”

“I don’t care about your strategies! Just do whatever you have to do to keep my Sister and niece safe. This incident shouldn’t repeat itself anymore!”

“It won’t.”

“Better! Because I don’t trust you.”

“Why do you dislike me so much?”

“I can’t believe after all my sister went through because of you, she still chooses you.”

“Destiny!”

“You mean suffering was part of her destiny? Please don’t say that word anymore!”

“Trust me, I’m good with not being on great terms with you but I know Vicky won’t want that, that’s why I am trying really hard here.”

“Just give me one reason why I should see you as a brother?”

“You are punishing me for someone else’s sin!”

Gabriel frowned at Oscar.

“You know I’m speaking the truth. All the hurt has come from people around me and not me.”

“I know Vicky has suffered. But I’ve suffered too.”

Gabriel stared at Oscar, not saying anything.

"I never got to say this but Thank you for everything you did for her while I wasn't in the picture. She told me you were more of a brother to her and I really appreciate it. You also played a wonderful role as Sophie's father. Thank you for everything and if there is any way I can repay you, please let me know."

"I hate the fact that you are this way."

"What do you mean?" Oscar couldn't help but ask

"I really do not like going back to things especially when I've got certain opinions about them."

"I've always disliked you and thought that you were of no good and seeing you here trying to make up for everything and trying to prove that you really love Vee?"

"It's definitely a lot to take in, especially when I've made bad conclusions about you. It's so hard to admit that all my thoughts were wrong and that you are not really a bad person."

"Just know that I've got my eyes on you. If you do anything to hurt Victoria, then you will have me to deal with!"

"Does that mean you've forgiven me and that we are now on good terms?"

"You guys okay?" Lara's voice came through.

"Yeah!" Gabriel answered, looking away from Oscar.

"I was about to check on Vee, Gabriel said, after which he made his way into the ward.

"Was he giving you a hard time?" Lara asked, standing where Gabriel was previously occupying.

"He was but I think we are finally cool. Not his fault. He already had an awful mentality about me so it's understandable."

"I'm glad you both are making progress"

"Yeah, me too. He means so much to Vee and I want Vee to be happy. That's why I'm trying my best to see that I am on good terms with him."

Lara nodded.

“Congratulations, by the way

“About the twins.” She clarified after seeing how confused he was.

Oscar smiled proudly. Thank you.”

“I’m so excited for you both

“Me too. I mean, It’s so crazy. My mind was set for just one baby and now I am getting to know that we are expecting two Babies.”

Lara chuckled, “Yeah, sure, you are going to have your hands full

Oscar smiled even more. I know and God knows I am deeply excited for this journey ahead of me. It might not come really easy but having Vee beside me just gives me the confidence that we will do real good.”

“Definitely! And I’m excited for you both. It’s so glaring that you and Vee are meant to be together and I wish you both all the happiness in the world.”

“Thank you. And Thank you so much for all you do for my babe. I’m really grateful”

Lara smiled, “You are welcome.”

Hardly had Lara gone out of the ward when Vee saw her elder brother stroll in

She rolled her eyes away from his sight.

“How are you doing?” He stood by her bedside.

“I’m good.”

“You’re being cold.”

“The last time I remember, we weren’t friends exactly.” Vicky accused, looking him in the eye.

“I’m sorry.”

“For?”

“For everything I did to you.”

Vee didn't say anything so Gabriel continued talking.

“I'm sorry for acting like a douchebag, for not being patient, for sending that Doctor to your office, for all the things I did and said to Oscar, and for every horrible thing I did that I can't even remember right now.”

“I'm sorry, please forgive me.”

“Victoria?!” He called out her name when She said nothing.

“On one condition.”

“What Condition?” Gabriel asked, feeling uneasy already.

Chapter 103

“You will apologize and make up with Oscar.”

“I'm cool with your baby Daddy.”

“Don't call him that! You know the right words to call him so do what is appropriate!”

“Yeah, I know you really love him but he honestly has no status in your life right now.”

“You are sounding so annoying. All I can see is jealousy! Why would you even feel that way about Oscar? He's a good man!”

“I'm not jealous. There is nothing to be jealous of about him. I can't come in the way of two people who love each other so much.”

“You know I love him so much and then you disrespect him every time to freak me out! You are not being fair!!”

“I agree that I might have disrespected him in the past but not anymore. I’ve started to see him as a promising man”

“Then why do you keep tagging him as my ‘baby daddy’?”

“Because that is what he is!” He responded as a matter of fact.

“Stop doing this, Gabriel. I don’t like the sound of that!”

“Sorry that

you don’t like it but that is how I see him until he comes to seek your hand in marriage.”

At this point, Vicky had no idea why she was blushing when in fact she was meant to be mad at Gabriel.

“What do you mean? Don’t you think you are taking this too far?”

“You know I state things the way they are!”

“The last time I remember, you both were engaged but it was ruined. And now that he is here, I wouldn’t want to qualify him as your boyfriend because I don’t like that word. And for him to become your fiance, he has to come through me. Until then, he remains your baby Daddy in my perspective.”

“You are so impossible, Gabriel,” Vicky said, trying to hide her blush.

“You are so stern with him. You make it so hard for him to even want to approach you.”

“You are taking his side so much. I see that you are excited to make it official with him.”

“I didn’t say so. I just don’t like the way you are treating him.”

“Even a blind person can tell that you love Oscar so much and it is so impossible to be the Vivilian between you both.”

“But the good news is that I don’t hate him as I used to. I have opened my mind to the fact that I am going to be seeing him often. I’m learning to accept him in my space.”

“Good! Or else, I am going to let the twins know that you are making their Daddy go through hell.”

Gabriel frowned. “The twins? What twins?”

“Holy shit! You have to be kidding me.” He voiced out when he saw Vee caress her belly.

“Wow, come?”

“Oh, chill, I mean I’m aware that you and Oscar did some very nasty things for you to get here so I don’t want those details. What I’m trying to say is,”

Gabriel sighed. “Weren’t you expecting one baby?”

“Turned out one was hiding behind the other. You are going to be an uncle to twins.”

There was silence between the duo for a while.

“To think I was against you keeping the baby! Holy shit!” Gabriel said with regret, massaging his temple where he stood.

“I was such an asshole.”

“Yes, you were!” Vee responded almost immediately.

Gabriel sighed, taking a seat on the chair beside Victoria’s bedside.

“I know I do not deserve to be in front of you right now but I want you to know that I’m deeply sorry for everything. I was more than an asshole to you and I’m glad you didn’t take my advice then.”

“Afeel so disgusted with myself right now, thinking of the fact that I sent a Doctor to you at the office.”

“I’m so sorry, Vee.”

“I don’t want to dwell in the past anymore. I won’t lie to you that that period was traumatizing to me but I’m glad for the way everything turned out. Not the accident though. But I’m glad that myself and the babies are safe.”

“I just want to be happy and I can’t have my brother and the man I love being enemies with each other.”

“I’m cool with Oscar. I told him earlier. I will apologize and make amends with him.”

“That’s comforting to hear.”

“Thank you for being so positive throughout. I know I wasn’t of great help but Thank you for staying sane and keeping it real.”

“Oscar loves you so much and since you want to be with him so bad, I wish you both all the happiness in the world.”

Victoria smiled. “Thank you.”

“I still see him as your baby Daddy until he proves me wrong.”

“You’re such an asshole!”

Gabriel chuckled.

“I’m serious about that but I love the fact that he’s not being a coward. He is taking responsibility and trying to do everything in his power to keep you and Sophie safe. He is not making excuses for what happened but rather, thinking of how to make things better. I am really impressed because that is what any real man would do.”

Two Days Later

“We have something to tell you, baby,” Vicky said to Sophie who refused to leave her side since she came back from the hospital earlier today. The little girl has been super clingy to her and Oscar.

“What is it, Mommy?” You are not going to leave me alone again, right?” She stared at Vicky with puppy dog eyes.

Vee smiled, after which she placed a kiss on Sophie's cheek. They were all in the living room, sitting on the couch, with Sophie in the middle of her parents.

