

The Ex Husbands Revenge

The Ex Husbands Revenge Chapter 2681-"But..." The three of them were rendered speechless by this.

"Kid, what exactly do you want? We may have been the ones who attacked you, but you are unscathed. The three of US, on the other hand, are severely injured.

If you don't intend on letting US go, are you planning to kill US?" Diego said darkly.

He already learned from Felton that Hugh was just an outsider from the southern region with no connections in the western region.

Though Hugh was young and formidable with his strength reaching the Almighty State, he was just one person and could not rival the Farmers.

As powerful as Hugh may be, he could not defeat the Western Boss and all those who worked for him.

To settle the matter in peace or prevent the situation from escalating, Diego assumed that Hugh would let them go as he had no other choice.

After all, he could not take their lives as that was a taboo for the Dragon Corps.

If Hugh took their lives, he would face retaliation from the Western Boss and the Farmers, all the while being wanted by the Dragon Corps.

He did not think Hugh would be that foolish.

"Yeah! Kid, you wouldn't dare to kill US. Let US go!" Enzo and Milo agreed along.

They knew that Hugh would never murder out of fear for the Dragon Corps.

Regaining their composure, they resumed their arrogant tone.

"Let you go? Dream on! Don't worry. I have just the place for you three. You will go there to reflect on your mistakes!" Leon said mockingly.

Just as Diego and the others anticipated, Leon was not one to take lives unnecessarily.

Besides, these three merely worked for the Western Boss and there was no point for him to take their lives.

However, he could not let them go either as they would convey everything they found to the Western Boss.

Hence, he intended to repeat what he did in the southern region and send these three to the Dragon Corps' cells.

"Where? What are you going to do?" Diego and the others exchanged baffled glances.

They could not think of any option other than taking their lives or setting them free.

"You will find out soon enough!" Leon scoffed.

Ignoring them, he took out his phone to call Fletcher and Howard, before explaining the situation.

Sometime later, footsteps approached just as Diego and the others wondered what Leon was planning to do with them.

Fletcher and Howard rushed in.

"Mister Caldicot, Mister Carn, here you are!" Leon greeted them with a smile.

The Ex Husbands Revenge Chapter 2682-"So this kid wants to hand US over to the Dragon Corps," Diego, Milo, and Enzo came to realize Leon's intention when they saw Fletcher and Howard.

They knew that Fletcher and Howard were Dragon Guards. Since Leon called them over, it was obvious that Leon intended to hand the three of them over to the Dragon Corps.

However, dueling between martial artists happened all the time and under normal circumstances, the Dragon Corps would not intervene unless someone was killed.

Since the three of them did not manage to harm Leon, Fletcher and Howard would likely give them a verbal warning and would not punish them.

This was no different from letting them go.

On top of that, Leon went too far and severely injured the three of them.

If they took this opportunity to blame Leon for this, Leon may end up getting a warning from Fletcher and Howard as well.

This was hardly beneficial for Leon.

The three of them exchanged excited glances and all felt that Leon was far too foolish.

Naturally, they were unaware that Leon was connected to the Dragon Corps. If they knew, they would not be as thrilled.

“Mister Wolf, what happened? Who attacked you?” Fletcher and Howard asked once they were closer.

Though Leon briefly explained the situation to them on the phone, they did not know the details.

“These people were sent by the Western Boss,’ Leon proceeded to explain everything.

“Him, again! He is really out of line this time!” Both Fletcher and Howard were furious.

After the discussion with Leon, Fletcher, Howard, and Mister Orpwood all concluded that the Southern Boss was likely hidden by the Western Boss.

Not only was the Western Boss working with the Southern Boss in secret, but he also sent his subordinates to attack Leon.

Because Leon was a Platinum Dragon Guard, what the Western Boss did was out of line and could be viewed as a blatant disrespect toward the Dragon Corps.

Instantly, the two were livid.

“Forget about the Western Boss for now. We wouldn’t want to alert him. Mister Caldicot, Mister Carn, we called you over here because I want you to lock these three up.” Leon pointed at Diego and the other two who were sitting at the corner.

“Sure. That’s not a problem!” Fletcher and Howard said.

With that, they strode toward Diego, Enzo, and Milo, intending to arrest them.

“Wait!” The three of them jolted in shock as they did not expect to receive such severe punishment.

Based on what they knew about the Dragon Corps, they assumed that Howard and Fletcher would merely give them a warning before letting them go.

To their surprise, Howard and Fletcher intended to arrest them at Leon’s command.

This completely caught them off-guard.

The Ex Husbands Revenge Chapter 2683-“Mister Caldicot, Mister Carn, it’s normal for martial artists to duel. Though we conflicted with Hugh, we didn’t harm him. He was the one who injured us. Even if you are going to arrest someone, it should be him and not US,” Diego said in frustration as he attempted to shift the blame to Leon.

“Yeah! This was just a duel and we are the victims here!”

“How can the Dragon Guards not listen to reasons and arrest the victims instead?”

Milo and Enzo chimed in.

They both knew Leon was merely an outsider with no connection to the western region.

The Farmers, on the other hand, were a formidable force and the Western Boss was the ruler of the underground community in the western region.

The Dragon Corps had to take that into account before punishing them.

So long as the three of them shifted the blame to Leon, Fletcher, and Howard may not arrest Leon but would surely refrain from arresting the three of them.

“Nonsense! First of all, this isn’t an ordinary duel. You three attacked Mister Wolf. On top of that, Mister Wolf is special and the fact that you assaulted him adds to your crimes.” Fletcher scoffed.

He knew that Leon did not wish for others to know who he was and was hesitant to expose Leon’s identity.

“He is special? How special can a brat from the southern region be? I think the two of you have been bribed into helping him and that’s why you are arresting US for no apparent reason!” Diego said in displeasure.

