

Married At First Sight

Married At First Sight Chapter 3116-Thinking about how her marriage was a mess, even though she had used strong tactics to force her husband to commit, she no longer had to worry about Holden cheating on her.

But the relationship between husband and wife also ended.

She knew how much Holden hated her. She cannot forgive her husband's betrayal, and he knows it too. However, as soon as she got older, she no longer considered divorce; she only wanted to guard against Holden.

On her own territory, she was confident enough to control Holden.

For decades, Holden could not make trouble under her nose. But her son and daughter-in-law were only middle-aged. Their relationship had broken down, and their marriage could no longer last. She could no longer ask them to continue like this.

"I'm going on a long journey soon. I may not come back until ten and a half months. When I come back, I will talk to Marco. During the time when I am away, you can think about it carefully. There is also a cooling-off period for divorce now, so you should treat it as such. You can move into the wedding room without having to face Marco's face every day."

"It was me who took a fancy to you and arranged for Marco and you to go on a blind date. I thought you two could grow old together... It was me who harmed you."

Erika did not expect that her mother-in-law would agree to persuade Marco. She thought that her mother-in-law would forcefully order them not to divorce.

She said, "Mom, it's not your fault. It's because I was useless and failed to tie Marco's heart. At the beginning, I really fell in love with Marco and was willing to marry him. It was not because he was the eldest young master of the Farrell family."

She married into the Farrell family out of love.

Knowing that the son of the Farrell family could not take over the family business, she still chose to marry Marco. She also cooperated with her husband when he was unwilling to seize power.

In her opinion, her husband was no worse than Shiloh.

Originally, the couple were walking in the same direction, but as they walked, Marco took a different path and was no longer on the same line as her.

There was no need for a divorced couple to continue living together.

Don't say that they don't divorce for the sake of your children. If they don't divorce for the sake of their children, it might not be good for their children.

In Wiltspoon, Liberty's son, Sonny, was only two years old when she filed for divorce. Liberty didn't say that she would endure for the sake of her son.

Liberty's life with her son was wonderful after her divorce.

Now Liberty also has the infatuation of Duncan, which shows that divorced women can live their own lives well.

Erika felt that she was divorced and might not remarry, but she was no longer bound by marriage. It had nothing to do with how many women Marco found outside. She was no longer angry or stimulated, and she could live her little life peacefully.

If she didn't get divorced and continued like this, she was afraid that she would become depressed and suffer from the worst disease.

"It's Marco who's sorry for you. When I come back, I'll persuade Marco and you to get together and have a good time. You and your husband's joint property is yours, and you should take it. I won't let Marco treat you badly. The children are now old. Let's talk to them properly after they pass the college entrance examination. After divorce, you and Marco are still the parents of your children."

Erika pursed her lips and said, "As long as Marco cooperates, I won't fall out with him."

She would undoubtedly fight for everything that was rightfully hers.

She didn't say this. Her mother-in-law was very reasonable, but she was always Marco's biological mother, and she couldn't tell her everything.