"No, my love. We are never leaving you alone." She assured,

"Okay, what do you want to tell me?"

Vee stared at Oscar who consented by giving a small nod.

"How do you feel about having two younger siblings?"

Little Sophie stared at her Mom, then at her Dad, and back at her mom.

"Two siblings? Does that mean there is going to be another baby after baby brother?"

Seeing that her baby girl was almost right, Vicky decided to clear the air.

"There are two babies in mommy's tummy."

Sophie's eyes went wide.

"Two babies?" She brought up two fingers.

Oscar and Vicky chuckled at the same time at their daughter's excitement.

"Yes, two babies. They will be with us in a couple of months."

"Wow!! Two chubby baby brothers."

"You are really your father's daughter." Oscar smiled, placing a kiss on Sophie's cheek, ignoring the playful glare Vee was giving him.

"It can be girls or a girl and a boy," Vee said to her daughter.

"Two beautiful baby boys." Sophie grinned.

Victoria mentally facepalmed.

"Told you!" Oscar smirked at her.

"You both are making assumptions based on your desires,"

“Join the winning team”

Vicky playfully rolled her eyes at him.

“I’m excited to be a big sister to two Babies. I am going to play with them all the time and we are going to have so much fun.” The little girl grinned.

Vicky smiled, “I’m glad you are excited about them.”

“That means you

“Okay, Daddy!”

have to think of more names, my love.”

Sophie spent some more time with her parents and when it was her bedtime, Oscar offered to tuck her in since Vicky was still on a very strict bedrest.

“You know mommy is still a bit under the weather?” Oscar said the moment his daughter was settled on the bed. He was seated beside her.

She nodded.

“Good. I want us to take great care of her and make her happy.”

“We can buy her a present.”

“I’ll keep that in mind.”

“But I have something to show you.”

“What is it?” Sophie smiled eagerly.

“It’s a surprise for your mom.”

“Can I see it? Please, Daddy.”

Oscar tucked his hand in his pocket and brought out a small square-shaped box.

He opened it so the little girl would have a glance at what was in there.

“Wowwwww!!!” Sophie smiled even more.

Chapter 104

"This is so beautiful, Can I touch it, Daddy?"

"Sure, but be careful."

Little Sophie nodded with smiles all over her face. She brought her finger close to the box and brushed it through the billion-dollar jewelry.

"You like it?" Oscar asked his daughter even though it was very evident from her reaction.

The little girl nodded, "Yes, Daddy."

"So you are going to get married to Mommy?"

"That's if she says Yes to me."

"But Mommy likes you!" Sophie stated as a matter of fact.

"It's one thing to like someone and it is another thing to want to spend the rest of your life with the person."

"So you are scared?"

"Not really." Oscar chuckled at his daughter's choice of words. "I'm just nervous."

"Really really nervous."

"Do you want me to talk to mommy for you?"

"No...no...this is something I need to do alone. And this is a Secret so you can't tell her about it."

"I felt the need to show you this because I wanted your consent. I love your mommy so much and I want her to be my wife."

"Wow, there is going to be a wedding. Can I be the flower girl, please, and can we have lots of cakes? Please, Daddy, I promise that I'm going to remain a good girl."

Oscar chuckled, not believing that his daughter was making this about her already.

“Yes, you can be the flower girl if mommy agrees to marry me and of course, there’s going to be lots of cakes for us to eat.”

“Cool!” She grinned.

“So do I have your blessing to get married to Mommy?”

“I like you, Daddy. Mommy likes you too. And yes, I want my Dada and my mama to get married so we can stay together forever. I don’t want you to leave us. Please don’t leave us, Daddy.”

“I’m not going to leave you, my love. You all are my family and I promise to be with you every step of the way.”

“Mommy likes you so much.”

“How do you know that?”

Sophie shrugged, “She looks at you when you are not staring, She smiles more when she’s around you.”

Oscar chuckled, “Really?”

“Yes, Daddy. Mommy likes you too, so you don’t have to be scared.”

“This is also very pretty.” She referred to the jewelry. “Mommy is going to like it.”

“Thank you for your kind words.”

“I’m happy mommy has you. You are going to cuddle her to sleep every night, right, Daddy?”

Oscar chuckled, “Yes, my love.”

He closed the box and returned it to his pocket, keeping it safe.

“The twins. I know you want them to be boys but should we have two girls or a boy and a girl, you are going to love them, right?”/

“I’m going to have twin baby brothers!!”

“Come on, Sophie. We need to be prepared for both sides

She nodded slowly. “I really want Mommy to have two boys but I’m going to love my baby siblings even if they are girls or a boy and a girl.”

“Good.” Oscar leaned closer to his daughter and kissed her forehead.

“Let’s get you to bed baby.” He mumbled, reaching for her bedtime story to read to her.

“Christ, Vicky, Something this insane happened and I am the last person to know about it?”

“I was so worried when you didn’t show up for dinner. I didn’t want to but I had to reach out to Bessie since she is the only one I knew that could have Oscar’s number.”

“I received a text from Oscar later that day but he didn’t mention anything about any accident. I thought you both had gone for some honeymoon or so. I feel deeply hurt,”

“I apologize for not letting you know. It has been a roller coaster for myself and my family. But I’m home now and getting better.”

“You need not feel guilty about it. There was no way you would have known.”

“And don’t think you are the last person to know about it because we told no one.”

“It was a matter of safety and we wouldn’t want to put any of our loved ones in danger.”

“I’m so sorry you weren’t informed before now.”

Kathie sighed from the other end. “I’m glad you and the baby are safe and home. It’s just so hard to believe that something like this was happening to you and I was someone else enjoying some romance and shit.”

Vee smiled. "No doubt you've been a good friend and there is no need to feel guilty about anything because you have every right to live your life too and enjoy every romance with your man."

"That's not the point. I love being there for you because I know you would do the same for me. Please don't ever keep something this serious away from me."

"I won't. And to make it up to you, I think I have a surprise for you.'

"If it's chocolates, then I'm not going to accept it. You are not going to bribe me off easily."

Victoria chuckled, "It's not chocolates. But I know you are going to love it."

"You're making me excited. Can't you tell me over the phone?"

"No, you will like it more when you see it physically,"

"If you insist!"

"Yes, I do."

"See you tomorrow, then. My regards to Sophie."

"Yes, Babe. Goodnight!"

Vicky was about to scroll through her phone when the door to her bedroom opened and Oscar walked in.

She smiled at him as he made his way towards her.

Oscar kissed her forehead, before sitting on the bed beside her.

"Hope she didn't give you a hard time? I was about to come to check on you both."

"No, we were lost in our conversation."

"She seems to get more of your attention lately than I do."

"Are you being jealous?"

Victoria shrugged, smiling a little "Should I be?"

"You don't have to. We were just bonding."

"She has you wrapped around her little fingers."

Oscar smiled, "That, I cannot deny."

"How are you feeling now?" He brought his hand to her face and caressed her cheek. The little bruises on her body, especially the ones on her face were slowly starting to fade

"Better." She smiled.

"I'm glad to hear that. I want to kidnap you so bad."

Victoria smiled even more, loving the sound of it. "Really?"
away.

Oscar nodded. "I want to be alone with you, somewhere private and very serene."

"All plans have been made already."

"Then what's delaying you?"

"I'm obeying the Doctor's orders. I want you to be stronger before we embark on the trip. It's going to be beautiful and mind-blowing. I promise you."

"You are making me excited. We can ditch the Doctor's orders if you want."

"I'm tired of this environment too. Please kidnap me."

Oscar chuckled

She nudged him. "Don't make fun of me."

"I'm not. I'm just trying to figure out who is cuter. You or Sophie?"

"It's definitely me."

“I love to see you happy and free.”

“I have you by my side, so I have no reason to be sad. I can’t wait for the threats to be over, so I can have my happily ever after with you.”

“Hey,” Oscar ran a finger over her lips. “There are no threats anymore. And no one is going to ever come in our way. It’s true we have enemies but I promise you that they will be out of our lives for good very soon. You have nothing to be afraid of.”