“He is right! The Dragon Corps has always emphasized evidence. Without any proof or legitimate reasons, you can’t just capture US. Once we get to the Dragon Corps, we are going to complain about you to Mister Orpwood!” Milo and Enzo agreed along.

“Why you!” Fletcher and Howard were both furious.

Still, Diego was right.

The Dragon Corps rarely intervened in fights between martial artists.

Though the three of them ambushed Leon, Leon did not suffer any injury and the three of them were the ones who got beaten up in the end.

It was understandable that Diego and the others could not accept getting arrested.

“Mister Wolf, is it alright if I tell them who you are?” Fletcher asked thoughtfully.

The Dragon Corps would never arrest someone without a legitimate reason.

Diego and the others now questioned Fletcher and Howard for abusing their authority and even tried to shift the blame to Leon.

Both Fletcher and Howard found this hard to accept and wanted to silence Diego and the others by telling them who Leon truly was.

“Yeah, it’s fine. We might as well get them to give up!” Leon said.

Since the three would be captured and confined for at least a year, it did not matter if they found out about who he was so long as they were unable to relay this information to the Western Boss.

The Ex Husbands Revenge Chapter 2684-“Is this kid that special?” Diego, Milo, and Enzo exchanged confused glances when they saw how respectful Fletcher was to Leon.

None of them could figure out how special a youngster from the southern region is.

Could it be that Hugh was from a certain powerful family in the southern region with great influence?

Even so, that should not matter.

This was the western region and the Farmers were only second to the Morrisons in terms of power.

Even if Hugh held a high status in the southern region, it would not help him in the western region.

The three of them had the support of the Farmers and the Western Boss, so they could not possibly lose to Leon.

With that thought in mind, they relaxed and assumed that Fletcher was putting on a show to scare them.

That seemed to be the only reasonable explanation.

However, what happened next shook them to the core.

“Listen well, you three! Mister Wolf here is a Platinum Dragon Guard from the southern region!” With Leon’s permission, Fletcher sneered and revealed Leon’s true identity.

“What?” His words struck Diego, Milo, and Enzo.

“Did you just say that he’s a Platinum Dragon Guard? How is that possible?”

Diego and the others could not believe what they were hearing.

They all assumed that Hugh's background, no matter what it was, could not compare with the Farmers and the Western Boss's.

To their surprise, Leon was a member of the Dragon Corps and a high-ranking Platinum Dragon Corps no less.

This was so different from what they expected that they were shaken to the core.

"Why isn't it possible? You have committed a severe crime for assaulting a Platinum Dragon Guard! Howard and I will be taking you back to the Dragon Corps and there's nothing wrong about that!" Fletcher said.

"But-" Diego, Enzo, and Milo were stunned.

The Dragon Corps represented the country and managed the community of martial artists, making the Dragon Guards untouchable.

If Hugh was indeed a Platinum Dragon Guard, it was indeed a severe crime for them to attack him. Even if Howard and Fletcher arrested the three of them, they would merely be following the rules.

Their hearts instantly sank and the arrogant looks on their face vanished.

"Damn it!"

"How can this happen?"

"Isn't this kid just a vice president of some pharmaceutical firm in the southern region? How did he become a Platinum Dragon Guard?" Their expressions darkened.

From what Felton said, they all knew that Hugh was a vice president of Cynthion To their bewilderment, Hugh was formidable and reached the Almighty State. On top of that, he turned out to be a Platinum Dragon Guard.

This was completely different from what Felton said and they felt a mixture of emotions about their current situation.

The Ex Husbands Revenge Chapter 2685-"Oh no! The Western Boss and Mister Felton have underestimated Hugh,"

Realization dawned on Diego.

He knew that the three of them were not the only ones misled by Felton. The Western Boss was misled as well and that was why they underestimated Hugh.

However, Hugh turned out to be a formidable martial artist who was also a high-rank Platinum Dragon Guard with the Dragon Corps' support.

As powerful as the Formers were, they could not rival the Dragon Corps.

If the Western Boss and Felton continued to underestimate Hugh or attempt to capture him, they would be digging their graves.

Terrified, Diego realized how severe the situation was.

He had to get words to the Western Boss somehow to inform him about Hugh's true identity and prevent him from targeting Hugh, or the consequences would be unimaginable.

However, the reality was cruel and the three of them were about to be arrested and confined.

With their fate out of control, they could not possibly find the chance to get words to the Western Boss and Felton.

"Alright. You three were questioning if we are arresting you over personal grudges, right? Is there anything else you'd like to say now?" Fletcher said coldly.

"We have nothing else to say." Diego sighed.

He, Milo, and Enzo all lowered their heads in frustration.

Upon learning that Leon was a Platinum Dragon Guard, the three of them indeed attacked him and there was no point for them to argue any further.

It would only make things worse for them. Hence, they all read the room and admitted their crimes obediently.

Though attacking a Dragon Guard was a serious offense, they did not apply any actual damage to Leon. If they were not mistaken, the Dragon Corps would likely confine them for a few months or a year at most as punishment.

This was something that they could live with.

It was for this reason that they accepted their fate and prevented the situation from escalating, as this would only make them suffer in the end.

As for the Western Boss and Felton, the three of them had no chance to give them any hint. They could only pray that the Western Boss would recognize his mistake and stop making Hugh his enemy.

Otherwise, the Farmers may be doomed given the fact that Hugh was a Platinum Dragon Guard.

They could only pray that the Western Boss and Felton knew better.

“Mister Wolf, if that’s all, we’ll be leaving now!” Seeing as Diego and the others settled down, Fletcher bid his farewell to Leon.

“Sure! Mister Caldicot, Mister Carn, thank you for this,” Leon said with a smile and expressed his gratitude.