“I trust you, but I don’t trust them.”

“I refused to say anything in detail to you because I don’t want you to worry. But be rest assured that Gabriel and I are taking care of everything.”

“It must be so exhausting for you,” she whispered, staring deep into his eyes.

“Protecting you and my kids? No.”

“I mean the betrayal from almost everyone in your family and yet you are being strong for us.”

“I’ve honestly moved on from that. I just want to focus on what makes me happy and that’s you, Sophie, and my little boys.”

“Between you and Sophie, I don’t know who is more annoying.”

“You need to quit pretending as though you don’t wish to have two little Oscars.”

“Oh, you mean the award?” She grinned.

Oscar chuckled, leaning closer to her belly. “Even though Mama doesn’t agree with me, I’m going to love you both regardless.” He placed two kisses on her belly through her nightdress.

Six days Later.

Mykonos, Greece.

Victoria slept all through the journey to Greece. It was her first time flying on a private jet and she enjoyed every bit of it. The same for Sophie as well.

After what felt like forever, they got to Mykonos at exactly 8:18 p.m.

Sophie was still fast asleep so her Dad carried her as they descended the plane for the car waiting to take them to the Villa.

Oscar sat in front with the driver, then Vicky, Sophie, and Gracie occupied the back seat. They had brought her along so she would take care of Sophie especially when they would need some privacy. It was Gracie's first time in Greece too.

In about twenty minutes, they got to the villa.

The driver got down immediately and started bringing out the luggage from the trunk of the car. There were not many bags because Oscar insisted that he would take them shopping.

Gracie helped herself down with sleeping Sophie in her arms. She had smiles all over her face, loving the environment already.

Victoria froze where she stood.

Oscar snuck his arm around her waist. "You like what you see?"

"This is so beautiful, honey." She whispered, not tearing her eyes away from the Villa before her.

Yeah, it was dark, but the beauty of the environment and the house itself couldn't go unnoticed. It was one of those gorgeous villas that one would see in magazines and on TV.

"My family deserves the best so here we are!"

"Let's go in." With his hand on the small of her back, Oscar ushered Vee to the entrance. They were almost there when a woman in a dark blue uniform who seemed to be in her early forties came out and approached them.

"Good evening. And you must be Mr. Wayde." She directed at Oscar, her thick greek accent not going unnoticed.

"I'm Anna. Welcome to Greece and I have no doubt you are going to enjoy your stay here."

Oscar smiled at her, “Thank you. This is my Love, Victoria, my daughter Sophie, and her nanny, Gracie.”

“Please can you show them their suite and also help with the bags?”

“Sure!” Please come with me.” She said to Gracie who had Sophie in her arms.

“Let’s go,” Oscar said to Vicky when the others were out of sight. He opened the door and ushered her in.

“Should we take a tour first?”

She smiled, nodding eagerly. And with their hands intertwined, they explored the villa including the outdoor lounge area that had a pool, as well as a breathtaking view. And before the duo knew it, they were back in the living room.

“We had a long flight. You should rest. We will explore the city tomorrow.”

Vicky nodded, walking side by side with Oscar to where she thought was the master bedroom.

She knew he was right. Even though she slept throughout the trip, she was still so tired.

“You go first!”

Vee playfully rolled her eyes and went ahead to connect her hand with the door handle. She pushed the door open stopped in her tracks at what she saw. Tears instantly welled up in her eyes.

Rose petals along with candles were beautifully placed on the pathway that led to the bedside. Balloons as well as star decorations were hung up from the ceiling and the bed was filled with gifts, there was hardly any space on it.

The tears Vicky was trying to hold back finally rolled down her cheeks.

Seeing that she was not moving an inch from where she was, Oscar came to her rescue.

He had no idea what to say either so he connected his hand with her cold one and ushered her in but she refused to follow him.

Oscar turned around to look at her. She shrugged her hand from his and was about to wipe her tears away with it but he beat her to it. He brought his hand to her face and wiped the tears away with his thumb.

“Let’s go in.”

She shook her head immediately.

“Why?”

She said nothing but continued shaking her head.

“I’m already tense as hell. Don’t make it worse. Please.” He said to her with pleading eyes.

“When did you come up with this? How did you manage to pull everything together?”

“There’s nothing a man cannot do for the woman he loves. There is no length he can’t go just to put a smile on her face. You are amazing, Vicky, and you deserve every good thing this life has to offer.”

“Let’s go in.” He intertwined his hand with hers again, she didn’t.

time around hoping that she wouldn’t refuse him and thankfully

Shutting the door behind them, Oscar ushered her deeper into the room,

Vicky started tearing up again when she saw this other part of the room. The decorations were extended to the balcony and from the glass window that separated the bedroom from the adjoined balcony, She could see a table for two set up already.

Vee had no idea what all of these were for but she had a feeling it could be what she was thinking and because of that, she wasn’t sure that her heart could contain all that was about to come.

“This is so beautiful, Oscar. I see why you didn’t want us to bring any stuff from home.”

She sniffled.

“I used to think I was a strong woman but seeing all of these, I admit that I am not one.”

“A few days after I birthed Sophie, I was able to convince myself that I would be better off without you or any other man. And that there was nothing any man could give me that would make me happy as long as I had money to gift myself whatever I wanted.”

“I would always turn down men, dates, and even friends’ hangouts. Thinking about it all right now, I admit that I was probably a bit bitter but it didn’t matter to me because I had my daughter.”

“Seeing all of these reminds me of how much you spoiled me and made sure I had everything. This proves that no matter how strong one can be, it still feels good to be pampered, to know you are loved and deeply appreciated by a man. In as much as I wouldn’t want to admit it, I won’t lie that I missed that feeling.”

Hardly had Victoria finished making her speech when She saw Oscar tuck his hand into his pocket and bring out a squared shape box.

She buried her face in her hand and was about to walk away when he held onto her by holding her arm.

“Babe, look at me.”

She paid no attention and he ended up using his finger to raise her chin so she could look him in the eye.

“This was bound to happen and no one is going to stop it, not any third party or enemy, my nervousness, or your shyness.” “God knows I have been wanting to do this shortly after we met but I didn’t want to scare you away. I know I have hinted at the topic severally but you never gave any response so I thought that you were not ready for it.”

“But I’m tired of waiting and I honestly can’t wait to make things right.”

Oscar opened the box and showed it to her.

Vicky’s heart swelled with so much pride the moment her eyes connected with the piece of jewelry that was beautifully seated in the box.

Before she escaped from his presence again, Oscar felt this was the right time. He dropped down to one knee with the box in his hand.

“I know I have done this before but I put it to you that this time around, it is real and a forever deal.”

“Never have I loved anyone as much as I love you, Victoria. I want nothing more than to spend the rest of my life with You. You are everything and more that I would want in a woman and it would be a pleasure to have you as my wife.”

“I promise to live the rest of my life making it up to you, putting a smile on this beautiful face of yours, and being the best husband I can to you and the best father to our kids.”

“I have never felt the desire to want something so bad and to take care of it like the way I do towards you.”

“Please say YES to being mine and let’s show the world what it means to be in love with the most gorgeous woman on earth.”

“Victoria, will you marry me?”

She nodded.

Seeing that Oscar didn’t react or move an inch, She voiced out her thoughts.

“Yes, my love. I’ll marry you.” She said and stretched out her fingers towards him.

Oscar smiled. He took out the ring from the box, tossed the box to the side, and then slid the ring into her finger.

Victoria almost started crying all over again when the ring was well-rested on her finger. Apart from how gorgeous it looked, the piece of jewelry fit so perfectly as though it had found its home.

Victoria watched as Oscar kissed her hand before rising to his feet.

He possessively wrapped his arms around her waist, pulled her closer to himself, and placed a deep kiss on the crown of her head.

“Thank you! I wasn’t sure of your reaction but Thank you for putting a smile on my face.”

“You thought I was going to say NO?” She said with a small smile playing on her lips.

“I know

you like me. But I wasn’t sure if you were ready for this.”

“I gave up fighting my feelings long ago. I tried so much to forget you but it was as if the more I tried to let go of you, the more I ended up loving you even more.”

“I’m tired of fighting the way I feel about you so I made up my mind to go with the flow. If this is the next chapter life wants to take us to then I’m absolutely ready to face it.”

“With you by my side, I know we would be able to conquer anything. Thank you for making me the happiest woman in the world. You made me cry so much tonight. I was hoping we would come in to sleep.”

Oscar chuckled, stealing a kiss from her. “I’m never going to do the bare minimum for you. You are my baby girl and I am going to make sure you lack nothing.”

“Thank you. I am definitely going to frame this statement for little miss Sophie, to remind her you are mine, especially on days when she starts to boss you around.”,

Oscar laughed out loud. “She has never been a threat and never will be. You both have special places in my heart.”

“Thank you too for making me the happiest man on earth. I give you my word that you are not going to regret this.”

“Do you care for an engagement party?”

Victoria nodded, smiling.

“We will have one when we get back home.”

“I can’t wait for you to be my wife.”

Victoria laughed out loud. “You know you can just say it, right? Instead of going through corners.”

“If you insist.” Oscar smiled shyly.

“I really can’t wait for you to be Mrs Wayde.”

“Oh, really?” She teased.

“Yeah. I don’t want anyone to steal you from me.”

“Even with this?” She waved her hand at his face, so he could see the ring properly.

“I still can’t wait until you are officially mine.”

“When would you like for us to have the wedding? Before or after the twins are born?” He asked her.

don’t think I would have the patience to wait till after they are born. I can’t wait to call you my husband.

Oscar smiled, “You’ve got a date in mind?”

“We can have it any day after this vacation. It’s going to be small and very intimate anyway. I don’t know too many people and I am sure you would want to invite your family too.”

“I don’t know too many people either. My parents are definitely excluded from it, I don’t have friends either. It’s probably going to be just Fedora, her husband, and my niece.”

“I know you might not want an elaborate wedding but I want you to know that we can have the wedding anywhere you want it. I don’t mind flying our loved ones to any part of the world we choose to have it.”

“Remind me who you are again?” She teased.

Oscar chuckled, “I mean it, babe.”

“I’ll think about it.”

“Good!” He leaned closer and kissed her forehead.

“You want to open your presents first or you want us to have some food?”

“What are the presents for? To bribe me into saying

“Not to bribe you. But because you deserve them.”

And where the hell are we going to sleep?”

Victoria smiled, taking a glance at the bed again. They were filled with mostly designer items. She could tell from the packaging.

“These are a lot but I’m not complaining. I like that you are spoiling me.”

“Wait till you unbox them.”

Victoria blushed.

“Can we eat, then come back to them”

“Of course, babe.”

“Thank you.” She tiptoed, kissing him.

“What for?”

“For making me cry, smile, and feel loved at the same time.”

“You don’t have to thank me, baby. Let’s get you and these cuties something to eat.” Kissing the side of her forehead, Oscar directed her to the adjoined balcony.

Just as she noticed earlier, the table was set already. Oscar pulled out a chair for her after which he served her some food and poured her some fruit juice before sitting opposite her.

They both ate and had conversations in between.

Once done, they went back to the room, and he watched Vicky with smiles on her face as she unboxed all the gifts he got her. And once she was done checking them out, Oscar assisted her in arranging them back and putting them in the closet.

The duo changed to their nightwear, after which Oscar made sure Vicky took her medications/

“I miss my sexy nightdress!” Vee frowned looking into the mirror at the vanity area

“Why?” Oscar said, walking to where she was.

“I used to look sexier in them but I can’t wear them anymore because of the twins.”

“We will go shopping tomorrow,” Oscar said, dropping down to his knees. He raised her cotton nightdress up a bit and placed two big kisses on her bump which seemed to grow bigger every day.

“Daddy loves you both so much. Continue to be good to mommy.” He said, lovingly caressing her belly, then stood to his feet.

“You look good in anything but we can always shop for some more sexy maternity sleepwear.”

“I like the sound of that. It will help me in seducing you the most.”

Oscar smiled, “If only you know you don’t have to do too much to turn me on.”

“Then what is stopping you from touching me right now?” She pouted.

“Maybe I am considering the fact that you need to rest after the long flight we had.”

“Who said I am too tired for anything you have in mind?” She bit her lower lip.

“Don’t tempt me, Woman!” He said with a voice filled with desire, closing the gap between them.

“Fuck you !!!!!” Oscar grabbed Vicky’s hand harshly but carefully, he ushered her to the bedside, and pulled her dress over her head, after which he guided her to the bed and made her position herself in a doggy style.

Victoria swallowed in anticipation when she saw Oscar taking off his clothes.

She knew it was going to be one hell of a long night for the two of them.

Vee decided to sleep some more since she was cuddled in the arms of the man she loved most in the world when that familiar voice came through.

“There was a party in here?”

“But how come I didn’t get cake?”

“Is there cake left for me, Daddy?”

Victoria mentally facepalmed, shutting her eyes tighter. Yet again, She and Oscar were naked under the duvet.

Chapter 106

“Wow! The decorations are so pretty. Why didn’t you invite me to the party for some cake?” Sophie voiced out, taking slow steps, approaching the bedside, ignoring the fact that her parents were very much sound asleep.

Victoria felt Oscar caress her side profile under the duvet.

“I know you are awake.” She whispered

“Yes, baby!” He responded in the same tone, placing a kiss on her neck.

“You seem so relaxed.”

"It's much expected after what happened last night. Or is there anything that is supposed to bother me?"

"I can feel your dick poking me."

"You want us to go another round?" He teased.

"Don't be silly, Oscar. I mean we are naked under the blanket and Sophie is here. She is going to ask questions." Vicky mumbled, though trying to keep her tone low.

He smiled, "We've got nothing to be embarrassed about. We love each other and we are almost official."

"But your daughter is not going to understand that. I feel she is too young to see or comprehend all of these."

"Just stay this way. I will take care of this." He placed a kiss on her cheek before turning to the other side of the bed, still covered with the duvet, coming face to face with his daughter. He met her tiny hand halfway. She was about to tap him to wake him

"Good morning, Daddy!" She mumbled frowning.

Oscar leaned closer to her and kissed her forehead.

"Why the long face, baby?"

His eyes followed his daughter as she took a 360 glance around the room. The decorations from last night were still very much intact.

"You and Mommy had a party and I wasn't invited."

"Is that why you are angry?"

"I didn't get to eat cake!" She pouted.

Oscar smiled. He brought his hand closer to her cheek and caressed it.

"The surprise was for Mommy and there was no cake."

Hearing her Father say so, Sophie's aura changed immediately as her face lit up. One wouldn't even believe that she was the one with the long face a second ago.

"You told her to marry you?" She whispered but Sophie was bad at whispering. There was no difference between her talking loud and trying to keep calm.

Oscar nodded.

"Wow, I'm proud of you Daddy!"

"Oh really?" Oscar chuckled.

"Yes!" Sophie nodded.

"There is going to be a wedding, Sophie is going to be a flower girl and I'm going to have more baby brothers."

"More baby brothers?" Oscar reiterated with a smile plastered on his lips.

"Yes, Daddy."

"How many do you have in mind?"

"Five brothers and One sister. We will be Seven all together."

"I just love you so much!" Oscar smiled beautifully at his daughter. He knew he didn't mind having more kids with Victoria. "I love you too, Daddy."

"Have you had breakfast?" He asked because he could see that his daughter was all cleaned up.

"Gracie is making breakfast. I was missing you and mommy, that's why I came to check on you. Though Gracie warned me that you both might be sleeping."

"Mommy is a bit tired and she needs to rest some more because of the babies. Can you give us some more time? We will join you and Gracie soon and we can go out if you want to."

Sophie smiled, nodding.

“Bye Daddy.”

“Bye, my love.” He was able to kiss her on the cheek before she took her leave.

The moment the door was shut, Vicky sat up with the duvet covering her chest area and her back rested against the hardboard.

“Five brothers and one Sister?”

Oscar smiled. “I agree with her. That means we have four more babies to go.”

“I’m never letting you have sex with me again.”

Oscar laughed out loud, “You mean it?”

“I’m not letting you touch me again.”

“You know that is impossible?”

“Wipe that smirk off your face, Mr Wayde.”

“You look so cute when you’re furious.”

Vee playfully glared at him.

“You know we would eventually have to agree about this, right?”

“It’s crazy you think that I’m going to give in.”

“I’m being hopeful, my love.”

“Then be ready to get disappointed.”

“We shall see about that!”

Vicky playfully glared at him.

“Sophie knew about the proposal?”

“She saw the ring first?”

“I see!”

“Are you jealous?” Oscar asked with a knowing smile playing on his lips.

“Not really. I’m just shocked that she knows about it.”

“I wanted her blessings so I had to talk to her. I was also nervous about it and she gave me all the support I needed.”

“She was happy that her mommy was going to have someone that would cuddle her forever and she made me promise never to leave you all alone.”

“I constantly have to remind myself of her age.”

Oscar smiled, having his proud father moment. “I would be so damn jealous if anyone else was to be her Daddy. We made an adorable baby.”

“Our bodies understood their assignment.” Vicky smiled proudly.

“Our boys will definitely be the same.”

“I hope you still remember our bet! Don’t say I didn’t warn you!” Victoria cautioned.

“I hardly lose!” He winked at her.

“Be prepared to have your first experience of it. Vicky said and then it hit her, “Did you have the same talk with Gabriel?”

“I did. It took a lot of effort but he eventually gave his blessings. He made me sign a contract though.”

“A contract?” Vicky frowned. “What contract?”

“That should in case I hurt you, he is going to kill me, and then feed my body to the dogs.”

“You are kidding, right?”

“No, I’m not.”

“And you signed it?”

Oscar shrugged. “I have nothing to lose.”

“I know I’m not going to hurt you so I had no reason to be scared.”

“I can’t believe Gabriel’s gut! He’s indirectly selling me out to you.”

“No, he’s not. You should find yourself lucky enough to have someone like him as your brother. He cares so much about you and he is doing all that he can to protect you.” Oscar said, snucking his hand to her inner thigh.

“You are not to touch me.” She playfully glared at him.

“You are pregnant already, babe.”

“It doesn’t matter.”

“You are saying something else and yet your body is saying something different.”

“And what is my body saying?”

Oscar smiled knowingly, “I know what you want!”

He crawled under the duvet and before Victoria knew it, he parted her legs. Her eyes went wide when she felt his tongue run through her folds.

“So... Sophie can walk in on us.”

“She won’t, baby.”

“Are you sur.....fuck! That feels so good, Oscar. Please don’t stop.” She said at a go, subsequently shutting her eyes, enjoying what he was doing to her down there.

He sucked her cunt and subsequently pleased her with his fingers.

Oscar pulled away, after which he pushed the duvet to the side so that they could both be comfortable.

He positioned his dick at her entrance, and smacked his dick against her wet cunt, before slowly sliding into her pussy.

This morning sex was slow and sensual and they both enjoyed it till they came at the same time.

After they both came down from their high, Oscar picked Victoria up in a bridal style and ushered her to the bathroom.

In about thirty minutes, the duo were dressed in clean clothes, ready for the day's activities.

"Mommy!" Sophie ran towards Vicky the moment she saw her coming towards the living room.

She hugged Victoria after which she placed multiple kisses on her belly.
"Good morning cuties."

Vicky smiled, crouching down to say hello to her daughter.

Sophie met her with a hug and she did well by returning the little girl's hug.

"I'm going to be your flower girl." She grinned at Vicky the moment they both pulled away from the hug.

"Of course, you are!" Victoria smiled, caressing her cheek.

"Your ring is so beautiful." She mumbled, caressing the piece of jewelry on her mommy's finger.

"Your Daddy has eyes for really good stuff!" Vicky said proudly. She was sure that it was worth millions.

"I want one too, Mommy. Can I have a ring just like yours? Please?" She stared at Vicky with puppy dog eyes.

Chapter 107

"You will, my love. But not now."

"Why?" Sophie pouted.

Victoria chuckled, "You are so cute." She kissed Sophie's cheek but the little girl wasn't having it.

“Why Mommy? But we like matching. I want to match with you.”

“There is no need to be in a hurry, my love. You will get a ring when you become an adult. And my wish for you is to find a man as loving and caring as your father. You are a Queen and you deserve to be treated as one.”

“Yeah, and She is not dating until she is 27” Oscar’s voice came through as he crouched down beside Victoria, facing their daughter.

Sophie frowned at her father even though she had no deep understanding of what he said.

“Baby!” Vicky chuckled, taking a glance at him.

“I’m serious. I am not going to allow anyone to hurt my princess.”

“I was way below 27 when you asked me to be your girl.”

“I can recall that but it doesn’t matter. I loved you then and my intentions towards “Oh really?” Vicky smirked.

you

were genuine.”

“Yes! I know there are things and certain phases of life that as a parent I have no control over and that she would need to experience herself.”

“I never want to see my daughter get hurt but I know that feeling is inevitable to come from people. But I will try my best to keep people with genuine intentions away from her. I can’t stand to see her not happy.”

“You are sweet but I think you are taking this too far.”

“She is going to attend prom and she definitely has to do that with someone and you know who She’s going to go on dates and all of that. Well except, your plan is to ruin her fun and memories.”

Oscar shook his head. “My baby is going to have the best of experiences and memories. Anyone who has an interest in her would have to deal with me first.

My decision still stands and it is the fact that she is not going to start dating until she is 27.”

“But Ivan said he likes me. Joshua too.” Sophie grumbled.

Victoria burst into a peal of satisfied laughter. “I honestly saw that coming.” She knew the names that her daughter mentioned were the names of people from her school. Probably her classmates.

“You all are just kids. I’m sure they didn’t mean it or they just want to be your friends.” Oscar defended.

“You cannot be in a relationship with your enemy. You all start off as friends and then it grows from there.”

“Stop putting thoughts in my head, Babe!” Oscar groaned.

Vicky laughed,

Oscar was about to say something else when his phone vibrated in his pocket.

“Daddy loves you so much, and I am going to do all it takes to protect you, my love.” He leaned closer to her and kissed her forehead.

“I need to see who is calling.” He said to Vicky before excusing himself.

“I thought I was so protective of you but I have seen someone whose energy is more than mine.”

“No dates for me?” Sophie frowned at her mother.

“You are too young to be worried about all of that. Daddy is just being overly possessive. But everything is going to go well for you, my love.”

“I will make sure we get matching bracelets when we go shopping okay?”

Sophie smiled, nodding.

“Thank you, Mommy.”

“Anything for you, my love.”

“Have you had breakfast?”

“Gracie said food is almost already.”

“Okay, let’s watch some cartoons together.”

Seeing the caller ID, Oscar strolled to the pool area to answer the call.

“What in the hell did I do to deserve this maltreatment from you?”

“What is it, Dora?”

“Really? That is all you have to say? You treated me like I don’t exist and here you are, sounding cool.”

“Or you want to say you didn’t get my messages and my voice calls?”

“You knew I wanted nothing to do with Mom and yet you let me talk to her!”

“Is that why you have been ghosting me? You need to grow up, Oscar! She was there with me and insisted that she wanted to talk to you. I can’t pressure you to forgive her. But you should understand that I won’t be part of the enmity you both are trying to keep.”

“I was angry about that but I wasn’t ghosting you. There is just so much going on with me. Vicky’s recovery, trying to make it up to my daughter, and trying to keep them safe.”

“It’s fine! I have been trying to reach out to you because I was worried about you but something came up yesterday. Before I go into detail, How’s Vicky? I hope she is recovering well.”

“Yeah, She is better now. I’ve just gotten insanely possessive with her now that she is expecting twins.”

“Twins?????!”

“Oh my God!”

“Yeah, we are having two babies. We recently found out.” Oscar said proudly.

He was expecting Fedora to say something, instead, he heard her sobbing.

“Dora?”

“You are not really doing that, are you?”

Oscar didn't get any response. Instead, he heard her snuffle.

“I...I don't know what to say, Oscar. But I'm so happy for you.”

“I know how hard you have struggled, and seeing your love story fall in place for you makes me so happy.”

“Having three kids with Victoria is the best life you can ever think of having. I am sure she won't have reasons to refuse you anymore.” She said, sniffing.

“Vee and I are getting married soon. She said YES!”

“You see that delay isn't denial? I'm so proud of you for not giving up.”

“Thank you too for not giving up on me.”

“I am glad for you, Oscar. I'm really happy for you.”

“I can't believe I'm an aunt to twin Babies.” She chuckled.

Oscar smiled, “Same here. I can't believe I'm going to be a twin Dad.”

FI

“It's good news indeed. My warm regards to Victoria and Sophie. Please let them know that I can't wait to meet them.”

“I know you will meet them soon. Sophie's birthday is coming up shortly, Vee and I are going to have an engagement party and then there's the wedding.”

“But I will let you know when we have a date fixed for the latter.”

“I will be anticipating your response.”

“So will you be returning to California soon? Even if you plan to, I would suggest you hold on for a while because there are -lots of issues that need to be solved.”

“I’ve started doing my best on them and as much as I try to keep it away from you, I think you will come to know about it eventually.”

“Come to know what? What is going on?” Oscar asked, his heart beating erratically.

“There has been some news circulating about you. Ingrid claimed you were violent with her when you both were married. She gave a nasty interview portraying you as a very violent man who appears innocent to the public.”

“She said she was pregnant for you but you made her abort the child. Then you divorced her, because of an Aussie woman who is a gold digger.”

“She’s totally insane!” Oscar scoffed!

“Now you see why I’m so pissed with mom? I mean, if not for the fact that the company was going bankrupt and not forced me to marry her, why in hell would I have a business with that psycho?”

“I know you wouldn’t give a damn about the situation especially when you have Vicky and your kids to focus on. But you know Ingrid is quite influential here too and she is everywhere, making a nuisance, tampering with your integrity.”

“I am in talks with the PR team. I hate how she is toying with your integrity. She went as far as crying in the silly broadcast. Like, she got even more than what she deserved from you from the divorce, and here she is acting nasty!”

“It’s been a few days since I spoke to my lawyer but I am going to reach out to him shortly. I honestly don’t care about what Ingrid is saying but she needs to be taught a lesson.”

“We never shared a room the few times I stayed in the same house with her so I wonder where the pregnancy came from. I don’t remember having any conversation with her to get rid of any baby either. She has a son from past affairs and I made it known that he cannot be my heir.”

“My marriage to her was that of convenience, for the benefit of the company, and it was stated in one of the contracts that in case I don’t have any offspring, then her son is going to be my heir. I am glad I have Sophie and two more on the way to discountenance that.”

“I honestly don’t care about what she is saying or what she is putting out there. But I’m going to take action because of Vicky and my kids.”

“Even though the news she’s spreading is false, I don’t want Vicky to hear about it. I’m afraid it’s going to get to her when it means nothing.”

“I will have my lawyer take care of it. Ingrid thinks she’s smart. She knows the police are after her and that is why she is trying to play the victim. She is going to go down for all that she’s doing. I promise.”

“That’s not all.”

Oscar sighed, “Let me guess, there is something fishy relating to Greg.”

“How do you know?” Fedora asked.

“They are my top two enemies so it is easy to suspect them. I have my guys trailing Greg but I haven’t reached out to them for feedback. What did he do?”

“The cops came to the house earlier today for questioning. He pressed charges for assault against you and tagged me to be a witness.”

“I will have people take care of him. It is evident that he is the one pushing Ingrid to act the way she is acting.”

“I can wait for both of them to get what they deserve so you and Vee can enjoy your lives.”

“Same here. But I know it’s going to happen real soon.”

“Thank you for being strong, Oscar. You are definitely handling this better than I imagined. I promise you that I was going crazy already. And knowing about the twins!!!” She sighed.

“This is definitely a very beautiful time for you and Vee to make up for all the love you missed and also make good memories. I don’t know why they are still hovering around you both when they could actually marry themselves since they are no different from each other.”

"I know their aim is to ruin me and I am not going to give them the satisfaction. I have more important things to be grateful for. But I am sure all of these will be over soon."

"I hope so too,"

"How is my niece doing?" Oscar asked after Fedora's daughter.

"She is good. She misses you and she has been longing to see Sophie too. Hopefully, they will meet soon."

"Definitely! My regards to her and we will talk later!"

"Take care!"

"You too, Oscar said, ending the call.

Not moving an inch from where he stood, Oscar spent the next few minutes, sending messages to his lawyer as well as two other people on his contact list.

He ran a hand over his face, then turned around to take his leave.

"W....what are....when did you get here?"

"You were taking forever and breakfast was getting cold."

Oscar didn't like the tone of her voice so he closed the gap between them. She was just a few steps away.

"Why the long face?" She said nothing, instead she was about to take her leave but Oscar stopped her by holding her still by her arm.

"How long have you been here?"

"I don't know but a while I guess." She said, hardly looking him in the eyes."

"So you heard the whole conversation?"

Victoria said nothing.

“What’s making you mad?”

“I’m not mad at anything!” Oscar saw her eyes get watery as she started to speak her mind.

“I don’t remember being nasty to anyone or wishing anyone bad. You were a jerk when I first came to know you but I never knew you to be a brutal person.”

“All I want is to be happy with you and my kids. But it’s been a rollercoaster of challenges. The bad days seem to be more than the good days. I almost lost my life and that of the twins. Will there ever be an end to all of these frustrations?”

“Maybe we should just go our.....

Π

“Don’t!!!!!!” Oscar stopped her before she could complete her sentence, wiping tears from the corner of her eyes with his thumb.

“I thought we’d discussed this, babe. I told you I was going to handle this. You need not worry about it.”

“How do you expect me not to worry? The truth is that I try to get my mind off it but it still bothers me a bit. We were in there making cool conversations with our daughter but you had to excuse yourself to come attend to the call.”

“I mean, will there ever be an end to this?!” She sniffled.

“Yes, there is going to be an end to this and I promise you that it is going to be very soon.”

“I excused myself from you both to talk to Fedora because she is handling the company while I’m away.”

“Ingrid and Greg are just bitter and they are trying to mess with us but they won’t succeed. I give you my word.”

“But why can’t they let us be?” She whispered, her hands on Oscar’s chest.

“Greg wants you and I would rather die than to see him have you. Ingrid on the other hand just wants to be associated with me for her personal benefits.”

“You trust me, don’t you?”

“I trust you but I don’t trust them.”

“Everything is going to be fine, my love. Gabriel and I are working on it. Those two will definitely get what they deserve very soon.”

“I brought you here so we could unwind and enjoy ourselves. Believe me, we’ve got more exciting things to think of.” “Like?” She smiled, liking what she was hearing.

Oscar was relieved to know she was starting to loosen up.

“The engagement party. We could start planning. Our outfit, the venue, and all the good stuff. Of course, I don’t want you to lift a finger so we can always hire people that are going to be in charge.”

“We’ve got Sophie’s party to prepare for. I have never been present in any of her parties and I want this to be the best party she has ever had.”

“We have our wedding to prepare for too. I know you are going to be the most beautiful bride ever and I promise to give ‘you the perfect honeymoon.”

“We have so much to look up to, my love. Let’s not spend time thinking about those losers.”

Victoria nodded. “Sorry, I made you worried.”

“You’ve got nothing to apologize for, baby.” He leaned closer to her and kissed her forehead.

“I have been wanting to discuss something with you. I might as well just say it now.”

“What is it?”

“After our wedding, would you move to California with me?” He asked, staring at her intently.

“If it were possible to relocate here, I promise you that I would in an instant because that place is filled with painful memories.”

“But my presence is needed at the company and Australia is a very far place to take trips to.”

“I have honestly thought deeply about it but unfortunately there is nothing much I can do. I know you have a life here, family, and friends and the same goes for Sophie. Leaving here would also mean quitting your job but since they are planning to establish a branch in California, then I guess you won't be losing much since you can still work for them.” “I know I am asking for too much but I want you to think about it because I honestly can't live without you.”

“I am saying this now because I want to get us a dream home. The twins will be here soon, they will need their rooms, Sophie will definitely need a bigger room because she is growing and she will have more stuff. Then we need more space too. I can't keep hiding in your room forever.”

“So you don't like staying with me? You've just been pretending all along?”

“No, babe. That is not what I mean. I love staying with you. I am only considering our nearest future, knowing that we might need a bigger space.”

“I want our kids to have access to a bigger environment where they can play and run around. I want them to grow up in what could be described as their dream home.”

“I know this is a lot for you but I want you to please think about it. I don't want to be separated from you.”

“Say something, babe.”

“I don't want to be separated from you too,”

“So you are going to come with me to California?”

“It's going to be hard but do I have a choice?”

“Why do you say it's going to be hard?”

“Leaving my family and friends over here to come start a new life with you.”

“We can always fly to Australia whenever you want to come visit.”

“I know. You are all here acting like a regular guy but we both know it is different when you are in California.”

“You are the son of a Billionaire and you are a Billionaire yourself. You are always surrounded by the most luxurious items as well as multiple guards. You can get anything you want at the snap of your fingers. Not to talk about the paparazzi that always come your way. All these things are going to be foreign to Sophie.”

“You are right, but I will try my best to create a safe and sane environment for her. And the same goes for you and the twins.”

“Sophie is really smart and the most humble kid I have ever known. I will educate her on why I have so many guards around me.”

“I know I’m a public figure and I am sorry that I would have to drag you into my public life. But I give you my word that no one is going to trouble you. You are going to be treated like the Queen you are and I will make sure that you have an enjoyable life over there.”

“It’s so hard to refuse you!!” She pouted.

“I’m Oscar Wayde, remember?!”

“What do you mean by that?”

“I stop at nothing until I get what I want.”

“Oh really?”

“Yes, babe.” He stole a kiss from her.

“I can still refuse you if I want to. So you don’t have to be proud.”

“I’m not being proud. I just want you to be mine.” He smiled, sneaking his arms around her waist possessively.

“I can’t believe you wanted us to end it. That is not going to happen. Not when you have that ring on your finger.” “I didn’t mean to say that either. I was just feeling overwhelmed. So sorry about my outburst!”

“You’ve got nothing to apologize for, baby!”

“I was thinking, since we have a few weeks to find out the gender of our babies, should we tell the Doctor to keep it a secret from us and then we put someone in charge, maybe Lara to take care of it. We can do a reveal at the baby shower.”

“So Lara would know the gender ahead of us?”

“Yes, since she will be the one that will be in charge of the decorations for the baby shower, and she will also come up with ideas for the reveal on that day.”

Oscar smiled, “Sounds cool. We are going to find out in front of our loved ones.”

“Exactly! We will find out in front of everyone and we will know who won and lost the bet.”

“Two boys!” Oscar smirked!

“We shall see about that!”

“Life without you would be meaningless. Thank you for continuously fighting for us.”

“Stop talking and kiss me already!” Vee mumbled.

Oscar smiled, doing as she requested. He buried his lips against hers, savoring the sweet taste of her mouth.

“Again!!!! Come on, Y’all. I’m very hungry!” They heard that familiar voice say.

Victoria and Oscar laughed, pulling away from the kiss.

“Remind me why we brought her along on this trip again!” Oscar mumbled.

Vee chuckled, "Because we can't do without her."

"I know but she is always interrupting our good sessions."

Vicky knew her man was joking but she went on to spill the truth anyway. "You probably haven't been around kids that much. It is always like that with them. They are constantly around you and want to be involved with what is going on with you."

"Just wait till the twins are here. We are really going to have our hands full. You are going to tell me after that if you still want more kids."

"Nothing is going to change my mind. We are getting to baby number 7. We are going to make it work. I know we will have our hands full but we are still going to have time for rest, sex, and vacations. I give you my word."

"I like how determined you are."

This time around it was Vicky that initiated a kiss with Oscar.

"Mommy!!!! Daddy!!!! Come on!!! You can kiss later. Come eat with me."

Vicky and Oscar chuckled, pulling away from the hug.

"I thought she went back inside!"

"Let's go before she gets mad at us." Vee smiled, intertwining her hands with Oscar's own.

Chapter 109

TEN DAYS LATER

The last thing Vicky remembered before they fell asleep was being in the arms of the love of her life.

At some point, she felt him untangle himself away from her. She was tempted to ask where he was going but she was too tired to do so and was carried away by her sweet sleep.

Victoria had no idea how much more she slept for but she felt it when that very familiar body got under the duvet again and placed a kiss on her shoulder. She had her back turned against him so they were in a spooning position.

“Are you awake?” He whispered to her.

“I think so.” Her voice came out drowsy.

“I’ve got good news.”

“You bought me new jewelry?”

Oscar chuckled against her ear.

“I wouldn’t be surprised because you literally buy me gifts every day. My closet can’t even contain my stuff anymore.

Oscar smiled. “I can buy you jewelry if you are craving them but that’s not the news I have for you. It’s better than that so you have to guess.”

“Hmmm. I don’t know. I’m not good at guessing. Why don’t you tell me.” Vee mumbled with her eyes closed, unable to decide if she was still going to go back to sleep or if she should stay awake.

“I got a call from my lawyer. Ingrid and Greg have been charged with attempted murder. So they have a long jail term. ahead of them.”

Victoria’s eyes flashed open. She turned her neck a little, without moving her body so she could look Oscar in the you for real?”

“Yes, my love.” Oscar smiled, kissing her cheek.

He saw Victoria turn her head back and what followed was a snuffle.

“Babe, are you crying?”

They were still in a spooning position so he couldn’t really tell.

“No, I’m not. I am trying not to be emotional.”

eye. “Are

“It took a while but I’m glad those two finally got what they deserved. I told you already not to be worried about it because Gabriel and I were working on it.”

“You have been so resilient about this. Thank you for not giving up on us.”

“I will do anything for you and my Babies. Thank you for accepting me into your life again.”

“Thank you more for everything you do. This is really great news. How are we going to celebrate this.” She whispered, moving closer to him, girdling her naked ass against his cock.

Oscar chuckled. He stretched his hand forward to her chest area and took one of her boobs in his hand, slowly massaging

“You love being naughty for me, don’t you?” He whispered, kissing her neck in the process.

“I want your fat cock in me.”

“Please, baby.” She moaned, still grinding herself against him.

Still, in a spooning position, Oscar withdrew his hand from her boob, adjusted her a bit by making her arch her back, then he slowly pushed his cock into her from behind.

Once she was comfortable with size, Oscar began to thrust into her in slow motion. His hand went back to her boob but this time around, he started fondling her nipple.

“Feels so damn good, sleeping and waking up naked beside you.”

“You want us to do this forever, don’t you?”

She nodded, “Yes, baby, yes, just like that. I love you so much.”

“I love

you, more.”

The duo continued to pleasure themselves until they both came in each other.

“Fuck!” Oscar cursed, pulling out. He cuddled her closer to him so they were back in their intimate position.

“Sex with you is so amazing! It is almost as though I can’t get enough of you.”

Victoria smiled, finally changing her position, and turning around to face him, “I love the sound of that.”

Oscar caressed her now visible bump.

She chuckled, “I think my stomach is your best part of my body.”

“You know I love so many parts of your body so don’t put me in a tight position.”

“So many parts? Really?”

“Yes. Your belly because that is where my boys are growing. Your pussy because it is always so wet for me. I would kill to suck your boobs every day. It is so perky, soft and your nipples are always so erect whenever you are with me.” Oscar stopped caressing her belly. He brought his hand to her nipple and started playing with it in a circular motion, making her giggle.

“Your lips because I love to taste you and your face because you are the most beautiful woman I have ever known.”

“You are so good with words.”

“I’m not. I speak from my heart whenever I am with you.”

“You are starting to turn me on again.” She gestured to him playing with her nipple.

“You don’t like it?”

“I love it but you know that it won’t be yours very soon.”

Oscar frowned. “What do you mean?”

“The twins are going to be feeding from it.”

“That hurts. How long will it be?”

“Why? You wanna mark your territory so fast?”

“I want to know so I will prepare my mind.”

“Then I think you should put your mind up for a year.”

“What?!”

Vicky burst into a peal of satisfied laughter. She was more amused by the look on his face, rather than his response.

“Why does it have to take that long? It is true I don’t know much about Babies but I know there are baby foods at the supermarket. Can’t they eat that?”

“Are you trying to be stingy towards your babies?”

“No. Not at all. As far as I know, I am being really generous to share your boobs with them. So why would they feed on them for a year?”

“Do you still want Seven kids?”

“Come on, babe. You know I do but don’t use this to scare me away.”

“You look so cute right now!” Vicky grinned.

“I never knew you could be a bit stingy.”

“When it comes to your body, then I am highly possessive.”

“I see! I meant to prepare your mind for a year. Of course, they would have baby food along with my breast milk. Well, unless you want some breast milk too.”

Oscar sighed. “You are right! Kids truly invade privacy.”

“Victoria smiled, “It can’t be that bad.”

“Don’t worry, I will find my way around it.”

“I trust you would.””

“Our baby girl is 5 today. I can’t believe time has gone by so fast. It was just like yesterday when I first held her in my arms.” “You did so well in raising her. I am so proud of you.”

Vicky smiled. “I am glad you are here to celebrate with her. She is going to be so happy.”

“There is nowhere I would rather be than being here.”

“I woke up to a text from Fedora. She and her daughter arrived at the hotel at midnight. They will join us at the party.”

“I feel so nervous meeting her,” Vee confessed.

“Why?”

“I don’t know. I have always felt that way. Even before we separated. I’ve always wondered what she would think about me having a relationship with her brother. If she would accept me or not. And have always admired her and her work ethic. You have an amazing sister.”

“You need not worry about anything. Fedora has been dying to meet you and speak to you. I’m sure you both are going to bond well.”

“I hope so too.”

“I will let you see for yourself.”

She nodded.

“I think we should go see the birthday girl! She is always coming to the room to disturb us. I think we should return the favor.”

“Yes, baby.”

Kissing her forehead, Oscar and Vee got off the bed. They went to the bathroom, cleaned up, then changed into fresh clothes.

Chapter 110

“She has literally been waiting for today for days and here she is, looking so exhausted as though she single-handedly planned her birthday party.” Victoria smiled, looking towards her daughter who was still sleeping soundly on her bed.

Oscar chuckled. “She’s so perfect!”

Vee playfully rolled her eyes and approached her daughter’s bedside. She sat on the bed, brought her hand to her daughter’s face, and caressed her cheek with the back of her palm.

“My love.”

“Sophie darling.”

The little girl groaned, turning to the other side of the bed.

“You are going to be late for your party.”

“I want to sleep more, mama.”

“Don’t you want to see your presents?”

The little girl’s eyes flashed open, making Victoria chuckle.

“Presents?”

“It’s your birthday baby girl. You were so excited about today. What’s going on.”

“Good morning Mommy.” She sat up, rubbing the back of her palm against her eyes.

“Come over here.” She crawled to Vicky and Vee made her sit on her lap.

“Happy birthday, my love. Thank you for coming into my life and making me your mommy. You have indeed brought me so much joy. I love you so much and I am going to do whatever it takes to make sure you are always happy.” Vicky kissed her daughter’s cheek and then hugged her.

“Thank you, mommy. I love you too.”

She crawled out of her mommy’s arms to her Daddy’s. “You are here for my birthday.”

“Of course, my love. I wouldn’t miss it for anything in the world.”

“I love you, Daddy.” She wrapped her tiny arms around Oscar’s neck.

He smiled, kissing her cheek. “I love you too, my baby.”

“No present for me?” She looked at Oscar with a sad face after pulling away from the hug.

“This is my first time celebrating your birthday with you. Of course, it’s impossible not to get my baby any presents.” The little girl smiled. “So Where’s my present?”

“Are you ready to see it?”

She eagerly nodded.

“Babe, you ready?” He asked Vicky. As confused as Vicky was, She still nodded.

They all rose to their feet and with Sophie in his arms, Oscar led his family to the living room.

“Wow! Wow! Wow! Thank you, Daddy! I love you so much. Thank you, Daddy!”

Oscar chuckled. “You’re welcome, my love.” He placed her on her feet and she quickly ran off to the surprise area. Oscar converted a part of the living room into a surprise area for Sophie. There were balloons and other beautiful decorations on the wall that screamed ‘Happy Birthday Sophie: There was a table set up and the table contained 5 beautiful themed cakes of all fairytale princesses. And around the table were lots of wrapped gifts in different sizes including a bicycle and two scooters.

It was such a beautiful sight to behold that Vicky had no idea when she started crying.

Oscar approached her, wiping tears off the corner of her eyes with his thumb.

“You like it?”

She nodded, sniffing, “It’s so beautiful.”

“How did you come up with all these?”

“My urge to want to make her day special made me think out of the box. I know she is going to have a party where family and friends would celebrate her but I wanted her to have a special moment with us too.”

“I couldn’t decide on any particular item to buy so I ordered the most precious items I could find for a 5-year-old. And Gracie helped me out in setting it all up. One of the reasons I slipped out of bed early this morning.”

“She looks so happy,” Vicky said, taking a glance at Sophie who was already checking out her gifts.

“Thank you.”

“What for?”

“For all that you are doing for her.”

“There is no need to. It is my duty to take care of you all. Whatever I do, I want you to understand that it came from my heart and I am happy to do it.”

Vicky smiled. “I am so lucky to have you.”

“You can say that again!” Oscar smiled too.

“I know we haven’t discussed this but I have reached out to the personnel in charge, where she was born.”

“I didn’t think twice about giving Sophie my surname because obviously I was not happy with you, and I never even thought our paths would cross anymore.”

“But now that you are in the picture. I guess it only makes sense for her to officially be her father’s daughter. The twins will be here in a few months and they are going to have your name too.”

“You don’t know how much this means to me but Thank you so much.”

put

“I have been trying to put some inheritance in her name but the surname has been giving me some issues. Some I on hold, while some, I appointed a trustee. But this will make everything easier.”

Vee smiled.

“Is there anything to do with regards that?”

“We will pick a date and go there with our ID. Her birth certificate will be rectified and every other thing will fall in place.”

“I can’t wait for you to be Mrs Wayde too.”

“You mean Vicky Wayde?”

“You have no idea how long I’ve been bearing that name in my head.”

“Oh really?” Oscar chuckled in disbelief. “You act like you don’t want me but you are living in the future about me in your head.”

“Yeah, something like that.”

“I had to make sure you were being really sincere this time around and that you wouldn’t hurt me.””

“I love you too much to hurt any part of you.”

“I’ve always known that. I guess I was waiting for more validation.”

Oscar nodded. “I am happy to have earned your trust.”

“My baby looks so happy. Let’s take a picture with her.”

“Of course.” Oscar smiled.

They called Gracie’s attention. She took plenty of pictures of them with Sophie and her cake.”

Once done, the decorators for Sophie's 5th party arrived and they got to work by putting everything in place in the backyard.

Vicky cleaned Sophie up after which they all had breakfast, and then started preparing for the party.

By noon, they started receiving guests and the party started in full swing with lots of activities for the kids and adults.

Oscar made sure everything was outsourced. From the food, cake, snacks, drinks and everything else. Vee was pregnant with twins so he didn't want her to feel overwhelmed.
